

31-4

ALUMNI LIBRARY, THEOLÔGICAL SEMINARY,

PRINCETON, N. J.

Case, Shelf,

Book,

3182

HISTORIC PROOF

OFTHE

DOCTRINAL CALVINISM

OF THE

Church of ENGLAND.

Including, among other Particulars,

I. A brief Account of some Eminent Persons, famous for their Adoption of that System, both before and fince the Reformation;

MORE ESPECIALLY, OF OUR

English Reformers, Martyrs, Prelates, and Universitys:

With Specimens of their Testimonys.

II. An incidental Review of the Rise and Progress of ARMINIANISM in ENGLAND,

Under the Patronage of Archbishop LAUD.

With a complete Index to the Whole.

By AUGUSTUS TOPLADY, A. B.

Ask now of the Days that are past. Deut. iv. 32.

Antiquam exquirite Matrem.

- " Logical Arguments, and controversial Reasoning, cannot be well adapted to cevery Understanding. But HISTORICAL FACTS, and the - "CONSEQUENCES thence deducible, are, to the meanest Understanding, plain and obvious."

 Bottor's Pref. to Hist. of the Popes.

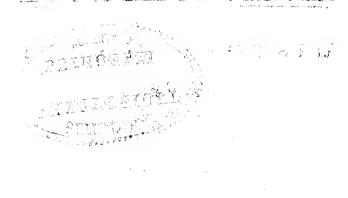

INTWOVOLUMES.

V O L. II.

LONDON:

Printed for GEORGE KEITH, in Gracechurch-street.

MDCCLXXIV.

1,0000

The second of th

The section of the se

HISTORIC PROOF

OF THE

DOCTRINAL CALVINISM

OFTHE

CHURCH OF ENGLAND.

SECTION XV.

Of the share, which CALVIN had, in the Reformation of the Church of England.

O what has been already observed, concerning our principal Reformers; a Word or two must be added, relative to that Grand Ornament of the Protestant World, Dr John Calvin. It has been suriously affirmed, by more than one Arminian, that Calvin had not the least Hand, directly or indirectly, in any Part of our English Reformation. Old Heylyn plays to this Tune: "Our first Re-"formers had no Respect of Calvin (n)." And again: They had no Regard to Luther or Calvin, in the Procedure of their Work (o)." To Heylyn's Pipe, dances Mr Samuel Downes; with the same Reverential Glee, as poor Wat Sellon squeaks to the Quavers of Mr John Wesley. Let us, ⁽n) Peter Heylyn's Historic. & Miscell. Trads, p. 548.

⁽o) Heylyn's Life of Laud, Introd. p. 3.

us, however, examine for ourselves, and attend to Facts. Mr Rolt informs us, from Guthrie, that Bucer's "Re"monstrances, Together With those of Martyr and
"Calvin, prevailed with Archbishop Cranmer, and the "other Prelates of the Reformation, to suffer it [i.e. to
"fuffer the Liturgy] to be Revised and Corrected (p)."
Such an Acknowledgement, from an Historian of Guthrie's Principles, must have decisive Weight with every rational Enquirer.

So must the Testimony that follows. " Calvin advised " Bucer how to conduct himself before King Edward VI. "He [i. e. Calvin] corresponded with the Duke of " Somerset" [who was the King's Uncle, Protector of the Realm, and, in Concert with Cranmer, the main Instrument in conducting the Reformation], " and gave him " his Opinion how the Reformation should be carried on. "In one of his [i. e. of Calvin's] Letters to the Lord "Protector, he express'd his Dislike of Praying for the Calvin, in his Epistolary Correspondence with the Protector, was instrumental, not only in pushing some Severities against the Papists, but in " fome Advances towards bringing the Church of England to a nearer Conformity with the Churches abroad, where the Worship was more plain (q)." The Church, therefore, stood indebted, for Part of her Purity and Simplicity, to the discrete and friendly Offices of this most eminent Divine, " whose Decisions", as an elegant modern Historian truly observes, "were received among " the Protestants of that Age, with INCREDIBLE SUB-" MISSION (r)."

Even Bishop Eurnet takes some Notice of Calvin's Correspondence with Somerset. "Calvin writ to the Protector, on the 29th of October [1548], encouraging

⁽p) Rolt's Lives of the Reformers, p. 116.

⁽q) Rolt, ibid. p. 134.

⁽r) Robertson's Hift. of Scotland, Vol. I. p. 249. Octavo.

" him to go on, notwithstanding the Wars, as Hezcebias " had done, in his Reformation. He [i. e. Calvin] la-" mented the Heats of some that professed the Gospel: " but complained, that he heard there were few lively " Sermons heard in England, and that the Preachers re-" cited their Discourses coldly. He much approves a SET " FORM OF PRAYERS, whereby the Confent of all the " Churches did more manifestly appear. But he advises " a more complete Reformation. He taxed the Prayers " for the Dead, the Use of Chrism, and extreme Unction, " fince they were no where recommended in Scripture. " He [Calvin] had heard, that the Reason why they [the " English Reformers] went no further, was, because the " Times could not bear it: but this was to do the Work " of God by Political Maxims; which, tho' they ought " to take Place in other Things, yet should not be fol-" lowed in Matters, in which the Salvation of Souls was " concerned. But, above all Things, Calvin complained " of the great Impieties and Vices, that were so common " in England; as Swearing, Drinking, and Uncleanness: " and prayed him [the Lord Protector] earnestly, that " these Things might be looked after (s)."

Calvin

⁽s) Burnet's Reform. Vol. II. p. 83.—Dr Fuller gives a much more fatisfactory Abstract from Calvin's Letter, than does his Lordship of Sarum. "Master Calvin', says Fuller, "is therein very positive for a sett Form: whose words deserve our Translation and Observation. Formulam Precum stath Calvin, ct Rituum Ecclesiasicorum, valde probo, ut certa illa exstet; à quâ ne Pastoribus discedere in Functione sua liceat: 1. Ut consulatur quorunsam Simplicitati & Imperitiæ. 2. Ut certius consect omnium inter se Ecclesiarum Consensus. 3. Ut obviam ineature desultoriæ quorundam Levitati, qui Novationes quasdam affectant. Sic igitur statum esse Catechismum oportet, statum Sacramentorum Administrationem, publicam item Precum Formulam. That is: I do highly approve that there should be a certain Form of Prayer, and Ecclesiastical Rites; from which it should not

OF CALVIN'S SHARE IN THE

Calvin did not remonstrate in vain. The Communion-Office underwent a farther Reform, in 1550: as did the whole Liturgy, in 1551; when, among many other alterations, the Chrism in Baptism, the Unction of the Sick, and Prayers for the Dead, were totally expunged (t).

That the Reasonings and Representations of Calvin had great Influence on the Protector, and on the Conduct of Ecclefiaffical Affairs in England; is evident, amidst a Multiplicity of additional Proofs that might be offered, from what is observed by the Candid and Learned Mr Hickman: than whom, no Perfon, perhaps, was better acquainted with the Religious History of this Kingdom.

- " Bucer, at Cambridge," fays that excellent Writer, "un-
- " derstood that Calvin's Letters PREVAILED MUCH with
- " Somerset: And therefore intreats Calvin, when he did
- " write to the Protector, to admonish him not to suffer
- " the Churches to be left void of Preachers (u)."

Heylyn himself, in his History of the Reformation, virtually contradicts what he elsewhere delivers, concerning the "No-Respect" which, he would have us believe, was shewn to Calvin. Speaking of King Edward's first Liturgy. he fays, "AND HERE THE BUSINESS MIGHT HAVE " RESTED," [i. e. the Liturgy would not have been reviewed and reformed] "IF CALVIN'S PRAGMATICAL · SPIRIT

Fuller's Church Hift. Book VII. p. 426.

[&]quot; be lawful for the Pastors themselves to discede, 1. That Proe vision may be made for some People's Ignorance and Unskill-

[&]quot; fulness. 2. That the Confent of all the Churches among themselves may the more plainly appear. 3. That Order may be taken against the unsettled Levity of such as delight in Innovations. Thus there ought to be an established Catechism, an chablished Administration of Sacraments, as also a pub-

[&]quot; lic Form of Prayer."

⁽¹⁾ See Stryte, Burnet, Downes, &c fub Annis 1550 & 1551.

⁽u) Hickman's Animadvers. on Herlyn, p. 149.

ENGLISH REFORMATION. 371

" SPIRIT HAD NOT INTERPOSED (w)." The Conceffion is important, tho' maliciously express'd: For, what is this, but allowing, that the Church of England was obliged to "Calvin's Interpolition", for her Deliverance from the Alb, the Cope, the Introits, the Exercism, the Trine Immersion, the Unction, Prayers for Souls departed, &c. which were all retained by the first Liturgy? Surely, if Heylyn's Complaint be justly founded, that " If Calvin's " pragmatical Spirit had not interposed," the first Liturgy might have stood as it did; it will follow, 1. That the Protestant Religion in England is under the highest Obligations to Calvin, for his fuccessful Zeal, in occasioning all this Rubbish to be wheeled away: and, 2. That Heylyn himself, by whom this very Circumstance is affirmed, was guilty of a most palpable Deviation from Truth, in asserting, elsewhere, that "Calvin offered his Assistance to our "Reformers, and that his Interpolition was refused (x)."

'Tis not a little amusing, to see such rank Arminians, as Heylyn, pressing themselves, whether they will or no, into the Service of Truth. Take, therefore, a farther Taste of his Testimony, occurring in another Work of his. He observes, that "Cranmer, Ridley," and "the "REST of the English Bishops" concern'd in the Resormation, resolved that "They would give Calvin no Of-" FFNCE (y)." The Arminian found himself constrained even to add, that CALVIN, "In his Letters to the KING" and ⁽aw) Heylyn's Hift. of the Reform. Pref. p. 3.—Mr Whiston, likewise, honestly confesses, that King Edward's first Liturgy "was then" [i. e. in the Year 1551] "rlainly ALTERED, out of human Prudence, and out of Compliance with CALVIN "and other Foreigners." Whiston's Memoirs, Vol. II. p. 423.

⁽x) See Heylyn's Quinquart. Hith. Ch. VIII. S. 2. Mife. T. p. 548. And yet this very Heylyn, in the very next Page but one, fays, that the first Liturgy, "being disliked by Calvin, was brought under a Review." Ibid. p. 550.

⁽y) Heylyn's Hift. of the Presbyterians, p. 204.

" and Council, had excited them to proceed in the good " Work which they had begun: that is, that they should " fo proceed as He [i. e. as Calvin] had DIRECTED. With Cranmer he is more particular, and tells him, in " plain Terms, that, In the Liturgy of this Church [viz. " the first Liturgy] as it then stood, there remained a whole " Mass of Popery, which did not only blemish, but destroy, "God's Public Worship (z)." It appeared, by the subsequent Revifal and Reformation of that Liturgy, that King Edward, his Council, and Archbishop Cranmer (or, as Heylyn himfelf there, for a Wonder, vouchfafes to express it, " The godly King, assisted by so wise a Council, " and fuch Learned Prelates") were entirely of Calvin's Mind. Doubtless, those good and great Men reformed the first Liturgy, more from a Conviction of the Force of Calvin's Arguments, than from a Principle of mere Deference to Calvin's Authority. Mr Heylyn, however, inclines to the latter Supposition: and, by a Concession which places Calvin's Authority with the Reformers in the most exalted Point of View, expressly declares, that "The first Liturgy was DISCONTINUED, and the second " SUPERINDUCED upon it after this Review, TO GIVE " SATISFACTION UNTO CALVIN'S CAVILS; the Cu-" riofities of some, and the Mistakes of Others, of His " Friends and Followers (a)."

In such Esteem was Calvin held at the English Court, that Bucer (the invited hither by the King himself, and by the Archbishop of Canterbury) would not, on his Arrival here, wait on the Lord Protector, till he had obtained, from Calvin, Letters of Introduction and Recommendation to that Personage. "Of this," says Heylyn, viz. of the State of Religion in England, "He [i. e. Bucer] gives Account to Caivin; and desires some Letters from him to the Lord Protector, that he might find the greater Favor, ⁽x) Hift. Presb. p. 206.

⁽a) Ibid. p. 207.

* Favor, when he came before him: which was not 'till 'the Tumults of the Time were composed and quiet'e ed (b_j) ."

What, moreover, shall we say, if it appear, that Calvin's Interest was so considerable, as to be a means of extricating Doctor Hooper from the Fleet-Prison, to which he had been committed on Account of his aforementioned Objections to the Episcopal Habit? Let us, once more, attend to Heylyn. "In which Condition of Affairs, Calvin" addresses his Letters to the Lord Protector, whom he desireth to lend the Man [viz. Hooper] an helping Hand, and extricate him out of these Perplexities into which he was cast. So that, at last, the Differences," adds Heylyn, were thus compromised, that is to say, that Hooper should receive his Consecration, &c. (c)."

Add to this, that, according to the faid Heylyn, the Order for removing Altars, and placing Communion Tables in their Room, was chiefly owing to the Influence of Calvin. "The great Business of this Year [1550], was "the Taking down of Altars, in many Places, BY PUE-"LIC AUTHORITY: which, in some few, had formerly been pulled down by the irregular Forwardness of the "Common People. The PRINCIPAL MOTIVE where-"unto was, in the first Place, the Opinion of some Dislikes which had been taken by CALVIN" against the [first] Liturgy (d)."

A Correspondence was also carried on, between Calvin and Archbishop Cranmer. Nay, so high did Calvin stands in the Regards of King Edward himself, and so thoroughly satisfied was Cranmer, of Calvin's Abilities and Integrity; that "Cranmer admonished Calvin, that he could not do

" any

^{. (}b) Heylyn's Hift. Ref. p 79.

⁽c) Heylyn, Ibid. p. 91.

⁽d) Heylyn. Ibid. p. 95.—See also his Hist. of the Prest, to hom, p. 206.

374 OF CALVIN'S SHARE IN THE

" any Thing more profitable, than to WRITE OFTEN to the King (e)."

Nor was Calvin unworthy of the distinguished Honors that were every where shewn him, by the Learned and Moderate of all Denominations. "He was", fays Dr Edwards, " reputed a great Man, not only at Geneva, " but in England. And, accordingly, He had a great 66 Stroke here, and his Judgement was much valued by " our Church: as is evident from this, that, when fome "Things in the First English Liturgy were disliked by "Him, there was prefently an Alteration made in it, " and another Edition of it was put out, with Amend-"ments (f)."—That accomplished Prelate, Bishop " Andrews, faid, that Calvin was an Illustrious Person, " and never to be mentioned without a Preface of the highest " Honor. (Determ. Theol. de Ufur.) - Bishop Bilson " tells us (Dial. p. 509), that Mr Calvin was fo well " known, to those that are Learned and Wife, for his great " Pains and good Labors in the Church of God, that a few " fnarling Friars could not impeach his good Name. --- Mr "HOOKER gives him this short but full Character: " He was incomparably the wifest Man that ever the French " Church enjoyed: and in the fame Place (Pref. to Ecclef. "Polity) he styles him, a worthy Vessel of God's Glory. " Bishop Morton speaks as honorably of Him. --- For " understanding the Scripture, he was endued with an ad-" mirable Gift of Judgement, faith Mr Lively, the faes mous Hebrew Professor. -- And the generality of our Churchmen, in those Times, were ready to bestow " on Him that brief Encomium our Bishop Stilling-" FLEET gives Him, viz. That Excellent Servant of God (g)." Now, as Dr Edwards farther observes, "It is certain, " that our Churchmen did not admire and esteem Calvin

⁽c) Hickman, ubi prius, p. 149.

⁽f) Veritas Redux, p. 529.

⁽g) Verit. Red. p. 550.

s and Beza, and their followers, for their Ecclesiastical " Government, and some other Things which were peculiar " to their Churches; therefore it must be their Doc-

"TRINES, which they had a Respect for (b)."

It would be almost endless to refer to the just Praises with which Calvin's Memory has been honored. "Jo-" SEPH SCALIGER, who fearce thought any Man worth his Commending, could not forbear admiring Calvin:

"whom he owned for the happiest of all the Commentators.

" in apprehending the Scafe of the Prophets.—And PASQUIER

" fays, Calvin was a good Writer, both in Latin and French:

" and our French Tongue is highly obliged to him, for en"riching it with so great a Number of fine Expressions (i)."

-The Character given of him, by the Immortal Monfieur De Thou, is, JOHANNES CALVINUS, " acri Vir ac

" vehementi Ingenio, & admirabli Facunditâ præditus; inter

" Protestantes magni Nominis Theologus: A Person en-

"dued with a quick and lively Genius, and of admirable

" Eloquence; a Divine highly accounted of among Protestants (k)."

"Bishop Hooper so much valued Calvin, that he wrote

"to him, even when he [Hooper] was imprisoned; faluting him with the Compellation of Vir præstantissime,

" earnestly begging his Church's Prayers, and at last sub-

" feribing himself, Tuæ Pietatis studiosissimus, Johannes

" Hooperus (1)."

"Whenever he was quoted, in the Press, or in the Pulpit, it was done with Epithets of Honor: as, the " Learned, the Judicious, the Pious Calvin. And I am

" more than confident, THERE CANNOT BE PRODUCED

" ONE WRITER, OF CREDIT, IN THE ESTABLISHED

"CHURCH OF ENGLAND, that ever fell foul on Calvin,

" 'TILL ABOUT 60 OR 70 YEARS AFTER HIS DEATH,

when

⁽b) Ibid. p, 551

⁽i) Roll's Lives, p. 145.

⁽k) See Leigh's Relig. and Learned Men, p. 149.

⁽¹⁾ Hickman, u. pr. p. 149.

376 OF CALVIN'S SHARE IN THE

"when the Tares of Arminius began to be fown and cherished amongst us.—Dr FEATLY styles him, That

" bright, burning Taper of Geneva, as warm in his Devotions, as clear and lightfome in his Disputes (Ep. Ded.

to Dippers Dipt). How respectfully do JEWEL, ABBOT,

" Usher, &c. mention Him (m)?" Calvin has been taxed with Fierceness and Bigotry. But his Meekness and Benevolence were as eminent, as the Malice of his Traducers is shameless. I shall give one fignal Instance of his Modesty and Gentleness. While he was a very young Man, Disputes ran high between Luther and fome other Reformers, concerning the Manner of Christ's Presence in the Holy Sacrament. Luther, whose Temper was naturally warm and rough, heaped many hard Names on the Divines who differed from him on the Article of Consubstantiation; and, among the rest, Calvin came in for his Dividend of Abufe. Being informed of the harsh Appellations he received, he meekly replied, in a Letter to Bullinger, " Supe dicere folitus sum, etiamsi 66 me Diabolum vocaret, me tamen hoc Illi Honoris ha-" biturum, ut insignem Dei Servum agnoscam; qui ta-66 men, ut pollet eximiis Virtutibus, ità magnis Vitiis " laboret: i. e. 'Tis a frequent safing with me, that, if " Luther should even call me a Devil, my Veneration for Him " is, notwithstanding, so great, that I shall ever asknowledge " Him to be an Illustrious Servant of God; who, tho' he " abounds in extraordinary Virtues, is yet not without confi-" derable Imperfections (n)."

The same Learned Historian, who relates this, has an Observation, concerning Calvin, which deserves Attention.

" John Calvin," fays he, " was a Man, whose Memory

" will be bleffed in every fucceding Age. He instructed

" and enlightened, not only the Church of Geneva, but " also the whole Reformed World, by his immense Labors.

Infomuch

⁽m) Hist. of Popery, Vol. 11. p. 349, 350.

⁽n) Turretini (Job. Alph.) Histor. Eccles. p. 352.

"Insomuch that all the Reformed Churches are, in the gross, frequently called by his Name (0)." Thus wrote this candid Arminian, so lately as the Year 1734.

I might here add some Account of the consummate Veneration, in which the Name and Doctrines of Calvin were held, by our BISHOPS and UNIVERSITIES, before the Clergy of our Establishment were debauched into Arminianism by Laud. But this shall, if Providence permit, be the Subject of some succeding Section.

In the mean while, I should be equally unjust to the Church of England, and to the Moderation of Calvin, if I did not annex a Passage or two, from Mr Strype, relative to the remarkable Candor with which Calvin expressed himself, concerning the Geremonies and Discipline of our Religious Establishment.

"The mention of Calvin," fays this excellent Historian, "must bring in a very remarkable Letter, which "He wrote in the Month of August this Year [1561],

- " concerning certain Ecclesiastical Rites, used in our Of-
- " fice of private Prayer [an evident Mistake for Common" Prayer] newly [re-] established [on the Accession of
- "Queen Elizabeth]: which were forupled by some of the
- "English exiles, upon their Return; chiefly, because
- " not used by the Reformed Church in Geneva: concern-
- " ing which, they had fent to Calvin, for his Resolution and Judgement. Wherein He gave his Opinion ge- "nerally IN FAVOR and Approbation of them (p)"; i. e. in Favor of the "Ecclefiastical Rites": which the Historian particularizes in feveral Instances. And then adds:

"To

(p) Strype's Hift. Ref. under Qu. Eliz. Chap. XXI. p. 246.

⁽o) "Vir benedictæin omne ævum Memoriæ, Johannes Calvinus;
— — immensisque laboribus, non Genevensem modò Ecclesiam, sed & totum Resormatum Orbem, erudiit atque illustravit: adeò ut, de ejus Nomine, Resormati, quanti quanti sunt, non rarò adpellentur." Joh. Turretin. u. s. p 253.

"To this Judgement of this great Divine, concern.

" ing Rites used in this Church, I will briefly subjoin HIS " APPROBATION of the EPISCOPAL GOVERNMENT of " the Church: which is alledged out of his Institutions, " by Dr Whitgift.

" That every Province [faith Calvin] had among their " Bishops, an Archbishop; and that the Council of Nice did

" appoint Patriarchs, who should be, in Order and Dignity,

" above Archbishops; was for the Preservation of Discipline. "Therefore for this Caufe especially were those Degrees ap" pointed, that if any Thing Should happen, in any particular

" Church, which could not be decided, it might be removed to

" a Provincial Synod.—This Kind of Government some called 66 Hierarchia: an improper Name. But if, omitting the Name, we consider the Thing itself; we shall find, that

" thefe old Bishops did not frame any other Kind of Govern" ment in the Church, from that which the Lord hath pre-

" feribed in his Word." And fo much concerning Calvin's " fense of our Church's Liturgy and Government (q)."

Nor did Calvin's Learned Colleague and Successor, the Illustrious Beza, entertain a less respectful Idea of our National Establishment. Toward the Decline of Queen Elizabeth's Reign, when Puritanic Opposition ran high against the Outworks of the Church; the Opposers affected to give out, that their Objections were authorized, and their Measures countenanced, by the most Learned foreign Protestants: and, especially, by Beza. This being foon known at Geneva, that great Man thought it his Duty to exculpate himself from a Charge so ungenerous and unjust: which he took Care to do, in a Letter to Whitgift, then Archbishop of Canterbury. "While the " Archbishop," says Strype, " was endeavoring to sup-" press the Male-contents against Episcopacy and the [&]quot;Church of England in its present Establishment; he " receiveth, ⁽q) Strype, Ibid. p. 24-, 248.

receiveth, March 8th [1591], a Letter from Theodore " Beza, the Chief Minister of Geneva, WHEREIN HE, by owning, with all Respect, the Archbishop, and the " rest of the English Bishops, and their Government of " this Church, GAVE A NOTABLE CHECK to these new Reformers, who bore out themselves much with his "Authority. It feemed to have been written by him, " in Answer to one from the Archbishop, blaming him 61 for his [supposed] meddling with the Church and State 66 of England, without any lawful Commission. In De-66 fence of himself, he [Beza] returned an Answer; Part whereof was as followeth: That whereas his Lordship " thought it meet, in his Letters, to move them [i. e. to move " the Geneva Divines] to think well of this Kingdom, and of " the Church here, and the Government thereof; it indeed " troubled both Him and Sadeel [another of the Ministers of "Geneva], in some fort : as being greatly afraid, lest some " sinister Rumors were brought to Him [to the Archbishop] concerning them; or lest what they had written, concerning " Church-Government, properly against the Antichristian Ty-" ranny [of the Roman Church], as Necessity required, might be taken, by some, in that Scrife, as the' they ever meant to " compel to their Order those Churches that thought otherwise. -That such Arrogancy was far from them: for [added 66 Beza] WHO GAVE US AUTHORITY OVER ANY CHURCH? 46 And that they by no Means thought, so substantial Matters were kept, that there ought nothing to be granted to Antiquity, " nothing to Custom, nothing to the Circumstances of Places, "Times, and Persons." So wrote BEZA: or, to Use Mr Strype's own Words on the Occasion, "Thus did Beza and Sadeel, in the Name of their Church, profess to the " Archbishop their RESPECT, HONOR, and APPROBA-46 TION of the Church of England (r)." About two Years afterwards, Dr Bancroft (who at

About two Years afterwards, Dr Bancroft (who at length became Archbishop of Canterbury), in a Treatise, which he published against the Obstinacy of some restless Puritans, "produced divers Letters of ZANCHIUS, in APPROBATION of EPISCOPACY; and of Bullinger and "Gualter, to several English Bishops, in Disallowance altogether of those Innovators (s)."

B b 2 which

⁽r) Strype's Life of Whitgift, p. 378, 379.

As

(s) Ibid. p. 40.4-In another Work of Mr. Strype, that useful and laborious Collector gives a large Account of ZANCHIUS's Attachment to Church-Government by Arch-Bishops and Bishops. " We do not disallow the Fathers," said ZANCHY, " in that, " after a divers Way of dispensing the Word, and governing the " Church, they multiplied divers Orders of Ministers. It was " lawful fo to do: feeing they did it for honest Causes, apper-" taining, at that Time, to the Order, Decency, and Edifica-" tion of the Church .- For this Reason, viz. that the Nurseries " of Diffentions and Schifms might be taken away, we think that " those things which were ordained before the Council of Nice, " concerning Arch-Bilhops, nay, as touching the four Patriarchs, " may be excused and defended." Some others, of the Reasons, affigned by ZANCHY, for his Approbation of the Hierarchy, were, 1. The Practice of the Primitive Church, presently after the Apostles Time. 2. Because he thought it his Duty to have Regard to those Reformed Churches [the Churches of England and Ireland, for Inflance] which retained both Bishops and Arch-Bishops. And, 3. Because all the Reformed Churches generally, although they had changed the Names, yet, in Effect, they kept the Authority: as where they had Super-intendents, &c. " And what," added ZANCHIUS, " can be " shewed more certainly, out of Histories, out of the Councils, of and out of the Writings of all the Ancient Fathers, than that " those Orders of Ministers, of which we have spoken, have been " ordained and received in the Church, by the general Confent of all Christian Common-Wealths? And who then am I, that " I should presume to reprove That which the Whole Church hath " approved?" See STRYPE's Annals, Vol. II. p. 653, 654.

On the whole, it appears, that the Learned, the Modest, the Judicious ZANCHY was a fast Friend, not only to the Dostrines, but also (a Circumstance not very usual with the foreign Protestants of that Age) to the Hierarchy, of the Church of England. Nor

As to Beza, if he was afterwards so far wrought upon' by dint of Misrepresentation, as to countenance, in any Measure, the Frowardness of the more rigid Disciplinarians; it ought, in Justice, to be imputed, neither to any Levity, nor Duplicity, in Him (for he was equally incapable of both); but to the wrong Informations that were sent Him: by which, a Foreigner, who resided at so great a Distance from England, might, easily enough, be liable to undue Impression.

SECTION XVI.

The Judgement of the most eminent English Martyrs, and Confessors, who suffered Death, or Persecution, after the Overthrow of the Reformation by Queen Mary I.

That the Reformers of the Church of England were zealous Calvinists, as to Matters of Doctrine: 2. That Calvin Himself had a very considerable Hand in reducing our Liturgy to that Purity and Excellence, which it still retains: and, 3. That Calvin, Beza, Zanchius, Sadeel, Bullinger, and Gualter, entertained very respectful and assectionate Sentiments, concerning the Ritual Decency and Order, together with the Episcopal Regimen, of our incomparable Church. And, to the Approbation of those most was the Church unmindful of His Worth and Affection: for, by the Voice of the University of Cambridge, in the Year 1595, this great Man was, expressly, and by Name, numbered among "The LIGHTS and ORNAMENTS" of our Established Church.—See my Account of Zanchy, prefixed to my Translation of his Treatise on Prædestination, p. xxxv, xxxvi.

Learned Persons, might be added (if need required) that of many other foreign Calvinists, who are deservedly numbered among the first Ornaments of that Century.

While pious King Edward lived, the Church of England faw herself at the very Pinnacle of Spiritual Prosperity. Her supreme visible Head was a Prodigy of Wisdom, Knowledge, and undefiled Religion. Her Bishops were Luminaries of the first Brightness: Men, glowing with Love to God; clear in the Doctrines of the Gospel, and zealous in maintaining them; of eminent Learning, for the most Part; Assertors, and Patterns, of every good Word and Work. Had Providence been pleased to have extended the Felicities of that Reign, what might not have been expected from a PRINCE of Edward's Accomplishments; and from a Choir of PRELATES, whom Grace, Abilities, and almost every useful Attainment, concurred to render venerable?

But God (whose Disposals are not less wise, just, and gracious, for being at present Unsearchable) was pleased to reverse the Scene. The King's Death opened Mary's Way to the Throne; who ruled, not with a Sceptre, but a Sword.

That bigotted Princess, and her Popish Counsellors, knew, that the Doctrines of Gratuitous Election, Invincible Grace, and Justification without Works, enter into the very Basis of genuine Protestantism. No wonder, therefore, that to rid the two Universities of all Prædestinarians, was a primary Object of her Attention. Freewill, Conditional Justification, and the Merit of Works, were Doctrines so essential to the Interest of Popery, that not to aim at (1) restoring them, would have been doing Matters

⁽¹⁾ It deserves particular Notice, that, A. D. 1554 (which was the Year after Mary came to the Crown), Bonner published a Book, for the Re-instruction of his Diocese in the Principles of Popery, entitled, A Profitable and Necessary Doctrine, containing an Exposition on the Creca, Seven Sacraments, Ten Commandments, the Paternossers

Matters by Halves. Therefore, "A resolution was taken. 46 to bring into the Universities a Test for purging them of all Protestants, and to prevent their Re-admission for the future. This was done by way of Oath, as follows: "You shall swear, by the Holy Contents of this Book, that wou shall not keep, hold, maintain, and defend, at any Time, " during your Life, any Opinion erroneous, or Error of Wick-66 liff, Huss, Luther, or any other condemned of Heresy: ... _ _ And that you shall, namely and specially, hold as " the Catholic Church holdeth in all these Articles, wherein lately hath been Controversy, Dissention, and Error; as con-" cerning FAITH, and WORKS, GRACE, and FFEE-WILL, " &c. (u)." Now, I have before demonstrated (particularly, in the IIId and IVth Sections of this Effay), that in all these Articles", which concern "Faith and Works, Grace and Free-will," the Church of Rome is avowedly. ARMINIAN throughout. Confequently, by tendring the above Oath to the Members of the Universities, Queen Mary's Defign was, to clear those Seminaries, of all Calvinists; the better to make way, for the Re-introduction of Popery.

With the same View, a Proclamation was issued, in 1555, to prohibit the Sale, the Reading, or the Keeping of any Book or Books, Writings or Works, made or set forth by or in the Name of Martin Luther, OEcolampadius, Zuinglius, John Calvin, Bucer, Peter Martyr, Labb 4 noster, Ave Maria, &c. A considerable Part of which was taken out of the Pia et Catholica Institutio, which had been published in the Reign of Henry VIII. See the Biogr. Diet. Vol. II. p. 264.

—Thus Sellon's Arminian Letter to the Vicar of Broad Hembury, as also Dr N's Answer to the Author of Pietas Oxoniensis; are fraught with Arguments borrowed from that Self-same Popish Store-house (viz. the Pia et Catholica Institutio) which surnished Bonner with Materials for his Pastoral Letter to the Diocese of London. Arminianism cares not what it eats. The soulest Food will go down, so dear Free-will is but kept from starving.

⁽u) Rolt's Lives Ref. p. 116.

" timer, Hooper, Coverdale, Tyndal, Cranmer (w)," and other prædestinarian Protestants whose Names are there enumerated. 'Twas added, that all Persons, possessing any Books written by the above Authors, "Shall, within the space of · Fifteen Days next after the Publication of this Proclamation, bring, or deliver, or cause the said Books, Writings, and Works, and every of them, remaining in their Custody and Keeping, to be brought and de-" livered, to the Ordinary of the Diocess, to be BURNT", or otherwise destroyed. On which Order, the pious Mr Fix makes this obvious Remark: What a-do is here, to keep down Christ in His Sepulchre! and yet will Herife, in spite of all His Enemies (x). The Truth is, Queen Mary and her Spanish Husband, in whose Names that Proclamation ran, well knew, that Calvinism is the very Life and Soul of the Reformation: and that Popery would never florish, 'till the Calvinittic Doctrines were eradicated.

I have already given some Intimation (p. 328), from Bishop Burnet, of a brief Confession of Faith, which was drawn up and figued by the Protestant Bishops and Clergymen who were then imprisoned in London, shortly after the Coronation of Mary. But as Burnet's Extract is (according to Custom) very partial and superficial, I shall here prefent my Readers with the entire Paragraph, to which that Historian to lamely refers .- " Fourthly, We believe and con-" fefs, concerning JUSTIFICATION, that as it cometh ONLY " from God's Mercy through Christ, so it is PERCEIVED and . HAD of none, who be of Years of Discretion, otherwise than ce by FAITH only. Which Faith is not an Opinion, but a " certain Perfuasion WROUGHT BY THE HOLY GHOST in the Mind and Heart of Man; wherethrough, as the " Mind is ILLUMINATED, jo the Heart is SUPPLED to " funnit itself to the Will of God unfeignedly; and so sheweth 66 forth an inherent Righteousness, which is to be discerned " [i. e. which inherent Righteousness is to be carefully " diftindiffinguished], in the Articles of Justification, from the " Righteousness which God endueth us withal, justifying us; although inseparably they go together. And this we do [i. e. we preserve this important Distinction between Imputed " and Inherent Righteousness], not for Curiosity, or Conten-" tion fake, but for Conscience fake; that It might be quiet: " which it can never be, if we CONFOUND, without Distinction, For giveness of Sins and Christ's Righteousness IMPUTED to us, with Regeneration and INHERENT Rightcousness." Thus spake these excellent Divines: adding, immediately after, " By this," i. e. by this View of Justification, "IV& " difallow PAPISTICAL DOCTRINE OF FREE-WILL, of " Works of Supererogation, of MERITS, of the Necessity of " Auricular Confession, and Satisfaction to God-wards (y)." This valuable Paper was dated The 8th Day of May, An. Dom. 1554, and subscribed by

385

Rebert Ferrar, late Bishop of St Davids.
Rewland Taylor.
John Philpot.
John Brudford.
John Hosper, late Bishop of Worcester and Gloucester.

Edward Crome.
John Rogers.
Laurence Saunders.
Edmund Laurence.
J. P.
T. M.

At the Bottom of all was written, "To these Things above said, do I, Miles Coverdale, late [Bishop] of Exeter, consent and agree, with these mine afflicted Brethren, being Prisoners: mine own Hand."—Now, can any Person question the Calvinism of these blessed Men of God, by whom the Tenet of Free-will, and of Justification by inherent Righteousness, were expressly numbered among Papistical Doctrines;" and classed with "Works of Supererogation, Merits, and Auricular Confession?"

A great Number of God's faithful Servants, both Ministers and People, were brought to the Stake, for the Testimony

⁽y) Fox's Ads and Mon. Vol. III. p. 83.

mony of Jesus, and for the Word of his Patience, during the short, but sharp Reign of this sanguinary Woman. Cranmer, Ridley, Latimer, and Hooper, having been treated of already, I shall proceed to the brief Mention of some Others.

And here, amidst the Noble Army of English Martyrs, I find myself encompassed with so great a Cloud of Witnesses to the Doctrines of Grace, that I scarce know whom to select, or whom to omit. Was I to introduce them all, I should excede every reasonable Limit of Brevity. I am obliged, therefore, to suppress the Attestations of many precious Sufferers for Christ, who witnessed a good Confession even unto Death, and who will be found with Honor and Praise and Glory at His Appearing. Among the sew I shall produce, as vouchers for the rest, are Those that follow.

- 1. Mr John Rogers, Prebendary and Divinity-Lecturer of St Paul's, and Vicar of St Sepulchre's, London; had the Honor of being the first that was burned for the Gospel, under the bloody Auspices of Mary. He suffered, in Smithfield, Feb. 4, 1555. His Judgment, concerning the Calvinian Doctrines, is sufficiently apparent, without adducing any other Proofs, from the above-mentioned Declaration of Faith, to which he set his Hand during his last Imprisonment.
- II. Mr Laurence Saunders, a Clergyman of Birth and Fortune, eminent as a Scholar, but still more respectable for the Grace given him of God; was Lecturer, first, at Fotheringhay: next, a Reader in the Cathedral of Litchfield; and, lastly, Rector of Allballows, in Bread-Street, London. He was burned at Coventry, Feb. 8, 1555. Tho' his Hand, likewise, was to the Declaration of Faith, quoted above; I will annex one or two additional Evidences of his Calvinism: in hope, that, while they demonstrate the Clearness of the Martyr's Head, their Piety may warm and impress the Reader's Heart. In a Letter, sent from Prison, to his Wise, he thus expressed his Triumph of Faith: "I do not doubt, but that both I and You, as we be WRITTEN IN THE BOOK OF LIFE, so we shall together enjoy the " same Everlastingly, through the Grace and Mercy of God " our dear Father, in his Son, our Christ .- I am merry, " I thank my God and my Christ; in IV hom and through " Whom I shall, I KNOW, be able to fight a good Fight, and " finish a good Course (z)." In another Letter, to Cranmer, Ridley and Latimer (then Prisoners at Oxford), this seraphic Man observes: "We walk in Faith: which Faith, although, " for Want of outward Appearance, Reason reputeth but as " vain; yet THE CHOSEN OF GOD do know the Effect there-" of to bring a more substantial State and lively Fruition of " very Felicity and perfect Bleffedness, than Reason can reach, " or Senses receive. - You may be ASSURED, by God's Grace, " that you shall not be frustrate of your Hope of our CONSTANT " CONTINUANCE in the chearful Confession of God's ever-" lasting Verity. For even as we have received the Word of " Truth, the Gospel of our Salvation; wherein we believing " are SEALED with the Holy Spirit of Promise, which is the " EARNEST of our Inheritance (which Spirit CERTIFYETH " our Spirit, that we are the Children of God, and therefore " God hath fent the Spirit of His Son into our Hearts, crying, " Abba, Father); so, after such Portion as God MEA-" SURETH unto us, We, with the whole Church of Christ, " and with You, Reverend Fathers, receiving the same Spirit " of Faith, according as it is written, I believed, and there-" fore have I spoken; We also believe, and therefore speak. " --- Knowing MOST CERTAINLY, that, the' we have " this Treasure in earthen Vessels, that the Excellency of this " Power might be God's, and not ours; yet shall we not be " dashed in Pieces: for the Lard will put His Hand under " us .- To communicate with our fweet Savior Christ in " bearing the Cross, it is APPOINTED unto us, that with " Him also we shall be glorified (a)." Elsewhere, Mr Saunders sets his Seal to the Doctrine of Final Perseverance, in Terms, if possible, stronger still: " Now that " He hath, in His dear Christ, repaired us (being, before, " utterly " utterly decayed); and redeemed us, purging us unto Himfelf " as A PECULIAR PEOPLE, by the Blood of his Son; He " hath put on a most tender Good-will and Fatherly Affection " toward us, NEVER to FORGET us (b)." - Again: Praised " be our gracious God, who PRESERVETH HIS from Evil; " and doth give them Grace to avoid all such Offences, as might " hinder His Honor, or hurt His Church (c)." Once more: 1 take Occasion of much rejoicing in our so gracious God and " merciful Father, who hath, in his immeasurable Mercy, by " Faith, HAND-FASTED Us His CHOSEN Child en unto "His dear Son our Christ (d)."-" We may boldy, with our " Christ, and all His Elect, say, Death, where is thy " Sting (e)?" No Self Righteoufness lay at the Foundation of this Holy Man's Triumph. His whole Trust was in the Covenant-Merits of Jesus the Savior. Hence, in a short Letter, which is entitled, To his Wife, a little before his Burning; after defiring her to fend him a Shirt in which he was to fuffer, he breaks out into this fweet Prayer, "O my Heavenly Father, look upon me in the Face of " thy CHRIST! or elfe, I shall not be able to abide Thy Countenance; such is my Filthiness. He WILL do so: and there-" fore I will not be afraid what Sin, Hell, Death, and Dam-" nation, can do against me (f)." His spiritual Consolations continued with him to the Last. When arrived at Place of Execution, he kiffed the Stake: faying, in a Transport of Joy, Welcome, the Cross of Christ; welcome, everlasting Life!

III. Dr Rowland Taylor was Rector of Hadley, in Suffolk. We may form a Judgment of that wonderful Out-pouring of the Holy Spirit, and of the diffusive spread of Divine Knowledge, which attended the Preaching of the Gospel in the Age of the Reformation; from what Mr Fox delivers, concerning the State of Religion in that particular Town. "The Town of Hadley was one of the first

⁽b) Ibid. p. 113.

⁽c) Ibid.

⁽d) Ibid. p. 116.

⁽e) Ibid.

⁽f) Ibid. p. 118.

" first that received the Gospel in all England, at the " Preaching of Mr Thomas Bilney: by whose Industry the "Gospel of Christ had such gracious Success, and took " fuch Root there, that a great Number in that Parish 66 became exceding well learned in the Holy Scriptures, " as well Women as Men. So that a Man might have " found amongst them many, who had often read the whole 66 Bible through, and who could have faid a great Sort of St Paul's Epistles by Heart, and very well and readily " have given a godly, learned Sentence in any Matter of " Controversy. Their Children and Servants were also 66 brought up and trained fo diligently in the right Know-" ledge of God's Word, that the whole Town feemed " rather an University of the Learned, than a Town of " Cloth-making, or laboring People: and, what is most to be commended, they were, for the more Part, faith-66 ful Followers of God's Word in their Living. In this "Town was Doctor Rewland Taylor, Doctor in both the Civil and Canon Laws, and a right persect Divine. " Parfon (g)."-What a melancholy Contrast, alas! are the present Times, to Those! How has the Introduction of Arminianism poysoned our Protestant Streams, and cankered our Evangelical Gold!

Dr Taylor was a very uncommon Man, both for Grace and Gifts. He had the Piety of Calvin, the Intrepidity of Luther, and the Orthodoxy of Both. When Bishop Bonner came to degrade him, in the Poultry Compter, prior to his Martyrdom; he [Bonner] defired the magnanimous Prisoner to put on the Sacerdotal Habit, that he might be divested of it in Form. "I am come, quoth Bonner, to degrade you: wherefore put on these Vestures. No, faid Dr Taylor, I will not. Wilt thou not? answered the Bishop: I shall make thee, e'er I go. Quoth Dr Taylor, You shall not, by the Grace of God. Then the charged him, upon his Obedience, to do it: but he would not do it for him (b)." 'Tis usual, it seems, in Popish Degradations, for the Bishop to give the degraded Person a slight Stroke on the Breast, with a Crosser. Bonner was afraid (for Persecutors are generally Cowards) to perform this Part of the Ceremony on Taylor. " last," says Mr Fox, " when he should have given Dr "Taylor a stoke on the Breast with his Crosser-Staff, " the Bishop's Chaplain said, My Lord, strike him not, " for he will fure strike again. Yea, by St Peter will I, " quoth Dr Taylor: the Cause is Christ's; and I were no " good Christian, if I would not fight in my Master's Quarrel. " So the Bishop laid his Curse upon him, but struck him " not .- [Bonner being gone, the Doctor returned up " Stairs]; and when he came up, he told Mr Bradford " (for they both lay in one Chamber) that he had made 66 the Bishop of London afraid: for, said he, laughing, " His Chaplain gave him Counfel not to strike me with his " Crofier-Staff, for that I would strike again; and, by my 46 Troth, continued he, rubbing his Hands, I made him be-" lieve I would do fo indeed (i)."

⁽g) Fox, Vol. III p. 137.

That this eminent Messenger and Martyr of Christ was One who rightly divided the Word of Truth, the following short Extracts will suffice to shew. His Judgement was, that the Mediator died for those only who are endued with Faith: "Christ gave himself," said he, "to die for our "Redemption, upon the Cross; whose Body, there offered, "was the propitiatory Sacrifice, full, persect, and sufficient unto Salvation, for all T EM that BELIEVE in him (k)." He held the Doctrine of Assurance: and no Wonder; for God had favor'd him with the Gift itself. Hence, sour Days before his Execution, he thus subscribed his last Will and Testament: "Rowland Taylor, departing hence in sure Hope, without all doubting, of Eternal Salwation; I thank God, my Heavenly Father, through Fesus

" Christ my CERTAIN Savier, Amen. The 5th of February,

" Anno

" Anno 1555. The Lord is my Light and my Salvation: whom then shall I fear? God is He that justifieth: who is " he that can condemn? In Thee, O Lord, have I trusted: let me never be confounded." All Assurance of Salvation, not grounded on certainty of PERSEVERANCE, is, in the most superlative Degree, baseless, contradictory, and enthusiastic. But this good Man's Assurance was not thus built on a Bubble. "I am," faid he, "UNMOVABLY " fettled upon the ROCK: nothing doubting, but that my dear "God will PERFORM and FINISH the Work that He hath " begun in Me and others (1)." I will only add a judicious Remark of his, concerning Justification: "Abra-" ham's Justification by FAITH, by GRACE, by PROMISE, " and NOT BY WORKS, is plainly fet forth, both in the " Epistle to the Romans, Chap. iv. and to the Galatians, " Chap, iii. And Abraham's WORKS of Obedience, in Offer-" ing up his Son fo LONG AFTER HIS JUSTIFICATION, " must needs be taken as a Fruit of a good Tree, justifying " BEFORE MEN, and NOT OF JUSTIFICATION BEFORE "GOD: for then had Man si. e. Man would then have " fomewhat] to glory in; then did Christ die in vain (m)." Now, as Men, by the Gospel Scheme of Salvation, have nothing to glory in, nothing to boast of, nothing to rest upon, but the Grace of God and the Messiah's Obedience unto Death; it follows, that Men cannot be Justified, in the fight of God, by their own Works, neither in whole, nor in part: fince, if they could, they would have fomething else to glory in, besides that Grace and imputed Righteoulness, which the Scripture avers are the only Basis of a Sinner's Justification. Moreover, as this bleffed Martyr further observes from the Apostle, Christ died in vain, on the Supposition that Human Works have any antecedent Influence on our Acceptance with God: for, as much Conditionalty, or Causality, as you ASCRIBE to Works; just for much you DETRACT from the Merit and Efficacy of Christ's Blood Blood and Righteousness. The Savior of Sinners obeyed and died, either to accomplish the IV hole of our Justification, or a Part of it only. If to accomplish the Whole, then Justification by Works falls at once. If his Merits accomplished our Justification only in Part, then our own Works must come in, by way of Supplement, to make up what Christ left deficient: on which Supposition, as Human Obedience would have some Hand in Justifying us, so it would be fairly intitled to a Share of the Praise; for, if Christ has actually divided the Work of Salvation between Himfelf and Sinners, it is but equitable that the Honor should be divided also. The Bible, however, cuts up this facrilegious and felf-righteous Scheme, both Root and Branch: and, without giving the Lye in Form to every Page of that bleffed Book, we cannot believe that Christ's Mediatorial Righteousness has any Deficiency to make up. Admitting, therefore, that His Work was perfect, and that He TRULY faid, It is finished; the consequence will be, that our good Works (tho' absolutely requisite, ex post facto. as INDICATIONS of Justification; yet) have no kind of Agency, whatever, in accomplishing, procuring, obtaining, or conditionating our Pardon and Acceptance with the Father. Since, if Christ redeemed us completely, and any remaining Efficacy be still supposed to reside in our own Works; that Efficacy (be it more or less) renders super-Auous an equal Ratio of the Merit of Christ's complete Redemption: and thus, so FAR, Christ, on this Scheme, must have died in vain. But it was impossible for Christ to die in vain: Therefore, Human Works have no Hand in Juftification. This feems, to me, the precise Drift of the Apostle's Argument, Gal. ii. 21. If Righteousness, either Justification itself, or any Part of the Righteousness which justifies; come by the Law, accrue, tho' ever so remotely. to any Sinner, by or through his own Conformity to the Moral Law; then it would follow, that Christ is dead in vain: But Christ could not die in vain: Ergo, neither Justification itself, nor the Righteousness which justifies, can accrue, tho' ever so remotely, to any Sinner, by or through his own Conformity to the Moral Law. -But does not St James affirm, that Abraham was justified by Works, when he offered his Son Isaac on the Aitar? Certainly he was. But it was a Justification before MEN, not before God. As good Dr Rowland Taylor remarks, Abraham had been justified before God, long, even many Years, BEFORE his intentional Oblation of Isaac: yea, many Years before Isaac himself was born. Abraham's Justification in the Sight of God is related, Gen. xv. 6. But even the Birth of Isaac does not occur, till you come to Chapter the xxist. I conclude, then, that the Justification, of which St James speaks, is no more than an evidential Justification before Men, by visible Works of external Obedience; declaring, manifesting and proving, a PRIOR Justification before God: which prior Justification before God is in no sense founded upon, tho' most certainly productive of, all Holiness of Life and Converfation. St Paul viewed the Matter exactly in the same Light: By Faith, Abraham, when he was tried, offered up Isaac; and he that HAD RECEIVED the Promises, OFFERED UP his only begotten Son, Heb. xi. 17. Observe, his Receiving of the Promifes (by which Faith, or Reception, he was divinely justified in the Court of his own Conscience) his Receiving of the Promises respecting Salvation by Christ, was ANTECEDENT to his Offering of Isaac. Consequently having been already actually Justified by the former; the Justification, mentioned by St James, can only mean a declarative Display, or practical Proof, of Abraham's (and, by the fame Rule, of any other Believer's) PRECEDING Justification in the Sight of God, without Works .- The Reader, I hope, will forgive this incidental Disquisition: which, tho' in fome measure excursive, is not wholly digreffive; as it attempts to elucidate, more at large, what the excellent Martyr intimated in brief.

IV, and V. Soon after the burning of Dr Taylor, Mr THOMAS CAUSTON and Mr THOMAS HIGBED fealed the Truth with their Blood. Fox exprefly fays, that these two Elect Champions were "Condemned for the Confession of C. c. "Little"

 Faith," which they united in drawing up and prefenting to Bonner. Part of that Confession was as follows: "We believe, that there is a Catholic Church, even a Communion of Saints, built upon the Foundation of the Prophets and Apostles, as Paul saith), Christ being the Head Corner-stone. For the which Church, Christ gave Himself, to make it to Himself a glorious Congregation, without Fault in His Sight.—IVe believe, that this Church, of herself, and by her own Merits, is sinful; and must needs say, Father, forgive us our Sins. But, thro' Christ and His Merits, the is freely forgiven: for He, in His own Person, hath purged her Sins, and made Her faultless in his Sight (n)." Can Words more strongly express a Redemption absolute, limited, and efficacious?

VI. Mr STEPHEN KNIGHT was burnt at Maldon, in Effex, March 28, 1555. Part of his Prayer at the Stake was, "Thou remembereft, O Lord, that I am but Dust, and able to do Nothing that is good: therefore, O Lord, as, of thine accustomed Goodness and Love, thou hast bidden me to this Banquet, and accounted me worthy to drink of thine own Cup, amongst thy Elect; even so give me Strength, &c. (0)."

VII. The Right Reverend Doctor Robert Farrer, Lord Bishop of St Davids, a Prelate of eminent Name in the Church of England; and sormerly one of the Committee nominated to compile the English Liturgy (p); was burned in the Market-Place at Caermarthen, March 30, 1555. On his Examination, a Paper, containing several Popish Articles, was tendered to him for Subscription: but he resolutely refused to save his Life at the Expence of his Faith. One of these Articles, which respected Justification, was as follows:

"Menare NOT Justified before God, by FAITH ONLY; but Hope and Charity are also necessarily required to Justification (q);" The Bishop's not acceding to this Papistical Tenet (a Tenet, now, as common to Arminians, as ever it was to Papists), was one Cause of his being adjudged to the Flames: for, in the Sentence of Condemnation, which enumerated fome of the pretended Errors for which he was Cast, the following Clause brings up the Rear; ITEM, QUOD HOMO SOLA FIDE JUSTIFICATUR: i. e. " Alfo, he believeth, That Men " are justified by FAITH ALONE (r)." The Reader. I suppose, need not be reminded, that this worthy Bishop was one of those imprisoned Divines who drew up and fat their Hands to the Confession of Faith, quoted toward the Beginning of this Section .- His Lordship's Execution was attended with a very remarkable Circumstance. A Mr Jones coming to condole Him on the Painfulness of the Death he was to undergo, the Holy Bishop made Answer, If you fee me once to flir, while I am burning; then give no Credit to the Truth of the Doctrines for which I fuffer. God. under whose Inspiration, undoubtedly, this was uttered; enabled his faithful Martyr to make good his Promise: for he flood, incircled with the Flames, like a Rock in the midst of the Waves, without flinching, or moving so much as once: steadily holding up his Arms, even when his Hands were burnt away; till one Richard Gravel, a Byestander, "dashed him on the Head with a Staff, and so ftruck him down (s)."

⁽n) Fox, Vol. III. p. 162. (o) Ibid. p. 165. (p) See Burnes's Reform. Vol. II. p. 5%. (q) Fox, Vol. III. p. 177.

VIII. Mr GEORGE MARSH suffered Martyrdom at or near Chester, April 24, 1555. This good Man was as truly Calvinistic, as the rest of his Protestant Brethren: for, being charged, on his Examination before Cotes, the Popish Bishop of Chester, with having said, "That the "Church and Doctrine, taught and set forth in King "Edward's Time, was the true Church, and the Doc-"trine of the true Church;" Marsh acknowledged that he had so spoken, and declared himself still to be of the same Mind (1). If more particular Proof of his Judgement be thought necessary; the ensuing Passages, extracted from some of his Letters, offer themselves as Evidences.

CC2 "Tho"

" Tho' Satan," fays he, " be suffered to sift us, as wheat, " for a Time; yet FAILETH NOT our FAITH, thro' Christ's " Aid (u)."-Again: " If any, therefore, FALL AWAY " from Christ and his Word, it is a plain Token, that they were but diffembling HYPOCRITES, for all their fair Faces controardly, and NEVER believed TRULY: as Judas, " Simon Magus, Demas, Hymenæus, Philetus, and others " were (w)."-Once more: " Daily I call and cry unto the Lord, in whom is all my Trust, and without whom I can do nothing; that He, who hath begun a good Work in " me, would wouch fafe to go forth with it until the Day of " Yesus Christ: being SURELY CERTIFIED in my Conco science, of This, that He WILL do so; for asmuch as he " hath GIVEN me, not only that I should BELIEVE on Him, " but also suffer for his Sake (x)." What he thought concerning the Invincible Efficacy of inward Grace, appears from this Passage in the Prayer which, the Historian tells us, " he used daily to say": -We befeech Thee, according to the little Measure of our Infirmity, altho' we be far UNABLE and unapt to pray; that Thou wouldest mercifully circumcise our STONY Hearts; and, for thefe old Hearts, CREATE new within us, and replenish us with a new Spirit (y). - Norwas his Judgement, respecting Faith, Justification, and Works, less excellent and Scriptural. "What hast thou, faith the " Apostle, that thou hast not received? This Sentence ought to to be had in Remembrance of all Mon: for, if we have MOTHING, but that which we have RECEIVED, what can " we DESERVE? or what need we to dispute and reason of our " own MERITS? It cometh of the FREE GIFT of God that " we live, that we love God, that we walk in His Fear. Where is our Deserving then (z)?-Elsewhere, he writes thus: "GRACE is, throughout all the Epifles of Paul, " taken for the FREE Mercy and Favor of God; whereby He saveth us freely, without any Defervings, or Works

of

⁽u) Ibid. p. 192.

⁽w) Ibid. p. 194.

⁽a) Ibid. p. 199.

⁽y) Ibid.

⁽z) Ibid. p. 195.

e of the Law (a)." Reconciliation with God, through the Blood of Christ, is a Subject, which this holy Martyr treats of, with equal Clearness: " PEACE is taken for the " Quietness and Tranquillity of the Conscience, being thoroughly se persuaded, that through the ONLY Merits of Christ's Death " and Blood-shedding, there is an Atonement and Peace made between God and Us: fo that God will NO MORE IMPUTE our Sins unto us, nor yet condemn us (b)." Yet are not good Works hereby discarded : "Declare your FAITH", fays he, " by your GOOD WORKS, which are infallible WIT-" RESSES of the true justifying Faith, which is never idle. but worketh by Charity (c)." Again: " After thefe " Works, we must learn to know the Cross, and what Affection and Mind we must bear towards our Adversaries and Enemies, what soever they be; to suffer all Adversities and Evils patiently; to pray for them that burt, perfecute, and " trouble us: and, by thus using ourselves, we shall obtain an Hope and Certainty of our Vocation, that we be the " ELECT Children of God (d)." He observes, that "God " is wont, for the most Part, to warn HIS ELECT and " CHOSEN, what Affliction and Trouble shall hoppen unto them for his fake: not to the Intent to fray them there-66 by, but rather to prepare their Minds against the " boisterous Storms of Persecution (e)." Next to the effectual Presence of the Holy Spirit, nothing, perhaps, so strengthens and animates the Minds of God's People to be valiant for His Truths, as the Examples of Those who are enabled to lay down their Lives for Christ: whence we find Mr Marsh saying, as the Apostle did before him, " We suffer all Things for the ELECT's Sake (f)." His judicious Explication of Col. i. 24. shall at present close the Testimony of this worthy Martyr: " St Paul deth not " here mean, that there wanteth any Thing in the Puffion of " Christ, which may be supply'd by Man: for the Passion of 66 Christ, as touching his own Person, is that MOST PERFECT ss and CC3

⁽a) Ibid. p. 197.

⁽b) Ibid.

⁽c) Ibid. p. 194.

⁽a) Ibid. p. 195.

⁽e) Ibid. p. 198. (f) Ibid.

and omni-sufficient Sacrifice, whereby we are all made perfect, as many as are sanctified in His Blood. But these

" his Words [i. e. the Apostle's Words in the above Text]

" ought to be understood of the ELECT and CHOSEN, in whom Christ is and shall be persecuted unto the World's 66 End (g)."

IX. Mr John Warne, Upholsterer and Citizen of London, was Burned, in Smithfield, May 31, 1555. The Day before he suffered, he wrote a Confession of his Faith, in Form of a Commentary on the Apostles Creed. The Confession, tho' long, is so excellent, that I cannot help giving it entire.

- " I believe in God, the Father Almighty, Maker of Heaven and Earth.
- A Father, because He is the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who is the Everlasting Word, Whom, before
- 44 all Worlds, He hath begotten of Himfelf; Which Word
- was made Flesh, and therein also manifested to be His
- " Son: in whom He hath adopted us to be his Children,
- " the Inheritors of His Kingdom; and therefore He is our
- 44 Father. An Almighty God, because he hath, of no-
- " thing, created all Things, visible and invisible, both in
- " Heaven and in Earth, even all Creatures contained there-
- " in; and GOVERNETH them.
 - .. And in Jefus Christ, His only Son, our Lord.
- "The Eternal Word, PERFECT GOD with his Father, of EQUAL Power in all Things, of the SAME Substance,
- " of like Glory, by whom all Things were made and have
- 46 Life, and without Whom nothing liveth. He was made
- se also persect Man: and so, being very God and very
- " Man in one Person, is the only Savior, Redeemer, and
- "Ranfomer, of them which were lost in Adam our Fore-
- " father. He is the only Mean of our Deliverance, the
- " Hope of our Health, the SURETY of our Salvation.

" Who

Who was conceived by the Holy Ghoft, born of the Virgin Mary.

" According to the Father's most merciful Promise, this

Eternal Son of God, forfaking the Heavenly Glory, se humbled Himfelf to take Flesh of a Virgin, according " to the Scriptures: uniting the Substance of the God-

46 head to the Substance of the Manhood, which He took

" of the Substance of that blessed Virgin Mary, in one " Person; to become therein the very Messiah, the Anoint

44 ed King and Priest, forever appointed to pacify the Father's Wrath, which was justly gone out against us all 66 for our Sin.

" Suffered under Pontius Pilate, was Crucified, Dead, " and Buried; and descended into Hell.

" He was arraigned before Pontius Pilete, the Ruler of " Fewry; and so unjustly accused of many Crimes, that

" the Ruler judged Him innocent, and fought Means to " deliver Him: but, contrary to known Justice, he did

" let go Barabbas, who had deserved Death; and deliver" ed CHRIST to be crucified, Who deserved no Death. "Which doth declare unto us, manifestly, that He suffered for our Sins, and was buffeted for our Offences, as the Prophets do witness: thereby to have it manifested

" to all Men, that He is That Lamb of God that taketh

" away the Sins of the World. Therefore, fuffering for for our Sins, He received and did bear our deserved Con-

"demnation, the Pains of Death, the Taste of Abjection,

"the very Terror of Hell: yielding His Spirit to His " Father; His Body, to be buried in the Earth.

" The Third Day, He rose again from the Dead.

"To make FULL and PERFECT the WHOLE WORK of our REDEMPTION and JUSTIFICATION, the same cru-" cified Body, which was laid in the Grave, was raifed

" up again, the third Day, from Death, by the Power of His Father, and Glory of His Godhead. He became " the First-fruits of the Resurrection, and got the Victory of Death, that all by Him might be raised up from

- "Death: through Whom ALL true PENITENT Sinners may now boldly come unto the Father, and have Re- mission of their Sins.
- " He ascended into Heaven, and sitteth on the Right Hand of God the Father Almighty.
- " After that, in his Death and Refurrection, He had conquered Sin, Death, and the Devil, and had been
- " conversant 40 Days in the Earth, being seen of the
- " Apostles, and more than 500 Brethren at once; in the
- " fame Body, in which He WROUGHT THE WORK of our
- "Salvation, He ascended into Heaven, with eternal
- "Triumph for the Victory over Death, Sin, Hell: leav-
- " ing the Passage open, by which ALL true BELIEVERS
- " may and SHALL enter into his Kingdom; where He now
- "fitteth at His Father's Right Hand, that is to fay, in
- " Power and Glory equal, in Majesty co-eternal.
 - " From thence he shall come, to judge the Quick and the Dead.
 - "He shall appear again, in great Glory, to receive His
- " ELECT unto himself, and to put His Enemies under
- " His Feet: changing all Living Men, in a Moment;
- " and raising up all that be Dead; that All may be brought
- " to his Judgement. In this shall he give each Man ac- " cording to his Deeds. They, who have followed Him
- " in REGENERATION, who have their SINS WASHED
- 46 AWAY in His Blood, and are CLOATHED WITH HIS
- " RIGHTEOUSNESS, shall receive the Everlasting King- " dom, and reign with Him forever. And they, who,
- 46 after the Race of the corrupt Generation of Adam, have
- " followed Flesh and Blood, shall receive everlasting Dam-
- 66 nation with the devil and his angels.
 - " I believe in the Holy Ghost.
- . "I do believe, that the Holy Ghost is God; the
- " Third Person in the Trinity; in Unity of the Godhead
- " EQUAL with the Father and the Son: given, through Christ, to INHABIT our Spirits; by which we are made
- "to FREL and understand the great Power, Virtue, and
- Loving Kindness, of Christ our Lord. For He si. e.

the Holy Ghoft] ILLUMINATES, QUICKENS, and CER-

"TIFIES our Spirit, that by Him we are SEALED up to the Day of Redemption: by Whom we are REGENE-

" RATE, and made NEW Creatures; fo that, by Him,

" and through Him, we do receive all the abundant Good" ness promised us in Jesus Christ.

" The Holy Catholic Church.

This is an Holy NUMBER of Adam's Posterity,

" ELECTED, GATHERED, WASHED, and PURIFIED

" by the Blood, from the Beginning of the World: and

" is dispersed through the same, by the Tyranny of Gog

" and Magog, i. e. [by] the Turk and his Tyranny; and

"Antichrift, otherwise named the Bishop of Rome, and "his Angels [i. e. his Emissaries], as this Day also doth ce teach.

" The Communion of Saints.

"Which most Holy Congregation (being, as Paul teacheth, builded upon the Foundation of the Apostles, and Prophets, Jesus Christ being the Head-corner-stone), tho Prophets, fejus Christ being the Head-corner-stone), tho

it be, by the Tyranny of Satan and his Ministers, perfecuted, some by Death, and some by other Afflictions

" and painful Torments; yet doth it remain in one per-

" feet Unity, both of Faith and Fellowship. Which

"Unity is knit in an unspeakable Knot, as well of them

" who are departed from this mortal Life, as of them who

" now be living, and hereafter shall be in the same: and

" fo shall continue, untill they all do meet in the "Kingdom, where the Head, Jesus Christ, with all his

" Holy Members (of which Number, through Christ, I 46 ASSUREDLY believe I am One), shall be fully complete,

" knit, and united together, forevermore.

" The Forgiveness of Sins.

"I do believe, that my Sins, and all their Sins who

66 do rightly believe the holy Scripture, are forgiven

" only through Jesus Christ; of Whom only, I do

" profess, that I have my WHOLE and FULL SALVATION

" and Redemption: which St Paul faith, cometh NOT

"THROUGH OUR WORKS and DESERVINGS, but FREELY
"BY GRACE, left any should boast himself. Through the Blood of the Cross, all Things in Heaven and Earth"

" are reconciled and fet at Peace with the Father [i. e. is as it immediately follows], without Him [without "Christ] no Heavenly Life [is] given, no Sin forgiven.

"The Resurrection of the Body.

"I do believe, that, by the same my Savior Christ, I and all Men shall rise again from Death: for He, as Paul saith, is risen again from the Dead, and is become the First-fruits of them that sleep; for by a Man came

66 Death, and by a Man cometh the Refurrection from " Death. This Man [by whom the Resurrection comes],

" is Christ; through the Power of whose Resurrection,

"I believe that we shall rise again in these our Bodies:

the ELECT, clothed with Immortality, to live with Christ forever; the REPROBATE also shall rise Immortal,

" to live with the Devil and his Angels in Death ever-

" lafting.

" And the Life everlasting.

"Through the same Jesus, and by none other, I am fure to have Life everlasting. He only is the Way and

Entrance into the Kingdom of Heaven. For fo God

" loved the World, that He did give His only Son Jesus Christ, to the End that so MANY as do BELIEVE in 44 Him might have everlasting Life. The which I am SURE 45 to possess, so soon as I am dissolved, and departed out of to poness, to took as I am disolved, and departed out of this Tabernacle; and, in the last Day, shall, both

Body and Soul, possess the same forever: to the which,

"God grant all Men to come.

"I believe, that the Sacraments, that is to fay, of Baptism and the Lord's Supper, are Seals of God's most " merciful Promises towards Mankind. In Baptism, as, by the outward Creature of Water, I am washed from the Filthiness which hangeth on my Flesh; so do I saffuredly believe, that I am, by Christ's Blood, washed

e clean from my Sins: through which [spiritual Wash-

" ing]

4 ing] I have sure Confidence of my CERTAIN Salvation. In partaking of the Lord's Supper, as I receive 46 the substance of Bread and Wine, the Nature of which is to strengthen the Body; so do I, by Faith, receive " the Redemption wrought in Christ's Body broken on " the Cross, Life by His Death, Resurrection by His Re-" furrection, and, in Sum, all that ever Christ in His " Body fuffered for my Salvation, to the strengthening of " my Faith in the same. And I believe that God hath " appointed the Eating and Drinking of the Creatures of " Bread and Wine, in His Holy Supper, according to

46 His Word, to move and to stir up my Mind to believe

" these Articles above written.

"This is my Faith: this do I believe: and I am con-" tent, by God's Grace, to confirm and feal the Truth " of the fame with my Blood.

"By me, JOHN WARNE (b)."

X. At the same Stake with Mr Warne, suffered that memorable Dignitary of the Church of England, the Reverend Mr John CARDMAKER; Canon Residentiary, and Treasurer, of the Cathedral Church of Wells, and Vicar of St Bride's, Fleet-Street. There is, so far as I have yet been able to find, no more than a fingle Letter of his extant, and that a very fhort one: But, concife as it is, it contains a Clause, from whence we may infer the Calvinism of this excellent Man. "The Lord", says he to his Friend and Correspondent, " strengthen You, Me, and all " His ELECT (i)."

XI. Mr THOMAS HAUKES, a Gentleman of Effex, suffered at Coggleshall, in that County, June 10, 1555. little before his Execution, several of his particular Friends, who, tho' stedfast Protestants, were in some Degree of Bondage, through Fear of that violent Death, which they knew not how foon they might be called to undergo; requested

⁽b) Fox, Ibid. p. 206, 207.

⁽i) Fox, ibid. p. 207. And Strype's Eccl. Mem. Vol. II. p. 260.

he would give them a Signal of it before he expired. The good Man promised them, that he would: and the Token fixed upon, was, that he should elevate his Hands above his Head, towards Heaven, e'er his Soul ascended to God. -Being fastened to the Stake, the Faggots were kindled: In which, when he had continued long, and when his Speech was taken away by the Violence of the Flame, 46 his Skin shriveled, and his Fingers confumed, so that 44 all thought certainly he had been gone; fuddenly, and contrary to all Expectation, the bleffed Servant of God, 66 being mindful of his Promise aforemade, lifted up his " Hands (which were all in a Blaze) over his Head, and 46 triumphantly struck them together thrice. At the Sight of which, the Spectators, They especially who were " apprifed of the Signal, gave uncommon Shouts of Joy 44 and Applause. And so the blessed Martyr of Christ, " ftraightway finking down into the Fire, yielded up his " Spirit (k)."

Mr Haukes's Principles, as to the Doctrine of Grace, are sufficiently apparent, from the two following Passages. "Tho' the World rage," faid he, " and blaspheme THE " ELECT of God; ye know that it did fo unto Christ, His 46 Apostles, and to all that were in the Primitive Church (1)." In a Letter to a Person who had promised to take Charge of his Son's Education, he wrote thus; " I hope to meet 66 both Him and You among all God's ELECT (m)."

XII. Mr Nicolas Sheterden was Burned at Canterbury, July 12, 1555. Praying at the Stake, he said, " O Father, I do not presume unto Thee in MY OWN RIGHT-CE TEOUSNESS: No! but only in the Merits of thy dear Son, my Savior. For the which excellent GIFT of Salvation,

" I cannot worthily praise Thee (n)."

To

⁽k) Fox, Ibid. p. 220.

⁽¹⁾ Ibid. p. 221.

⁽m) Ibid. p. 222.

⁽n) Ibid. p. 313.

God is the GIVER of ALL Goodness, and that FREELY, of for His Love to us; not only WITHOUT our Deserts, but contrary to the same (o)." Again: "Dear Brother, my Heart's Desire and Prayer to God is, that we may together enjoy the Bliss of Eternal Inheritance, by one spicitual REGENERATION and NEW BIRTH (p)."

XIII. Mr John Newman was Crowned with Martyrdom, at Saffron Walden, August 31, 1555. "Faith," said this Christian Hero, "is the GIFT of God, and cometh not of Man (q)." Having Occasion to treat of the Extent of Christ's Death, he thus delivered his Belief: "With that one Sacrifice of His Body, once offered on the Cross, He hath made perfect, forever, ALL THEM that are Sanctified (r)." Adding, "I believe that there is an Holy Church, which is the Company of the faithful and ELECT People of God, dispersed abroad throughout the whole "World(s)."

XIV. In the fame Month, Mr ROBERT SMITH was Burnt at Uxbridge. Some of his excellent Observations were these: " In Corinth was not all the Congregation of "God; but a Number of those holy and ELECT People of "God (t)."-Referring to the perfecuting Time in which he lived, "The Prince of Darknefs," faid he, " is broken 66 loose, and rageth, in his Members, against the Elect of " God (u). By these Means, God will try HIS ELECT, as "Gold in the Furnace (w)." He afferts the absolute Freeness of Salvation in all it's Parts: " All Favor, Mercy, and " Forgiveness, cometh only by Christ. He only, of God the " Father, was made, for Us, all Wisdom, Righteousness, " Sanctification, and Redemption. All these are the GIFTS of God the Father, FREELY GIVEN unto us, by Christ " Jefus, God and Man, through FAITH in His Blood, and " NOT

⁽o) Ibid. p. 31:. (p) Ibid. (q) Ibid. p. 325. (r) Ibid. p. 326. (s) Ibid. (r) Ibid. p. 331. (w) Ibid. p. 339. (w) Ibid. p. 341.

"NOT by the MERITS of Men. GIFTS they are, I fay;
"FREELY GIVEN unto us, of FAVOR, without our Defert:
"by BELIEVING, and NOT BY DESERVING. To this
"do the Law and the Prophets bear Witnefs (x)."—Let us just hear him on the Article of Perseverance: God "Hath "numbered all the Hairs of his Children's Heads, so that "not one of them shall perish without His Fatherly Will. He keepeth the Sparrows: much more will Hepreserve Them,
"whom He bath purchased with the Blood of the Immaculate
"Lamb (y)."

God honor'd the Martyrdom of this pious Person, with a Display of Divine Goodness and Power, not unfimilar to what was related of Mr Haukes. Before Mr Smith was chained to the Stake, he conversed with the People that furrounded him, concerning the Goodness of the Cause for which he was about to suffer; and expressed his Certainty of again receiving, at the Refurrection, that Body which he was then refigning to the Flames: adding, I doubt not, but God will shew you some Token thereof. And so it proved. For, "At length, being well-" nigh half-burned, and also black with Fire, clustered together as in a Lump, and supposed by All to be Dead; " he fuddenly role upright before the People, lifting up " the Stumps of his Arms, and clapping them together. " after which, bending down again, and hanging over " the Fire, he flept in the Lord (z)."-Thus, on some great Occasions, Heav'n owns its Friends, and points them out to Men!

XV. Mr ROBERT SAMUEL, who had been an eminent and useful Preacher in King Edward's Days, was Burned at Ipswich, Aug. 31, 1555. But not till he had borne a lasting Testimony to the Gospel, in the sew, but precious Papers, which he bequeathed to the Church of God. Touching the Father of Heaven", says he, "I believe as much as Holy Scripture teacheth me to believe. The Father is the First Person in the Trinity, [and] first Cause of our " Salvation: who hath bleffed us with all Manner of Bleffings " in Heavenly Things by Christ. Who hath CHOSEN us, " before the Foundations of the World were laid, that IVe " should be holy, and without Blame before Him. Who hath " PREDESTINATED Us, and ORDAINED Us, to he His " Children of Adoption, through Christ Jesus (a)." For these predestinated Persons, sanctify'd and set apart by the Father, Mr Samuel believed that Christ became Obedient unto Death: Christ, "Is made unto us, of God, that only " Sacrifice and Oblation, offered, once for all and forever, " for all them that be fanctified (b)." Between Christ and These there is a blessed Commutation, or Exchange, of Sin and Righteousness: Christ takes away the Guilt of their Trespasses, and configns over to Them the Merit of His own Active and Passive Satisfaction to the Divine Law. This was the Doctrine of our martyr'd Preacher: " HIS [i. e. Christ's] Innocency, HIS Righteousness, HIS · Holiness, His Justice, is our's, given us of God; and " OUR Sins and Unrighteousness, by His Obedience, and Abasing of Himself to the Death of the Cross, are His (c)." Such as are elected, redeemed, and justify'd, shall be preferved to God's Kingdom and Glory: " Now that Christ our Head is rifen, we, being His Body and Members, " MUST follow our Head [i. e. Our Bodies shall, like His. be raised to Eternal Life]. Death, Hell, and Sin, can-" not SUNDER nor PLUCK us from Him. For, as the Son cannot be divided nor funder'd from the Father, nor the " Holy Ghost from them both; no more may we, being the " faithful [i. e. the Believing] Members of Christ, be sepa-" rated from Christ (d).—Christ affirmed the same; saying, " My Sheep hear my Voice: I know them: they hearken " unto Me, and to no Strangers: and I give them ever-" lafting Life: and they shall not be lost: and no Man " shall pluck them out of My Hands. Ne, nor yet this " flattering

" is

"fiattering World, with all his vain Pleasures; nor any "Tyrant, with his great Threats, and stout Brags; can once "move them out of the Woy of Eternal Life. What Consociation and Comfort may we have, more pleasant and efficiency, and of His? — — We are Members of His Body, and of His Flesh, and of His Bones; and as Dear to Him, as the Apple of His Eye (e)."

XVI. Mr Robert Glover became a Burnt-offering for the Truth's Sake, at Coventry, in September, 1555. Valuable is the Festimony which he bore to the Doctrine of Election. Speaking of Saints, he justly affirms, that "They were no Bringers of any Goodness to God, but "Altogether Receivers. They chose not God first, but HE chose them. They loved not God first, but HE loved them first. Yea, He both Loved and chose them, when they were [considered as] His Enemies, full of Sin and Corruption, and void of all Goodness (f)." Persuant to this Evangelical View of the Subject, Mr Glover thus address'd the Adorable Majesty: "O Lord, Thou shew-" of Power, in Weakness; Wisdom, in Foolishness; Mercy, in Sinfulness. Who shall lett [i.e. who can hinder] Thee to chuse Where and Whom Thou wilt (g)?"

XVII. Mr THOMAS WHITTLE, a Clergyman of Effex, received the Crown of Martyrdom, in January, 1556.—
"Christ," saith this good Church-of-England Divine,
"hath, by His Passion, Fully redeemed and Saved Us
"in His own Person: howbeit, His Elect must suffer
"with Him and for Him, to the World's End (b)." Elsewhere, he expresses himself thus: "Those that are ingrasted and incorporated into Christ by Faith, Feeling the "Motion of God's Holy Spirit as a Pledge of their "Election and Inheritance, exciting and stirring them,
"not only to seek Heavenly Things, but also to hate Vice and "embrace Virtue; will not only do these Things, but also, if "Need

⁽e) Ibid. p. 347. (f) Ibid. p. 355. (g) Ibid p. 353

⁽b) Ibid. p, 520.

Need require, will gladly take up their Crofs, and follow " their Captain, their King, and their Savior, Jesus Christ, " as His poor afflicted Church of England now doth, against that falfe and Antichristian Doctrine and Religion now " used (i):" i. e. against the Doct ine and Religion of Popery, then newly restored. The Perseverance of the Elect is a Consequence, which necessarily follows from the above Premisses: take, however, one positive Proof of this Martyr's Judgement as to the Certainty of that inestimable Truth. "Tho' the Righteous FALL, Saith David, he Shall " NOT be CAST AWAY, for the LORD upholdeth him " with His Hand. Oh, the bottomless Mercy of God, to-" wards us miserable Sinners (k)!"

XVIII. Mr BARTLET GREEN, a Gentleman of the Law, was converted at Oxford, by hearing the Divinity-Lectures of Peter Martyr. But, being young, and rich, and naturally of a gay Turn; he was permitted, for a Time, to relapse into a worldly Spirit, and lose Sight of that Glory and Virtue to which he had been Called by Grace. God, however, who will never lose a chosen Vessel, recalled the Wanderer; and even enabled him to lay down his Life for the Sake of Christ. And thus, as the pious Mr Fox remarks on this Occasion, "We see the " fatherly Kindness of our most gracious and merciful "God, who never suffereth His Elect Children fo to fall, " as to lie still [i. e. to the End] in Security of Sin: but oftentimes quickens them up by fome fuch Means as, es perhaps, they think least of; as He did, here, this His " strayed Sheep (1)." He ascended, from Smithfield, to Heaven, in Company with Six other Martyrs, who were burned in the same Fire, January 27, 1556.

This valuable Person touches on the Doctrine of Grace, with much Judgement and Propriety. " God," fays Mr. Green, " is not bound to Time, Wit, or Knowledge; but " rather chuseth the weak Things of the World, in order to D_d " confound

⁽i) Ibid. p. 521. . (k) Ibid. p. 520.

" confound the strong. Neither can Men appoint Bounds to " God's Mercy: for I will have Compassion, saith He, on " whom I WILL shew Mercy. There is no Respect of Per-" fons with God, whether it be old or young, rich or poor, wife or foolish, Fisher or Basket-maker: God GIVETH Know-" ledge of His Truth, through His FREE-GRACE, to whom " He LIST (m)." On one of his Examinations before the Popish Delegates, he offered to debate Matters with them, in Form; provided, they would first allow him to confult "CALVIN, and my Lord of Canterbury's Books (n)." Indeed, the Writings of Calvin and Cranmer were deservedly numbered among the most efficacious Antidotes against the Poison of Popery: and, the Arminian Weed not having then over-ran the Protestant Garden, CANTERBURY and GENEVA were confidered as much nearer Neighbors than the new-fprung Disciples of Van Harmin are willing to confess .- I cannot take leave of Mr Green, without citing the pious and not in-elegant Distich, which he several Times repeted, both on his Way to Execution, and after his Arrival at the Stake:

CHRISTE Deus, sine Te Spes est mihi nulla Salutis! Te Duce, vera sequor; Te Duce, falsa nego.

XIX. Mr WILLIAM TYMS, a young Clergyman, in Deacon's Orders, and Curate of Hockley; was burned, in April, 1556. When he was first seized and brought before Gardiner, the Popish Bishop of Winchester; he was very meanly dressed (such were the Distresses of God's People, at that Time of Trouble, Rebuke, and Blasphemy): he went not to the Bishop, says Mr Fox, in a Gown, but in a Coat; and his stockings were of two Colors. Gardiner insulted him on the Poorness of his Habit: Sirrah, are you a Deacon? You are not apparelled like One." Mr Tyms with great Smartness replied, My Lord, your own Dress is no more like That of the Apossles, than mine is like a Deacon's.

This

This Gentleman's Agreement with the Protestant Church of England, in the Points which relate to Grace, may be collected from the following Passages. Writing to a Penitent Backslider, he says, " Since I heard of your earnest "Repentance, I have very much rejoiced, and praised Almighty "God for his Mercy shewed to you, in that He has not left " you to yourself, but, since your Denial, hath shewed his Mercy on you, by looking back upon you, as He did on Peter. " and so CAUSED you to repent :- Whereas, if God had left 46 you to yourself, you had run forward, from one Evil to another (0)," In the same Letter, speaking of such false, nominal Protestants, as had fallen back into a Profession of Popery, he observes that such would Perish, " Except they do repent and amend: which GRACE, that they may 66 fo do, I befeech the Eternal God, for His Christ's fake, 18 it be His good WILL, to GIVE them in HIS good Time (p)." He justly ascribes the "Perception" and "Feeling" of " Grace and Peace" in the " Heart," to " the MIGHTY " WORKING of the Holy Ghost the Comforter (q):" and fays, " I am surely certify'd of This, that He, who hath " begun a good Work in you, shall go forth with it [i. e. go " through with it, maintain and complete it] 'till the Day " of Jefus Christ (r)." Adding: "The God of all Grace, " who CALLED you to his Eternal Glory by Christ Jesus, shall, "His own felf, after you have fuffered a little Affliction, make " you perfect; shall settle, strengthen, and stablish you."

XX. XXI. and XXII. Three Persons were Burned, at Beckles, in Suffolk, May 21, 1556. Their Names were THOMAS SPICER, JOHN DENNY, and EDMUND POOLE. One of the Articles, for which they were condemned to Death, ran in these Words: "Item, They offirmed no mortal" Man to have in himself FREE-WILL to do good or evil (s)."

XXII.—LVI. The Historian mentions 34 Persons beside, who were persecuted and expelled from the Towns

Dd 2 of ⁽⁰⁾ Ibid. p. 574.

⁽p) Ibid.

⁽q) Ibid. p. 575.

⁽r) loid. p. 576.

⁽¹⁾ Ibid. p. 590.

of Winflon and Mendlesham, in Suffolk, in the same Month of May, 1556. These, tho' it does not appear that they were All eventually brought to the Stake, yet deserve to be ranked with Those that were: inasmuch as they suffered greatly, for the same Blessed Cause. Among the Reafons affigned by the Martyrologist, for the hard Usage of these excellent People, is the following: "Fifthly, They CO DENIED Man's FREE-WILL, and held that the Pope's " Church did err :- rebuking their [i. e. the Papists] false " CONFIDENCE in WORKS, and their FALSE TRUST IN MAN'S RIGHTEOUSNESS. Also, when any rebuked " those persecuted, for going so openly, and talking so 66 freely; their Answer was, They acknowledged, con-" fessed, and believed, and therefore must speak : and 44 that their Tribulation was God's good Will and Providence, and that, of very Faithfulness and Mercy, 66 God had caused them to be troubled; so that not one Hair of their Heads should perish BEFORE THE " TIME, but all Things should work unto the best to " them that love God: And, that CHRIST JESUS was their "Life and only RIGHTEOUSNESS; and that, only by 66 FAITH in Him, and for HIS Sake, ALL good Things " were FREELY GIVEN them; also Forgiveness of Sins, 44 and Life everlasting. Many of these Persecuted were " of great Substance, and had Possessions of their own (t)."

Now, I would ask of Mr Wesley and Co. 1. Were not these good old Church-of-England-People, Calvinists?

2. Can the Church of Rome be, with any Shew of Reason, or with any Shadow of Truth, considered as well-affected to Calvinism; seeing, one grand Motive, why she persecuted the primitive Protestants, was, because they held the Calvinistic Doctrines?

3. Must it not be the very Essence of Slander and Falshood, to object against those Doctrines as productive of prastical Remissions; when the Persons, who maintained them with the greatest Zeal, took joyfully joyfully the spoiling of their Goods, relinquished their worldly Possessinos, rather than dissemble any Part of their Faith, and went even to Prison and to Death for the sake of those very Principles? If any Man seriously supposes, that Calvinism relaxes the Sinews of Evangelical or Moral Duty; let him only consider the Holiness, the Honesty, and the Heroism, of Those Calvinistic Saints, whose Sufferings and Deaths redden the Protestant Calendar, and who resisted even unto Blood, striving against Sin.

⁽¹⁾ Ibid. p. 590, 591.

LVII—LXX. Eleven Men, and Two Women, were Burned, in one Fire, at Stratford le Bow, near London, June 27, 1556. It should seem, that they had temporized, or at least conceled their Faith, for some Time after the Return of Popery under Queen Mary. My chief Reason, for this Supposition, is, because their own Words appear to imply something of this Kind. They speak, as Persons who had once let go the Profession (tho' not the Possession) of Grace: and ascribe their Recovery, not to their own Free-wills, but to the unfailing Faithfulness of God's unchangeable Spirit. "Altho'," said they, in their united Declaration, "we have erred for a certain Time, yet the Root of Faith was preserved in us, by the Holy Ghost, who hath reduced us into a Full certainty of the same (u)."

LXXI. Mr John Careless, of Coventry, bore a glorious Attestation to the Doctrines of the Church of England. Tho' he died in the King's-Bench Prison, and so, as Mr Fox observes, "came not to the full Martyrdom" of his Body; yet is he no less worthy to be counted in Honor and Place of Christ's Martyrs, as well for that he was, for the same Truth's sake, a long while imprison'd, as also for his willing Mind and zealous Affection which he had to Martyrdom, if the Lord had so determined (w)."

D d 3

What

⁽u) Ibid. p. 594.

What this eminent Servant of God believed, and delivered, concerning Predestination, will appear from some remarkable Passages, which passed at his Examination before Dr Martin, the Popish Commissary. The Commissary having told Mr Careless, that he had Authority to question him on any Articles of Faith whatever; Careless answered,

- "Then let your Scribe fet his Pen to the Paper: and you fhall have it roundly, even as the Truth is. I believe, that
- "Almighty God, our most dear, loving Father, of his great Mercy and infinite Goodness, did ELECT in Christ-
- "The Popish Doctor. Tush, what need all that long Circumstance? Write, I believe God elected: and make no more a-do.
 - " CARELESS. No, not fo, Mr Doctor. It is an high
- "Mystery, and ought reverently to be spoken of. And, if my "IVords may not be written as I do utter them, I will not " speak at all.

- " Popish Doctor. Go to, Go to: write what he will.
 "Here is more Business than needeth.
- "CARELESS. I believe, that Almighty God, our most dear, loving Father, of His great Mercy and infinite Good-
- " nefs (through Jesus Christ), did ELECT and APPOINT,
- in Him, before the Foundation of the Earth was laid, a CHURCH, or Congregation; which He doth continually
- eguide, and govern, by His Grace and Holy Spirit: fo that
- " NOT ONE of them shall ever FINALLY PERISH (x)."

The crafty, fleering Papist then asked Mr Careless, "Why, who will deny this?" To which the honest, unsuspecting Prisoner made answer, "If your Mastership do allow it, and other learned Men when they see it, I have my Hearts Desire."

- " Popis Doctor. It was told me also, that thou dost affirm, that Christ did not die esfectually for All Men.
 - " CARELESS. What soever hath been told you, it is not much - much material unto me. Let the Tellers of fuch Tales come

- before my Face, and I trust to make them Answer. For in-
- 46 deed, I do believe, that Christ DID DIE effectually for 46 ALL THOSE that do effectually REPENT and BELIEVE;
- 44 ALL THOSE that do effectually, REPENT and BELIEVE:
 44 and for NO OTHER (y)."
- " Popish Doctor. Now, Sir, what is Trew's Faith of Predestination?
- " CARELESS. Truly, I think he doth believe as your Master-
- 46 ship and the rest of the Clergy [i. e. the Popish Clergy]
- do believe of Predestination: that we be elected, in respect
- of our Good Works; and so long elected as we do them, and no longer (2)."

Here observe, I. That the Mr Traw, now mentioned, was a professing Protestant; and had, probably, been a Member of that fingle "Free-will Congregation", spoken of by Mr. Strype, and noticed by me in the first Section of this Treatife. - 2. That those few FREE-WILLERS (and they were, in that Age, exceding few indeed) who made Profession (and 'twas little more than mere Profession) of Protestantism; did not vary from the Church of Rome, but cordially Chimed in with her, like two Tallys, fo far as Election and its connected Articles were concerned. For, the upright Mr Careless, whom neither Fear nor Favor could byass from his Integrity, expresly declared, in the Hearing and to the Face of his Popish Judge, that Mr Trew the Free-willer (who held a changeable Election grounded on Works) did therein exactly agree with the faid Popish Judge, and the rest of the Romish Clergy. From whence, fay I, Mr John Wefley, Mr Wat Sellon, and some others of that Kidney, whom I could name, may fee, to WHAT PARTY they belong. And although the faid Messieurs may not deem it altogether prudent and convenient, to own their Relationship to the said popish Party; yet, as many of Mankind, as have unprejudiced Eyes wherewith to fee, and distinguishing Heads wherewith to understand, cannot possibly fail to rank the Messieurs aforesaid with the PARTY aforementioned.

A few concise Extracts, from some of Mr Careless's Letters, shall give farther Demonstration of that Light and Grace which God had bestowed on this admirable Man.

- 1. To Mr John Bradford.

 "John Bradford, thou Man so specially beloved of God,
 His singularly beloved and elect Child; I pronounce and testify unto thee, in the Word and Name of the Lord Jehovah, that Christ hath cleansed thee with His Blood, and cloathed thee with His Righteousness; and hath made thee, in the Sight of God His Father, without Spot or Wrinkle: so that, when the Fire doth its appointed Office, thou shalt be received, as a sweet Burnt-Sacrifice, into Heaven; where thou shalt joyfully remain in God's Presence forever, as the true Inheritor of his everlassing Kingdom, unto which thou wast undoubtedly Predestinate and ordained by the Lord's Infallible Purpose and Decree, be-
- "fore the Foundation of the World was laid (a)."

 2. "To my most dear and faithful Brethren in Newgate,
 "condemned to due for the Testimony of God's everlasting
- " condemned to dye for the Testimony of God's everlasting "Truth.
 " The Everlasting Peace of God, in Jesus Christ; the - " continual Joy, Strength, and Comfort of his most pure, holy, and mighty Spirit; with the Increase of Faith,
- " and lively FEELING of His ETERNAL MERCY; be with
- "You, my most dear and faithful loving Brother Tyms,
- " and with all the rest of my dear Hearts in the Lord,
- "your faithful Fellow-Soldiers, and most constant Com-
- " panions in Bonds.—Thy Will, O Lord, be effectually fulfilled! for It is only good, and turneth all
- Things to the best for such as Thou, in thy Mercy,
- " hast CHOSEN .--- He [i. e. Christ] hath given you,
- of or everlasting Possession, all his Holiness, Righteous-
 - " nefs.

" ness, and Justification: yea, and the Holy Ghost into " your Hearts, wherewith ye are furely fealed to the Day

" of Redemption, to CERTYFY you of your ETERNAL

"ELECTION, and that ye are His true adopted Sons (b'." 3. "To my dear and faithful Brother, William Tyms,

" Prisoner in Newgate.

" Faithful is God, and true of his Promises, who hath faid, that He will never suffer His CHOSEN Children to " be tempted above their Strength. Great Cause have "you to be of good Comfort. I see, in You, as lively

" a Token of God's EVERLASTING LOVE and Favor in " Jesus Christ, as ever I perceived in any Man.

" Christ is made unto us Holiness, Righteousness, and " Justification. He hath cloathed us with All His Merits,

" Mercies, and most sweet Sufferings; and hath taken to

" Him All our Misery, Wretchedness, Sin, and Infir-

" mity. So that if Any [i. e. Any of God's Chosen Chil" dren] should now be condemned for the same, it must

" needs be Jesus Christ, who hath taken them upon Him.
" But indeed He hath made SATISFACTION for them to "the uttermost Jot. So that, for His Sake, they " shall never be Imputed to us, if they were a thousand " Times so many more as they be.

"Satan's fiery Darts can do you no Harm, but rather

"do you good Service: to cast you down under the mighty Hand of God, that He may take you up by His only

"Grace and Power, and so you may render him all the "Glory by Jesus Christ: Which Thing the Enemy can

" in no wife abide: therefore he shooteth off his other

"Piece most pestilent, to provoke you to put some Part of your Trust and Confidence in Yourself, and in "Your own Holiness and RIGHTEOUSNESS; that you "might, that Way, rob God of His Glory, and Christ

" of the Honor and Dignity of his Death. But, bleffed

" be the Lord God, you have also a full strong Bulwark

" to

46 to beat back this pestiferous Pellet also; even the PURE " Law of God, which proveth the BEST of us all [to " be] DAMNABLE SINNERS in the Sight of God, if He " would enter into Judgement with us according to the Severity of the same; [i. e. according to the unabating 66 Severity and Perfection of His Law]; and that our SEST Works are POLLUTED and defiled, in such fort as 46 the Prophet describeth them: WITH WHICH MANNER 46 OF SPEAKING, OUR FREE-WILL PHARISEES ARE MUCHOFFENDED: for it felleth all Man's Righteousness to the Ground (I had like to have faid, to the Bottom of Hell); and extolleth only the Righteousness of Jesus "Christ, which is allowed before God, and is freely se given to all those that firmly believe; as, blessed be "God, You do. --- [God] comfort, strengthen, and " defend You, with his Grace and mighty Operation of "His Holy Spirit, as He hath hitherto done: that you, 66 having a most glorious Victory over the subtile Serpent 44 and all his wicked Seed; may also receive the Crown " of Glory and Immortality, PREPARED for you before 46 the Foundations of the World were laid, and is so 66 SURELY KEPT for you in the Hands of Him whose 66 Promise is UNFALLIBLE, that the Devil, Sin, Death, or Hell, shall never be able to deprive you of the 66 fame (c)."

4. To my Good Sifter, M. C.

"Tho' God, for a Time, permit Satan to take his Pleasure on me, as he did upon Job; yet, I doubt not, but, in the End, all shall turn to my Profit, through the Merits of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. To whose most merciful Desence I commit you, dear Sister, with all the rest of THE LORD'S ELECT (d)."

5. To my Dear Brother, T. V.

"If His [i. e. if God's] Love towards You stood in the Respect of your own Merit and Worthiness, you might "well

⁽c) Ibid. p. 605. (d) I well mourn, lament, and complain: yea, you had good cause to doubt, sear, and mistrust. But seeing He loveth you only for and in Jesus Christ, who is your the Whole Righteousness and Redemption; banish from you all Fear, Mistrust, and Insidelity. And know, that, as long as Christ Doth continue God's Son, so long must the Love of the Father continue towards you immutable, and His good Will unchangeable, and cannot be altered through any of your Insirmities (e).

6. "To my Dear Brother, Henry Adlington, Prisoner in the Lollards Tower.

" This present Day, I received a Letter from you; at "the Reading whereof, my Brethren and I were not a " little comforted, to see your Conscience so quieted in " Christ, and your Continuance so stedfast in Him. Which "Things be the special Gifts of God: NOT given to 66 EVERY Man, but to you his dear, darling ELECT and " CHOSEN in Christ .- Blessed be God for you, and " fuch as you be, who have played the Part of wife Builders. "You have digged down, past the Sand of your own na-" tural Strength, and beneath the Earth of your own " worldly Wisdom: and are now come to the hard Stone 46 and immoveable Rock, CHRIST, who is your only "Keeper; and upon Him alone have you builded your " Faith, most firmly, without Doubting, Mistrust, or "Wavering. Therefore neither the Storms nor Tem-66 pests, Winds nor Weathers, that Satan and all his wily " Workmen can bring against you, with the very Gates of "Hell to help them, shall ever be able once to MOVE "Your House; much less, to overthrow it: for the Lord God Himself, and no Man, is the Builder thereof, and hath promifed to PRESERVE and keep the fame

" FOREVER (f)."

7. "To my most dear and faithful Brother, T. V.

"The Lord thy God, in whom thou dost put all thy "Trust; for His dear Son's sake, in whom thou dost also " undoubtedly believe; hath FREELY forgiven thee all " thy Sins, CLEARLY released all thy Iniquities, and FULLY copardoned all thy Offences, be they never so many, so " grievous, or fo great; and will NEVER remember them " any more, to Condemnation. As truly as He liveth, " He will not have thee die the Death: but hath utterly " DETERMINED, PURPOSED, and ETERNALLY DE-" CREED, that thou shalt live with Him forever. Thy 66 Sore shall be healed, and thy Wounds bound up, even of Himself, for his own Name's sake. He doth not, or will He, look upon thy Sins, in Thee; but He re-" specteth and beholdeth thee in Christ: into whom thou art lively grafted by Faith in his Blood, and in whom "thou art most assuredly ELECTED and CHOSEN to be a " fweet VESSEL of His MERCY and SALVATION, and " wast thereto PREDESTINATE in Him, before the Foun-46 dation of the World was laid. In Testimony and Ear-" nest whereof, He hath given thee His Good and Holy " Spirit, who worketh in thee Faith, Love, and unfeignes ed Repentance, with other godly Virtues, contrary to " the Corruption of thy Nature (g)."

8. " To E. K.

"Forasmuch as Christ hath CHOSEN US OUT OF the World, to serve God in Spirit and Verity; let us be well assured, the World will hate us and persecute us, as it hath done our Lord and Master (b)."

9. "To Mrs A. G.
"His Glory, above all other Things, we, that are His "CHOSEN Children, ought to feek; yea, even with the "Loss of our own Lives: being yet well assured, that the same shall not be shortened, one Minute of an Hour, before the Time which God hath appointed. Cast, therefore, dear Sister, all your Care upon the Lord, who careth for you. And mighty is His Love and Mercy towards you. With his Grace He will defend you; and with his Holy Spirit will He evermore guide you, wherewith He hath surely sealed you unto the Day of Redemption. He hath also given you the same, in Earnest for the Recovery of the purchased Possession which He hath prepared for you before the Foundation of the World (i)."
"therefore,

421

10. To the faid Mrs A. G.

"Although the perillous Days be come, whereof Christ prophesyed, that if it were possible, THE VERY ELECT should be deceived; yet let the true faithful Christians rejoice and be glad, knowing that THE LORD HIME SELF is their KEEPER, who will not suffer one Hair of their Heads to perish, without His Almighty good Will and Pleasure. Neither will he suffer them to be further tempted, than He will give them Strength to bear; but will, in the midst of their Temptations, make a Way for them to escape out: so good and gracious a God is He to all His Chosen Children. And tho', so sometimes, He do let his Elect stumble and fall; yet, so doubt, He will raise them up again: to the further Increase of their Comfort, and to the setting forth of His Glory and Praise (k)."

Mr Careless lay in Prison, on Account of his Religious Principles, two whole Years: First, in Coventry Jail; and, finally, in the King's-Bench, London. So ardent was his Zeal for the Reformed Church of England, that the surnt Hart does not long more intensely after the Waters of the Brook, than this seraphic Saint panted for the Flames. Dying, however, in the last-mention'd Prison, the Papists, disappointed of Burning him, bury'd his Remains in a Dunghill (1).

⁽i) Ibid. p. 612.

⁽k) Ibid.

⁽¹⁾ Great and exemplary was the Christian Zeal, with which Mr Careless opposed the Free-will Men of that Age. Some remarkable

LXXII. Mrs JOYCE LEWIS, genteelly born and elegantly brought up, was Martyr'd at Litchfield. A little before markable Passages, from Strype's Memorials of Cranmer, will both prove This, and illustrate the Conversation (already related) which passed between Careless and his Popish Examiner, Dr Martin.

" Careless also had much Conference with these Men" [i. e. with the Free-willers], " Prisoners with him in the King's Bench : of whose Contentiousness he complained in a Letter to 46 Philpot. There is extant an Answer of Philpot to Careless, about them: where he writes, That he was forry to hear of the great " Trouble which thefe SCHISMATICS did daily put him to; that he 46 should commit the Success of his Labors (in rightly informing these Men) to God; and not to cease, with Charity, to do his Endea-" wor in Defence of the Truth against these arrogant, and self-willed, blinded Scatterers; That these SECTS were necessary for the Trial of our Faith, and for the beautifying thereof; That he should thew as much Modesty and Humility as possible, and then, Others, 66 feeing his modest Conversations among these CONTENTIOUS BAB-66 BLERS, would glorify God in the Truth of him, and the more ab-66 hor THEM; that he should be content that Shimei do rail at David, " and cast Stones awhile; &c." Such was Arch-deacon Philpot's Opinion of the Free-will Mongers: whom he termed Schismatics; arrogant, self-willed, blinded scatterers; Sects; contentious Babblers; Yet did not the Arch-deacon's Zeal outand railing Shimeis. run his Charity: for his Letter concludes with a most candid and pious Exhortation, in which he earnessly intreated the Brethren . To kifs one another with the Kifs of unfeigned Love, and to take " one another by the Hand chearfully, and to fay, Let us take up our

"Cross together, and go to the Mount of Calvary."

Mr Strype remarks, that all the Terrors of the Popish Persecution could not keep the Free-will Men within the Bonds of Peace and Quietness. For, in 1556, Mr Careless having "Wrote a Consession of his Faith, some Part whereof savored Absolute Predestination against Free-will; he sent it (from the King's Bench, where he lay) to the Protestant Prisoners in Newgate: whereunto i.e. to which Consession of Faith] they generally Sub-

" condemned

she suffered, she said to some Friends who came to take leave of her, "When I enjoy the shinings of my Savior's " Countenance, the near view of Death ceases, in great " Measure, to be terrible." Mr Fox adds, that she took Occasion, at the same Time, to "reason most comfortably, out of God's Word, concerning God's ELECTION and RE-66 PROBATION (m)." Early in the Morning of the Day on which she was Executed, this excellent Woman was tempted to doubt of her own Election and Redemption. It should seem, that, for several Hours, she walked in spiritual Darkness, even Darkness which might be felt. Unbelief was permitted to suggest, How do I know that I was CHOSEN to eternal Life, and that Christ DIED for ME (n)? Some Religious Persons, who were about her, perceiving her Distress, reminded her, "That her Vocation and Calling to the Knowledge of God's Word, was a manifest "Token of God's Love towards her: which might be " farther inferred, from that Love to God, that Defire [&]quot;condemned to die. Hart [who was a noted Preacher among the Free-willers] having gotten a Copy of this [i. e. of Mr "Careless's Predestinarian] Confession, on the back-side thereof wrote his Confession in Opposition thereunto. When they in Newgate had subscribed Careless's Confession, this Hart propounded his unto them; and he, with one Kemp and Gybson, would have persuaded them from the former to the latter, but PREVAILED NOT. One Chamberlain also [another Free-will Teacher] wrote against it [against Mr Careless's Confession].

" to

[&]quot;This Paper of Careless's Consession, with the Answer wrote on the back-side by Hart, sell, by some Accident, into the Hands of Dr Martin, a great Papist: who took Occasion, hence, to scoff at the Professors of the Gospel, because of these Divisions and various Opinions among them. But Careless, before the said Martin, disowned Hart, and said, that be [viz. Hart] had seduced and beguiled many a simple Soul evith his four Pelagian Opinions, both in the Days of King Edward, and since his Departure".—Strype's Memorials of Cranmer, p. 353, (m) Ibid. p. 704. (n) Ibid.

" to please Him, and that Defire to be justified by Christ, " which the Holy Spirit had wrought in her Heart. By 66 thefe, and like Persuasions, and especially by the com-" fortable Promifes of Christ alledged from Scripture; the " Enemy fled, and she was comforted in Christ (0)."

LXXIII. Mr RALPH ALLERTON was Burned at Islington. This good Man, quoting that Passage in the Psalms, The' the Righteous fall, &c. justly observes uponit, "Where-" by we perceive God's ELECTION to be most sure (p)."

-LXXVI. With Mr Allerton were executed Three Others, viz. JAMES AUSTOO, and MARGARET, his Wife; and RICHARD ROTH. Of the two former Mr Fox fays, that "They were as found in Matters of Faith, and an" " fwered as truly, as ever any did: especially the Wife; " to whom the Lord had given the greater Knowledge, "and more Fervency of Spirit." And that Mr Rотн was as " found in Matters of Faith", as either of them; is plain, from the Answer he returned to Bishop Bonner: who asking him, "What he thought of his fellow Prisoner, " Ralph Allerton"? ROTH replied, " I think him to be One " of the Elect Children of God (q)."

LXXVII. Mr John Rough, a Minister, who had been exercised with several very remarkable Providences; at length fealed the Truth with his Death, in the latter End of 1557. Writing to some Religious Friends, he thus expresses the Benevolence of his Wishes, and the Purity of his Faith: "The Comfort of the Holy Ghost make you able " to give Confolation to Others, in these dangerous Days, when " Satan is let loofe, but to the Trial only of THE CHOSEN, " when it pleaseth our God to sift his Wheat from the Chaff (r)." And, in another Letter, addressed to his former Congregation, and written two Days before his Martyrdom, he' observes, that "God hath in all Ages tried HIS ELECT (s)." LXXVIII. The

⁽o) Ibid. p. 709.

⁽p) Ibid. p. 7+1.

⁽q) Ibid. p. 712.

⁽r) Ibid. p. 721.

⁽¹⁾ Ibid. p. 725,

LXXVIII. The celebrated Mr CUTHBERT SYMPSON, who underwent such variety of Torments so meekly, that Bonner himself pronounced him the most patient Prisoner he ever dealt with; and who at last ended his holy Life in the Flames, A. D. 1558; has transmitted, to posterity, that grand Axiom, through the unseigned Belief of which, he was enabled, without murmuring, to "stand as a "Beaten Anvil to the Stroke." And what Axiom was it? That in which the Rays of Calvinism are concentred, and contracted to a Point. Read it in the Martyr's own Words: "There is NOTHING that cometh unto us by CHANCE or FORTUNE; but by our Heavenly Father's PROVI"DENCE (1)."

I may truly say, with the Apostle, Time would fail me to tell of that "Noble Army of Martyrs," and of fuffering Confessors, who, through Faith, quenched the violence of Fire, and out of Weakness were made strong: Who were tortured, not accepting Deliverance; that they might obtain a better Resurrection. And Others had Trial of cruel Mockings, and Scourgings; yea, moreover, of Bonds and Imprisonment : being destitute, afflicted, tormented. A Competency of Witnesses has been produced, sufficient to shew, that our Protestant Martyrs were Doerinal Calvinists. I cannot help repeting an Observation already made, viz. that I am widely mistaken indeed, if the Gentlemen on the Arminian fide of the Question are able to bring a fingle Instance of any ONE Pelagian, or FREE-WILL-MAN, who laid down his Life in Defence of the Reformation, during the whole Reign of Queen Mary. I can at least fay, that I, for my Part, have not hitherto met with any fuch Example. If Mr Wesley, or Mr Any-body else, can point out so much as ONE; it will, as before noted, be for the Honor of Pelagianism, to let the World know it.

Εe

I have

⁽¹⁾ Ibid. p. 728.

I have dwelt, perhaps, too long, already, on the Subject now in Hand. Yet, I cannot dismiss those eminent Worthies, whose Testimonies adorn this Section, without adding Four more to the Number. The Reader will not wonder at my introducing them, when he perceives the celebrated Names of Mr John Bradford, Chaplain to Bishop Ridley, and Prebendary of St Paul's, London;—Mr John Philpot, Arch-deacon of Winchester;—Mr Richard Woodman, and Mr John Clement: which two last, tho' not in Orders, were Men famous in their Generation, Men of Renown, for Holiness of Conversation, Liveliness of Grace, and Clearness of Evangelical Light. Their Attestations shall occupy the Section that follows.

SECTION XVII.

The Judgement of the MARTYRS, Concluded.

MR JOHN BRADFORD was one of the most valuable. Men that ever adorned God's visible Church below. The impartial and judicious Mr Strype styles him, One of the "Four PRIME PILLARS of the Reformed Church of England (u):" and adds, that he was a Person "of great Learning, Elocution, sweetness of Temper, and prosoundness of Devotion towards God. Of whose Worth, the Papists themselves were so sensible, that they took more Pains to bring him off from the Profession of Religion, than any Other. But he, knowing the Truth and Goodness of his Cause, remained "stedsaft"

⁽n)" BRADFORD and LATIMER, CRANMER and RIDLEY, four "Frime Piliars of the reformed Church of England; whom this bucky Year [1555] executed in the Flames."

Strype's Eccles. Mem. Vol. III. p. 254.

fledfast and immoveable. While he was in Prison, he fpent his Time in Preaching twice every Sunday, in " writing many Letters and Discourses, Praying, Read" ing, Conferring, Disputing: sleeping but sour Hours in " the Night (w)."

It had been at the importunate instigation of Martin Bucer, that Mr Bradford entered into Holy Orders. On Bucer's expressing his earnest Defice of seeing him in the Ministry, Bradford declined the Proposal; from a suppofition, that he had not fufficient Talents, to speak in the Name of God. Bucer's Answer was memorable: If you cannot feed the People with fine Manchet, feed 'em with such Barley Bread as God may give you. In the End, Bucer's Expostulations prevailed: and Mr Bradford received both his Ordination and his Preferments from the Apostolic Bishop Ridley. The brightest Abilities are usually rooted in Self-Diffidence. Mr. Bradford's Powers, as an Orator; and the Bleffing, with which his Labours were attended, as a Minister of Christ; were equal to the Fear and Trembling, with which he entered on the arduous Employ. Of his Usefulness in King Edward's Reign, Bishop Ridley wrote as follows : " He [i. e. Bradford] is a Man, by whom, as " I am affuredly informed, God hath and doth work Won-"ders, in setting forth his Word." And, on another Occasion, Ridley said, of Bradford, " In my Conscience I judge is him more worthy to be a Bishop, than many of us, that are "Bishops already, are of being Parish Prices (x)." But his Course, tho' illustrious, was short. Queen Mary made him pass through the Fire to Heaven, in June, 1555 (7). -Let us now see, whether this " PRIME PILLAR of the 66 Church of England" was, or was not, a CALVINIST. E e 2

⁽av) Strype, Ibid. p. 230. (x) Strype's Life of Grindal, p. 8. (y) At the same Stake with Mr Bradford, was burned one John Leaf, a Tallow-Chandler's Apprentice, not Twenty Years of Age. This Elect Youth had been converted in King Edward's Reign, under the Ministry of Mr Rogers, the Proto-Martyr of

On his first Appearance before Gardiner, the Popish Bishop of Winchester; we are informed, that Gardiner began a long Process, concerning the false Doctrine " wherewith the People were deceived in the Days of " King Edward: and so turned the End of his Talk to " Bradford; faying, How fayest Thou? Bradford an-" fwered, My Lord, THE DOCTRINE TAUGHT IN " KING EDWARD'S DAYS was God's PURE RELIGION: " the which as I then believed, so do I now more believe it " than ever I did. And therein I am more confirmed, and " ready to declare it, by God's Grace, even as He will, to " the World, than I was when I first came into Prison (z)." This Declaration, alone, might fuffice to convince any Perfon, who is acquainted with the Religious History of Edward VI's Reign, that Bradford was, to all Intents and Purpoles, a Doctrinal Calvinist. If more particular Proofs be required, take the following, as a Specimen of the rest.

I. In a Letter to Mrs Warcup, and others of his Evangelical Friends; this eminent Predestinarian thus writes: The Souls under the Altar look for Us to FILL UP their " NUMBER. Happy are we, if God have so APPOINTED Howfoever it be, Dearly Beloved, cast yourselves " wholly the Church of England. During Leaf's Imprisonment for the Gospel, Old Bonner sent him two Papers, viz. a Recantation of Protestantism, which if he would sign, his Life was to be spared: and a summary of the Protestant Confession, by the signing of which, his Doom was to be finally fixed. The young Martyrs on this Alternative being offered him, absolutely resused to have any Thing to do with the Recantation. Not being able to write, he pricked his Hand with a Pin; and, sprinkling the Protestant Confession of Faith with his Blood, order'd Bonner's Messenger to . fnew it his Master, as a Proof of his determined Resolution to lay down his Life for the Truth .- What an Instance of Heroic Zeal ! How unlike that worldly, that luke-warm Spirit of Religious Indifference, which now feems to have laid Protestants of every Denomination affeep!

⁽a) Fox's Acts and Mon. Vol. III p. 236.

wholly upon the Lord; with whom all the Hairs of your Head are numbered, so that not one of them shall perish.

"Will we, nill we, we MUST drink God's Cup, if He

" have APPOINTED it for us (a)."

2. " To Sir James Hales, Knight.

"The Children of God think, oftentimes, that God 66 hath forgotten them: and therefore they cry, Hide not " thy Face from me; Leave me not, O Lord. Whereas, in se very Truth, it is not so, but to their present Sense. And " therefore David said, I said, in my Agony, I was clean 66 cast away from thy Face. But was it so? Nay, verily. "Read his Psalms, and you shall see. So writeth he also, in other Places, very often; especially, in the Person of Christ: as when he faith, My God, my God, why " hast Thou forsaken me? Where [i. e. whereas] indeed "God had NOT left him; but that it was so to his Sense: " and that this Psalm telleth us full well .- The same we " read, in the Prophet Efay, Chap. xl. where he reprove th "Ifrael faying, God hath forgotten them: Fear not, 66 &c. For a little while I have forgotten thee, but with great Compassion will I gather thee. For a moment, in mine 44 Anger, I hid my Face from thee, for a little Scafon: but in EVERLASTING Mercy have I had Compassion on these faith the Lord thy Redeemer. For this is unto me as the Waters of Noah: for as I have sworn, that the Waters of Noah should no more go over the Earth; so have I sworn. that I would not be angry with thee, nor rebuke thee. For, the Mountains shall remove, and Hills fall down; but Alv Mercy shall NOT DEPART from thee, neither shall the " COVENANT of my Peace fall away, faith the Lord that hath Compassion on thee .- Be certain, be certain. 66 good Master Hales, that all the Hairs of your Head " your dear Father hath numbered. Your Name is WRITTEN in the Book of LIFE. Therefore upon God cast all your Care, who will comfort you with His * Eternal Confolations (b)."

3. "To Mrs M. H. a godly Gentlewoman: comforting ber in that common Heaviness and godly Sorrow, which the Feeling and Sense of Sin worketh in God's Children.

" As Satan laboreth to loosen our Faith, so must we " labor to fasten it, by thinking on the Promises and " COVENANT of God in Christ's Blood: namely, that "God is our God, with All that ever He hath. Which 66 Covenant dependeth and hangeth on God's own Good-" nefs, Mercy, and Truth, ONLY; and NOT on OUR 66 Obedience, or Worthiness, in ANY Point: for then 66 should we never be certain. Indeed, God requireth of " us Obedience and (c) Worthiness: but NOT THAT " THEREBY WE MIGHT BE His Children, and He " our Father; but BECAUSE HE IS our Father and We " His Children through His own Goodness in Christ, " THEREFORE requireth He Faith and Obedience. Now, if we want this Obedience and Worthiness which He " requiretle, should we doubt whether He be our Father? " Nay. That were to make our Obedience and Worthines the Cause, and so pur CHRIST our of PLACE. for whose sake God is our Father. But rather, because "He is our-Father, and we feel ourselves to want such "Things as He requireth, we should be stirred up to a " Shamefacedness and Blushing, because we are not as " we should be. And thereupon should we take Occasion to go to our Father, in Prayer, on this Manner: Dear Father, Thou, of THY OWN Mercy in Jefus Christ, " hall CHOSEN me to be thy Child: and therefore thou would ! 66 that I should be brought into thy Church and faithful Com-" pany

⁽c) The Word Worthiness, here used by Mr Bradsord, does not, in this Connection, signify Merit, or Desert; but a suitable-ness of Practice, becoming of, correspondent to, and such as may be expected to follow upon, a Profession of Conversion. And, in this Sense, the Word very frequently occurs in our old Writers. Just as the Adjectives A&i and Dignus are often used by Writers more antient fall.

tec pany of thy Children, wherein thou hall kept me hitherto; thy Name therefore be praised. Now, I see myself to want " Faith, Hope, Love, &c. which thy Children have, and thou requireft of me. Wherethrough the Devil would have " me to doubt, yea, utterly to despair of thy Fatherly Good-" nefs, Favor, and Mercy. Therefore I come to Thee, as to my merciful Father, through thy dear Son Fesus Christ; " and pray Thee to help me, good Lord. Help me, and GIVE me Faith, Hope, Love, &c. and grant that thy Holy Spirit ac may be with me forever, and more and more, to ASSURE ... me that Thou art my Father; that this merciful COVENANT " (which thou madest with me, in respect of THY GRACE, in Christ and for Christ, and NOT in respect of ANY my Worthiness) is ALWAYS to me. On this Sort, I say, you must pray, and use your Cogitations, when Satan .46 would have you to doubt of your Salvation.

"Might not [God] have made you Blind, Deaf, Lame, Frantic, &c.? Might he not have made you a Jew, a Turk, a Papiff, &c.? And why hath he not done for Verily, because He Loved you. And why did He love you? What was there in you, to move Him to love you? Surely, nothing moved Him to love you, and therefore to make you, and so hitherto to keep you, but his own Goodness in Christ. Now then, in that His Goodness in Christ still Remaineth as much as it was, that is, even as great as Himself, for it cannot be lessened; how should it be, but that He is your God and Father? Believe this, believe this, my good Sister: for God is no Changeling. Them. "whom He loveth, He loveth to the End (d)."

4. To another Religious Friend, who was in Darkness and Distress of Soul, Mr Bradford wrote as follows: "His "[i. e. God's] Calling and Gifts be such, that He can never repent Him of them. When he loveth, He loveth to the End. None of His CHOSEN CAN PERISH.—

4

66 13

" If He had not CHOSEN you (as, most certainly, He hath); " He would not have fo CALLED you, He would not 65 have fo justified you, He would never have fo " glorified you with his GRACIOUS Gifts: He would " never have so exercised your Faith with Temptations, " as He hath and doth, if He had not CHOSEN you. If "He hath CHOSEN you, as doubtless he hath, in Christ; " then neither CAN you, nor EVER SHALL YOU, PERISH. " For, if you fail, He putteth under His Hand: You shall of not lie still [in Sin]. So careful is Christ your KEEPER, over you. Never was Mother fo mindful over her 6 Child, as He is over You. And hath not He always " been so? - Think you God to be mutable? Is He 2 Changeling? Doth not He love to the End, them whom " He loveth? Are not His Gifts and Calling such, that " He cannot repent Him of them? for ELSE WERE HE " No GOD. If you should perish, then wanted He " Power: for, I am certain, His WILL toward you is of not to be doubted of. Hath not the Spirit, which is " the Spirit of Truth, told you fo? and will you now hearken, with Eve, to the Lying Spirit, which would' have you (not to despair; no, he goeth more crastily to work: but) to doubt and fland in a Mammering? 44 And so should you never truly love God, but serve Him? of a fervile Fear, left he should cast you off for your Unworthiness and Unthankfulness: as though your Thank-66 fulness, or Worthiness, were any Cause with God, why He hath CHOSEN you, or will FINALLY KEEP you ! " -Your Thankfulness and Worthiness are FRUITS and " Effects of your Election: they are no Causes. -You have a Shepherd, who never slumbereth nor " fleepeth. No Man, nor Devil, can PULL YOU OUT of his Hands. Therefore, inasmuch as you are in-" deed the Child of God, ELECT in Christ BEFORE THE " BEGINNING OF ALL TIMES; Inafmuch as you are GIVEN INTO THE CUSTODY OF CHRIST, as One of God's most precious Jewels; Inasmuch as Christ is " FAITHY

- S FAITHFUL, and hitherto hath ALL Power, fo that
- 55 you shall NEVER Perish; I beseech you, I pray you,
- desire you, I crave at your Hands, with all my very Heart, I ask of you with Hand, Pen, Tongue, and
- " Mind, in Christ, through Christ, for Christ, for His
- Name, Blood, Mercies, Power, and Truth's fake, that
- " you admit NO DOUBTING of God's FINAL Mercies to-
- wards you, howfoever you feel yourfelf (e)."
 - 5. To Mr John Hall, and his Wife; Prisoners in New-gate for the Gospel.
- "He [i. e. your Heavenly Father] hath brought you where ye be. And tho' your Reason and Wit will tell
- " you it is by Chance, or Fortune, or otherwise;
- e vet know, for certain, that whatsoever was the Mean,
- "God your Father was the WORKER hereof (f)."
- 6. To Mr Richard Hopkins, Sheriff of Coventry; and Prisoner in the Fleet, for the faithful and constant Con-
- " feffing of God's Holy Gospel.
- "The Apostle saith, Not many Noble, not many Rich,
- " not many Wise in the World, hath the Lord God
- "CHOSEN. Oh then, what Cause have You to rejoice, that, amongst the not Many, He hath CHOSEN You to be
- 44 One (g) !"
 - 7. " To my good Sister, Mrs Eliz. Brown.
- " Patience and Perseverance be the proper Notes,
- " whereby God's CHILDREN are known from Counter-
- "FEITS. They, who PERSEVERE NOT, were ALWAYS
- " but HYPOCRITES. Many make godly Beginnings; yea, their Progress seemeth Marvellous: but, yet,
- safter, in the End, they fail. These were NEVER of Us;
- 66 faith St John: for, if they HAD been of Us, they would
- 66 have CONTINUED to the very End (h)."
 - 8. " To

⁽e) Ibid. p. 273, 274. (f) Ibid. p. 275. (g) Ibid. p. 282. (b) Ibid. p. 283.

8. "To a godly Gentlewoman, troubled and afflicted by ber "Friends, for not coming to Muss."

"If your Cross be to me a Comfort, or Token of your

" ELECTION, and a Confirmation of God's CONTINUAL "Favor; how much more ought it to be fo unto

" You (i)?"

9. "This is the Difference betwixt God's Children, "who are regenerate, and ELECT BEFORE ALL TIMES in Christ; and the Wicked always: that the ELECT

" lye not still continually [i.e. finally] in their Sin, as do

" the Wicked; but at length do RETURN AGAIN, by "Reason of God's Seed, which is in them, hid as a " Sparkle of Fire in the Ashes: as we may see in Peter,

" David, Paul, Mary Magdalen, and Others. For these,

" I mean God's Children, God hath made all Things in "Christ Jesus, that They should be His Inheritance and Spouses (k)."

10. " To certain of his Friends, N.S. and R.C.

"I believe, that Man, made after the Image of God, 46 did fall from that bleffed State, to the Condemnation of himself and all his Posterity. I believe, that Christ, " for Man being thus fallen, did oppose himself to the Justice of God, a Mediator: paying the Ransom and " Price of Redemption for Adam, and his whole Posterity " that refuse it not finally (1)."-In the Judgement, therefore, of Mr Bradford, Christ did NOT Ransom and Redeem Those of Adam's Posterity, who FINALLY REFUSE the Redemption which he wrought: or, in other Words, according to this Divine, Christ did NOT die for Any who do not EVENTUALLY BELIEVE in Him for Salvation: which is particular Redemption, with a Witness. Christ, fays the above Paragraph, " paid the Price of Redemption" for as Many of Adam's Whole Posterity, as finally accept of it by Faith: consequently, for Those who finally refuse ic (and these, 'tis to be feared, are more than a sew) the

Price

⁽i) Ibid. p. 285. (1) Ibid. p. 289. (1) Ibid. p. 291.

Frice of Redemption was NOT paid. And I should much wonder if it had: fince what good End would it have an-[wered ?-Mr Bradford goes on : " I believe, that All who " believe in Christ, I speak of such as be of Years of Dif-" cretion, are Partakers of Christ and all his Merits. I believe, " that FAITH, and to BELIEVE in Christ (I speak not of now of [that] Faith which Men have by Reason of " Miracles, John ii. 11. Acts viii. or by Reason of earthly " Commodity, Matth. xiii. Custom, or Authority of Man; which is commonly feen; the Hearts of them, se that so believe, being not right and simple before God: but I speak of THAT Faith, which is indeed the TRUE 4 Faith, the justifying and REGENERATING Faith) I believe, I say, that THIS Faith and Belief in Christ is " the Work and GIFT of God; given to NONE OTHER than to Those which be the Children of God: that is, 66 to Those whom God the Father, BEFORE THE BE-"GINNING OF THE WORLD, hath PREDESTINATE in 66 Christ unto Eternal Life (m)."-Mr Bradford's Reasoning stands thus: Christ died not for those who finally refuse His Redemption; but for those who are JUSTIFIED and RE-GENERATED by Faith in Him: which justifying and regerating FAITH is the GIFT of God, given to THOSE Perfons ONLY whom He PREDESTINED to Eternal Life before the World began. Thus it appears, that there is nothing Dis-COURAGING, in the Doctrines of Eternal Election and Particular Redemption. Not in Election; because God gives Faith to His People, as a Token and Pledge of their fure Interest in His Covenant-Favor: and as to those who may, at present, be seemingly destitute of Faith, we know not how foon God may give it them, or sfir them up to feek it. -Neither does Limited Redemption tend to the Discouragement of Any, who seriously defire to be saved in God's own Way, i. e. in the Bible-way of Faith, Repentance, and New Obedience: forasmuch as Christ " paid the Ransom cc and and Price of Redemption, for Adam's Whole Pollerity sulo do not finally refuse it." Thus Scripturally and Discretely does the admirable Mr Bradford state and affert these illustrious Doctrines of the Gospel.

Another Remark of his, deserves well to be considered: For the Certainty of this Faith [i. e. of the Jullifying " Faith] fearch your Hearts. If you HAVE it, praise the Lord; for you are happy, and therefore CANNOT FI-" NALLY PERISH: for then HAPPINESS WERE NOT " HAPPINESS, IF IT COULD BE LOST. When you fall, " the Lord will put under His Hand, that you shall not lie still .- But, if ye feel not this Faith, then know, that 69 Predestination is too high a Matter for you to be Difco puters of, until you have been Scholars in the School-"house of Repentance and Justification; which is the Grammar-School, wherein we must be conversant and " learned, before we go to the University of God's most "Holy Predestination and Providence (n).—Thus do I wade in PREDESTINATION: in such sort as God hath patefy'd and opened it. Tho', in GOD, it be the FIRST; yet, to Us, it is the last opened. And there-46 fore I begin with creation, from thence I come to Re-46 demption, so to Justification, and so to Election. On this Sort, I am fure that warily and wifely a Man may. walk in it eafily, by the Light of God's Spirit, in and by His Word; feeing this Faith not to be given to All Men, 2 Theff. iii. but to fuch as are born of God, PRE-" DESTINATE before the World was made, after [i. e. acer cording to the PURPOSE and good WILL of God. "Which Will we may not call in Disputation, but, in "Trembling and Fear, SUBMIT ourselves to it, as to That which can will none otherwise than that which is a holy, right, and good, how far focuer otherwise it may 16 SHEM to the Judgement of Reason: which" [i. e. the judgement of Reason, so far as it opposes the Doctrine of PredeftiPredestination,] "must needs be beaten down to be more careful for God's Glory, than for Man's Salvation, which hangeth only thereon, as all God's Children full well see (0)."

11. "To Sir Thomas Hall, and Father Traves, of Blackley.

"Christ alone is our full, sufficient Savior; for IN HIM
"WE BE COMPLETE: being made, through His Death
"and one only Oblation made and offer'd by Himsels
"upon the Cross, the Children of God, and FellowHeirs with Him of the Celestial Kingdom, which is the "Free-Gift of God, and cometh not of Merits,
"but of the Mere Grace of God.—He that is of God,
"heareth the Word of God: John viii. Will you have a "more plain Badge, whether you are the Elect Child of God or no, than this Text (p)?"

12. Mr Strype has preserved a valuable Paper, entitled, JOHN BRADFORD'S Meditation of God's Providence and Presence. Part of it runs thus: "This ought to be unto " us most certain, that NOTHING is come without Thy PROVIDENCE, O Lord: that is, that nothing is done. "GOOD OF BAD, SWEET OF SOUR, but by thy KNOW-" LEDGE; that is, by thy WILL, WISDOM, and ORof DINANCE: for All these Knowledge doth comprehend " in it. As, by the Word, we are taught, in many Places, er that even the Loss of a Sparrow is not without Thy " Will; nor any Liberty or Power upon a poor Porket " [i. e. Swine] have all the Devils in Hell, but BY THINE 66 OWN APPOINTMENT and WILL. And we must al-" ways believe it, most assuredly, to be, All, just and 66 good, howfoever it may feem otherwife unto us. For "Thou art marvellous, and not comprehensible, in thy "Ways; and Holy, in all thy Works. But hereunto " it is necessary for us to know, no less certainly, that, " altho' ALL Things be done by THY PROVIDENCE, vet the same thy Providence to have many and divers

" Means to work by: which [Means] being contemn-

" ed. Thy Providence is contemned (q)."

Such Ample Attestation did this faithful Martyr, and

" Prime Pillar" of the Church of England, bear to "The " DOCTRINE taught in King Edward's Days!"

A very remarkable and important Confirmation of Mr Bradford's Zeal for Doctrinal Calvinism, as maintained by the Church of England, occurs in Strype's Memorials of Cranmer, Book III. Chap. xiv .- A Confirmation, which also involves additional Proof of the Calvinism of Archbishop Cranmer, Bishop Ridley, Bishop Latimer, Bishop Ferrar, Dr Rowland Taylor, and Mr Philpot, who (together with Bradford himself) were, All, Martyrs for the Church.

Strype acquaints us, under the Year 1554, when Papal Persecution began to wax warm, that, among such Protestants as then filled the public Prisons in London, there was a Mixture of FREE-WILL MEN: i. e. of Men who 66 held FREE-WILL, tending to the Derogation of God's Grace; and refused the Doctrine of Absolute Predestination, and " Original Sin" (Memor. of Cranm p. 350) .- The Hiftorian adds, that these Free-will Prisoners, tho' Men of Strict Lives, were "very Hor in their Opinions and Difof putations, and UNQUIET." Divers of them, it seems, were confined "In the King's Bench, where Bradford and many other Gospellers [i. e. Protestants] were: many whereof, by their Conferences, they [i. e. the Free-wil! " Men] gained to their own Persuasion. Bradford had much Discourse with them. The Name of their chief

66 Man was Harry Hart, who had writ fomething in Defence of his [free-will-] Doctrine. Trew and Abingdon were [&]quot;Teachers also among them: Kemp, Gybson, and Cham-" berlain, were others. They ran their Notions as high er as Pelagius did, and valued no Learning: the Writings and Authorities of the Learned they utterly reijected and despized.

"Bradford was apprehensive, that they might now do GREAT HARM in the Church: and therefore, out of Prison, wrote a Letter to Cranner, Ridley, and Latimer, the three chief Heads of the Reformed, tho' Oppressed Church in England, to take some Cognizance of this Matter, and to consult with them in Remedying it; and with him joined Bishop Ferrar, Rowland Taylor, and John Philpot." (Memor. of Cranm. ut supr.)

The Letter itself, sent on this Occasion, is extant in the Appendix to the above 'Memorials of Cranmer,' p. 195. No. LXXXIII. 'Tis entitled, " Braiford to Granmer, " Ridley, and Latimer, concerning the FREE-WILLERS." The superscription of it, written by Bradford himself, ran thus: 'To my dear Fathers, Doctor Cranmer, Doctor Ridley, Doctor Latimer; Prisoners in Oxford, for the Testimony of the Lord Jesus, and His Holy Gospel.' Part of the Letter is as follows: " Almighty God, our Heavenly Fa-" ther, more and more kindle your Hearts and Affections with His Love.—As for your Parts, in that it is com-" monly thought, your Staff standeth next the Door" [i. e. you are among the first who are to be Burnt for Christ], "Yee have the more Cause to rejoice and be glad, " as they which shal come to their fellowes under the " Altar. To the which Society, God, with you, bring " me also, in His Mercy, when it shall be His good Ple-" sure.--Herewithal, I send unto you a little Treatise" [written in favor of Predestination], "which I have made, " that you might peruse the same. Al the Prisoners " here about, in maner, have seen it, and read it: and " as therein they aggre with me, nay rather with the "Truth; fo they are ready, and will be, to fignify it, as " they shal se you give them Example." Good Mr Bradford then observes, that his Motive to writing this Letter,

j 😓 gal karaji ili kalenda arose from the Apprehensions he entertained, of the "GREAT EVIL, that is like hereafter to come to Posterity, by these " Men," i. e. by the Free-Willers: adding, " The which "Thing that I might the more occasion you to perceive 46 I have fent you here a Writing of Harry Hart's own " Hand: whereby ye may fee, how Christ's Glory and Grace is like to lose much Light, if your Sheep quondam 66 be not fomething holpen by Them that love God, and " are able to prove that ALL Good is to be attributed ONLY and Wholly to God's Grace and Mercy in Christ, without other Respects of Worthies than Christ's Merits."-The Holy and Judicious Martyr next procedes to give the following true and just Account of the FREE-WILLERS: The Effects of Salvation they so mingle and confound with the Cause, that, if it be not seen to, MORE HURT " WILL COME BY THEM, THAN EVER CAME BY THE " PAPISTS .- In Free-Will, they are plain Papists; ec yea, Pelagians: And ye know, that modicum Fermenti totam Massam corrumpit. They utterly contemn all Learning. But hereof shall this Bringer" [i. e. shall the Bearer of this Letter] " fhew you more." The Whole concludes thus: " My Brethren here with me have thought " it their Duty to fignify this Need to be no less than I " make it, to prevent the Plantations which may take Root " by these Men.

"Yours in the Lord,

" Robert Ferrar,

.. John Bradford,

" Rowland Taylor,

" John Philpot."

Such was Bradford's excellent Letter against the FREE-WILL Men. And what Effect had it on Cranmer, Ridley, and Latimer? It filled those illustrious Martyrs with deep and folemn Alarm, lest the corrupt Leaven of Freewill, tho' little at that Time (few Protestants, comparatively, being infected with it), might, as Bradford also fremed to fear, go on to spread its Desilement. "Upon this Occasion," says the Historian, "Ridley wrote a "Treatise on God's Election and Predestination. And Bradified wrote Another upon the same Subject, and sent it to those three Fathers in Oxford for their Approbation: and their's," [i. e. the Approbation of Cranmer, Ridley, and Latimer] "being obtained, the rest of the eminent Divines, in and about London, were ready to sign it also," (Strype's Mem. of Cranm. p. 350.).

"I have", adds Mr Strype, "feen Another Letter of " Bradford, to certain of those Men who were faid to hold "THE ERROR OF THE Pelagians AND Papifts CONCERN-" ING MAN'S FREE-WILL: --- By which Letter, it appeared, that Bradford had often reforted to them, and conferred with them; and, at his own Charge and "Hindrance, had done them good. But, feeing their " Obstinacy and Clamors against him, he forbore to come at them any more: but yet wrote Letters to them, and " fent them Relief. They told him, He was a great " flander to the Word of God, in Respect of his Doctrine; " in that he believed and affirmed the Salvation of God's Chil-" dren to be so certain, that they should assuredly enjoy the same : " for, they faid, it hanged partly on our Perfeverance to " the End. BRADFORD [by Way of Answer] faid, It "[i. e. Salvation] hung upon God's Grace in Christ; and " not upon our Perseverance, in any Point: for then were "Grace no Grace .- They charged him, that he was not for is kind to them as he ought, in the Distribution of the Charity-" Money (which was then fent by well-disposed Persons to " the Prisoners of Christ, in which Bradford was the " Purse-bearer); but he assured them, he never defrauded them of the Value of a Penny: and at that Time fent "them 13s. 4d. and, if they needed as much more, he " promised that they should have it."

Tho' Mr Bradford broke the Errors of the FREE-WILL Men to Pieces with the Hammer of God's Word; he yet observed all possible Candor and Meekness toward their Perfons. "Let Love", faid he, "bear the Bell away; and " let us pray one for another, and be careful one for an-" other .- I have loved you in the Lord, my dear Hearts; " tho' you have taken it otherwise, without Cause by me " given .- I have not" [i. e. he had not then] " fuffered " any Copy of my Treatife of Predestination to go abroad, " because I would suppress all Occasion, so far as might " be. I am going before you, to my God and your God, to my Father and your Father, to my Christ and your 66 Christ, to my Home and your Home". What a striking Model, was this excellent Man, of ' Orthodoxy and Charity United!'- Mr Strype observes, that, "By Bradford's Pains " and Diligence, he gained fome [i. e. fome of the Free-" willers] from their Errors; particularly, one Skelthorp: " for whom, in a Letter to Careless, he thanked God, who gave this Man to fee the Truth at length." Mem. of Crann. p. 350, 351.

VP

I shall now procede to Mr John Philpot, Arch-Deacon of Winchester: to which Preferment he was collated by the Pious and Discerning Dr Ponet, the first Protestant Bishop of that See, and a principal Framer of that excellent Catechism mentioned in Section XIII.

Mr Arch-Deacon Philpot "was of a worshipful House, a Knight's Son, born in Hampshire, brought up in New College, Oxford, where he studied the Civil Law for 6 or 7 Years, besides other Liberal Arts, and especially the Languages. In Wit, he was pregnant and happy; of a singular Courage; in Spirit, servent; in Religion, zealous (r)." He suffered Death in Smithsfield, December 18, 1555.

Αt

⁽r) Fox's Als & Mon. Vol. III. p. 459.—Mr Strype records two amufing Incidents, relative to this Mr Philipot. "He was the Son of Sir Peter Philpot, Knight, nigh Winchester; and was, in his Youth, put to Wickham College: where he profited in Learning, so well, that he laid a Wager of Twenty Pence "with

At his Examination, before five Popish Prelates, and other Doctors of the Romish Church; Mr Philpot defied them All to confute Calvin's Institutions. "Which of "you all," said he, "is able to answer Calvin's Institutions, who is Minister of Geneva (s)?" To which one of the Papists (Dr Saverson) replied, "A godly Minister indeed! of receipt of Cut-purses and runagate Traitors. And of late, I can tell you, there is such Contention fallen between him [meaning, Calvin] and his own Sects, that he was sain to slee the Town, about Predestination. I tell you Truth: for I came by Geneva thicker." To this, Philpot rejoined in these Words:

F f 2 " I

- "Talent, under this Prince, and in so Popish a Diocess. At
- " last the Bishop sent for certain Justices, who came to his House:
- " and there calling Mr Philipot, Rogue; [Philipot faid to the
- " Bishop], My Lord, do you keep a Privy Sessions in your own House
- " for me, and call me ROGUE, whose Father is a Knight, and may
- of spend a Thousand Pounds within one Mile of your Nose? And He
- " that can fpend TEN POUNDS by the Year, as I can, I thank God.
- " is no Vagabond.
- "Bishop of Winchester. Canst Thou spend TEN Pounds by the "Year?
 - " Philpot. Ask Henry Francis, your Sifter's Son .- Henry
- " Francis, kneeling down, faid, I pray you, my Lord, be a good
- " Lord to Mr Philpot: for he is to me a good Landiord.
 - " Bishop of Winchester. What Rent dost thou pay him?
 - " Francis. I pay him Ten Pounds by the Year.
- " At this Word, the Bishop was AFRAID, and ashamed for making
- " so loud a Lye upon a Gentleman, and a Learned Gentleman." Strype, Ibid.
 - (s) Fox, Vol. III. p. 470.

[&]quot;with John Harpsfield, that he would make Two Hundred Verses in one Night, and not make above Three Faults in them. In the Mr Thomas Tuchyner, Schoolmaster, was Judge: and adjudged the Twenty Pence to Mr Philpot." Strype's Eccl. Mem. III. p. 263.—"Stephen [Gardiner], Bishop of Winton, ever bore Illewill against this godly Gentleman [viz. against Mr Philpot the Martyr], and forbad him Preaching, oftentimes, in King Henry's Reign. But he [Philpot] could not in Conscience hide his

"I am fure you biaspheme that Godly Man, and that godly "Church where He is Minister. As it is your Churches Condition" [i. e. in flandering Calvin, you only follow the constant Practice of the Romish Church], "when you cannot answer Men by Learning, to oppress them with Blaspemies and false Reports. For, in the Matter of Predestination, He [i. e. Calvin] is in no other Opinion than All the Doctors of the Church be, agreeing [i. e. who agree] with the Scriptures (t)." Such was Mr Philpot's Judgement, of Calvin, and Predestination. And, indeed, where was Then the Church of England-man who thought otherwise either of Him or It?

On a subsequent Examination before the Popish Commissioners; Ralph Bayne, Bishop of Coventry and Litchfield, told Mr Philpot, that Christ prophesied of Geneva, when He bid His Disciples beware of false Prophets. Take the Bishop's Flirtation, and Philpot's Answer, in the Words of each respectively.

"Bishop of Cov. Your Church of Geneva, which ye [i. e. ye Protestants] call the Catholic Church, is That which Christ prophesied of.

"Philpot. I allow [i. e. I acknowledge and profess] the Church of Geneva, and THE DOCTRINE of the same; for it is Una, Catholica, et Apostolica; and doth follow the DOCTRINE, which the APOSTLES did preach: And the DOCTRINE, taught and preached in King EDWARD's Days, was also according to the same (u)." Here is an Arch-Deacon of the Church of England, who laid down his Life for her Doctrines, openly witnessing that the Doctrinal System of Calvin and Geneva was the SAME which the Apostles preached, and the SAME which was taught and afferted in the Days of King Edward. And the Arch-Deacon well knew what he said, and whereof he affirmed. For he had been, not only a Clergyman, but a Dignitary, of our Protestant Church, in the faid King Edward's Days. He had, moreover, not only the Ocular Demonstration of Calvin's Writings, to convince him how exactly the Doctrines of that Reformer harmonized with the Doctrines of the Church of England; but had likewife had Auricular Demonstration of it, during his Travels abroad. So that this Martyr's peremptory Attestation to the Sameness of the DOCTRINE established at Geneva, under Calvin; with the DOCTRINE established in England, under King Edward; is such a Proof of the CALVINISM of our Church, as all the piddling Cavils of all the Arminian Methodifts in the Three Kingdoms will never be able to shake.

While the good Arch-deacon lay in Prison, he wrote feveral inestimable Letters: from which I shall give the Reader a few Selections.

1. "To Mr John Careless, Prisoner in the King's " Bench.

"God, by His Spirit, fetteth the Sins of HIS ELECT

" still before them; that, where they perceive Sin to a-

" bound, there they might be affured that Grace shall " fuper-abound: and bringeth them down unto Hell, that "He might lift them up with greater Joy to Heaven.-

"The Spirit, which is in you, is mightier than all the " Adversary's Power. Tempt he [i. e. the Adversary]

" may; and, lying await at your Heels, give you a Fall,

" unawares: but over come he SHALL NOT, yea, he CAN-

" NOT; for you are SEALED up already, with a lively

" Faith, to be the Child of God FOREVER. And whom

"God hath once fealed for His own, him He NEVER " utterly forsaketh. The just falleth seven Times: but he

" RISETH AGAIN. It is Man's Frailty, to fall: but it " is the Property of the Devil's Child, to lie still.

"Who can lay any Thing to the Charge of God's ELECT?

" Do you not perceive the manifest Tokens of your " ELECTION? First, your Vocation to the Gospel; and,

" after your Vocation, the manifest Gifts of the Spirit of 66 God, given unto you above many Others of your Con-F f 3 dition. 446.

the Authority of the Scriptures, and is zealous for the fame.—The Peace of God be with you, my Dear Brother. I can write no more, for lack of Light. And that I have written, I cannot read myfelf: and, God knoweth, it is written far uneafily. I pray God, you may pick out some Understanding of my Mind towards you. Written in a Coal-house of Darkness, out of a Pair of painful Stocks; but thine own in Christ, John Philpot (x)." It was usual for some of the Protestant Preachers, before Sentence of Death was actually passed, to be confined in Bishop Bonner's Coal-house: where they suffered every Kind of Inconvenience and Indignity.

2. " To certain Godly Brethren.

"To continue out in Well-doing, is the only Property of the Children of God" [i. e. is the Property of God's Children only], "and fuch as ASSUREDLY shall be faved.
The hath commanded His Angels to keep us, that "we stumble not at a Stone without HIS Divine PROVIDENCE (y)."

3. "To Lady Vane.
"Bleffed be they that mourn, for such shall be comforted. God wipe away all Tears from your pitiful Eyes, and Sorrow from your merciful Heart: that you may (as, doubtless, you shall do shortly) rejoice with His Elect forever.—God pour His Spirit abundantly upon you: until you may come to see the God of all Gods, with His Elect, in Sien (z)."

4. " To the same Lady.

"His ELECT, and fuch as He LOVETH, will He pu"nish here, that they should not be condemned hereaster
"with the World eternally.—Be thankful unto God,
"for His wondrous Working in His Chosen People (a)."
The Benevolent Reader will not be displeased, to know, that

⁽x) Ibid. p. 502.

⁽x) Ibid. p. 506.

⁽y) Ibid. p. 504.

⁽a) Ibid. p. 508, 509.

that the Excellent Person to whom the two last mentioned Letters were addressed, and who was the common supporter of God's afflicted Witnesses, during the whole Reign of Mary; was referved by Providence, to out-live those persecuting Times, and had the Comfort of seeing the Church of England restored by Queen Elizabeth. Mr Fox's short Account of this Elect Lady (as Mr Philpet justly termed her) will hardly be cenfured as a Digression. "This Lady Vane was a special Nurse of the godly Saints, who were imprisoned in Queen Mary's Time. Unto whom, " divers Letters I have, both of Mr Philpst, Careles, " Trahern, Thomas Rose, and Others: wherein they ren-" der most grateful Thanks for her exceding Goodness " towards them; with their fingular Commendation and " Testimony also of her Christian Zeal towards God's af-" flicted Prisoners, and to the Verity of His Gospel. She "departed of late, at Holborn" [now a Part of London, then a Village near it, or at most a Suburb] "Anno 1568. " whose End was more like sleep than Death, so quietly " and meekly she deceased in the Lord (b)."

Mr Strype informs us of the Earnestness, with which Arch-Deacon Philpot opposed an Arian of those Times. On this Occasion, Philpot wrote what he calls an Apology. It is extant in the Ecclesiastical Memoirs (c). Among other Particulars, it contains the following: "Pray that God" will give you the lyke Zele to withstand the Enemies of the Gospel,—which go about to teach you any other Doctryne than you have receved in Kynge Edward's Days: in the which, praised be God, all the syncerity of the Gospell was reveled, accordynge to the pure use of the Primitive Churche, and as it is, at this present, of the trew Catholyck Churche, allowed through the Worlde.—Thes new Heretyks are sul

⁽b) Ibid. p. 274.

⁽c) Vol. III. Append. No. 48, p. 145-157,

" of blasphemous Reports: spreading the same abroad, both by themselfs, and by their Adherents, against the " fincere Professors of the Gospel, That we make God the " Author of Synne; and that we fay, Let Men do what they will, it is not material, yf they be Predestinate. --46 And with this I, among Other, am most slaunderously " charged and defamed by thes owtragious Heretyks; to whom I have gon abowte, to my Power, to do good, as God is my Witnes. But I have receved the Reward of " a Prophet at their Hands (although I am not worthy to 66 be cownted under that glorious Name), which is Shame, « Rebuke, Slaunder, and Slaying of my good Fame: " ----- only bycause I holde and affirme, being mani-66 festly instructed by God's Word, that the Elect of "God CANNOT FINALLYE PERISH. Therefore they " [i. e. the Arian Free-willers] have pyked owt of their own malicious Nailes the former Part of thes Blasphe-" mies: and because, at another Tyme, I did reprove " them of their TEMEROUS and RASH JUDGEMENT, for "CONDEMNYNG OF MEN USYNG THYNGS INDIFFERENT, as Shooting, Bowling, Hawkyng, with fuch lyke; provyng 66 by the Scripture, that all Men, in a Temperancy, might " use them in their dew Tymes, and showing HONEST " PASTYME was NO SYNNE: which thes contentious 66 Schifmatyks do improve, whereupon they do maliciously " descant, as is before mentioned."

Here let us observe, 1. That the Arians of that Age were likewise Free-willers: they not only denied the proper Divinity of God the Son and God the Spirit, but also the Predestination of God the Father, and the Final Perseverance of His People.—2. As these Arians were Free-willers; so, it should seem, that none, who called themselves Protestants, were Free-willers, but such as were Arians too.

3. These Free-will Arians were professed Dissenters from the Resonmed Church of England. Hence, Mr Philipst vindicates the Church from their malicious Objections. Indeed, such Men as these could be no other than than Diffenters. They held what the Church denies, and denied what the Church affirms. The Church denies, to this Day, that Free-will has any Power in Spirituals: but those Arian Pelagians maintained the contrary. The Church afferts absolute Predestination: but they denied that there is any such Thing. The Church holds a Trinity of Divine Perfons: to which those Men said, Nay. The Church affirms the Ultimate Perseverance of the Elect: the above Arians would not allow of it at all. The Church declares, that no Man upon Earth is free from Sin: but those very Free-will Arians, against whom Arch-Deacon Philpot disputes in the faid Apology, maintained, That "Men might " be WITHOUT SIN, as well as Christ (d)." The Church teaches her Children to fay, Lord, have Mercy upon Us Miserable Sinners: But these identical Arian Free-willers " OBJECTED against that Suffrage; for they said, they were not miserable, nor would be accounted so (e)." The Church uses the Lord's Prayer: But the aforesaid Free-will Arians "were AGAINST using the Lord's Prayer; for it " was NEEDLESS, they faid, to pray, Thy Kingdom come, " when God's Kingdom was already come upon them. And " also that Petition, Forgive us our Trespasses: for they " held they had NO Sin (f)." Query: Would not any body almost imagine, that, in ALL the above Respects (the Article, concerning the Trinity, alone excepted), these FREE-WILL Arians were designed as Types, Figures, Forerunners, and prophetic Images, of Messies, Sellon, and their Affociates? Never, furely, was there a stronger likeness, in all the Features but one !-4. The self-same Slander against Predestination and Perseverance, which was raised by those ARIANS, is (almost in the self-same Words) alledged by the acrimonious ARMINIANS last mentioned. The Arian flander, urged against the "Doctrine received " in King Edward's Days", was, Let Men DO WHAT "THEY

⁽d) Strype's Eccles. Mem. Vol. III. p. 261. (e) Strype, Ibid. (f) Strype, Ibid.

"THEY WILL, it is not material, if they be Predestinate." And what says Mr John Wesley? "The Elect shall be saved, "DO WHAT THEY WILL." Behold, how Brethren jump together!—5. MrPhilpot, the martyred Arch-Deacon, was traduced, by the said Arians, as an ANTINOMIAN, because he maintained that "Honest Passime was no Synne", if properly timed, and temperately indulged: such as "Shooting, Bowling, Hawking, and such LIKE".——6. Justly, therefore, did that pious and learned Martyr brand the said Freewill-Arian-Perfectionists (and, by the same Rule, justly may their modern Successors be branded) on account of "their temerarious and rash Judgement, for condemning Men using Things indifferent."

So much for the excellent Mr Philpot; who shall now take his leave of the Reader, with this short, but weighty Observation: Such is the Omnipotencye of owre God, that He can and doth make, to His Elect, Sour, Sweet, and

" Misery, Felicity (g)."

Mr RICHARD WOODMAN was Burned, in one Fire with nine other Martyrs, at Lewes, in Suffex, July 22, 1557.

His first Examination was before Dr Christopherson, the Popish Bishop of Chichester. Some Particulars, which passed on that Occasion, are worthy the Reader's Attention.

- " Bishop of Chichester. Do you think that you have the Spirit of God?
 - " Mr Woodman. I believe verily that I have.
- " Bishop of Chichester. You boast more than ever Paul did, or any of the Apostles: which is great Presumption.
- "Mr Woodman. I boast not in myself, but in the Gift of God, as Paul did. ———I can prove, by Places enough,
- that Paul had the Spirit of God; as I myself, and all God's
- that Paul had the Spirit of God; as I myjey, and and

" Bishap

- . Bishop of Chichester. How prove you that?
- " Mr Woodman. No Man can believe that Jesus is the - " Lord, but by the Holy Ghost, I Cor. vii. I do believe that
- " Jesus Christ is MY Redeemer, and that I shall be saved from.
- " all my Sins by his Death and Bloodshedding; as Paul and,
- " all the Apostles did, and as all faithful People ought to do :
- " which no Man can do, without the Spirit of God. And as
- "there is no Damnation to them that are in Christ Jesus, so is
- " there no Salvation to them that are not in Christ: for he,
- that hath not the Spirit of Christ, is none of His .-- We
- " have received the Spirit of Adoption, whereby we cry,
- " Abba, Father. The same Spirit certifyeth our Spirits, that
- " we are the Sons of God .-- Besides all this; he, that be-
- " lieveth in God, dwelleth in God, and God in him. So, it - is impossible to believe in God, unless God dwell in us.
- " Dr Story [another of the Popish Examiners]. Oh, " my Lord, what an Heretic is this same! Why hear you
- " him? Send him to Prison, to his Fellows in the Mar-
- " shalfea, and they shall be dispatched within these twelve
- " Days.
- " Bishop of Chich. Methinks he is not afraid of the Prison.
 - " Mr Woodm. No; I praise the living C:d.
 - "Dr Story. This is an Heretic indeed: He hath the - " right Terms of all Heretics. The living God! I pray
- " you, be there dead gods, that you fay the living God?
- "Mr Woodm. Are you angry with me, because I speak the Words that are written in the Bible?
- " Dr Story. Bibble babble, bibble babble. What
- " fpeakest thou of the Bible? There is no such Word written in all the Bible (b)."

Some Time afterwards, Mr Woodman was examined again, before Doctor Langdale. By reciting what then passed, concerning God's Decrees, and Man's Free-will; we shall see, whether the Popish Doctor was not what would would now be called an Arminian, and the Protestant Martyr a Calvinist.

- "Mr Woodm. St Paul faith, Rom. ix. E'er ever the Children were born, e'er ever they had done either Good or
- " Bad, that the Purpose of God, which is by Election,
- " might fland, not by the Reason of Works, but by the GRACE
- of the Caller, the Elder shall serve the Younger: Facob
- " have I loved, and Esau have I hated.
- " Dr Langd. Methinks, by your Talk, you deny Original Sin and FREE-WILL.
- "Mr Woodm. I pray you, what Freewill hath Man to do Good of himself?
- " Dr Langd. I say, that all Men have as much Freewill now, as Adam had before his Fall.
 - " Mr Woodm. I pray you, how prove you that?
 - " Dr Langd. Thus I prove it: that as Sin entered in-
- . " to the World, and, by the means of One that Sinned,
 - 46 All Men became Sinners, which was by Adam; fo, by
 - " the Obedience of One Man, Righteousness came upon
 - 46 all Men that had finned, and fet them as free as they
 - were before the Fall: Which was by Jesus Christ.
 - "Mr Woodm. Oh Lord, what an overthrow have you given yourfelf here, in Original Sin! For, IN PROVING
 - "THAT WE HAVE FREE-WILL, you have QUITE
 - "DENIED ORIGINAL SIN. For here you have declared,
 - " that we be set as free by the Death of Christ, as Adam was
 - before his Fall: and I am fure, that Adam had no Original
 - "Sin before his Fall. If WE be as FREE now, as HE was then;
 - " I marvel wherefore Paul complained thrice to God, to take
 - " away the Sting of it : God making him Answer, and saying,
 - " My Grace is sufficient for thee.
 - "These Words, with divers other, prove Original Sin in
 - " us; but not that it shall hurt God's ELECT PEOPLE, but
 - " that His Grace is sufficient for All His .--- I say, with
 - " David, In Sin was I born, and in Sin hath my Mother
 - c: conceived me: but in no fuch Sin that shall be imputed; beci cause I am born of God by Faith. Therefore I am blessed,

" as faith the Prophet, Because the Lord imputeth not my Sin :

" NOT because I HAVE NO Sin, but because God hath NOT

" IMPUTED my Sins. Not of our own Deserving, but

" of his FREE MERCY, He hath Saved us. WHERE IS NOW

"YOUR FREE-WILL that you speak of? if we have FREE-

" WILL, then our SALVATION cometh of OUR OWN SELVES,

" and not of God: which is A GREAT BLASPHEMY against

" God and his Word.

- " For Saint James Saith, EVERY good Gift, and EVERY perfect Gift, cometh FROM ABOVE, from the Father of
- " Light, with whom is no Variableness. Of His own Will
- " begat He us. For the Wind" [i. e. the Regenerating Breath of the Holy Spirit] " bloweth where it LISTETH.
- " It is God that worketh in us the WILL, and also the DEED.
- " Seeing, then, that every good Gift cometh from above, and
- " lighteneth upon whom it pleaseth God, and that HE work-
- ce cth in us both the Will and the Deed; methinks, all the rest
- of our own Will is little worth, or nought at all, unless it be Wickedness. And as for Original Sin, I think I
- " bave declared my Mind therein, how it REMAINETH in
- nave accurred my villa therein, now it REMAINETH in
- "Man: which you cannot deny, unless you deny the Word of God.
- " Dr Langd. Say what you can: for it availeth me to fay nothing to you. I was defired to fend for you, to
- " teach you: and there will no Words of mine take place
- " in you; but you go about to reprove ME. Say what " you will, for Me (i)."

The Truth is, the Popish Examiner had the wrong End of the Argument: and he was glad to shuffle off the Calvinistic Prisoner, as well as he could. Mr Woodman, however, was not so easily shuffled off: for, to One who came in during the Debate, the intrepid Martyr said, "He it is end of the bare of the said of the said

This

This Protestant Hero's last Examination, at the Close of which he received Sentence of Death, was held in the Church of St Mary Overey (now St Saviors), Southwark. Himself informs us, that his Judges and Condemners were, Gardiner "the Bishop of Winchester, [Christopherson] Bishop of Chichester, the Archdeacon of Canterbury, Dr Lang-66 dale, M. Roper, with a FAT-HEADED PRIEST, I can-" not tell his Name (1)." We shall soon see, what a Jest this " fat-headed Priest," whose Name Mr WOODMAN could not tell, made of Predestination, and Justification by Faith alone. Happy would it have been for the Protestant Cause in general, and for the Church of England in particular, if those Doctrines had, to this Day, been exploded by Papists only. But there have, fince, been too many 66 fat-headed Priests", of more than One Protestant Denomination, at whose Hands the Doctrines of Election and Free Justification found no better Reception, than at Those of the nameless FAT-HEADED Priest above-mentioned. I wish the same Remark may not extend to more than a few LEAN-HEADED Priests likewise.

The Commissioners being fat, Mr Woodman was called upon to give an Account of his Faith. This he did, as follows:

- "I believe in God the Father Almighty, Maker of Heaven and Earth, and of all Things vifible and invisible. And in
- " One Lord Jesus Christ my Savior; very God, and very
- Man. I believe in God the Holy Ghost, the Comforter of
- "All God's Elect People; and that he is equal with the " Father and the Son (m)."

The Bishop of Winton and the Archdeacon of Canterbury told him, in the Cant so usual with Persecutors, "We go not about to condemn thee, but to save thy Soul,

" if thou wilt be ruled, and do as we would have thee.
" Woodm. To fave my Soul? Nay: you cannot fave my " Soul. My Soul is SAVED ALREADY: I praise God there-

" for.

- " for. There can no Man fave my Soul, but Jesus Christ.
- " And He it is that HATH faved my Soul, BEFORE THE - " Foundation of the World was laid.
- "The fat Priest. What an Heresy is THAT, my Lord!
- "Here's an HERESY! He faith, his Soul was faved be-
- " fore the Foundations of the World were laid! Thou canst
- " not tell what thou fayeft. Was thy Soul faved before
- " it was" [i. e. before it existed]?
- "Woodm. Yes, I praise God, I can tell what I say; and
- "I fay the Truth. Look in the first of Ephesians, and there
- " you shall find it: where Paul saith, Blessed be God, the - "Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with
- " all Manner of spiritual Bleffings, in heavenly Things, by
- " Christ; according as he hath CHOSEN us in Him, BEFORE
- " THE FOUNDATION OF THE WORLD was laid, that we - " should be holy and without Blame before Him, through Love;
- " and thereto were we PREDESTINATED. These be the - "Words of Paul: and I believe they be most true. And there-
- " fore it is my Faith, in and by Jesus Christ, that saveth: and not you, nor any Man else.
- "The fat Priest. What! Faith without Works? St "James saith, Faith without works is dead. And we - " have FREE-WILL to do good Works.
- "Woodm. I would not that Any of you should think that I disallow good Works: for a good Faith cannot be without
- " good Works. Yet not of ourselves: it is the Gift of God.
- " It is God that worketh in us both the Will and the Deed (n)."

What could the Popish Free-willers and Merit-mongers do with this inflexible Heretic? Convince him they could not. The shortest Expedient, therefore, was, to Burn him out of the way: which they accordingly did.

Let me now introduce Mr John Clement to my Readers; a Man of great Grace, and distinguished Usefulness; concerning whom, Mr Strype thus Writes:

" There

"There were now [viz. in the Year 1556] Abundance " of Sects and dangerous Doctrines; whose Maintainers " fhrouded themselves under the Professors of the Gospel 66 [i. e. they affected to pass for Protestants]. Some denied the Godhead of Christ; some DENIED His Manhood. Others DENIED the Godhead of the Holy Ghoff, Ori-" ginal Sin, the Doctrine of PREDESTINATION and FREE " ELECTION, the Descent of Christ into Hell (which the Protestants here generally held), the Baptism of In-Others HELD FREE-WILL, MAN'S RIGHTEousness, and Justification by Works: Doctrines, which the Protestants, in the Times of King Edward, 66 for the most Part DISOWNED. By these Opinions, a SCANDAL was raised on the true Professors [i.e. on those " who had fuffer'd, and who were then fuffering, Perfecution and Death for their Attachment to the Protef-, 44 tant Church of England]. Therefore it was thought se fit now, by THE ORTHODOX, to write and publish " fummary Confessions of their Faith, to leave behind "them when they were Dead: wherein they should DISclaim these Doctrines, as well as all Popish Doctrines " whatfoever.

"This was done by one JOHN CLEMENT, this "Year [1556], lying a Prisoner in the King's Bench for "Religion: [whose Declaration is] entitled, A Confestion and Protestation of the Christian Faith. In which it is appears, the Protestants thought fit (notwithstanding the Condemnation and Burning of Cranmer, Ridley, Latimer, Hooper, Rogers, Saunders, Bradford, for Heretics), to own their Doctrine" [viz. the Doctrine of Cranm. Ridl. Latim. Hoop. Rog. Saund. Brads. &c.'] as Agreeable to the Word of God, and "Them as fuch as sealed the same with their own Blood. This Confession may be looked upon as an Account of the Belief of the Professors" [i e. of the Protestant Church of Englandmen] "In those Days.
Copies thereof were taken, and so dispersed, for the

Le Use of good Men: one whereof is in my Hands. 46 Thus we see how industriously They sthe Protestants " of those Days] disowned all Arians, Anabaptists, and " fuch like: who being not of the Roman Faith, the 44 Papists would fain have joined them with all the Pro-" testants, to disgrace and disparage the Holy Profession (0)." Before I quote the Confession itself, let me observe, from the above Passage, 1. That, so far as appears, Arians, Socinians, and fuch like, were the ONLY Protestants who, in those Times, DENIED "the Doctrines of Predestination " and free Election:" and that the Protestants, "in the "Times of King Edward", did for the most Part " DIS-" OWN the Doctrines of Free-will, Man's Righteousness, " and Justification by Works." And no Wonder: for "the " MOST Part" of the then Protestants were fincere Members of the Church of England: which Church then did, and still does, affert " Predestination and free Election"; and deny " Free-will, Man's Righteousness, and Justifica-" tion by Works." - 2. 'Tis evident, that fuch, as differted from the Church of England in those Points, strove to take Advantage of the Afflicted, perfecuted State, which the Church was in, under the Reign of Mary; and to palm themselves upon the World, as Churchmen: laboring to persuade the Ignorant, that the Doctrines, for which the Martyrs bled, were the fame Doctrines which were held by these same Arians, Free-willers, and Work-mongers. With as much Audacity, and with as little Truth, as Welley, Sellon, and others of that Stamp, Now affect to shelter their Pelagianism under the Wing of our present Establishment .- 3. The furviving Protestants, who were imprifoned for the Faith, and had not yet (as Many of them foon afterwards were) been brought to the Stake; took no small Alarm at the Impudence and Falsehood of these FREE-WILLERS: and thought it incumbent upon themfelves, as well they might, to clear the suffering Church Gg of ⁽⁰⁾ Strype's Eccles. Mem. Vol. III. p. 363, 364, 365.

of England and her godly Martyrs, from the unjust infinuations of the Arian and Pelagian Party. They deemed it, fays Mr Strype, "a SCANDAL," to be numbered with those few, but insolent Fanatics, who, "denying Predestination " and free Election," held " Free-will and Justification by " Works."-4. The more openly to "DISCLAIM", and the more effectually to "DIS-OWN," all Connection with these intruding FREE-WILLERS; "The Orthodox," says Mr Strype, "thought fit to own," i. e. publicly and unanimously to avow, " the Doctrine of CRANMER, RIDLEY. 66 LATIMER, HOOPER, ROGERS, SAUNDERS, and BRAD-" FORD, as agreeable to the Word of God," and to the Faith of the Reformed Church of England: and to own "Them," i. e. to own the faid Martyrs, Cranmer, &c. to have been " Such as fealed the same [Doctrines] with their Blood."-To this End, 5. It was refolved on, by the Evangelical Prisoners, to draw up, and publish, an EXPLICIT CON-FESSION OF FAITH, prior to their own Martyrdom: which Confession might remain "behind them, when they were dead," and be a standing Proof of their Union and Communion, in Matters of Doctrine, with Cranmer, Ridley, &c. and the other foregoing Martyrs of the Church of England .-6. The framing this Confession, and the digesting of it into Form, was committed to Mr John CLEMENT: who executed his Trust with such Care, Fidelity, and Ability, that (fays Mr Strype) the faid " Confession may be looked upon as an "Account of the Belief of the Professors in those Days:" i. e. of the "Protestants in the Times of King EDWARD," Thoufands of whom were afterwards perfecuted, and Hundreds of whom were put to Death, under the succeding Tyranny of Mary.

So much, by way of Preliminary to this famous Confession. Now for a concise View, of THE CONFESSION ITSELF. The Reader that pleases to peruse the Whole of it may see it in Strype (p).

It

It observes, toward the Beginning, the manifold subtlety of Satan in corrupting the Human Mind from the Glorious Gospel of the Bleffed God: "Some denyinge " the Doctrine of Gode's FIRM PREDESTINATION and " FREE ELECTION in Jesus Christe; which is the very " Certayntie of our Salvation .- And as he" [i. e. the Devil] " hathe caused them to denye all these Thinges. " even fo hathe he made them to affirm many MADDE " and FOOLISH FANTASYES, whiche the Worde of God 66 dothe utterlye condempne: as FREE-WILL, MAN's « RIGHTEOUSNESS, and JUSTIFYING of WORKES; withe dyvers suche lyke; to the great Dishonoure of "God, to the Obscuringe of his Glorye, the Darkeninge of his Truthe, to the great Defacynge of Christes Deathe; vea to the utter Destruction of many a simple Soule, that cannot shyfte from these subtyll sleyghtes of Satan, ex-" cepte the Lorde shewe his great Mercye upon them .-" I do undoubtedlye beleve in God the Holy Ghoste, who " is the Lorde and Gever of Lyfe, and the Sanctifier of " all Godes Elect. Furthermore, I do confesse, and " undoubtedlye beleve, that I, and every lyvely Member " of this Catholyke Church, is and shall be Redeemed, " Justified, and Saved, ONELEY and SOLYE by the FREE " GRACE and MERE MERCYE of God in Jesus Christe, " thoroughe his moste precyious Deathe and Bloudshead-46 dinge: and in No PART by or for any of our owne good Workes, Merites, or Deservings, that we can do or deferve. Notwithstandinge, I consesse, that all Menought, and are bounde by the Worde of God, to DOE good Workes, and to knowe and kepe God's Commandmentes: wet Not to deserve any Part of our Salvations thereby; but to shewe their Obedience to God, and the Frutes of Faythe unto the Worlde. And this Salvation, Redemption, and Justification, is apprehended or receaved of Us, by the onely FAITHE in Jesus Christe: in that " Sence and Meanynge, as is declared in the Homilye of " Justification, which was appoynted to be reade in the 66 peculiar Gg2

" peculiar Churche of Englande, in good Kynge Edward's
" Dayes the Syxte. Which Homilye, with all the " Reaste, then set furthe by his Authoritie, I do af" firme and beleve to be a true, holesome, and godlye
" Doctryne for all Chrystian Men to beleve, observe,
" kepe, and solowe.

"Also, I do beleve and confesse, that the last Boke, which was geven to the Churche of Englande by the Authoritie of good Kynge Edwarde the Syxte and the whole Parliament, contayning the Manor and Fourme of COMMON PRAYER, and Ministration of the blessed Sacramentes in the Churche of Englande; ought to have been receaved with all Readynes of Mynde, and Thankfullnes of Harte.——Also I do accepte, besieve, and alowe, for a very Truthe, all the godlye ARTICLES that were agreed upon in the Convocation-House, and published by the Kynges Majesties Authoritie (I meane, Kynge Edwarde the Syxte), in the last Yeare of his most gracyous Reigne.

" last Yeare of his most gracyous Reigne. "I doe confesse and beleve, that Adam, by his Fall, LOST, from himself and ALL his Posterity, ALL the " FREEDOME, CHOYCE, and Power of Man's WILE " to doe Good: fo that ALL THE WILL and Imagina-44 tions of Mannes Harte is ONELYE to EVIL, and AL-" TOGETHER Subject to SYNNE, and BONDE and CAP-"TYVE to all Manner of WICKEDNES. So that it CAN_ " NOT ONCE THINKE A GOOD THOUGHT, much leffe "then doe any good Deede, as of his owne Worke, plea-66 faunte and acceptable in the Syght of God, untill suche When as the same" [i. e. untill such Time as the IVill "be REGENERATE by the Holy Ghoste.---"Untill the Spirite of Regeneration be given us of God, " we can neither WILL, DOE, SPEAKE, nor THINKE, any good Thynge that is acceptable in His Sight.

44 any good Thynge that is acceptable in His Sight.—— 45 As a Man that is DEADE cannot raise up himselfe, or 46 worke ANYE THYNGE TOWARDS his Resurrection; 46 or he that is not, worke towardes his Creation; even

ſo

66 fo the naturall Man cannot worke any Thynge towardes 66 his Regeneration. As a Bodye, without the Soule, canof not move but downewardes; fo the Soule of Man, with-66 out the Spirite of Christe, cannot lyfte up himselse. "He must be BORNE AGAYNE, to doe the Workes that 66 be spirituall and holye. And by Ourselves we cannot " be regenerate by any Meanes: for it is onlye the Worke " of God. To whom let us praye, with David, that He 66 will take away our Stonye Hartes, and create in Us " new Hartes, by the MIGHTY OPERATIONS of His Holye " Spirite.

"I do acknowledge, confesse, and undoubtedlye be-" leve, that God, our Eternal Father (whose Power is " incomprehensible, whose Wisdome is infinite, and his " Judgements unsearchable) hath, onelye of his greate 66 aboundant MERCYE, and FREE GOODNESSE, and FA-" voure, in Jesus Christe, ordeyned, predestina-"TED, ELECTED, and APPOYNTED, before the Foun-66 dation of the Worlde was layd, an innumerable Mul-" titude of Adam's Posteritie, to be saved from their Synnes thoroughe the Merites of Christes Deathe and Bloud-66 sheaddinge onelye; and to be (thoroughe Christ) his 66 adopted Sonnes, and Heres of his everlasting Kingdome, in Whom his great Mercye shal be magnified forever: of which moste happye Number, my fyrme Faith and 66 stedfast Beleve is, that I, althoughe unworthye, am " One; onelye throughe the Mercye of God in Jesus " Christe our Lorde and Savyour.

66 And I beleve, and am furely certified, by the Testi-" monye of Godes good Spirite, and the unfallyble Truthe of his most holye Worde, that neither I, nor ANY of " these his Chosen Children, shall FYNALLYE PERISHE, or be dampned: althoughe we All (if God should entre " into Judgement with us, according to our Dedes) have " justly deserved it. But suche is Godes greate Mercye " towardes us, for our Lorde Jesus Christes sake, that 66 our Synnes shall never be imputed unto us. We are Gg3

" all geven to Christe to kepe, who will LOSE NONE of " us: neither can any Thinge PLUCK us furthe of his Handes, or SEPARATE us from Him. He hathe maryed " us unto Him by Faythe, and made us His pure Spouse " without Spot or Wrincle in his Sight, and will NEVER " be DEVORCED from us. He hathe taken from us all our Synnes, Myseries, and Infirmities; and hathe put " them upon Himselfe: and hathe CLOTHED US WITH " HIS RIGHTEOUSNES, and enriched us with His Merites, " and Mercyes, and moste lovinge Benefites. And He " hathe not onelye done all this, and much more, for us; " but also, of His greate Mercye, Love, and Kyndnes, " He dothe styll KEPE the same MOST SURELYE SAFELYE " for us, and WILL doe fo FOREVER: for He lovethe us "UNTO THE ENDE. His Father hathe committed us " unto His SAFE CUSTODYE, and none can ever be able " to plucke us furthe of His Hands. He hathe REGESTERD " our Names in THE BOKE OF LYFE, in suche Sorte that " the same shall NEVER be RACED OUT. In Consideration whereof, we have good Caufe to rejoyce, to thanke "God, and hartelye to love Him; and, of Love, un-" faynedlye to doe whatfoever He willeth us to doe: for " He loved us FIRSTE.

"He loved us firste.

"Fynallye, Christe testifyethe himselse, That it is not of possible that the Elect shoulde be deceaved. Verelye then, can they not be dampned" [i. e. damned]: Therefore I confesse and beleve, with all my Harte, Soull, and Mynde, that not one of all Godes Elect Children shall synallye perishe or be dampned. For God, who is their Father, both can and will preserve, kepe, and desende them forever. For, seynge He is GOD, He wanteth no Power to do it: and also, seynge He is their mosse deare lovynge FATHER, He lacketh no good Will towardes them, I am sure. How can it be, but He will perfourme their Salvation to the Uttermoste, sythe He wanteth neither Power, nor good Will, to do it?

"And this moste heavenlye, true, and comfortable Doctrine dothe not bringe with it a slesshelye, idell, car"nall, and careless Lyse, as some Men unjustlye doe re"port of it: whose Eyes God open, and pardon their Ig"norance and rashe Judgementes. But rather it dothe mayntayne and bringe with it all true Godlynes, and "Christian Puritie of Lyse, with moste earnesse Thankestellines of Harte, in Respecte of Godes greate Mercye and lovynge Kyndnes onlye.

"As for Reprobation, I have nothinge to saye of it: for Sainte Paul saythe, What have we to doe with Them that are without? The Lorde encrease our Faythe and true Feelynnge of our Election.——Notwithstanding, as" [the Gospel] "is unto some the Savor of Lyfe unto Lyse; even so is it, unto Other some, the Savor of Death unto Death: as Christe Himselse is, unto some, a Rocke to Ryse bye; and, to Other some, a Stone to STUM-

Thus Believed the Primitive Members of the Church of England. Thus held, and thus taught, those Protestant Worthys, who, when the Truths of God were at Stake, loved not their Lives, unto Death.

Let me once more observe (the Remarks are very important, or I would not repeat them), That, by the Acknowledgement even of Mr Stryfe himself, I. This Confession of Faith was drawn up by Mr CLEMENT, at the Desire of the Imprison'd Protestants in general:—2. That it was a Declaration of their Common Belief:—3. That "Cranner, Ridley, Latimer, Hooper, Rogers, Saunders, and Bradford, sealed the same" [i. e. the same Doctrines which this Confession afferts] "with their own Blood:"—4. That this Confession "may be looked upon as an "Account of the Belief of the Protestants in the "Times of King EDWARD, and of the Professors" In those Days." Would to God, that the same Creed was as generally held, in the Days that are now!

Mr Clement, whose Pen was particularly employ'd in this laudable Service, has, in the Concluding Part of the above Confession, an Observation or two, respecting Himfelf, which breathe almost the very Spirit of an Apostle, 44 I doe not depende upon the Judgement of any Man. further than the same dothe agree with the true Touchftone, which is the Holye Scriptures: wherein (I thanke " my Lorde God) I have bene continually exercyfed. se even from my Youthe up; as they, that have knowne 65 my bringynge up, can tell: and some Persecution I " have suffered for the same. And now it hath pleased God to make me a Prisoner, for the Testimonye thereof: and " I thynke, that shortelye I must give my Life for it, and 66 fo confyrme it with my Bloude; whiche Thynge I am well contented to doe. And I moste heartelye thanke 66 my Lorde Gode therefore: that is to saye, for this His 66 specyall Gifte of Persecution for Righteousnes sake. " And thoughe, for my Synnes, God might juftlye have condempned me to Hell-fyre forever, and also have caufed me to fuffre 5 the Shame and Perfecution in this "Lyfe, for evyll doynge; yet hathe he (of His greate Mercye in Jesus Christe, according to His owne good 66 WILL and PURPOSE) dealte more mercyfullye with me: as to geve me this Grace and Favor in his Sight, " that I shall suffice Persecution of the Wicked, with His 66 ELECT PEOPLE, for the Testymonye of His Truthe (q)." This was Dated in April, 1556. The good Man did

This was Dated in April, 1556. The good Man did not long survive. It was one of the last Services, which he rendered to the Church of God. He supposed, at the Time of his Writing the above, that He should very specdily be, literally, a Burnt-Offering to Christ: and he was ready to become so. But God had determined otherwise. His "Burning was prevented, by his Death in Prison: and he was buryed at the back Side of the King's Bench, in a Dunghill, June 25, [1556]. Where, two Days before, one ADHERAL was Buried, who likewise died in the same Prison, and in the same Cause. And, of died in the same Prison, and in the same Cause.

" in

in the fame Prison and Cause, five Days after, died for John Careless: who was contumctiously buried where the two Others were (r)." Precious, in the Sight of the Lord, is the Death of his Saints.

of those authentic Attestations, which our Martyrs bore, to the Doctrines of the Church of England. And, even from these Instances, 'tis manisest, that Those of our present Clergy and Laity, who have fallen in with Arminianism, have palpably revolted from those Grand Truths for which our Martyrs bled, and which our Church still continues to assert in her Liturgy, Articles, and Homilys.

Nor was the Belief of the Calvinistic Principles confined to our Bishops, Clergymen, and Martyrs only. It was common to the main Body of Protestants: i. e. to All who were not open, professed Dissenters from the Church. The Norfolk and Suffolk Supplication, addressed to Queen Mary's Commissioners, may serve for one Instance. In it, the Protestants of those Counties term the late King Edward "A most Noble, Virtuous, and Innocent King; a very " Saint of God:" adding, that "The Religion, fet 66 forth by Him, is such, as every Christian Man is bound " to confess to be THE TRUTH of God." Again: "We 66 certainly know, that the WHOLE Religion, fet out by our late most dear King, is Christ's true Religion, writ-66 ten in the Holy Scripture of God, and by Christ and his Apostles taught to his Church. O merciful God, 46 have Pity upon us! we may well lament our miserable Estate, to receive such a Commandment to reject, and cast out of our Churches all these most godly Prayers, " [meaning the English Liturgy], Instructions, Admonitions, and DOCTRINES [meaning the Homilies and Ar-" ticles] (s)." This Religious Remonstrance, tho' it produced no good Effect on the Popish Queen and her Commissioners; yet tends to shew, how tenaciously the Members

⁽r) Strype, Ibid. p. 364. (1) Fox, Vol. III. p. 579, & fequ.

Members of our Church embraced and held fast her excellent Principles.

An Anonymous Letter, fent to Bonner, shews, that the Writer of it was (and, at that Time, what Church of Englandman was not?) a Calvinist. After distuading that inhuman Prelate from persisting to imbrue his Hands in the Blood of the Saints, it follows: "I say not this, for that I think thou canst shorten any of God's Elect Chil- dren's Lives, before the Time that God hath appointed by His Divine Will and Pleasure: but because I would fain see some Equity, &c. (t)."

I cannot better conclude the foregoing Extracts from our Martyrs, than by inferting Part of that admirable Prayer, which feems to have been generally used by Those who poured out their Souls in Defence of the Gospel. is intitled, " A Prayer, to be faid at the Stake, of All Them that God shall Account worthy to suffer for his sake." it are these Words: "I most humbly pray Thee, that Thou wouldst aid, help, and affift me with thy Heavenly Grace: that, with CHRIST thy Son, I may find Comfort; with " Stephen, I may fee thy Presence and gracious Power; with 44 Paul, and all Others who for thy Name's fake have suffered Affliction and Death, I may find so present with me thy er gracious Confolations; that I may by my Death glorify thy " Holy Name, confirm thy Church in thy Verity, convert some that ARE TO BE converted, and so depart forth of this " miserable World, where I do nothing but daily heap Sin upon " Sin. __ Dear Father, whose I am, and ALWAYS HAVE " been, even from my Mother's Womb; yea, even BEFORE "THE WORLD WAS MADE (u)."

⁽¹⁾ Strype, u. f. Append. p. 163. (u) Fox, u. f. p. 498.

Let it be observed, that, of those who were imprisoned for the Faith, All were not crowned with Martyrdom: some were, by the good Providence of God, reserved to see better Times.

Among these, was Mr John Lithall: whose Examination, before the Bishop of London's Chancellor, is related by Mr Fox.—

SECTION XVIII.

The Re-Establishment of the Church of England by Queen ELIZABETH.

UEEN Mary's Death, in November, 1558, quite changed the Face of Religious Affairs in England. The Princess Elizabeth, during the Reign of her Half-Sister, was so obnoxious to the latter, both on a domestic and a religious Account, that her Life had been in perpetual Danger. Mary, whose Politics were as contemptible, as her

"You boast much, every one of you," said the chancellor to this Holy Prisoner, "of your Faith, and Belief. Let me hear, there"fore, how you believe." 'I believe,' answered Lithall, 'to be "justified really by Christ Jesus, without either Deeds or Works,
"or any Thing that may be invented by Man." The Chancellor seplied, "Faith cannot save, without Works."—'That,' rejoined Lithall, 'is contrary to the Dostrine of the Apostles."

The Reverend Mr John Melvin was also of the Number, who, I believe, by some Means or other, escaped Burning. He was, however, a Prisoner in Newgate: and dated, from that Prison, a very valuable Letter to his Christian Friends; in which he expressed himself as follows. "Most certain it is, Dearly Beloved, "that Christ's Elect be but few, in Comparison of that great Nume" ber which go, in the broad Way, into everlasting Perdition.

- 66 Most certain it is also, that our Savior Jesus Christ hath and
- 46 knoweth his own, whose Names are written in the Book of Life.
- " Redeemed with the most precious Blood of our Savior Jesus Christ.
- . So that the Eternal Father knoweth them that be His. Our
- Savior loseth NONE of all Them whom the Eternal Father hath
- " GIVEN Him .- [He died] the Death of the Cross, for the
- " RANSOM and Sinsof God's ELECT." See Fox, III. 763, 845.

So unanimous were the Protestant Church of England Men (those who were burned, and those who escaped), in believing, professing, and holding fast, the precious Calvinistic Doctrines of the Bible and of the Church!

her Cruelty and Superflition were detestable; would, more than once, have very willingly dispatched Elizabeth to the other World. But this Defign was constantly over-ruled by King Philip. That Prince is supposed, by some, to have screen'd Elizabeth, from an Hope of marrying her himself, in Case of Mary's Death, whose State of Health grew continually worse and worse. This might possibly be one Motive, to the Protection which he gave the Princess: for, after the Decease of Queen Mary, Elizabeth was hardly seated on the Throne, before Philip actually sollicited her Hand. But, probably, what operated most strongly in Elizabeth's Behalf, was, the close Connection that subsisted between France and Scotland. So far back as the Reginning of Edward VI's Reign, the Plan feems to have been laid, for the Dauphin's Marriage to Mary, Queen of of Scots: which projected Marriage took Effect in 1558. Philip knew, that, on the Demise of his own Queen, none (x) stood, between Mary of Scots and the Crown of England, but Elizabeth. It was necessary, therefore, to preserve Elizabeth alive; lest France, in Right of the Dauphiness, should be aggrandized by the Addition of England and Ireland: which would have been throwing too much Weight into the French Scale. - It was, probably, owing to a fimilar Confideration of Policy, that in the fucceding Century, Charles I. when Prince of Wales, was suffered to return hither from Spain. In all likelihood, Philip IV. would have made the Prince pay very dear for his romantic Ramble to that Court, if the King of Bohemia had not, in Right of his Confort, been next Heir to the Crown of England .- Thus does the fecret, but efficacious Direction of Divine Providence, make even the Political Wisdom of this World infrumental to the Accomplishment of the Divine Decrees!

When

⁽x) The Duches of Suffolk's Descent is no Exception to this Remark: as her Mother was but the younger Daughter of Henry VII.

When ELIZABETH mounted the Throne, the Church of England, with all its Doctrinal Calvinism, became, once more, the pure Religion of this Nation. The Proofs are so numerous, that I must only abstract a few.

I. The Liturgy, the XXXIX Articles, and the supplementary Hamilies added to those of King Edward; are such glaring Evidences on the side of (y) Calvinism, as might ⁽y) If it be possible for any reasonable Being seriously to question, whether those Ecclesiastical Standards are truely and thoroughly Calvinistic; let him only peruse, with more Attention, the Standards themselves. I shall here make no Extracts from them: having already done it, partly, in my Casteat against Unsound Doctrines; and, more largely, in my Vindication of the Church from Arminianism. However, as I am now on the Subject, let the Remarks of Dr Peter Heylyn (than whom a more outrageous Arminian never existed) stand, as a striking Monument of that irrefiftible Force, with which TRUTH is fometimes found, during certain Intervals of fober Reflection, to irradiate and compel eyen the most perverse and profligate Minds. The Remarks, which I here subjoin, consist of Inferences, deduced from the seventeenth Article, which treats of Predestination and Ecection. If such a Writer, as Heylyn, should be found to Acknowledge, that the faid feventeenth Article speaks the undoubted Language of Calvin; our Wonder will be, not that the Article should speak that Language (for, of This, no confiderate Person can sincerely doubt). but that so virulent a Party-man, as Peter, should, by any transient Gleam of Regard to Veracity, publicly avow some of his real-Convictions, and transmit that Avowal to Posterity.

[&]quot;PREDESTINATION to Life," fays he, "is defined, in the 17th "Article, to be The Everlasting Purpose of God, gehereby.

[&]quot; before the Foundations of the World overe laid, He bath constantly

[&]quot;DECREED, by His Counfel, fecret to us, to deliver from Dameation Those whom He hath chosen in Christ out of Marking,

[&]quot; and to bring them by Christ to everlasting Salvation [as Vessels made

[&]quot; to Honor]. In which Definition," adds Hylyz, "there are these Things to be observed: 1. That Predestination doth predestination of the confidence of Companies in which all Management of the confidence of the conf of suppose a Curse, or State of Damnation, in which all Man-might well supply the Place of all Evidence beside. These being so well known, I shall carry my Appeal to other sacts, which lie more out of the Way of common Notice.

II. The

"kind was presented to the fight of God. 2. That it [viz. Pre"destination to Life, or the Decree of Election] is an Act of His
"from Everlasting: because, from Everlasting. He foresaw that "Misery into which wretched Man would fall. 3. That He "founded it, and resolved for it, in the Man and Mediator Christ "Jesus, both for the Purpose and Performance. 4. That it was
"of some special Ones alone; Elect, called forth, and Reserved
"in Christ, and not generally extended unto All Mankind. 5.
"That, being thus elected in Christ, they spall be brought by
"by Christ to everlasting Salvation.—And, 6. That this Counses
"is secret to us: for tho' there be revealed to us some hopeful figns of our Election and Predestination to Life, yet the Cer"tainty thereof is a Secret hidden in God, &c."—Life of Laud, Introd. p. 29.

Tho' the above Concessions are not entirely without their Flaws, (or, at least, a few small Arminian Cracks); yet it is amazing, that the Cracks are so few and slight, when we consider by what Hand the fix Beads were strung.

But the feventh Bead is most wonderful of all. "Such," fays the Stringer, "is the Church's Doctrine, in the Point of Election, "or Predestination unto Life. But, in the Point of Reprobation, or Predestination unto Death, she is" [to wit, in the seventeenth Article] "utterly filent: leaving it to be GATHERED upon Lo"GICAL INFERENCES from that which is delivered by Her in the Point of Election. For Contrariorum contraria est Ratio, as Logicians say. Tho' that which is so gathered, ought rather to be called a Dereliction, than a Reprobation.". Ibid. p. 30.

We will not quarrel with Peter, about the Term Reprobation. Dereliction includes as much Reprobation as need be contended for. And I wish Dr Heylyn may not be reprobated by Mr Wesley, for conceding, that "Reprobation, or Predestination unto Death," is to be "gathered" by "Logical Inferences," from the XVIIth Article.

To make up a round Number, Peter shall annex an eighth Bead to the præceding seven. He very justly observes, that the Prayer,

II. The only Commentary on the 39 Articles, which was published in the Reign of Elizabeth, is that of Mr Thomas Rogers, Rector of Horninger in Suffolk. He dedicated it to Archbishop Whitgist: by whom (says Fuller) it was countenanced (z)." A subsequent Edition of it, in 1607, the Author dedicated to Archbishop Bancroft, whose Chaplain he was. As it is not a very scarce Book, I shall make no Transcripts from it: but only intimate? that the Commentary does not (as is too often the Case) vary from the Text, but is perfectly and judiciously Calvinistical, from Beginning to End. The only People, to whom it gave Offence in those Days, were Papists, Presbyterians, and such as leaned to either of those Extremes. --- Now, I would ask, whether a professedly predestinarian Analysis and Exposition of the 39 Articles, dedicated to two Archbishops of Canterbury, and approved by Both of them; is not one conclusive Proof, that Doctrinal Calvinism was, all through the Reign of Elizabeth, and in the Beginning of James I. confidered as the true and undoubted System of the Church of England?

III. The marginal Notes, which occur in the BIBLES that were published during Elizabeth's Reign, unanswerably prove the same Point. Observe, I speak not of the Geneva Bible, translated, commented on, and published by the English who had been Exiles in that City: which Edition, however valuable on some Accounts, was never received as authentic by the Church and State of England. But I speak of such Bibles, and of such only, as passed the Review of the leading Ecclesiastics at home, and came out

in which our Church befeeches God "to ACCOMPLISH the NUM"BER of His Elect," doth "conclude both for a NUMBER, and
"for a CERTAIN Number, of God's Elect." Miscel. Tr. p. 559.
—Query: Was not Peter, during some luminous Moments, "de"relicied" by Arminianism, and taken Captive by Truth? I with,
Mr Wesley and his Man Sellon may profit by the Example, be feized in like sort, and permanently experience the same "De"relicion." (2) Church Hist. B. 1X. p. 173.

out by the Warrant and under the Sanction of "The Queen's most excellent Majesty."

Of these warranted Bibles there were, principally, Three Kinds. The First was commonly denominated, The Great Bible. Another went by Name of The BISHOPS Bible. The Third was The QUARTO Bible, for the Use of Families.

(1.) Of The GREAT Bible, otherwise called, Archbishop CRANMER's Bible, there had been more than One Edition, antecedently to the Accession of Queen Elizabeth. It was completed for the Press, A. D. 1537, in or about the 28th Year of Henry VIII's Reign. It was by Lord Cromwell's Interest with the King, that Cranmer obtained the Royal Licence to translate and publish the Scriptures: and this was the first English Bible, that was printed by Authority. "The Care of the Translation lay wholly on Cranmer; affigning little Portions of this Holy Book to divers Bishops and learned Men to do. And, to his inexpres-" fible Satisfaction, he saw the Work finished in this "Year [1537], about July or August (a)." When the Care of the Translation is said to have lain wholly on Archbishop Cranmer, we must understand no more, by that Expression, than that Cranmer, on this Occasion, revised and corrected the Translation made, fix or seven Years before, by Mr William Tyndal the Martyr. This appears, not only on comparing the Text of Cranmer's, or the great Bible, with the Text of Tyndal's; but is also noted, by the exactly careful Compiler of Cranmer's History. The Bible, as Fox speaks, had been printed in the Year 1532, and re-printed again three or four Years after. "The Printers were Grafton and Whitchurch, who printed " it at Hamburgh. The Corrector [of the Press] was " John Rogers, a learned Divine, afterwards a Canon of " St Paul's in King Edward's Time, and the First Martyr in the next Reign [viz. in the Reign of Mary]. Translator " Translator was William Tyndal, another learned Martyr; with the Help of Miles Coverdale, afterwards Bishop of " Exeter. But, before all this Second Edition was finished, "Tyndal was taken, and put to Death for his Religion, in Flanders, in the Year 1536. and his Name then growing into Ignominy, as one burnt for an Heretic; they " [i. e. the Printers] thought it might prejudice the Book, " if He should be named for the Translator thereof: and " fo they used a seigned Name; calling it Thomas Matthews's " Bible. In this Bible were certain Prologues [pre-" fixed at the Head of the respective Books], and a spe-" cial Table collected of the Common Places in the Bibles, " and Texts of Scripture for proving the same; and chiefly " the common Places of the Lord's Supper, the Marriage of Priests, and the Mass: of which [i. e. of the Mass] it was there faid, that it was not to be found in Scrip-"ture. This Bible giving the [Popish] Clergy Offence, " was gotten to be restrained. Some Years after, came " forth the Bible aforesaid si. e. The GREAT Bible, other-" wife termed, Cranmer's], wherein CRANMER had the " greatest Hand: which, as I suppose, was nothing but the " former [i. e. Tyndal's] corrected; the Prologues and " Tables being left out (b)."

So much for the Origin of Granmer's Bible. Let us now confult that Bible itself: which (besides the Light it will throw on our general Argument) will contribute, not a little, to confirm what has been already afferted and proved, concerning the Galvinism of that great and good Archbishop.

Tho' Cranmer's, or the Great Bible, was prepared for Publication in 1537, I cannot find that it was actually published till 1539. 'Tis a very scarce and curious Book: of which, however, I have been able to procure a Sight. It is entitled, "The Byble in Englyshe, &c. prynted by Richard Grafton and Edward Whitchurch, 1539."

Hh

'Tis a large Folio, on a black Letter, ornamented with small wooden Cuts; and divided into Chapters, but not into Verses. The Margin has Scripture Reserences, but no expository Notes. The Desiciency of Notes is remedied by a Summary of Contents, placed at the Head of each Chapter. From a sample of which Summarys, Arch-Bishop Cranmer appears to have been, even at that early period, much enlightened into the Doctrines of Grace.

The Contents to Rom. iii. run thus: "Both the Jewes and Gentyls are under Synne, and are Justyfyed ONLY " by the GRACE of God in Chryst."

Contents to Rom. iv. "He [i. e. St Paul] declareth, by the Example of Abraham, that FAYTH juftyfyeth, and "NOT the LAWE, nor the WORKES thereof."

In the prefixed "Summe and Content of all the Holy Script" ture," good Cranmer observes, that God is He, "Of Whom all Thinges proceade; and without Whom ther is nothynge which is ryghteous and mercyfull;
and Who worketh all Thyngs in All, after hys
Wyll: of Whom it maye not be demaunded, Wherfore
He doth thys or that." The Reader will not consider the above Extracts as an absolute Digression from the Times of Queen Elizabeth, when he recollects, that the Great Bible, and two Others which are next to be mentioned, were the current Bibles in the Beginning of her Reign; 'till the Scarcity and Dearness of These occasioned the Publication of what was called The Bishops' Bible.

The Other two, which appear'd before Elizabeth's Accession, were, the Folio Edition, of 1549; and the Quarto Edition, of 1552. Both printed in the Reign of King Edward VI. and under the Care of Archbishop Cranmer. These, likewise, I have consulted; and from them I copy the Passages hereafter given.

That of 1549, is on a small, neat, slenderly-blackish Letter, somewhat approaching toward the Saxon Style of Character. It is Dedicated to King Edward, and has Prologues to the respective Books of Both Testaments.

The Marginal Notes being exceding few, I shall give Proof of the Pure Divinity, which then obtained among the Protestants of the Church of England, from the valuable "Table of the principal Matters," which runs alphabetically, and is prefixed to the Old Testament .- Under the Head of ELECTION, we thus read: " Our ELECCYON " is by GRACE, and NOT BY WORKES. Few are Electe, " or Chosen. We are ELECTE of God the Father, " thorow His GOOD WIL, before the Constitucyon of " the World, that, by the Grace and Merite of Christ, " we should have Health [i.e. Salvation], serving al Men " by Charite. The Elect cannot be accused, forasmuch " as God justifieth them."-Under the Head of Predestination, we read thus: " The Predestinate are Saincles, or 66 holy People, made lyke to the Image of the Sonne of "God, and Called, Justifyed, and Glorifyed by Him. God had predestynate, before the Makyng of the World. " for to redeme us by the Bloud of his Sonne, for to fave, " and make us hys Chyldren by Adopcyon, accordynge to the Purpose of his Wyl. - - The carnall and " fenfual People cannot comprehende the Eleccyon and " Predestinacyon of God: because they stryve for to save " themselves, by theyr owne Workes and Merites; whych cannot be."—Under the Article of Will, it is affirmed, That the Will of God "Is IMMUTABLE, and the which " No Man can resist."—And, under the Head of Per-" severance, or Continuance in Grace, it is afferted, that 66 Perseverance in the Truth is geven of Christ unto the " faithful." Thus speaks Granmer's Bible of 1549.

The Quarto Edition, of 1552, is on a black Letter, with wooden Cuts; divided into Chapters, but not into Verses. The Translation appears to be Tyndal's. In this curious Bible (which was re-printed under Elizabeth, in 1566), a Note, subjoined to the 3d Chapter of Romans, runs thus: "God, in his Lawe, doth not onely requyre of us an outward Ryghtewesnes, but also an inward Persection. That is to saye, we are not onely bounde Hh 2 to fulfyll the Workes of the Lawe, outwardly, in our "Lyvinge; but, also, inwardly, in our Heartes: to be " most syncere; to love God entierly, above all Thinges; " and our Nevenbours as ourselves. BUT our NATURE " is fo CORRUPTED, that no Man living is able to do " the fame. Wherfore no MAN can be JUSTIFIED by " the Workes of the Lawe." - The Note to Rom. ixis this: "It is evident by this Texte, that our WORKES . or Merytes do NOT JUSTIFYE us, but that our Salva-"tion doth WHOLLY depende upon the FREE ELECTION " of God; whiche, beynge the Ryghtewesnes itselfe, " doth chose whome it PLEASETH Hym unto Lyse ever-" lastvnge." -- The Note to Rom. xi. is: " God doth " PRESERVE his ELECT, even in the myddest of Thou-" fandes of Idolaters." Thus wrote Cranner, and our other Bishops, in 1552.

(2.) Come we now to the Bishops' Bible: emphatically so called, because it was set on foot, promoted, and completed, chiefly under the Auspices of Parker, the first Protestant Archbishop of Canterbury after Cranmer. A Beginning was made in it, A. D. 1565, and the Seventh of Elizabeth: but the Work was not published, 'till 1568. The other principal Prelates, concerned in this Edition. were, Sandes, then Bishop of Worcester; Guest, Bishop of Rochester; Parkhurst, Bishop of Norwich; Davies, Bishop of St Davids; and Cox, Bishop of Ely (c). This is supposed to have been the first English Bible, whose Chapters were sub-divided into Verses. It is a large Folio, on a black Letter; and, in fact, no more than an improved Edition of Cranmer's, or the Great Bible, already mentioned. have not had it in my Power to see the Original Edition of this the Bishops Bible, printed in 1568. What I have consulted, is a Re-publication of it, fix Years afterwards: viz. the Edition of 1574, illustrated with Archbishop Parker's

⁽¹⁾ See Strype's Life of Archbishop Parker, p. 203, 209.

Parker's Arms and Preface, and Cranmer's Original Pre-

Queen Elizabeth's Prelates did by no means warp from the Doctrinal Purity of their Protestant Predecessors under the blessed King Edward. Witness the following Passages, which occur in the Presace to the New Testament of the Bishops' Bible. "By Him [i. e. by Christ] hath He [i. e. "God the Father] DECREED to geve, to his ELECT, the "Lyse everlasting."—And again: "Here may we bes holde the ETERNAL Legacies of the New Testament, bequeathed from God the Father, in Christe his Sonne,

" to all his ELECTES."

In what is entitled, "The Summe of the Whole Scripture," prefixed (as it was also to Cranmer's own Edition of 1539), 'tis observed, that God is He "From Whom al Thinges "do come; without Whom, there is nothing at al:— "who also worketh al in al, after his owne Wyl; to "whom it is not lawful to say, wherefore he doth thus " or thus."

On Rom iii. 20. the Note is, "He includeth here the "whole Lawe, both Ceremonial and Moral; whose "Workes CANNOT JUSTIFIE, because they be IMPER-" FECT in al Men."

On Rom. ix. 11. "The WYL and PURPOSE of God is the CAUSE of the ELECTION and REPROBATION:

" for His Mercy and Calling, through Christ, are the Meanes of Salvation; and the withdrawing of his Mercy

" is the Cause of Damnation."

On Rom. x. 4. "Christe hath FULFILLED the WHOLE Lawe; and therefore, whosoever BELIEVETH in Him,

" is COUNTED JUST before God, as well as [if] he had

" fulfilled the whole Lawe himselfe."

On Rom. xi. 35. "By this the Apostle declareth, that God, BY HIS FREE WYL and ELECTION, doth GEVE Salvation unto Menne, WITHOUT ANY DESERTES OF

" theyr owne."

478 STATE OF CALVINISM.

On 1 Pet. i. 2. "The FREE ELECTION of God is "the efficient Cause of our Salvation: the material Cause, "is Christe's Openhence"

On 2 Pct. i. 10. "Albeit it [viz. Election] be fure in Itselfe, forasmuche as God cannot change; yet we must confyrme it in ourselves" [i. e. we should get a Subjective Assurance of our Election], "by the Fruite of the Spirite: knowing, that the Purpose of God Electeth, Calleth, Sanctifieth, and Justifieth us."—So spake these excellent Prelates, in the samous Bishops' Bible.

(3) The Quarto Bible, published in Queen Elizabeth's Reign, appears to have been designed as a still farther Improvement on the Preceding. Tho' the Explicatory Notes are more numerous and diffuse, yet the Reduction of the Type, and the consequent Reduction of the Size, rendered it cheaper than the former Editions; and, of Course, better calculated for private and domestic Use.

Of this Bible, the first Edition (according to Strype) appeared in 1576 (d). Another in 1582 (e). That which I have now before me, is the Edition of 1602, published by Earker, the Queen's own Printer. The Marginal Remarks, and some other Matters, with which This presents us; will prove, that Calvinism continued to florish in the Church of England (i. e. the Church continued to abide by her own sundamental Principles), to the very Close of Elizabeth's Life: for the Reader need not be reminded, that 1002 was the last Year of that Queen's Reign.

From this Bible I extract the following Notes; in Lieu of a Multitude, which might be cited.

On Matth. xi. 26, the Remark is: "Faith cometh of mot of Man's Will, or Power; but by the fecret Illu"mination

⁽a) Strype's Annals, Vol. II. p. 458 .- Edit. 1735.

⁽e) Isid. Vol. III. p. 157.

" mination of God, which is the Declaration of His ETER.
" NAL COUNSEL."

On Matth. viii. 31. "The Devil desireth ever to doe "Harme: but he can do no more than God doeth AP-" POINT."

On Matth. ix. 37, 'tis observed, that Christ compares "The Number of the Elect to a plentiful Harvest."

On Matth. xxi. 33. "The Vineyard is the People whom "He had ELECTED."

On Matth. xxv. 34. "Hereby God declareth the cer"tainty of our PREDESTINATION; whereby we are SAVED
"BECAUSE we were CHOSEN in Christ before the Foun" dations of the World."

On the 35th Verse of the same Chapter: "Christ mean"eth not that our Salvation dependeth on our Works, or Merits; but teacheth, what it is to live justly according to Godlinesse and Charitie; and that God recompenseth His, of His free Mercy, likewise as He doth Elect them."

Matth. xxvi. 24. "To the Intent his Disciples might know, that ALL THIS" [viz. the Sufferings and Crucifixion of Christ] "was APPOINTED by the Providence of God."

Mark iv. 9. "God doth NOT open ALL Men's Hearts" to understand His Mysteries."—And 'tis, presently after, added, that there are some, meaning the Reprobate, who, "attaine not to the Pith and Substance" [of Religion], "but onely stay in the outward Rinde and Barke."

Mark xiii. 22. "The ELECT may waver and be troubled, but they cannot UTTERLY be deceived and over" come."

Mark xiv. 21. "This declareth, that NOTHING can be done without God's Providence."

On the 49th Verse of the same Chapter: "Which de-"clareth, that NO Man can do ANY Thing contrary to "God's Ordinance." Luke i. 30. " Not for her Merits, but onely through

"God's FREE MERCY, Who LOVED us when we were " Sinners, that whosoever rejoiceth should rejoice in the " Lord."

On Verse 32. Christ " is the true Sonne of God, begotten from before all Beginning; and manifested in the

" Flesh, at the DETERMINATE Time."

Luke vii. 35. "He [i. e. Christ] sheweth, that the Wick-"ed, altho" THEY turns from God, shall nothing hinder

" THE ELECT to CONTINUE in the Faith of the Gospel."

Luke viii. 3. "Whereby they acknowledged they had received of Him; and also shewed their Persever ance, which prooved their Knowledge to be of God."—Such, therefore, as do NOT persevere, were never made wise with the Knowledge that cometh from God.

- Luke x. 21. "He [Christ] attributeth it to the FREE ELECTION of God, that the Wise and Worldlings know not the Gospel, and yet the poore base People understand it."

On Verfe 31, the Phrase, "by Chance," is thus interpreted: "So it seemed to Man's Judgement; altho" this was so Appointed by God's Counsel and Pro"vidence."

Luke xvii 37. "Nothing can hinder the Faithfull to be joined to their Head, Jesus Christ."

Luke xxii. 22. The Text tays, Truely the Sonne of Man goeth as it is appointed: the Commentary adds, "By the fecret Counfel of God."

Luke xxiii. 35. The Text calls Christ The Chosen of God. On which, the Marginal Note thus remarks: "Whom God hath before all Others appointed to be the Messias.

" Otherwise, the Scripture calleth THEM the ELECT of " God, whom Hee hath CHOSEN, before all Beginning,

" TO LIFE EVERLASTING."

Luke xxiv. 16. "This declareth, that we can neither tee nor understand, 'till Gon open our Eyes."

Verfe 28. " Christ did bosh shor their Eyes, and open "them:

"them: He would keepe them in Suspence, ('till, His

" TIME came to manifest Himself unto them."

folm iv. 14. "He [i. e. the true Believer] shall NEVER

" be dried up, or destitute."

7 John vi. 37. "God doeth REGENERATE His ELECT,

"' John vi. 37. "God doeth REGENERATE HIS ELECT,
" and CAUSETH them to obey the Gospel."

John vii. 33. Christ "sheweth unto them, that they have no Power over Him, 'till THE TIME come that " His Father hath ORDAINED."

John x. 15. "As the Father cannot forget Him" [i. e. cannot forget Christ Himself], "no more can He forget "Us."

Verse 17. "Christ, even in that He is Man, hath de-"deserved His Father's Love and everlasting Life, not to

"His Flesh onely, but to us also, who, BY HIS OBEDI"ENCE and perfect Justice [i. e. persect Righteousness],

" are IMPUTED righteous."

Verse 26. The Text says, To believe not, for yee are not of my Sheepe; i. e. because ye are not in the Number of my Elect. The Marginal Note judiciously says, "The Cause wherefore the Reprobate cannot believe."

. John xiv. 21. "He" [i. e. the affured Believer] "fhall "sensibly feele, that the Grace of God abideth in him."

John xvii. 3. The Text runs, That Hee should give Eternal Life to ALL THEM that Thou hast given Him. The Margin says: "Which are the Elect."

Verse 6. "Our Election standesh in the GOOD PLEA-"SURE of God, which is the ONLY Foundation and Cause

" of our Salvation; and is declared to us in Christ, through Whom we are JUSTIFIED BY FAITH, and fanctify'd."

Verse: 2. The Text styles Judas a Child of Perdition.

The Marginal Note says, that "He was so called, not only because he perished, but because God had AP-" POINTED and ORDAINED him to this End."

Verse 19. "Christ's Holinesse is our's."

On Ass ii. 23, the Observations are: "God caused

"THEIR WICKEDNESSE" [i.e. the Wickedness of Christ's Betrayer and Crucifyers] "to set foorth His GLORY, contrary to their Mindes. As Judas's Treason, and their Crueltie toward Christ, were most detestable; so were they not only knowen to the Eternall Wisdome of God, but also directed, by His immutable Counces, to a most blessed Ende."

On Chap. iv. 21. "God hath put a Ring thorow the "Wicked's Noses, so that He STAYETH them from their "mischievous Purposes."—Was it not a little unmannerly in Queen Elizabeth's Bishops, to represent sovereign Free-willers as a Company of Bears, restrained by the Decree, and led captive by Providence, with Rings in their Noses?

On the 28th Verse of the same Chapter, the Right Reverend Commentators scruple not to affirm, that "ALL "Things are done by the Force of God's Purpose, ac- cording to the Decree of His Will."

Chap. xiii. 48. "None CAN beleeve, but THEY whom "God doth APPOYNT, before all Beginnings, to be "faved."

In a fhort, but excellent Preface, prefixed to the Epistle to the Romans, and entitled, "The Argument;" the Heads of the Church of England thus expressed themselves: "The " great Mercie of God is declared towards Man in Christ " Fefus, WHOSE RIGHTEOUSNESSE is made our's by Faith. For, when Man, by Reason of his owne Cor-" ruption, could not fullfill the Law; yea, commit-" ted most abominably, both against the Law of God " and Nature; the infinite Bountie of God ordeined, that " MAN'S SALVATION should only stand in the perfit " OBEDIENCE of His Sonne Jesus Christ .- And, 66 to the Intent that none should thinke, that the Covenant " which God made to him [i. e. with Abraham] and his " Posteritie, was not performed; either because the Jewes 66 received not Christ, or els beleeved not that He was " the true Redeemer; -- the Examples of Ismael and Esau " declare

46 declare, that All are not Abraham's Posteritie, which " come of Abraham according to the Flesh:-the very Strangers and Gentiles, grafted in by Faith, are made " Heires of the Promife. The CAUSE whereof is the only

" WILL of God; forafmuch, of his FREE MERCY, He

" ELECTETH fome to be faved, and, of His just Judgement, REJECTETH Others to be damned: as appear-

" eth by the Testimonie of the Scriptures."

From these Introductory Remarks, the Reader may sufficiently ascertain the Complection of those subsequent Notes on the Epistle itself, with which the Calvinistic Prelates ennobled its Margin. For Brevity's sake, let the few following stand for All.

Rom. ii. II. There is no respect of Persons with God: " As " touching any outward Qualitie" [fuch as High Birth, Learning, Riches, &c.] "But, as the Potter, before He " make His Veffels, He doeth APPOYNT fome to Glory " and others to Ignominie."

· Chap. iv. 4. Now to him that worketh not, &c. "That of DEPENDETH NOT on his Works, neither thinketh to " merite by them."

Ibid. ver. 25. Christ was raised "To Accomplish and " make PERFECT our JUSTIFICATION."

Chap. v. 17. "The Justice" [justitia, i. e. the RIGHTEousness] " of Jesus Christ, which is IMPUTED to the " Faithfull."

Chap. viii. 35. Who shall separate us from the Love of Christ? "Wherewith HE loved us, or God in Christ: " which Love is grounded on His DETERMINATE PUR-6 Pose; and Christ is the Pledge thereof."

Chap. xi. 29. "To whom God giveth His Spirit of " ADOPTION, and whom He CALLETH EFFECTUALLY

" He CANNOT PERISH: for God's ETERNAL COUNSEL

" NEVER CHANGETH."

2 Cor. iii. 3. " The Hardnesse of Man's Heart, before " he be regenerate, is as a STONIE TABLE, Ezek. ii. 19.

" and xxxyi. 26. But, being REGENERATE by the Spirit

" of God, it is as fost as Flesh; that the Grace of the Gospel may be written in it, as in NEW Tables."

Ibid. Ferse 9. "The Gospel declareth, that CHRIST is

" made our RIGHTEOUSNESS."

Ibid. Verse 13. "The Jews' Eyes were not lighten'd, but BLINDED; and so could not come to Christ."

Chap. v. 21. The Text says that We are made the Chap. v. 21. The Text fays, that We are made the Righteousness of God in Christ: The Margin adds, "By "IMPUTATION."

On Galat. i. 7. "What is more contrary to our FREE

" Justification by FAITH, than the Justification by the LAW, or [by] our Workes? Therefore, to Joyne these to"gether, is to joyne Light with Darknesse, Death with

" Life; and doeth UTTERLY OVERTHROW the Gospel."

Ibid. iii. 12. "The Law——CONDEMNETH All them "which in ALL POINTS doe not fulfill it." And how is this Condemnation to be escaped? By our own Righteousness? Certainly not. For our own Works do Not "in "all Points fulfill" the Law. But by the Imputation of Christ's Righteousness, who actually DID "fulfill" the Law, and that "in ALL Points."

Ephef. i. 4. "This ELECTION, to Life everlasting, can "NEVER bee CHANGED. But, in Temporal Offices, which

"God hath appointed for a certaine Space, when the " Term is expired, He changeth His Election: as we see

" in Saul and Judas."

Ibid. Verfe 23. "That is the great Love of Christ to-

" ward His Church, that HE COUNTETH NOT HIMSELF

" PERFECT without US which are his Members: and there"fore the Church is also called Christ [i. e. Christ mystical], as 1 Cor. xii. 12, 13."

Titus iii. 5. "God doth not justify us for Respect of any "Thing which He seeth in us: but doeth PREVENT us [i.e.

" He is beforehand with us] with His Grace, and FREELY

"accepteth us."—So, Chap. i. 2. God bath promised Eternal Life before the World began, "Of His MEERE Li-

66 beralities

"beralitie, WITHOUT FORESEEING our Faith or Works as a Caufe to move Him to this FREE Mercie."

On James ii. 14, The Note is: "St Paul, to the Romanes and Galatians, disputeth against them which attributed Justification to Works: and here St James reafoneth against them which utterly condemne Workes.
Therefore Paul sheweth the Causes of our Justification; and James, the Effects. There [i. e. in Paul's Epistles], it is declared, HOW we are justified: Here
[i. e. in James's Epistle], howe wee are KNOWEN
To be justified. There, Works are excluded, as Not the Cause of our Justification: here, they are ap-

" prooved, as Effects proceeding thereof. There, they "[i. e. good Works] are denied to GO BEFORE them that " shall be justified: and here they are sayd to FOLLOW

" them that ARE justified."

Bid. Verse 22. "The more his [i.e. Abraham's] Faith was DECLARED by his Obedience and good Works, the more was it knowen to Men to be persect; as the Goodnesse of a Tree is knowen by her good Fruite:

"Goodnesse of a Tree is known by her good Fruite:
"otherwise, no Man can have Perfection in this World;

" for every Man must pray for Remission of Sinnes, and Increase of Faith."

2 Pet, i. 10. Give Diligence to make your Calling and Election jure: "Albeit it be fure IN ITSELFE, forasmuch as

"God cannot change; yet we must confirme it in ourselves, by the Fruits of the Spirit: knowing, that " the Purpose of God electeth, calleth, sanc-

"TIFYETH, and JUSTIFYETH US."

Jude 4 "He confirmeth their Heart, against the Contemners of Religion, and Apostates; shewing, that such Men trouble not the Church at all Adventures, but are APPOINTED thereunto by the DETERMINATE COUN-" SEL of God."

Thus speak the excellent Prelates, who were concerned in the Editions of our Protestant Bibles, published Cum Privilegio Regiæ Majestatis.

IV. The professed Calvinism of our Church may be farther argued, from the Learned and Orthodox Francis Junius's Commentary on the Book of Revelation, bound up with the Bibles of those Times. One Citation from which Commentary shall here suffice.—Rev. xiii. 8. whose Names are not written in the Booke of Life, &c. "That is," says Junius, "such as are not, from everlassing, elected in Christ Jesus." Let it be observed, that this was the same Junius, who overthrew Arminius, in a Debate concerning Free-will: the Particulars of which Debate were transmitted, at large, to Posterity (f).

V. The Questions and Answers concerning Predestination, inserted into the authorized Bibles of that Age, are Another Proof, that the Doctrines of Calvin were owned to be the Doctrines of our Establishment.

Mr Strype was able to trace up the Infertion of these Questions and Answers into Queen Elizabeth's Bibles, as far as the Year 1582 (g) (and I myself have lately seen an Edition of 1583, wherein those Questions and Answers stand); a Period, Twenty Years earlier than That, in which the Edition, which I am now making Use of, was printed. That Historian, whose Fidelity, in his Relation of Facts, is unimpeachable; is not always very happy in his Conjectures. The Questions and Answers, says he, were "Joined to the Bible without any public License and Authority, " as it SEEMS (h)." I am persuaded, that, had the vast Multitude of Materials, which this industrious Compiler was digesting into an orderly Series, allowed him Leifure for due Consideration, it would have " feemed," even to Himself, utterly IMPOSSIBLE for the said Questions and Answers to have crept into these Editions of the Bible, " without ⁽f) Arminius's Children, of whom Nine survived him, were so unaccountably weak, as to insert this Dispute into their Father's Works.—Vide Arminii Opera, à Pag. 445. ad Pag. 610.——Edit. Lugd. 1629.

⁽g) Strype's Annal., Vol. III. p. 157. (b) Ibid.

" without public Licence and Authority," under the Government of a Queen fo tenderly jealous of her Ecclesiastical Supremacy, and amidst that unrelaxing Vigilance for which both her Council and her Bishops were so remarkable. Can any body coolly suppose, that, at such a Time, her Majesty's own Publisher would have ventured to sly in the Face of Church and State, by foifting in these Questions. without proper Authority? "Oh, but the Authority is no " where recorded." Nor was there any Reason why it should, in a Case so palpably plain. The simple Circumstance of their being admitted there at all, is Proof enough, that they were admitted by Authority. But, supposing it even possible, that they might have stolen in at first: would not the Intrusion have been presently detested? And would not the Questions and Answers, if real Interlopers, have been displaced from the subsequent Editions? Would they have been permitted to keep their Station, all through the Remainder of Queen Elizabeth's Reign (for more than Twenty Years elapsed, from their first Insertion, to the Death of that Princess), if they had not been introduced by due Licence? And would they have been, moreover, continued in all the Editions of the Bible, which were published, after her Decease, during the first Twelve Years (at least) of her Successor King James?

Come we now to the Questions and Answers themselves. In the Editions of 1583, 1602, and 1614. I find them prefixed to the New Testament. The Title they bear, is,

"Certaine Questions and Answeres, touching the Dostrine of PREDESTINATION, the Use of God's Word, and Sacraments."

They begin thus:

- " Question. Why do Men so much vary in Matters of Religion?
- " Answere. Because All have not the like Measure of Knowledge, neither do All beleeve the Gospel of Christ."

" Quest. What is the Reason thereos?

- " Answ. Because they only believe the Gospel and Doctrine of Christ, which are ORDAINED unto eternal!
 Life.
 - " Quest. Are not All ordained unto eternall Life?
 - " Answ. Some are Vessels of WRATH, ordained unto
- "Destruction; as Others are Vessels of Mercie, prepared to Glory.
- " Quest. How standeth it with God's Justice, that some appointed unto Damnation?
- " Answ. Very weil: because All. Men have in them-
- " felves Sinne, which deferveth no less. And therefore the
- " Mercy of God is wonderfull, in that he vouchsafeth to
- " fave SOME of that finfull Race, and to bring them to
- " the Knowledge of the Trueth.
- " Queft. If God's Ordinance and Determination must,
- " of Necessitie, take Effect; then, what need any Man to care? for hee, that liveth well, must needs be damned,
- "if hee be thereunto ordained; and hee, that liveth ill,
- " must needs be saved, if he be thereunto appointed?
- " Answ. Not so: For it is not possible, that either the
- " Elect should alwayes be without Care to doe well; or
- " that the Reprobate should have any Will thereunto. For,
- 44 to have either good Will, or good Worke, is a Testi-
- " monie of the Spirit of God, which is given to the Elect
- " onely; whereby Faith is fo wrought in them, that,
- " being graft in Christ, they grow in Holinesse to that
- "Glory whereunto they are appointed. Neither are they
- " so vaine, as once to thinke that they may doe as they
- " liste themselves, because they are predestinate unto Sal-
- " vation: but rather they endeavour to walke in fuch good
- "Workes, as God in Chile Jesus hath ordained them
- " unto, and prepared for them to bee occupied in, to their
- " owne Comfort, Stay, and Assurance, and to his Glory.
 - " Quost. But how shall I know myself to be One of
- " those whom God hath ordained to Life Eternal?
 - " Anfw. By the Motions of Spiritual Life, which be-
- " long onely to the Children of God: by the which, that " Life is perceived, even as the Life of this Body is dif-

" cerned by the Sense and Motions thereof.

- " Quest. What meane you, by the Motions of Spiritual!
 - " Anfw. I meane Remorfe of Conscience, joined with
- " the Lothing of Sinne, and Love of Righteousnesse: the - " Hand of Faith reaching unto Life eternall in Christ,
- " the Conscience comforted in Distresse, and raised up to
- "Confidence in God, by the Worke of his Spirit: a
- 44 thankfull Remembrance of God's Benefits received, and
- " the Ufing of all Adversities as Occasion of Amentment
- " fent from God.
- " Quest. Cannot such perish, as at some Time or other
- " feele these Motions within themselves?
 - " Answ. It is not possible that they should: for, as God's
- " Purpose is not changeable, so Hee repenteth not of the
- "Gifts and Graces of his Adoption; neither doth Hee
- " cast off those whom He hath once received.
 - " Quest. Why then should we pray, by the Example of
- " David, that He cast us not from His Face, and that Hee
- " take not His Holy Spirit from us?
 - " Answ. In so praying, we make Protestation of the
- Weaknesse of [our] Flesh, which mooveth us to doubt :
- " yet should not wee have Courage to aske, if wee were
- " not assured, that God will give, according to His Pur-
- pose and Promise, that which we require.
 - " Quest. Doe the Children of God feele the Motions
- " aforefaid, alwayes alike?
 - " Anjw. No, truly: for God, sometime, to prove His,
- 66 feemeth to leave them in fuch Sort, that the Flesh over-
- " matcheth the Spirit; whereof ariseth Trouble of Con-
- " science, for the Time. Yet the Spirit of Adoption is
- never taken from them, that have once received it : else
- " might they perish. But as, in many Diseases of the - "Body, the Powers of bodily Life are letted; fo, in some
- " Affaults, these Motions of Spirituall Life are not per-
- " ceived, because they lye hidden in our manifold Infir-

" mitys, as the Fire covered with Ashes. Yet as, after Sicknesse, commeth Health; and, after Cloudes, the

" Sunne shineth cleare; so the Powers of Spirituall Life

44 will, more or lesse, be selt and perceived, in the Chil-

" dien of God.

" Quest. What if I never feele these Motions in mysels? , " Shall I despaire, and thinke myself a Castaway?

"Answ. God forbid. For God calleth His, at what "Time Hee seeth good: and the Instruments, whereby

" He usually calleth, have not the like Effect at all Times.

"Yet, it is not good to neglect the Meanes, whereby God hath determined to work the Salvation of His. For as

"Waxe is not melted, without Heate; nor Clay harden-

Waxe is not melted, without Heate; nor Clay harden-

" ed, but by Meanes thereof; so God useth Meanes, both to draw those unto Himselse, whom Hee hath

" appoynted unto Salvation, and also to bewray the Wick" ednesse of them whom He justly condemneth."

The Remainder of these Learned and Masterly Questions and Answers well deserve to be transcribed: but what have been now alledged, are sufficient to prove the Purpose for which I bring them.

VI. A judicious little Tractate (the Work, originally, of pious Bishop Cranmer), bound up likewise with the Bibles. of this Reign, still continued to demonstrate the Calvinism. of the Church. It is entitled, 'The Summe of the whole. · Scripture of the Bookes of the Old and New Testament.'. Under the Article GOD, this valuable Compendium of Scripture-Doctrine expressy asserts, as usual, that He " worketh all in all, after His owne Will; to Whom it is not lawful to fay, Wherefore doth-Hee thus or thus?"... -It affirms, that, in Confequence of Adam's Original Transgression, "We, which be sprong from Him by the Flesh, bee in Nature the Children of Wrath, made sub-" jest to Thrall and Death, to Damnation, to the Yoke. " and Tyranny of the Devill." It maintains, that, by Christ's Oblation of Himself, "All Sinne" is "blotted " out, and QUITE put away:" And, that the Spirit of. Col

God, and the Scriptures of Truth, are given, in Order to lead us to Christ, that wee, BELIEVING, mought have, "in His Name, Life everlasting."

VII. Nor can I omit the Mention of some excellent Prayers, designed for private Use, and then bound up at the End of the Liturgy. Two of these shall here answer for the rest. The Collect for Sunday, was this: "O "Almightie and mercifull Lord, which givest unto THY "Etter People the Holy Ghost, as a SURE Pledge of thy Heavenly Kingdome; grant unto us, O Lord, thy Holy "Spirit, that He may be are Witnesse with our Spirit that see we be thy Children, and Heires of thy Kingdome: and "that, by the Operation of this Spirit, we may kill all "carnal Lustes, unlawfull Pleasures, Concupiences, evill "Affections, contrary unto thy Will; by our Savior and "Lord Jesu Christ. Amen."

The other, which I shall cite, is Part of that most admirable Supplication, entitled, 'A Prayer to be said at the "Houre of Death." And I beseech God, that Mr Wesley, Mr Sellon, and myfelf, may be enabled, at that important Crisis, to expire, under the full Impression of the gracious Sentiments with which it is fraught. " I, wretched Sinner, "give and fubmit myfelf wholly to thy most Blessed Will . scrand being sure, that the Thing cannot perish, which committed unto thy Mercy, willingly now I leave this fraile and wicked Flesh, in Hope of the Resurrection, which, in better wife, shall restore it to me againe " I fee and knowledge; that there is, in myfelfe, NO "Helpe of Salvation: but ALL my Confidence, Hope " and Trust, is in Thy most merciful Goodnesse. I have "No MERITS, nor good Workes, which I may alledge before Thee. Of Sinnes, and evill Workes, alas! I fee " a great Heape. But, through thy Mercy, I trust to be in the Number of them, to whom Thou wilt not "impute their Sins; but take and accept me for Righte-" ous and Just, and to be the Inheritour of everlasting " Life. Thou, merciful Lord, wast born, for my sake; worth 33 1 i 2

"thou diddest both hunger and thirst, for my sake; thou diddest preach and teach, thou diddest pray and fast, for my sake; Thou diddest pray and fast, for my sake; Thou diddest pray and Deedes, for my sake; thou sufferedst most grievous. Paines and Torments, for my sake; and, finally, Thou gavest thy most precious Body to die, and thy Blood to be shed on the Crosse, for my sake.——Let thy Blood cleanse and wash away the Spots and Foulness of my Sinnes. Let Thy Righteousness hide and cover mine Unrighteousnesse. Let the Merites of thy Passes fion and Blood, bee the Satisfaction for my Sinnes."

VIII. If ever there was a Calviniflic Confession of Faith fince the World began, the Two Helvetic, or Swifs Confessions (the smaller, drawn up, A. D. 1536. the larger, A. D. 1566.) have a Right to be so termed. Even the Vindicator of Mr Wesley's Minutes will hardly, I should imagine, venture to contest the Doctrinal Calvinism of those excellent Creeds, which do Honor to the Ancestors of his Protestant Countrymen.

In that valuable Collection, entitled, Corpus et Syntagma Confessionum Fidei, which comprizes the several Confessions of Faith avowed by all the Protestant Churches (among which Confessions, the XXXIX Articles of our own Church shine with a Lustre as bright as any); the Helvetic System leads the Van: in a short Præface to which, the Editor (p. 4.) assirms, that the Last and Larger of the Two was "subscribed by the Divines of Zurich, Bern, "Shaffbausen, St Gall, Grisonny, Basil, Bienne, and Geneva;" and that "The Church of ENGLAND, the Church of "Scotland, the Reformed Churches in France, all the Dutch Churches, together with many of the Protestant Churches in Poland, Hungary, and Germany, testify'd their Ap"probation of the said Helvetic Confession (i)."

⁽i) "Sed quum Illa [feil. prima Confess. Helvet.] brevior esset, gravisimis de Causis accuratius scripta suit, A. D. 1566. Cui Tigurini, Bernenses, Shassusiani, Sangallenses, Rhæti, Mylihu-

What I quote this Passage for, is, to prove, that the Church of England, after its Restoration by Queen Elizabeth, acknowledged it's Approbation of the Doctrines contained in that thoroughly Calvinistic Declaration of Faith: which Approbation our Church would by no Means have testify'd, had not HER own Principles been as thoroughly and confessedly Calvinistic, as were the Principles of the said Swifs Churches.

Object not, that the Truth of this Circumstance rests on the Authority of the foreign Compiler of the Syntagma Confessionum. For the very same Lircumstance is affirmed, and in still stronger Terms, by a most respectable English His Words are these, under the Year 1506. Historian. "There was lately a Confession of Faith, set forth by " Bullinger and Others, for the Churches of Helvetia: " which OUR CHURCH did then HEARTILY CONSENT " To and own. This I take, from the Pen of One that "well knew, viz. Grindal [at that Time] Bishop of Lon-" don [and afterwards Archbishop of Canterbury]: for there " is a Letter of his, to the faid Bullinger, wherein, among other Things, speaking of our Church [i. e. the Church " of England is Affairs, He [the Bishop] shewed, How " that many did endeavor to bring into the [English] Church " a Doctrine different from that pure and fincere Profesfion which was embraced by the Churches of Helvetia: "But [added the good Prelate], Ad hunc usque Diem, cum " vestris Ecclesiis, vestraque Confessione nuper edità, plenissimi " confentimus (k):" i. e. 'Down to this very Day, We ' [viz. We Bishops and Clergy of the Church of England] ' do PERFECTLY AGREE with Your [i.e. with the Switz] " Churches, 1 i 3 siani, Biellenses, item Genevenses, subscripserunt. Eandem & comprobarunt Ecclesiæ Angliæ, Scotiæ, Galliæ, Belgii omnes: Polonicæ quoque, Hungaricæ, atque Germanicæ Ecclesiæ mul p."—Chartula, Confess. Helv. præsix.—Apud Syntagm. Confess. Edit. Gen. 1612.

⁽k) Strype's Annals, Vol. II. p. 254. Chap. 48.

* Churches, and with your Confession of Faith lately set

Is the Reader defirous to see a Specimen of the Helvelic Confession? He shall have it. The Whole is very long: confisting of no fewer than Thirty Sections, or Chapters. It is drawn up with wonderful Candor, Piety, and Judgement. The fixth Chapter treats of Divine Providence: concerning which, it thus speaks: " Every Thing whatever is destined of God to some certain End, or Purpose. He " it is, who hath ordained, both it's Commencement, and " the Means by which the End shall be attained. The Heathens, indeed, attributed Things to blind Fortune, " and to precarious Chance: but St JAMES directs us to fay, If the Lord will, we'll do this or that. So speaks St S AUSTIN: All Things whatever, even those Things not exested, which, to us vain Mortals, feem to come to pass rashly " and without Defign; do, in reality, accomplish nothing but the Command of God: for at His Command it is, that they come to pass at all (1)".

The Eighth Chapter treats of Original Sin: and justly observes, that, "When God is, in Scripture, said to blind; to harden, and deliver Men over to a reprobate Mind; the Meaning is, that God doth so, in a Way of Just Judgement, as a righteous Judge and Avenger. Moreover, as often as Scripture affirms God to be the Worker of any Evil, it does not mean that Evil is not of Man's own Committing; but that God, by his just Judge-

^{(1) &}quot;Deus enim, qui cuilibet Rei suum destinavit Finem, is et Principium, & Media, per quæ ad Finem usque pervenitur, ordinavit. Ethnici Fortunæ Res attribuunt cæcæ, & incerto Casui. S. Jacobus, 4, non vult ut dicamus, Hodiè et eras in illam Urbens prosicijcemur et negociabimur: sed addit, Pro eo quod dicere debueritis Si Dominus volverit, &c. Et Augustinus: Omnia quæ vanis videntur in Rerum Natura temere sicri, non saciunt nist Verbum ejus: quia non sunt, nist Jussu Ejus." — Consess Helvet. Apud Syntagm. p. 24.

" NOT HINDER it, tho' it be in His Power to hinder it "if He so pleased. Or, it may be understood thus: that God makes a GOOD USE of Men's EVIL ACTIONS; as ". He did of the Sins committed by Joseph's Brethren (m)." The Ninth Chapter treats of Free-will. Part of it runs thus: "The REGENERATE are active, as well as passive, in their Choice and Performance of what is good. For They are ACTED UPON by God, in Order to their doing what they do (n)." --- Again: "The WILL ITSELF is not only CHANGED by God's Holy Spirit; but is also "furnished with Ability, freely to will and do that which is good (a)."

I shall only add another Paragraph, from the Tenth Chapter, which treats of God's Predestination. "God hath, " from Eternity, predestinated, or elected, freely, and of His own absolute Grace, without any Respect of Man [i. e. without any Respect of Man's Goodness], " the Saints whom it is His Will to fave in Christ: according to That of the Apostle [Eph. i.] God hath chofen us in Him, before the Foundations of the World. " And, again: Who hath faved us, and called us with an boly Calling, not according to our Works, but according to 1 1 4 4 15 15 15 15 16 His

⁽m) "Proinde, quando dicitur in Scripturis Deus indurare, ex excare, & tradere in reprobum fensum; intelligendum id est, quòd justo Judicio Deus id faciat, tanquam Judex & Ultor justus. Denique, quotiescunque Deus aliquid mali in Scriptura facere dicitur atque videtur, non ideò dicitur, quòd Homo malum non faciat; sed quòd Deus sieri sinat, & non prohibeat, justo suo Judicio, qui prohibere potuisset, si voluisset. Vel, quot malo Hominum bene utatur; ut Peccatis Fratrum Josephi."-Idid. p. 27.

⁽n) " Duo observanda esse docemus: Primum, Regenerato, in boni Electione & Operatione, non tantum agere passive, sed active. Aguntur enim à Deo, ut agant ipsi quod agunt."- Ibid. p. 29.

^{(0) &}quot;Voluntas ipfa non tantum mutatur per Spiritum; sed etiam instruitur Facultatibus, ut sponte velit & possit bonum."-Ibid.

"His own Purpose, and Grace, which was given us in Christ, before the eternal Ages, but is now made manifest by the Appearing of our Savior Jesus Christ [2 Tim. i. 9, 10] (p)." —So speaks the Helvetic Consession: with which, the Church of England doth so "PERFECTLY AGREE."

IX. Something has already been faid, concerning what is commonly called Bishop Ponce's Catechism, drawn up in the Reign of King Edward VI. The same samous Catechism will supply us with an additional Proof of the continued Calvinism of our Church, under the Reign of Queen Elizabeth. For, that Catechism was not only revived, but enlarged, in the Year 1562; and allowed by the same identical Convocation, which resettled our 39 Articles upon their present Footing. That I may not seem to advance any Thing rashly, I shall, as usual, produce the Authorities on which I go.

"One confiderable Thing more passed the Hands of this Convocation: viz. The Catechism in Latin, for the Use of Schools, and also for a brief Summary of Religion, to be owned and professed in this Resormed Church. And this is the same with That which is commonly known, to this Day, by the Name of Nowell's Catechism. The Occasion was this. Upon Secretary Cecil's Advice, Nowell, Dean of St Paul's, drew up a Catechism in elegant Latin: yet making much Use of The Catechism set forth towards the latter End of King Edward's Reign. This when the Dean had sinished, he dedicated to the same Secretary who set him on Work. And the Clergy of the Convocation thought sit to peruse it: and, having well considered it, and making some Corrections, gave it a more pub-

⁽¹⁾ Deus, ab æterno, predestinavit, vel elegit, liberè, et merâ suâ Gratiâ, nullo Hominum Respectu, Sanctos, quos vult salvos sacere in Christo: juxta illud Apostoli, Deus elegit nos, &c. Exiterum, Quisalvos secit nos, &c.—Ibid. p. 30, 31.

" LIC CHARACTER, as proceeding from THEM, and fo

44 ALLOWING and APPROVING the Use of it.

" This Catechism lay in Cecil's Hand, for above a Year;

" and then was returned to Nowell again, with some

" Learned Man's Notes: remaining with him, 'till 1570.

" And then it was called for again, by both Arch-

" BISHOPS, in Order to the PUBLISHING of it: and, by 66 Cecil's Consent (to whom it was dedicated before), be-

" ing DEDICATED now by the Author to THE TWO ARCH-

" Bishops and the Bishop of London, by Name, and " to ALL THE REST OF THE BISHOPS, it was printed.

". And printed again, 1572. And again, 1578. Bearing this Title, Christianæ Pietatis prima Institutio, ad Usum

Scholarum Latine scripta. This Catechism was Trans-

16 lated also, by the same Dean's Procurement, into English

46 and Greek, for the use also of Young Learners.

" This CATECHISM scems to be THE SAME with "That fet forth a Month or two before King Edward's Death, and Licensed and Recommended by the said 66 King's Letter set before it. For the two Persons that " hold the Dialogue, in Both Catechisms, are Magister " and Auditor. In that Letter, it is faid to have been " written by a certain Pious and Learned Man; and to have been, moreover, diligently perused by certain Bishops, and " other Persons of Learning, to whom the King had com-" mitted it. And [it was] likewise the same [Catechism] which, in Queen Mary's first Convocation was MUCH " QUARREL'D WITH" [And no Wonder: for Popery " Calvinism are but wet Friends]; " and, lastly, which 66 the Popish Bishops brought with them, when they " came to Mr Philpot's Examination: which Philpot [the " Arch-Deacon and Martyr, of whom before], very probably, was One of those Learned Men in Convocation, that King Edward had committed this Catechism to their Pe-" rusal of." Poor Mr Wesley thought, I suppose, that he had long ago taken leave of Bishop Ponet's Ghost; but we see, enhances the Terrors of its Appearance, by stalking hand-in-hand with additional Ghosts; even the Ghosts of Phil-pot, Cranmer, Ridley, and other "CERTAIN BISHOPS and "LEARNED MEN" of King Edward's Convocation.—But I return to the Historian.

16 It was thought fit [namely, in the Reign of Elizabeth], that MINISTERS should converse in this Catechism, and " LEARN TRUE DIVINITY FROM IT. But this fome " [viz. fome of the rigid Puritans], conceited of their own "Learning, afterwards thought much of. Thus Thomas Cartwright, in his Admonition, complained, that Now, Ministers, like young Children, must be instructed, and learn Catechisms: where, in the Margin, he placed these Words, Ministers of London enjoyned to learn Mr Nowell's " Catechism. To which, thus [Arch-Bishop] WHIT-66 GIFT [made Answer]: That Catechism, which you, in Derifion, quote in the Margin, is a Book fit for you to learn alfo. And I know no Man fo well Learned, but it may become him to read and learn that Learned and necef-" lary Book. Such was the Esteem of this Catechism, " upon its coming abroad, that, at fome VISITATION, " as it feems, in London, the Reading of it was recom-" mended to the Ministers: and that with good Reason; " having paffed the Synod. "Let me add, that, many Years after, concerning this

Catechism, thus it was writ by a Great Bishop [Cowper, Bishop of Winchester], in Answer to [a Pamphlet, entitled] Martin Mar-Prelate.—For a Catechism [said the Bishop], I refer them to That which was made by the Learned and Godly Man, Mr Nowell, Dean of Paul's; received and allowed by the Church of Engus Land, and very fully grounded and established upon the Word of God. There may you see all the Parts of true Religion received; the Difficultys expounded; the Truth destaclared; the Corruptions of the Church of Rome re-

" clared;

Thus do not only the Ghosts of King Edward's Bishops, and of Queen Mary's Martyrs; but the Ghosts also of Queen Elizabeth's Prelates, and of the whole Convocation which passed the Book of Articles; unite, with the Ghost of John Calvin, to frighten the vaunting Mr Wesley and the quaking Mr Sellon. Both the Knight and the Squire are haunted by the merciles Train, who are perpetually holding up Ponet's Catechism to view.

But that Catechism, tho' materially, was not exactly, the same with Nowell's. So, at least, I learn from the Annalist: for I have never been able to procure a Sight of Dean Nowell's Edition. But, that the Calvinistic Doctrines suffered no Injury nor Amputation, by passing through the Hands of that Learned Editor, and of the Convocation of 1562, I am fully satisfy'd. Should it be asked, On what Grounds I am convinced that those Doctrines continued with full Force to predominate in Nowell's improved Edition? My Answer would be, Let us attend to what Heylyn himself observes, concerning Nowell's Catechism. From whence an additional Advantage will also arise: for the Quotations from it, which the Arminian brings, will remedy, in some Measure, the Inability I am under of quoting it myself.

"It is objected," fays Heylyn, "that Mr Alexander Newell, Dean of St Paul's, who was Prolocutor in this Convocation, maintaineth in his Catechism a Doctrine contrary to That which the Arminians, as some call them, do now contend for: and that it is not to be thought, that He and Others, engaged with them in the same Convocation, were either so ignorant, as not to know what they put into the [39] Articles; or so infatuated by God, [as] to put in Things quite contrary to their own Judgements: which being supposed, or took for granted, we are directed to his Catechism, " written in the English Tongue, and dedicated to the " two Archbishops." The Sum of the Argument is this. The SELF-SAME Bishops and Clergymen in Convocation, who revised and allowed the XXXIX Articles as we have them at this very Day; did also revise and allow Nowell's improved Edition of Ponet's Catechifm: and the faid Houses of Convocation cannot, with any shew of Reason and Justice, be supposed to have been either so ignorant, or so infatuated, as to approve two contrary Systems of Religion, at one and the same time. Consequently, the Calvinism of the Catechism is an additional Argument that the Articles are Calvinistic; and the Calvinism of the Articles is an additional Argument to prove the Calvinism of the Cate-Say not, that this Kind of Reasoning is circular, and therefore inconclusive. For, as Contrarys are often admitted to illustrate each other; fo may Cor-relates.

Heylyn found himself extremely hamper'd by the above Argument: which indeed proved a Circle, that hemm'd him tightly round. His subsequent Concessions, and subsequent Twistings, demonstrate, that this was a Circle which, on his own Arminian Principles, he knew not how to square. For his Twistings, I refer my Readers to his Book itself. But his Concessions merit a Place here.

He confesses, that the two following Passages are a Part of Nowell's Catechism. "To the Church do all they properly belong, as many as do truly fear, honour, and call upon God, altogether applying their Minds to live holily and godly, and, with putting all their Trust in God, do most assuredly look for the Blessedness of Eternal Life. They that be sted-fast, stable, and constant in this Faith, were chosen and Appointed, and (as we term it) predestinate, to this so great Felicity."—The other Passage, which Heylyn cites, is: "The Church is the Body of the Christian Commonwealth; that is, the Universal Number and Fellowship of the Faithfull, whom God, through Christ, bath, before all Beginning of Time, appointed to Everlasting Life."

Heylyn observes, that those Passages have been alledged from Nowel's Catechism, "to prove, that Mr Nowell had "no Communion with Arminians." And what says Heylyn in Answer to this? He was forced to acknowledge the Justness of the Inserence: which he does, in the following remarkable Words. "To say Truth, he [i. e. Nowell] "could have no Communion with the Arminians, as fome please to call them, tho' he had defired it: Arminius being not born, or but newly born, when Mr Nowell wrote that Catechism. And Mr Nowell had been dead fome Years, before the Name of an Arminian had been

"heard in England (r)."
So much having been faid, concerning this good Man's Catechism; it may not prove disagreeable to the Reader, to be informed of some Particulars, relative to the good Man himself: which I have therefore subjoined, in the Note (s) below.

X. The

⁽r) This, and the preceding Quotations from Heylyn, occur in his Miscell. Tracts, p. 599.

^{(1) &}quot;Dr Alexander Nowell was born, A. D. 1510. of a [&]quot;Knightly Family, at Read, in Lancashire. At thirteen, he was admitted of Brazen-Nose, Oxford: where he took his Batchelor's.

[&]quot;Masters, and Doctor's Degrees, and obtained a Fellowship.

[&]quot; He was, successively, School-master of Westminster, Canon of [&]quot;Westminster Abbey, Canon of Windsor, and Dean of St. Paul's.

[&]quot;He was so fond of Fishing, that his Picture, kept in BrazenNose College, represents him surrounded with his Hooks, Lines,

[&]quot; and other Apparatus of the same Sort.—During the Reign of ^{} Edward VI, he distinguished himself much, as a Promoter of [&]quot; the Protestant Religion. But after the Accession of Mary, while [&]quot; Nowell indulged himself in his favourite Amusement of Catch-

[&]quot; ing Fishes, Bonner was catching of Nowell, and defigned him of for the Shambles: whither he had certainly been fent, had not [&]quot; a Friend of Nowell's fafely conveyed him beyond the Seas .--

Without Offence [fays Fuller], it may be remember'd, that [&]quot; Nowell, after one of his Fishing Expeditions, happening to leave

[&]quot; a Bottle of Ale in the Grass; he found it some Days after, no

[&]quot; Bottle, but a Gup fo loud was the Sound at opening thereof:

X. The great, the general, the just Alarm, occasioned by the surreptitious Publication of such Books (which now and then made shift to steal from the Press) as tended to countenance the Doctrines of Man's Free-will, and the Possibility of sinless Perfection in this Life; is another glaring Proof, how totally those corrupt Tenets were then supposed to deviate from the Pure System of the Church of England. Let one Example stand for several.

"The FREE-WILL MEN," fays Mr Strype, under the Year 1581, "at this Time, gave fome DISTURBANCE by their Doctrine. And now they had procured Caf"talio's Wood's Athenæ, I, 271.—Fuller's Worthys, p. 115. & ejuld Church Hitt. Book X. p. 4.

[&]quot; and this is believed to have been the Original of Bottled Ale in this Kingdom.

this Kingdom.

"Queen Mary being dead, and Elizabeth having ascended the Throne, Nowell returned from Germany to England, and [&]quot; was the first of the exiled Protestants, who, on that happy Change, [&]quot; revisited their native Country. Soon after his Arrival, he was [&]quot; chose Member of Parliament for a Borough in Cornwall: but [&]quot; Deacon's Orders.

[&]quot; Elizabeth quickly raised him to the Deanry of London: and (adds Dr Fuller) for his meek Spirit, deep Learning, Prudence, and Piety, the then PARLIAMENT, and Convocation both,

[&]quot; chose, enjoined, and trusted him to be the Man to make a

[&]quot; Catechism for public Use: such an one, as should stand as a

[&]quot; Rule, for Faith and Manners, to their Posterity .- For 30 Years

[&]quot; together, he preached the first and last Sermons in Lent, before

[&]quot; the Queen: wherein he dealt plainly and faithfully with her,

^{} and yet never incurred her Displeasure.—He was a Learned

[&]quot; Man; Charitable to the Poor, especially if they had any Thing

[&]quot; of the Scholar in them; and a great Comforter of Afflicted...

[&]quot;Consciences. He died in 1602, aged more than 90 Years.

[&]quot;But, like another Moses, his Eyes were not dim, nor did he ever make Use of Spectacles to read the smallest Print. A Man

[&]quot; of most Angelical Life; a great Defender of Justification by [&]quot;Faith alone, and yet a great Practicer of Good Works."

" talia's Books to be printed here, or brought over hi-"ther (t)." This Castalio was, by Birth, a Frenchman: extremely poor, but very Learned and Ingenious. he always continued a Lay-man, he was yet a perpetual Dabbler in Divinity: his peculiar Notions in which, he fought to obtrude upon other People, with much Bigottry, and fometimes with little Decency. While he kept within any tolerable Bounds of Moderation, he experienced a generous and affectionate Patron in Calvin: but, by Degrees, his impatient, dogmatizing Zeal put him upon running to such blasphemous Lengths against Predestination, as obliged Calvin to turn him adrift. Such, however, were Calvin's Benevolence and Candor, that, if Castalio's own Account is to be relied on, he was dismissed from Geneva with a very favorable Attestation to his Character. Retiring to Bafil, he obtained a Greek Professorship: and dyed there, in 1563. His Professorship was far from yielding him a Maintenance. It is even faid, that he was forced to divide his Time between Study and manual Labor. His Mornings were appropriated to Literature : his Afternoons to Digging, like a common Workman, But all would not afford him and his numerous Family a competent Support. He wanted Necessarys, to the very last. Hence his melting Complaint, to an opulent Friend: You distill your Oyl but by Drops, into my Lamp .- How discommendable soever his Heterodoxys might be deemed, the Reflections of candid Posterity must forever bear hard on the Learned Men of that Age, for suffering a Person of Castaii's fine Acquirements to languish, under the Pressure of such complicated Difficultys.

When the Writings of this claffical Free-willer began to appear publicly in England, the Friends of our Established Church took immediate Alarm. Among these, was Sir Francis Knollis, Treasurer of the Queen's Houshold: "Who," fays Strype, "thought it highly convenient to have the "Book

⁽i) Strype's Annals, Vol. III. p. 69.

"Book fearched for, and the Reading of it hinder'd (u)." With this, View, he wrote a Letter to the Lord Treafurer, and to the Earl of Leicester. His Letter seems to have had the intended Effect. It ran thus:

" My very good Lords,

"Your Hableness and Readiness to do good, in " these perilous Days of traiterous Practices both against "God and against her Majesty, doth embolden me to " prefume to remember Your good Lordships, that, by " your good Means, Order may be taken, that the true Authors and Favorers of the fetting forth of Castalio's "Book, with the (x) Abuses of the Bishop of London in " that Behalf, may be diligently examined and bolted out: that, the Hypocrify therein used, being known, " the PESTILENT DOCTRINE thereof may be the more " foundly suppressed. For it seemeth to me, that these " FREE-WILL MEN, OF ANABAPTISTICAL SECTARYS. do follow the same Scopes that the Deify'd Men of the Family of Love Safterwards known by the Name of " Ranters] do follow: faving, that the fame PERFECTION " which the Family of Love do pretend to obtain by Virtue of Love, the same Perfection do Castalio's Sectarvs pretend to obtain by the Virtue of FAITH (y). But it is not by Faith, in believing to be faved in the Merits of Christ; but by a Faith, in believing that EVERY " Man is able to FULFILL THE LAW of God: and that " the Cause, why Men do not fullfill the Law, is the " Want of this Castalio's Belief. Now both these Sects " si. e. both the Familists, or Ranters; and the Followers " of ⁽x) Strype, whis supr. (x) It is very observable, that, in those Daye, all the Free-willers were, to a Man (so far as appears), open Revilers of the Church of England, and virulent Detamers of the Bishops. (y) Mr Wesley has improved upon the Plan both of the Ranters and of Cossalio, by associating the Principle of Each. The Methodistical Perfection pretends to be composed of Faith and Love together.

" of Caftalio] do serve THE TURNS OF THE PAPISTS:

" as all FREE-WILL MEN, and JUSTICIARYS, or Jus-

 TIFIERS OF THEMSELVES, do. Yet, this Difference :3

betwixt the Papists and these Sectaries (I do mean touch" ing their Practices here in England): for these Sectaries

"[i. e. the Free-will Men and Perfectionists] are MORE

" HYPOCRITICAL, and will fooner DENY their Doctrines and Affertions, to avoid Punishment, than the Pupists will.

" London, September 29, 1581. (2)."

Such were the Sentiments, then entertained, concerning the poisonous Nature and dangerous Tendency of the Principles advanced by the FREE-WILL MEN!

XI. Mr Sellon's Impertinence obliges me to repeat a very remarkable Incident in the Religious History of Queen Elizabeth's Reign, which I have had Occasion to mention in a former (a) Publication: namely, the Case of Thomas Talbot, Parson of St Mary Magdalen's, in Milk Street, This Talbet presented a Petition, to the Bishops and Clergy affembled in Convocation; which Petition fat forth, That the faid Parson TALBOT, and some private Persons who concurred with him in Opinion, were "MIGHTILY " CRY'D OUT AGAINST" by the Members of the Church of England, because the said Talbot and his Affociates believed that God doth only FOREKNOW, but NOT predestinate, any " Evil, Wickedness, or Sin." For thus believing, the Petitioners complained, that they were " Esteemed and taken, of their Brethren THE PROTESTANTS, for Fautors of " false Religion; and are constrained, hitherto, to sustain at " their Hands, daily, the SHAMEFULL REPROACH and "INFAMY of FREE-WILL MEN, Pelagians, Papifts, Epi-" cures, Anabaptists, and Enemys to God's Holy Predestination " and Providence; with other such like OPPROBRIOUS Words; " and Threatnings of fuch like, or as great Punishments Κk " and

⁽z) Strype, u. f.: p. 70

⁽a) See my Church Vindicated from Arminianism, p. 45-48.

" and Corrections, as, upon any of the oforesaid Errors and SECTS, is meet and DUE to be executed." The Petitioners next intreat, that they may enjoy their Opinion of God's not being the Author and Predestinator of Man's Sin and Damnation,' "Without any Prejudice or Sufpicion, to be had towards them, of the Opprobrious Infamy " of fuch HERETICAL Names above named: And, That none of those Corrections, Punishments, and Executions, which the Clergy hath in their Authority already, and hereafter, by the Authority of this present Parliament, " from henceforth shall have in their Authority, to exercise upon any of the afore-faid Errors and Sects, or any other; se shall, in no wife, extend to be executed upon any Manner, of Person or Persons, as do hold of Predestination as is above declared: EXCEPT it be duly proved, that the 66 fame Person or Persons do, by their express Words or Writings, " affirm, or maintain, that Man, of his own natural Power, is able to THINK, WILL, or WORK, of himself, ANX "Thing that should, in ANY Case, HELP or SERVE TO. WARDS his own SALVATION, or ANY PART thereof (b)." Hence, amongst several other Conclusions, I inserred, and still inferr, That Our Protestant Bishops and Clergy were, in Elizabeth's Reign, more highly Calvinistical, than, PER-HAPS, the Scripture itself will warrant; for they roundly affirmed God to be the Author both " of Man's Sin and Damnation:"-That fuch Persons, as did not hold this, were looked upon as "DIFFERING from the rest" of our Protestant Church-men: - That those sew People, who Supposed God " not to be any Cause of Man's Sin and Dan-" nation," were, " mightily cry'd out against," by the main Body of our Reformed Church, as "Fautors" or Favorers " of false Religion:"-That " FREE-WILL MEN" were ranked among "Pelagians, Papifts, Epicures, Ana-66 baptists, and Enemys to God's Holy Predestination and Pro-" vidence .

⁽b) See the whole of this memorable Petition, in Strype's Annals, Cub An. 1562. Vol I, Chap. 28. p. 331—333.

" widence:"-That, to be Called " a FREE-WILL Man," was looked upon as a " Shameful Reproach" and " opprobrious " Infamy :"-Yea, That a Free-willer was deemed " He-" retical;" and not only fo, but exposed to the " Corrections, Punishments, and Executions" of the Civil Magiftrate: That the few Opposers of Predestination were then both more modest, and more Orthodox (or, rather, less heterodox), than the Generality of our modern Arminians. More modest : in that the Milk Street Parson only requested a bare TOLERATION for himself and his Semis pelagian Brethren; which Request argued both a Conscioufness, and an Acknowledgement, that he and they diffented from our Established Church. More orthodox: in that, as we have feen from the very Phraseology of their own Petition, they were ready to confent, That any Ecclesiastical Censure or Civil Penalty should be inslicted on fuch of their Number, as should " affirm and maintain, that Man, of his own natural Power, is ABLE to THINK. " WILL, or WORK, of himself, ANY Thing that should in ANY case HELP or SERVE TOWARDS his own Salvation, or ANY PART thereof." I, therefore, ask, again; Where is NOW the Arminian, who would make such a Concession as This? Nay, Where is Now the Arminian, who does not stiffly maintain the very Reverse? From whence I infer, that our new Anti-Calvinists are as much Degenerated from the Decency even of their Pelagian Fore-fathers, as those Pelagian Fore-fathers were degenerated from the Purity of the Protestant Faith in general, and from that of our own National Church in particular.

And now, what fay Mess. Wessey and Sellon, by Way of Answer to my Argument for the Calvinism of the Church of England, drawn from the Tenor of the above-cited Petition? Instead of Answering, the astonished Arminians descant as follows: "Good God! To what a pitch of Tyranny and Wickedness was the Calvinistic Faction gotten, in Elizabeth's Days!——It is plain, that Dr Heylyn K & 2 "fays 66 fays true, when he tells us, It was fafer for any Man, in those Times, to have been looked upon as an HEATHEN or Publican, than an Anti-Calvinist. This shews, what a deplorable State the Church was at that Time in: 66 Reformed-from bad to worse; from Popish Superstition " to Calvinistic Blasphemy. --- These BISHOPS and " CLERGY" [viz. the Bishops and Clergy in the Convocation of 1562, to whom Talbot's Petition was prefented; who were also the very identical Bishops and Clergy that then settled the present Liturgy and framed the present XXXIX Articles of the Church of England] "These " BISHOPS and CLERGY were a Company of SILLY MEN, 66 to fay no worse (c)." The Church is much obliged to Mr John and his Man Wat, for their Complaifance to Her. Unhappily, however, for themselves and their Cause. they have, in the Ferment of their scurrilous Heat, unwarily fet their Seal to the Whole of the Argument I plead for. They acknowledge (who could ever have thought it?) even John Wesley and Walter Sellon do, themselves, acknowledge, That the Church of England was "Reformed from Popish Superstition to Calvinistic" Principles; and that, in good Queen Bess's golden Days, when Calvinism had no Harm in't, "It was fafer for any Man to have a been looked upon as an Heathen or Publican, than an " Anti-Calvinist." Granted. And what is this, but the very Point for which I contend (d)?

XII. In the

(c) Sellon, p. 55, 56, 57,

⁽d) The Compliment, which this Brace of Methodists pass on the Bishops, &c. who threw our 39 Articles into their present Form: viz. that "They were a Company of SILLY Men, to say no wors?" of em; yea, (p. 56) that the said Bishops and Clergy were "An Herd of Persecutors;" reminds me of another very elegant Compliment offered, by the said Brace, to the Memorys of those great and good Men who translated the Holy Scripture into the English Version now used: viz. that they were "Blunderer" and Blasphemers" (p. 110). And yet, One of these

XII. I must repeat another Instance, than which it is hardly possible, perhaps, to alledge an Incident more strong, striking, and conclusive, in Favor of the absolute Calvinism of the Church of England: I mean, the Advice, offered and recommended by Queen Elizabeth's Bishops themselves, that "Incorrigible Arians, Pelagians or FREE-WILL" Men, be sent into some one Castle, in North-Wales, or "Wallingsord; and there to live of their own Labor and "Exercise; and none other be suffered to resort unto them, but their KEEPERS: untill they be found to "repent their ERRORS (e)."

This most remarkable Paper of Advice is thus introduced by Mr Strype: " Another Thing also was now drawn "up in Writing, By THE ARCH-BISHOP [Parker], "AND BISHOPS, for the further Regulation of the In-" ferior Clergy. This Paper confisted of Interpretations and " further Considerations of certain of the Queen's Injunctions, " for the better Direction of the Clergy, and for KEEP-" ING GOOD ORDER IN THE CHURCH. It was framed, " as it feems to me, by the Pen of Cox, Bithop of Ely; " and REVISED BY THE ARCH-BISHOP (f)."-Let it be noticed, that Dean Nowell's Catechism, together with the " Second Book of Homilys, as we have them at this Day " in our Homily Book (g)," was compiled and published; as also the " Articles of Faith to be subscribed to by Mini-46 sters, and the Form of Declaration" [i.e. the Declaration K k 3

Railers, wiz. Mr Wosley himself, tells us, in the Preface to his wretched Bundle of Plagiarisms on the New Testament, that there is something in the very Diction of our English Translation, which is, in his Estimation, peculiarly wenerable. That is, Blunders and Blasphemys are, in Mr W's Judgement, peculiarly venerable. I should have imagined as much, without his Information: they being, literally, two Species of Commoditys, in which he drives a larger Trassick than any other Blunder-Merchant this Island has produced.

⁽e) See Strype's Annals, Vol. I. Chap. xvii. p. 214.

⁽f) Strype, u. f. p. 213.

⁽g) Strype, u. s. p. 216.

of Conformity to the Liturgy and Rites] "to be by them "openly spoken and professed; were likewise framed," about (b) the same Time, and by the self-same Bishops who advised the Queen to shut up all "incorrigible FREE-WILL" Men in some one Cassle in North-Wales, or Wallingsord."

From my former Vindication of the Church of England. permit me to transcribe a brief Remark or two, which I then made, on this extraordinary Advice offered by Queen Elizabeth's Bishops and Clergy in Convocation affembled. Lobserved, 'I do not quote this mortifying Paragragh Imortifying indeed, to Arminians and Arminianizers], from any Approbation I entertain of the Expedient recommended: for I abhor every Thing that even looks like Perfecution, for Principles merely Religious. But I cannot help deducing two Conclusions from this curious Portion of our Ecclefiaffical History. 1/1, That FREE-WILL MEN were confidered, by the Church of England, when in her Purity, as some of the MOST DANGEROUS RECUSANTS she had to grapple with: elfe, the would never have advised the Confining of them in a remote Prison, where none should be permitted to have Access to them, their KEEPERS only excepted .- 2dly, That FREE-WILL MEN were, at that Time, very few in Number: otherwise, " One Castle," however spacious, would not have been thought Large enough to contain them .- 3 dly, I heartily congratulate our present, Free-willers, on their living in ah Age of Liberty.

And I still congratulate them, with the utmost Sincerity. Among which congratulated Number, I include even Mr Wesley and Mr Sellon. Had the Advice of the Episcopal Bench been followed, and had it continued in Force to this Day, Mr Wesley, instead of ranging the three Kingdoms, like a Bird of Passage; would have been caged on the dreary summit of a Welch Mountain: or, compelled to fix his Nest in some Hole of Wallingford Cassle, must have beat Time to the Music of the Winds. The melodious Mr Sellon, likewise, instead of improving and ravishing the Public with his mellistuous Notes, must have sollowed his Master to the Coop: and warbled his harmonious Woes to the dull, dark, damp, solitary Walls; or whistled his pensive Strains to the Owls and to the Batts.—I mean if these two Arminians had stood to their Principles: of which I stand in much doubt.

I am glad the fweet Singers are at full Liberty to hop from Spray to Spray in perfuit of Flys, tho' I cannot wish them a large Capture. And whereas I had reasonably and naturally inferred, that Free-willers were once very few in Number, from the Circumstance of a fingle Castle's being deemed sufficient to hold them all; I am well pleased that the faid Nightingales should have it in their Power to counter-act my Inference with this fage Objection (p. 39.): to wit, That "One Castle would have held all the avoived " Protestants in England, in Queen Mary's Days." this happens to be a Mistake. For, tho' many Protestants fled, as Opportunity offered, into other Countrys; yet, the Multitude of those that remained was so great, that Mary's Popish Bishops were tired, and her Popish Administration were ashamed, of the Imprisonments, the Sufferings, and the Slaughters, by which her deteftable Reign was distinguished. - Let Strype testify, whether "One " Caftlewould have held all the avowed Protestants in England." That authentic Historian affirms, that, in London only, The Tower, the Fleet, the Marshalfea, the King's-Bench, " Newgate, and the Two Counters, were FULL of them (c)." It was even computed, that no fewer than twenty Theusand Persons, who had been, from the very first, bigotted Papifts; were, during the Persecution, converted to Protestantism, in the Course of one Twelve-month only (d). --- A very elegant and mafterly Historian, now living, confirms the Falsehood of Mr Sellon's Conjecture. " The K k 4 66 Patience

⁽c) Eccles, Mem. Vol. III. p. 140.

" Patience and Fortitude, with which the Martyrs for the "Reformation submitted to their Sufferings; the Heroic 5 Contempt of Death, expressed by Persons of every Rank, and Age, and Sex; confirmed many more in the " Protestant Faith, than the Threats of their enraged 44 Persecutors could frighten into Apostacy. The Busi-66 ness of such as were entrusted with the Trying of Heretics, GREW upon them, and appeared as ENDLESS sas it was odious. The Queen's ablest Ministers bese came fensible, how impolitic, as well as dangerous, it " was, to irritate the People by the frequent Spectacle of " Public Executions, which they detested, as no less un-"just than cruel. Even Philip was so thoroughly con-" vinced of her having run to an Excess of Rigor, that he assumed a Part, to which he was little accustomed; becoming an Advocate for Moderation and Lenity (e)." In supposing therefore, that "All the avowed Proteftestants in England, might in the Days of Mary," have been comprehended in " one Castle;" Mr Sellon rashly estimates the Integrity of the Martyrs, by his own: but he should remember, that they were conscientious Calvinists, and himself is a prevaricating Arminian.

On the whole, it follows, That One Castle WOULD NOT have held all the professed Protestants in Queen Mary's Reign: But that One Castle WOULD have held ALL the Protestant FREE-WILLERS in the Reign of Queen Elizabeth.

XIII. The avowed and undeniable Calvinism of those Prelates, with whom that discerning Princess took Care to fill the Metropolitical See of Canterbury, during the whole of her Reign; supplies another Argument, for the palpable Calvinism of the Church. Indeed, the same Care was taken of the inserior Sees: witness the venerable Calvinistic Names of Sandys, Huttan, and Matthew, Archibishops of YORK; Aylmer, and Bancrost, Bishops of Lon-

DON;

⁽e) Robertson's Hist. of Charles V. Book XI. Vol. IV. p. 162.

TER; Cox, Bartow, Jewell, Gheast, Babington, Parkhurst, Young, Scambler, Pilkington, and many others, who were rather Ornaments to the Mitre, than the Mitre to them.

I should expatiate on too large a Field, were I (as I once designed) to enter on the Proof, which History affords, of the Orthodox Principles of those and the other leading (f) Bishops in that Reign. I must, therefore, confine myself to the Prelates of Canterbury: who were PARKER, GRINDAL, and WHITGIFT.

(1:) Dr

(f) Let the accomplished Dr Jewell, Bishop of Salisbury, whose able Defences of the Church of England have stamped Immortality on his Name; stand as one Proof for all, of that thorough-paced Calvinism which was universally adopted by the valuable Fathers, who graced the Right Reverend Bench, in those Times of Doctrinal Purity: ___ " God," fays Bishop Jewel, "hath CHOSEN " you from the Beginning. His ELECTION IS SURE FOREVER! "The Lord knoweth who are His. You shall not be deceived "with the Power and Subtilty of Antichrift. You SHALL NOT " FALL FROM GRACE. You shall not perish. This is the Comfort which abideth with the Faithfull, when they behold " the Fall of the Wicked; when they see them for sake the Truth " and delight in Fables; when they fee them return to their Vomit, and wallow again in the Mire. When we fee these "Things in others, we must fay, alas they are examples for me; and lamentable Examples. Let him that standeth take heed that he fall not. But God hath loved me, and hath chosen me to Salvation. His Mercy shall go before me, and his Mercy Inall follow in me. His Mercy shall guide my Feet, and stay 45, me from falling. If I stay by myself, I stay by nothing; I " must needs come to Ground .- He hath LOVED me; he " hath CHOSEN me; he will KEEP me. Neither the Example " nor the Company of others, nor the enticing of the Devil, nor my own fenfual Imaginations, nor Sword, nor Fire, is ABLE to " separate me from the Love of God which is in Christ Jesus our Lord. This is the Comfort of the Faithfull .-Whatsoever falleth upon others, tho' others fall and perish, al-

514 STATE OF CALVINISM

(1.) Dr. Matthew Parker was consecrated Arch-Bishop, Dec. 17, 1559, in Lambeth Chapel. Almost immediately afterwards, his Grace received a Letter from Calvin; which Letter he communicated to the Queen's Privy Council, who, when they had seriously considered its Contents, ordered the Arch-Bishop to transmit their Thanks to Calvin for his Pains and Kindness. I shall recite this Matter more at large, in the Historian's own Words.

A Letter was sent, this Year (1560), to Archbishop Parker, "From the Hands of a great Divine, John Calvin: importing, How he [viz. Calvin] rejoiced in the Happi- ness of England, and that God had raised up so gracious a 2ueen to be instrumental in propagating the true Faith of Jesus Christ, by restoring the Gospel, and expelling Idolatry, together with the Bishop of Rome's usurped Power. Calvin then made a serious Motion of uniting Protestants together, as he had done before (g) in King Edward's Reign.

tho' they forfake Christ and follow after Antichrist, yet God thath loved you and given his Son for you. He hath chosen you, and prepared you unto Salvation, and hath written your Names in the Book of Life. But how may we know that God thath chosen us? how may we fee this Election? or how may we feel it? the Apostle saith, thro' San Biscation, and the Faith of Truth. These are tokens of God's Election.

This [viz. the Holy Spirit] comforteth us in all Temptations; and beareth witness with our Spirit that we be the Children of God; that God hath chosen us; and doth love us, and hath prepared us to Salvation; that we are the Heirs of his Glory; that God will keep us as the Apple of his Eye; that He will defend us; and we shall not Perish."—Bishop Jewell's Exposit. of the Epittles to the Thessalvaians; p. 143, 144. Lond. 1611.

(g) "The Sentiments of the Foreign Protestants concerning the represent English State" [viz. concerning the Church and Condition of England under the Government of King Edward VI.] deserves a particular Remark. They took such great Joy and Satisfaction in this good King, and his Establishment of Religion; that Bullinger, Calvin, and Others, in a Letter to him,

" offered

66 into

"Reign.—He [now] intreated the Arch-Bishop to prevait with her Majesty to summon a General Assembly of all the "Pretestant

" offered to make him their Defender, and to bave Bishops in " their Churches, as there were in England; with a Tender of " their Service, to assist and unite together." (Strype's Memorials of Cranmer, p. 207.) -- Nothing could be either more wifely, or more benevolently planned, than this excellent Scheme. It was. however, frustrated. And frustrated by Whom? By the Papills of that Time: who were, to the last Degree, stung and alarmed at the Prospect of a general Union among the Reformed. The Council of Trent was then fitting: fome artful Members of which undertook, by Dint of collusive Management, to disconcert a Meafure so formidable to the Interests of Rome. For thus the Historian goes on: "This" [Proposal of Culvin's to King Edward and the Church of England] " nettled the Learned at the Council of Trent. " who came to the Knowledge of it by some of their private In-" telligencers; and they verily thought, that All the Heretics, as they called them, would now unite among themselves, and become one Body, receiving the same Discipline exercised in England: " which if it should happen, and they should have Heretical Bifhops near them in those Parts, they concluded that Rome and " her Clergy would utterly fall. Whereupon were fent Two of " of their Emissaries from Rotterdam into England, who were to " pretend themselves Anabaptists, and preach against Baptizing -16 Infants, and preach up Re-baptizing, and a Fifth Monarchy " upon Earth. And, besides this, one D. G. authorized by these " Learned Men [i. e. by the Popish Synod assembled at Trent], " dispatched a Letter, written in May, 1549, from Delft in Hol-" land, to two [of the Popish deprived] Bishops [here], whereof [Gardiner, Bishop of] Winchester was one; signifying the coming of these pretended Anabaptists, and that they should receive them, and cherish them, and take their Parts, if they should chance " to receive any Checks: telling them, that it was left to them to " assist in this Cause, and to some Others, whom they knew to be well " affected to Mother Church. This Letter is lately put in Print. " Sir Henry Sidney, first met with it in Queen Elizabeth's Closet, " among some Papers of Queen Mary's. He transcribed it into " a Book of his, called, The Romish Policies. It came afterwards

- " Protestant Clergy, where soever dispersed; and that a SET 64 FORM and Method [i. e. of Public Service, and Govern-
- " ment of the Church | might be Established, not only in
- " HER Dominions, but also among ALL the Reformed and
- Evangelical Churches abroad.
- " This was a Noble Offer: and the Arch-Bishop soon acquainted the Queen's Council with it. They took
- "it into Consideration, and desired his Grace to THANK
- "Calvin, and to let him know, They LIKED his Proposals,"
- which were fair and desirable: yet, as to the Government
- " of the Church, to fignify to him, that the Church of
- " England would still retain her Episcopacy (h):" And it was Calvin's Defire that the might. Nay, that great Reformer (as hath been already observed) wished for the Introduction of Protestant Episcopacy into the Reformed Churches abroad. Witness, farther, what Mr Strype immediately subjoins:

" This was a great Work; and created ferious Thoughts in the Arch-Bishop's Mind, for the framing a proper

" Method to set it on Foot: but he had considered but a " little while of these Matters, when News arrived at

See more of Cranmer's Correspondence with Calvin, in Mr Strype's above-quoted Memorials, from p. 409, to p. 413.

[&]quot; into the Hands of Archbishop Usher; and was transcribed thence " by Sir James Ware." (Strype, u. f. p. 207, 208).

The Romiff Church had Reason to dread the projected Co-alition of Protestants: and the restless Intrigues of her Emissarys, who, under various Characters and Appearances, went about, fowing Divisions, and seeking to unsettle the Minds of the People; doubtless, contributed much to impede and distipate the intended falutary Union. It would, however, in all Probability, have taken Effect, at the long run; if the State-Animofitys and Factions, which divided King Edward's Court, together with the early Death of the Good King Himfelf, had not superseded the excellent Defign.

⁽b) Strype's Life of Parker, p. 69.

"IFSTY

Court, that Calvin was dead.—How Calvin stood affected in the said Point of Episcopacy, and how READILY and GLADLY He and other Heads of the Resormed Churches would have RECEIVED It, is evident enough from his Writings and Epistles. In his Book Of the Necessity of Resorming the Church, he hath these Words:
Talem nobis Hierarchiam exhibeant, &c. Let them give us such an Hierarchy, in which Bishops may be so above the rest, as they resule not to be under Christ, and depend upon Him as their only Head; that they maintain a brotherly Society, &c. if there be any that do not behave themselves with all Reverence and Obedience toward them, there is no Opinion

(i) Life of Parker, p. 69. 70 .- The Historian mentions and ther very remarkable Proof, both of Calvin's regard for Episcopacy. and of the Manner in which a feeming Difference arose between the Plan of Ecclesiastical Government adopted by that Reformer, and the Plan of Episcopal Government adopted by, the Church of England. A curious Paper, in Arch-Bishop Abbot's own Handwriting, found among Arch-Bishop Usher's Manuscripts, and published by Mr Strype, ran as follows: " Perusing some Papers of our " Predeceffor, Matthew Parker; we find, that JOHN CALVIN, and " Others of the Protestant Churches of Germany and elsewhere, would have had Episcopacy, if permitted. ____ And " whereas CALVIN bad fent a Letter, in King Edward VI's Reign, " to have conferred with the Clergy of England, about fome Things " to this Effect; Two [Popish] Bishops, viz Gardiner and Bonner, 1 INTERCEPTED the Same : whereby Mr Calvin's Offerture perified. " and he received an Answer [from Gardiner and Bonner] as if it had been from the Reformed Divines of those Times; wherein " they CHECK'D Him, and SLIGHTED his Proposals. From which " Time, John Calvin and the Church of England were at Variance " in Several Points [respecting Church Government]: which. " otherwise, through God's Mercy, bad been qualified, if those Papers " of his Proposals had been discovered to the Queen's Majesty [viz. " to Queen Elizabeth] during John Calvin's Life. But, being not " discovered until, or about, the Sixth Year of her Reign, HER MaOpinion being so savorable to the English Episcopacy; it was no Wonder that He and the Arch-Bishop of Canterbury

" living :

" JESTY much LAMENTED, they were not found fooner: aubich fhe " expressed before ber Council, in the Presence of her great Friends " Sir Henry Sidney and Sir William Cecil." Strype's Life of Park. p. 70. So wrote that most respectable Prelate, Arch-Bishop Abbot; whose Evidence may be thus summed up: Calvin's last Letter concerning Episcopacy, sent to the ruling Clergy of England in the Reign of Edward VI. was craftily intercepted by Bonner and Gardiner; who (to quash Calvin's Scheme for Episcopizing the foreign Protestant Churches) forged a surly, snappish Answer to Calvin, in the Names of the Divines to whom his Letter had been addressed, but whose Hands it had never reached. Calvin, being disgusted at the Rudeness with which he supposed his Overture had been received here, dropt all Thoughts of making any further Advances on the Subject. And thus, had not the fraudulent Malice of two Popish Extinguishers put out the Design, Calvin had admitted the Discipline of the Church of England, with as much Zeal and Heartiness as the Church of England actually adopted Calvin's Doctrines .- Let me add, that Queen ELIZABETH'S "Much LAMENTATION before her Council," on the John Calvin stood in her Majesty's Esteem.

Detection of the above Popish Fraud, demonstrated how fair Mr A very remarkable Passage occurs, likewise, in the Examination of Mountagu's Pelagian and Arminian Appeal, written by the excellent Bishop Carleton, who had been one of the Representatives of the Church of England at the ever memorable Synod of Dort. A Passage, which demonstrates, that the Affection of the foreign Reformed Churches, to a protestant and primitive Episcopacy, did not expire with the Life of Calvin. "When wee fi. e. when we English Divines, who attended that Synod] were to yeeld our Consent to the Belgic Confession at Dort; I made open Protestation in the Synode, that whereas, in that Confession, there was inferted a strange Conceit of the Parity of Ministers to be in-" Rituted by Christ, I declared our Dissent utterly in that Point. " I shewed, that, by Christ, a Parity was never instituted in the " Church. And herein I appealed to the Judgement of 46 Antiquity, and to the Judgement of any Learned Man now terbury were on Terms of most friendly and intimate Correspondence. The Truth is, they were reciprocal Admirers of each other, and agreed no less in Matters of Discipline than of Doctrine.

In the Year 1563, Musculus's Common Places, which contain a complete and very excellent System of Calvinistical Divinity, were translated into English, and the Translation dedicated to the said Arch-Bishop Parker. Nay, in the Opinion of Mr Strype, the Arch-Bishop himself honor'd the Book with the presatory Admonition to the Reader, concerning Church-Discipline and Ceremonys. "Musconcerning Church-Discipline and Ceremonys. "Musconcerning Church-Discipline and Ceremonys. "Musconcerning Church-Discipline and Ceremonys." The Use of translated out of Latin into English, for the Use of English Divines and Others, in order to Instruct them in a Body of SOUND DIVI-

64 living: and craved herein to be fatisfied, if any Man of Learning could speak to the contrary. (My Lord of Salisbury is " my Witnesse; and so are all the rest of our Company, who fpake also in the same Cause.) To this there was no An-" fwere made by Any. Whereupon, we conceived that they " yeelded to the Truth of the Protestation .- And somewhat I " can fay, of my own Knowledge: for I had Conferences with " divers of the best Learned in that Synode. I told them, that the Cause of all their Troubles [viz. of all the Diffentions oc-" casioned and somented in the Dutch Churches by the Arminians? " was this, that they had not Byshors among them; who, by " their Authoritie, might represse turbulent Spirits that broached " Novelties .- Their Answere was, that they did much HONOUR and REVERENCE the good Order and DISCIPLINE of the Church of England; and, with all their Hearts, would be OLAD to 66 have it established among THEM: but that could not be hoped for " in their State. Their Hope was, that, seeing they could not doe what they defired, God would be mercifull to them, if they did what " they could. This was their Answere. The Truth is, they " groane under that Burthen [viz. the Burden of Ministerial Pa-" rity], and would be eased, if they could. This is well knowne " to the rest of my Associates there." Bishop Carleton's Examination, &c. p. 111, 112. Lond. 1626.

" NITY purged from the Errors of Popery. The " Author [viz. Musculus] was a Learned Professor of Diof vinity, in Bern, Switzerland; and reckoned among the " most Profound Doctors that had written in the Church The Translator was Mr Man, Head of " of God. " Merton College, Oxford; who dedicated the Book to " our Arch-Bishop." (Strype's Life of Parker, p. 150). -In this Book, the Doctrines of Absolute Predestination and Grace are wrought up to the highest Standard. I have the Latin Edition by me, and number it among my choicest Literary Treasures. Let me ask, Whether the Arch-Bishop would not only have permitted the English Version of it to be Dedicated to himself, but also have prefixed to it a "Preface of his own," if his Grace had not indeed looked upon that Performance as, what Mr Strype justly terms it, " a Body of sound Divinity?" The extraordinary Countenance afforded by the fame Arch-Bishop to the GENEVA Bible, is a strong accessory Proof of his Doctrinal Calvinism. One Mr John Bodleigh began to prepare a new Edition of that Bible, in 1569. and "Apply'd himself to the Queen's Secretary, Cecilo 66 _ _ _ But the Secretary suspended giving his Fur-" therance, till he had heard the Advice of the Arch-Bishop, and the Bishop of London. - - Both the

"the Secretary, in Bodleigh's Behalf: writing to him,
"That they thought so WELL of the first Impression, and the " Arch-Bishop and Bishop willingly gave their Letters to "Review of those who had since travelled therein, that they [viz. the Bishops of Canterbury and London] wished it would please him [Secretary Cecil] to be a Means, that Twelve Years longer Term might be, by special Privilege,

" granted him [i. e. to Bodleigh], in Consideration of the " Charges, by him and his Affociates, in the first Impression,

" and the Review fithence, fuftained (k)." Thus, tho' the Geneva ⁽k) Strype's Life of Arch Bishop Parker, p. 206, 207.

Geneva Bible never had the express Authority of the State to recommend it, it had the Approbation of the principal Ecclesiastics in the Church of England.

But the Translation, called, the Bishops Bible; mentioned above, and from which fome striking Extracts have been given; puts the Calvinism of Arch-Bishop Parker (who had the Chief Hand in that Version) beyond all Controversy. "The Arch-Bishop took upon him the Labor to contrive, and to fet the whole Work a going in a proper Method; by Sorting out the whole 66 Bible into Parcels, and distributing those Parcels to able "Bishops, and other Learned Men, to peruse, and col-" late, Each, the Books allotted them: fending, withall, 46 his Instructions for the Method they should observe, 44 and they to add some short MARGINAL NOTES for " the Illustration or Correction of the Text. And all " these Portions of the Bible being finished, and fent back to the Archbishop, he was to add the last Hand to them. and fo to take Care for Printing and Publishing the " whole (1)." All which was accordingly done. History records many other Proofs of Archbishop Parker's Orthodoxy (the Modelling of the XXXIX Articles, for Instance; and his Concurrence with the rest of the Bishops, in the Proposal for Confining "Incorrigible FREE-WILL " Men," to hard Labor and Discipline, " in some one " Caftle;" with various Particulars besides, all tending to the same Point): but the few, already specified, shall, at prefent, suffice. This good Archbishop, dying in 1575, was succeded in the See of Canterbury,

(2.) By the Learned and Pious Dr Edmund Grindal: a Prelate, in whose Breast the entire Assemblage of Christian Graces met, and in whose Life every Moral Virtue shone. A remarkable Incident is related of him, when a Boy. He was, from his Infancy, by affed by a strong Propensity to Literature: and used to make some valuable Book or other the conflant Companion of his folitary Walks. Paffing, one Day, through a Field, with his Coat or Waistcoat button'd half-way up, and a Volume resting in his Bosom; an Arrow, from some unknown Quarter, lighted on his Breast, and must have killed him immediately, if the Book had not intercepted the Point of the Weapon in its Way to his Heart (m).

Being transplanted from his native County of Cumberland, to Cambridge; he there became Fellow of Pembroke Hall: and, in Consideration of his distinguished Abilitys and Merit, was nominated by Bishop Ridley to be one of his Chaplains; his other two being Mr John Rogers and Mr John Bradford, who were both (as was their Lord. the Bishop himself) afterwards martyr'd in the Reign of Mary. Dr Grindal would, probably, have been Baptized with the same fiery Baptism; had not that watchfull Providence, whose Care he eminently experienced from his earliest Years, enabled him to escape into Germany: where he stayed, 'till Elizabeth became Queen. On his Return to England, he was, fucceffively, Bishop of London, Archbishop of York, and at last of Canterbury. He dyed, A. D. 1583. and Iyes Bury'd in the Chancel of Croydon Church. Pious King Edward VI. sensible of Grindal's Worth, had nominated him to a Bishopric, a little before his 6the King's | Decease: but Providence reserved our Prelate's Advancement, to the more fixed and fettled Times of Flizateth.

His Attachment to the Calvinistic Principles has never, fo far as I can find, been disputed. And, indeed, his extraordinary Zeal for that pure, Protestant System, was the Reason why this good Archbishop has been so maliciously pecked at, by more than one Arminian Traducer: particularly, by the infamous Peter Heylyn.

A Person need but look into Mr Fox's inestimable Martyrology, and he will presently perceive, that Predestina-

tiôn

tion and its connected Doctrines are the Threads of Gold and Scarlet which pervade the whole of that Performance. The venerable Author was indebted, for much Affistance in his Work, to the Pains and Care of Grindal (n). " Many Accounts of the Acts and Disputations, of the Sufferings and Ends, of the Godly Men under Queen " Mary, came, from Time to Time, to Grindal's Hands: 46 and, as they came to his Hands, he conveyed them to " Fox. Nor did he only do this; but, withall, frequent-" ly gave Fox his Thoughts concerning them, and his "Instructions and Counsels about them. -- I find 66 Grindal, soon after Bradford's Martyrdom, sending Fox 66 his History, together with many of his holy Letters. Grindal wrote him likewise, That he had a great 66 Heap of fuch Papers: to whom Fox [replied], he doubt-66 ed not that he would, with the like Vigilancy and Faithfulness, peruse and digest them. - Indeed, Grindal had greater Opportunitys of knowing Bradford, 46 and getting his Papers, than Others [had]: they two having been Fellow-Chaplains together to [Ridley] the 66 Bishop of London, and to the King [viz. Edward VI.], and Fellow-Prebendarys of St. Paul's; and I might add " also, Fellows of the same Colledge (0)." Doctor Grindal also furnished Fox with the Accounts of Cranmer, Ridley, and Others of the eminent Martyrs. By which it appears, "How earnest an Assistant Grindal was to Fox, in " Compiling his Martyrology; both by his continual Coun-" fel, and by supplying him with Materials for it: much " whereof he fent him, drawn up and methodized by his " own Pen, in English (p)."

I have already proved, that Peter Martyr was a Calvinist of the truest Dye: and under his Ministry it was, that Grindal sat, during the Exile of the latter in Germany, while Mary swayed the Sceptre in England. For, thus ⁽n) Strype's Life of Grindal, p. 9, 13.

⁽c) Ibid. p. 18.

⁽p) Ibid. p. 21.

wrote Grindal, in a Letter to the imprisoned Bishop Ridley! "We [i. e. the Protestant Resugees] be here dispersed in divers and several Places. Certayne be at Tigurye; good Students, of either University, a Number: very well entreated of Maister Bullinger, &c. Another Number of us remayne at Argentine, and take the Commodity of Maister Martyr's Lessons, who is a very notable Father (q)."

On his Return to England (which was in the very next Month after Queen Elizabeth's Accession), he was one of the principal Commissioners, appointed to the Revisal of the Book of Common Prayer. The Calvinism, therefore, of the Liturgy, evinces the Calvinism of Grindal. The Review of the Common-Prayer was quickly finished: and it was read, for the first Time after its Restoration, on Sunday, May 12, 1559, in the Queen's Chapel; and, on the succeding Wednesday (May 15), it was solemnly read in St Paul's Church, after a presatory Sermon, preached by Grindal.

No Reader, at all versed in the History of the Reformed Churches, need be told, that the famous Jerom Zanchius fubscribed to some Lutheran peculiaritys, concerning the Lord's Supper, under certain Salvoes and Restrictions of his own framing, and which he explicitly avowed. On this Occasion, Zanchy wrote to his old Friend, Dr Grindal, then Bishop of London. "Grindal answered Zanchy's Let-"ter, in one dated in August [1563], from Fulham: " wherein he [Bishop Grindal] signified, That, ---- for " his own Part, he attributed so much to ZANCHY's Piety and Prudence, that he had a good Opinion of ALL his Ac-" tions; especially, since he had the Opinion of such a Learned " Man as CALVIN, in what he had done. This, the Bishop " faid, much confirmed him: being apt to attribute MUCH to " his [i. e. to CALVIN's] Judgement." The excellent Prelate concluded with Commending Zanchy to God, " Who.

"Who, he doubted not, would give him a Mouth and Wisdom which the Adversarys of the Truth could not resist (r)."

In a foregoing (s) Part of this Work, I have taken some Notice of one Justus Velsius, a Dutch Free-willer, who, A. D. 1563, made much Noise in London. was, what would now be called an Arminian-Perfectionist. "The Bishop of London [Dr Grindal] was concerned with this Man, both as he was of the Dutch Congregation, " and had made Disturbance there, over which our Bishop was Superintendent; as also because his Opinions came " as far as the Ears of the Court. For he [Velfius] pre-" fumed, in the Month of March, to write bold Letters " to the Secretary [of State]; nay, to the Queen her-" felf: superscribing to the Queen, Ad proprias Manus: 66 fending withall his Book unto them. Which he did, 44 also, two Months before, to the Bishop: avowing it 46 to be by him conceived and writ from the Enlightening of the Spirit of Christ. "The Bishop therefore thought very sit, and that upon the Secretary's Advice, to write shortly some Ani-" madversions upon it [i. e. upon Velsius's hetorodox Book]. "Therein he [the Bishop] observed, 1. That he [Velsius] " fet forth no Confession of Faith, as he ought; but prescribed " a Rule, according to which he would have all Consciences to " be tryed. Nor was there any Mention of FAITH. And " that he craftily passed over Justification by Faith; " and what he thought of the Powers in Man, and FREE-[&]quot;WILL, and what concerning WORKS. (2.) That, in these "Things, it was most certain, he had, in foreign Parts,

1 1 3

[&]quot; DESPERATELY ERRED, and disquieted Men's Consciences, and taught Matters Contrary to Orthodox Doc-

[&]quot;trine: and that there were Witnesses then in England of [&]quot; it (t)." Beside the Tenet of Free-will, and Justification by Works, wherein the Bishop affirmed this Pelagian to the Billion affirmed this Pelagian to Ll 3

⁽r) Strype's Life of Grindal, p. 76. (s) See above, Sea. 6. p. 112. (t) Strype's Life of Grindal, p. 92.

have "desperately erred;" there were several other monstrous Opinions, for which that able Prelate severely cenfured the said Velfius: such as the Doctrine of a two-fold Regeneration, to-wit, of the Outward Man, and the Inward; and that a Believer is godded into God. But the Bishop's Judgement, concerning Velsius's mad Tenet of finless Persection, deserves particular Notice: " Hence it ap-" peared, why he [Velfius] had faid before, We are that " which Christ is, and Christians are Gods in Men: 66 because he had a Mind to affirm Perfection, which he " feigned to be in a Christian, and that all Christians were " Gods, that is, free of all Spot and Fault. Which ARRO-"GANCE, how DETESTABLE it is, there is no pious Man " but fees. — He could not more openly REJECT the Doc-" trine of FAITH, and the REMISSION OF SINS, and fo " fet up a NEW Gospel (u)." Nothing could be more wild, and remote from Truth, than Velsius's corrupt Doctrines: nothing more fober, found, and fcriptural, than good Bishop Grindal's calvinistical Animadversions. In Conclusion, Velsius was "Cited before the Ecclesiastical " Commission; where the Bishop of London [Dr Grindal], " and the Bishop of Winchester [Dr Horne], and the Dean of St Paul's [Dr Alexander Nowell], conferred roundly 46 with him, exposing the Errors of his Book before men-" tioned: which he stubbornly endeavouring to vindicate, " they at last charged him, in the Queen's Name, to de-" part the Kingdom (x)."—This was the same Velsius, with whom Calvin himself had held a public Disputation, concerning Free-will, at Frankford, in 1556 (y). I will not venture to say, that another Divine (named Horne), who likewise disputed against Velfius at the same Place, in the same Year, and on the same Subject, was our English Dr Horne, afterwards the Bishop of Winchester, just mentioned: tho', to me, it feems extremely probable. Certain it is, that Bishop Horne was then an Exile in Germany, for for the Protestant Faith; and that he continued so, all through the Reign of Queen Mary (z).

Another Evidence of Grindal's Calvinism presents itself, under the Year 1566. "Theodore Beza, late Affistant to " Calvin, and now the Chief Minister of Geneva, made " a Present, this Year, to Bishop Grindal, of his Anno-" tations on the New Testament: and the same Reverend " Father [i. e. the Bishop], soon after, sent him [i. e. sent " Beza] a Letter, thanking him for the Book; and with-46 all a Gratification. What it si. e. what Grindal's pre-" fent to Beza] was, I cannot tell: perhaps, it was the 66 Bishop's Picture, or his Ring. But Beza called it, 66 Longe maximum gratissimumque Tui μνημοσυνόν, i. e. A 66 very great and most acceptable Remembrance of himself, which he would keep for his fake. The Bishop, in his Letter, had much commended his [Beza's] Annotations, 44 2s Accurate and Learned: but Beza modestly declined es the Praise, and added, That then they might seem such ce as the Bishop had character'd them, when they should be co critically corrected by Him, and by fuch Learned Men as "He (a)."—How "much" foever the Bishop "com-" mended" Beza's Annotations, hardly any Strain of Commendation could excede the Merits and Value of those admirable Notes; or the Learning, Judgement, and Piety, of that eminent supra-lapsarian Writer.

Geneva, tho' never Episcopized since its Reformation from Popery, was nevertheless regarded and cherished by Queen Elizabeth, by her Statesmen, and by the English Bishops, as a Sister-Church, harmonizing with our own, in Doctrinals; tho' not consentaneous to it, in Ceremonials. Some Time in the Year 1581, that famous Protestant City had like to have been enflaved by an enterprizing Popiffa Neighbor (the Duke of Savoy); but was reliev'd by a fea⁽z) "Ubi [in Germania, scil.], Maria regnante, vixerat in " Exilio." Godwin. De Præfulib. Angl. p. 233.

Ll4 fonable

⁽a) Strype's Life of Grindal, p. 112.

Expences, however, to which the necessary Preparations for Defence had put the Citizens, obliged them to have Recourse to the Benevolence of other Protestant Communitys. Amongst the rest, England was applyed to, through the Intervention of the Queen's Ambassador in France, and of good Dr Grindal at home. The Ambassador's importunate Letter, written, on this Occasion, to Sir Francis Walfingham, Secretary of State, may be read in Strype (b). The Matter being lain before the Queen, her Majesty and Privy Council dispatched Circular Letters to All the Bishops of England, defiring them "To promote a liberal Charity " upon this Occasion, through their several Dioceses:" and styling it "A needful Service for The Church (c)." -The Queen and Council farther observed, in their Letter to each Bishop respectively, that the Town of Geneva feemed to have "Deserved the Fruits of Christian Com-66 paffion, by former Courtefys and Favors, shewed to " fundry her Majesty's Subjects, during the late Persecution in Queen Mary's Time: wherein, as they shall ce render Charity for Charity, and give good Demonstraci tion to the World, that, in their Wealth and Peace, they are not careless of the Afflictions of Joseph; so shall " you give us Cause to think, that you not only care, is as in Christian Compassion you are bound, to relieve se the present Distress of that poor Town, which, thro' 66 God's Goodness, hath served, in this latter Age, for A " NURSERY UNTO GOD'S CHURCH; but also to satisfy 44 this Our Request: to the End we may continue that cood Opinion we have of your Lordship (d)." Thus was Geneva considered as "a Nursery to God's " Church;" and her Diftreffes were termed, " The Af-" fixions of Joseph."-A Letter, issued, foon after, by Archbishop Grindal, as Metropolitan, to the Prelates of his Province, breath'd the same Spirit of Tenderness and brotherly brotherly Affection for the faid City and Church of Geneva.

"Confidering," faid his Grace, "that, under her Ma
"jefty, and their Lordships of her most Honorable Privy

"Council, the immediate Charge of the Province doth appertain to me; and, especially, of the Clergy; and the Consideration of this pitifull Relief, tending to the Defence of so Notable and sincere a Church;

"I thinke it my Part and bounden Duty, to recommend the Furtherance of so good a Cause to your Lord softip (e)."

I am not insensible, that this excellent Primate has been maliciously charged with Leaning to Puritanism: which Charge, were it provable, might go far toward invalidating that Branch of my Argument for the Doctrinal Calvinism of the Church, drawn from the Doctrinal Calvinism of this her good Archbishop. But by whom is the Bill filed against him? Chiefly, by that Historic Knight of the Post, Peter Heylyn: a Writer, who had long taken a final Leave of Truth, whenever it stood in his Way; and who was quite petrify'd to every Feeling of Shame. There are accumulated Proofs, that Grindal was rather a Bigot to the Constitution and Discipline of the Church, than that his Attachment to Either was Lax and Cool. Instances occurred, in the Course of his Administration, wherein his Zeal, for the Exteriors of our Ecclesiastical Fabric, out-weighed, perhaps, that due Proportion of Moderation and Temper, which he has been falfely reprefented as possessing to an Extreme. A short Testimony, or two, from judicious and dispassionate Writers, shall, at present, suffice to support the Remark now made. Should future Occasion require more solid Proofs, I can carry my Appeal to some prolix, but most conclusive and incontestable Fasts.

Dr Grindal had, at first, his Scruples respecting Conformity. But 'tis no less true, that he did not accept of Preferment in the Church, 'till those Scruples were solved to the Satisfaction of his own Mind. The satisfactory Solution of which Scruples rendered him, afterwards, (I will not say, a fiercer, but) a much warmer Churchman, than if he had conformed, hand over head, without previously examining Matters for himself.

in

"Upon his first Coming over from his Exile, Queen " Elizabeth being possessed of the Crown; when Prefer-" ment in the Church was to be laid upon him, his Dread of Popery created him fome Demurr in accepting the se fame: fearing to comply with the very Appearances and "Shadows of it, in the Habits and some other Rites apco pointed, 'till he had SATISFACTION, partly by ferious " Consideration with himself, and partly by the Advice of certain foreign Divines; chiefly Peter Martyr and " Henry Bullinger, Men of the greatest Learning in Divinity that Age afforded. And therefore, AF-TERWARDS, when some, for these external Matters in 66 Religious Worship, made Seditions, and brake the "Churches Quiet; he [Grindal] thought himself bound. 44 as a faithful and careful Overseer of the Church of " Christ in England (when all his mild Persuasions and " Arguments proved ineffectual), to prosecute the Re-" fusers, and to use the severer Methods, warrantd by the Laws, against them (f),——His Zeal and Affec-" tion to the State of the Reformed Church of England " shewed itself, as on EVERY Occasion, so, particularly, in endeavoring to reclaim those they styled Precisions " and Puritans; who, for fome few Ceremonys, made a Breach in Christian Communion. Tho' his Spirit was ee easy and complaisant, and liked not of Rigor; yet. when he saw that no other Means would bring them to " Obedience, he approved of Restraint: especially of the "Heads of the Faction; whom he styled, Fanatical and " Incurable (g)." Even Collier, it feems, vindicates our Prelate Prelate from Heylyn's Charge. "He was," fays Jeremy, on no negligent Governor, nor a Person of Latitude, or Indifference for the Ceremonys of the Church (h)." In the Judgement of the famous Lord Bacon, Dr Grindal was "The Greatest and Gravest Prelate of this Land (i)." And, amidst all the Insults he suffered from his con-temporary Aspersors, and all the malicious Dirt with which his venerable Memory has been pelted since his Decease; it restects no small Ray of Honor on his Name, to add, that he had "A great Respect to Calvin, Luther, Melaneshon, "Bucer, Peter Martyr, Bullinger, Zanchy, and the rest of "the pious foreign Resormers (k)."

(3.) Dr John Whitgift succeded Grindal, in the Metropolitical Chair, A. D. 1583. He was a Prelate of great Abilitys, and of warm Piety; found in the Faith, and very Zealous for the Church. If any Branches of his Conduct tended to shade, in some Degree, the Brightness of his acknowledged Virtues; the extreme Rigor which the Non-Conformists experienced at his Hands, and the perpetua incente of profuse Adulation which he feldom failed to offer at the Shrine of secular Power, seem the most (perhaps, the only) vulnerable Parts of his Character.—And yet, on one Hand, Truth obliges us to confess, that some, among the then Puritans, were Persons of the most intractable and exasperating Perverseness, whose Separation from the Establishment was formed on the narrowest Principles of Prejudice, and whose outrageous Zeal against the Hierarchy and Ceremonys of the Church transported them beyond all Bounds of Moderation and Decency. While Protestants, agreeing in Doctrinals, were thus biting and devouring one another about Rituals; Rome, the common Enemy to Both, laughed and enjoyed the Sport .- On the other Hand, let it be remembered, in Extenuation of Whitgift's layish Complaisance to the Court,

⁽b) See the Biog. Did. Vol. VI. p. 157.
(i) Strype, u. f.
(i) Strype, Ibid. p. 307.

that he lived under the jealous Eye of a high-spirited Queen, who was constantly on the watch for every Occasion of skrewing up her Ecclessastical Supremacy to the utmost Height.

Strong, and numerous, are the Evidences of this Archbishop's Orthodoxy. I shall briefly select a few.

Some time in the Reign of Elizabeth, one Peter Baro, or Baron, born at Estampes, a City of Gostinois, in France, thought proper to visit England, in Quality of a Protestant Refugee. A Protestor, 'tis true, he was: for he had not been long settled at Cambridge, before he publicly entered his Protest against some eminent Doctrines of the Church Established, which had so generously sheltered him in her Bosom.

Our Universitys were, at that Time, like our Monarchs, Defenders of the Faith. Cambridge was all in Alarm, at the Heterodoxys vented by the French Divinity Professor. Complaint was made, that he "Taught the Popish Doc-" trine of the Co-Operation of Faith and Works to Justification: That he laboured to make Men believe, that the Reformed Church's Doctrine was not so differing from Popish Doctrine, but that, by Distinctions, they might be reconciled: with Other strange Matters, which they" [viz. the Complainants, who were the Heads of the University] "looked upon as DAMNABLE ERRORS; ——being the High-Way, not only to POPERY, but to ATHEISM (1)."

Dr Fuller (m) gives us some other Propositions, maintained by Baro: which Propositions, tho' moderately orthodox (at least, the Heterodoxys were so decently wrapped up, as to elude a superficial Eye), were deemed of ambiguous Construction, and therefore branded in due Season.

The Transactions at Cambridge, relative to Baro, could not long escape Bishop Whitgist's Notice. This wakefull and discerning Guardian of the Church appears to have been been doubtful of Baro, from the first; and never to have rightly relished the unsuspecting Patronage, afforded, by Lord Burleigh, to that artful Foreigner. The Event proved, that Whitgist could better see into Church Matters, with one Eye; than Burleigh could, with two. The good Prelate thought, among other Particulars, that Baro was not so tight a Predestinarian, as the Church and Universitys of England then expected a Divinity-Professor to be. Whitgist, says Mr Strype, had his "Objections against Baro, for some Tenets, differing, as was thought, from the true Doctrine of the Decrees of God concerning the final State of Man (n)." Nor did his Lordship prove mistaken.

⁽¹⁾ Wood's Fasti, 1. 741.

It was not 'till the Year 1595, that Baro ventured to unmasque his Batterys against the Established Doctrine of Predestination, in his Sermon ad Clerum. This Sermon gave vast and deserved Offence, both to the Church and to the Court of England: for not only the Bishops and the leading Clergy were displeased, but, as Mr. Stryte expresly affirms, " The QUEEN also shewed herself PAR-" TICULARLY ANGRY with Baro, in some discourse she " had of these Matters with the Archbishop (0):" to whom her Majesty justly observed, that Baro, "Being an Alien, 66 ought to have carried himself quietly and peaceably in " a Country where he was fo humanely harbor'd, and where both he and his Family had been infranchifed (p)." The Archbishop, tho' he equally disapproved both the Pelagianism and the contentious Proceedings of Baro, candidly endeavored to fosten the Queen's Resentment against him; and was, probably, the Means of restraining it from falling with Weight on the French Delinquent's Head.

Baro and William Barrett distinguished themselves, about one and the same Time, as Opposers of Predestination, in the University of Cambridge: and Heylyn himself gives us to understand, that they, and one Harsenet, were the FIRST Protestant Divines, fince the Reformation, by whom the Calvinistic System was publicly attacked. Mr Tindal, the Historian, has the same Remark: "The Predestinarian " Controversy" [i. e. the Controversy agitated against Predestination] " was BEGUN in 1595, by Barrett, Fellow of " Caius College, Cambridge, who preached against Calvin's " Doctrine of Predestination, &c. for which he was cen-" fured by the University, and forced to retract in St Mary's Church. He was afterwards fent to Lambeth. and examined before Archbishop Whitgift; who EN-JOINED him to confess his ERRORS, and not teach the like

⁽n) Strype's Life of Whitgift, p. 94. (o) Life of Whitg. p. 464. (p) Ibid. p. 465.

Loctrines for the future: but he chose rather to quit the 46 University sand openly declare himself a Papist beyond-

" fea]. This gave Occasion for the famous LAMBETH

" ARTICLES: in which the Calvinistical Sense of Predestination, Election, and the other controverted Points,

" is strongly afferted; and to which the Scholars in the

"Universitys were strictly enjoined to conform (q)."

Tho' Whitgift, as already observed, generously interceded with the Queen, in Behalf of Baro's Person; yet was he warmly displeased with the innovating Insolence of that pragmatical Frenchman, who, prefuming too far on the Tenderness and Moderation with which he had been hitherto forborne, dared, at length, to broach the following Doctrines; which, being too grossly Pelagian for any further Tolerance, raifed a Storm against him, that all his Craft and Interest could never afterwards compose.

- " Docuit, Deum omnes & fingulos, absoluta Voluntate, " ad Vitam æternam creasse.
- " Voluntatem Dei duplicem esse, viz. Antecedentem. " & Consequentem. Antecedente quidem Voluntate,
- " Deum neminem rejecisse.
 - " Christum mortuum esse pro omnibus & singulis.
 - 66 Promissiones Dei ad Vitam universales esse: & æque " spectare

- " spectare ad Cainam & Abelem, Esavum atque Jacobum;
- " Judam atque Petrum; & Cainam non magis a Deo fuisse
- " rejectum, quam Abelem, antequam se excluserat (r)."
 That is: "God created All and every Individual of Manse kind, with a real will to fave them.

- "The Will of God is twofold: antecedent, and confequent.
- 66 God reprobates no Man, by his Will of Antecedence.
- "Christ dyed for All and every Individual of the human Race.
- "God's Promises, respecting eternal Life, are Universal:
- " and were made equally to Cain and Abel, to Esau and I Jacob, to Judas and Peter. Nor, 'till Cain excluded
- " himself, was he any more rejected of God, than was Abel."

These were the four monstrous Propositions, for which Baro was prosecuted in the Vice-Chancellor's Court. In an Age, when even a stack Predestinarian, or an Half-Calvinist, was started at, as a shocking Phænomenon; a gross Free-willer, a palpable Universalist (who preached up an ignorant, a dependent, a disappointed, and a changing Deity, as an Object of Rational Worship), might well be shunned and exclaimed against, as a Monstrum horrendum, informe, ingens, cui Lumen ademptum.

Lord Burleigh was then Chancellor of Cambridge. Partly, through his Lordship's bad State of Health at that Time, which would not permit him to treat University Matters with his usual Attention; and, partly, from a Principle of Compassion to the heterodox Foreigner as a Foreigner; Baro was not (as Barrett, the English Pelagian, had just been) violently displaced, but allowed to resign. The Archbishop, however, in a previous Conversation with him, took him severely to Task: of which, his Grace gave some Account, in a Letter to Doctor Goad, the Vice Chancellor; in which Letter, the Archbishop informed Goad, "That he was very forry that "Doctor 66 Doctor Barc, notwithstanding all the Advertisements for, Admonitions which had been given to him, and " his [i. e. Baro's] faithfull Promise made to him [i. e. to himself the Archbishop], did nevertheless continue 46 his troublesome Course of contending. That he sthe 46 Archbishop] had, of late, by Dr Neville, signifyed to 66 him [to Baro], how hardly her Majesty had been in-66 formed against him for these Causes: and how unfit it was, that he, being a Stranger, and receiving fuch 66 Courtefy and Friendship here, of Good Will, and not for any Need we had of him; should be so busy in another Commonwealth, and make himself as it were " Author of new Stirs and Contentions in this Church. "That at his last being with him, he [the Archbishop] 46 shewed to him [to Baro] the Propositions [i. e. the 46 Lambeth Articles], and demanded his Opinion of every one of them feverally, and that at two feveral Times: 44 And altho', the latter Time, Baro feemed to make " fome frivolous and childish Objections against some one or two of them only; yet did he confess that they were " ALL TRUE, and that they did not impugn any of his " Assertions (s)."

What a Frontlet of Brass must Baro have possessed, e'er he could go about to face down Archbishop Whitgist with this most gigantic of Untruths, that none of his (i. e. of Baro's) Assertions were impugned by any Thing contained in the Lambeth Articles! No other possible Overstrain of Falsehood can transcend the Enormity of this. I know but of one, that can any Way pretend to come up with it: viz. the Declaration of those modest Arminians, who affirm, that there is nothing in the XXXIX Articles, which any Way impugns the Dostrines of Pelagius and Van Harmin.—The Fellow, who averr'd, that he once drove a ten-penny Nail through the Moon; and his Companion, who added, that he remember'd it very well, for he himself slood on the other side, and clinched it; were but Dwarss in the Art of audacious Falsisication, when compared with Baro the First, and with those numerous Swarms of modern Bares, who have, since, so plentifully overspread the Face of the Church of England.

The most important of Baro's "Assertions," as he called them, for which he lost his Preference, have been already specify'd. Let the Reader only compare those Assertions, with the Lambeth Articles; and he will immediately perceive, with what Modesty and Veracity, Baro would have persuaded the Archbishop, that there was no Contrariety between the two Systems.

The Articles of (t) Lambeth (to called, because drawn up at Lambeth Palace, under the Eye, and with the Assistance, of Archbishop Whitgist himself; in Concert with Bancrost, then Bishop of London, afterwards translated to Canterbury; together with Vaughan, Bishop of Bangor; Tindal, Dean of Ely; Dr Whitaker, the Queen's Divinity-Professor; and other eminent Dignitarys of the Church; the Articles of Lambeth, drawn up, as aforesaid, by these great Prelates and Divines) exhibit also an irrestragable Proof of the Primate's Calvinism. Translated into English, they run thus.

- " I. God hath, from Eternity, prædestinated certain Persons to Life; and hath reprobated certain Persons unto Death.
 - "2. The moving, or efficient Cause of Prædestination unto
- " Life, is not the Foresight of Faith, or of Perseverance, or
- " of good Works, or of any Thing that is in the Persons præ" destinated: but the alone Will of God's good Pleasure.
- . " 3. The Prædestinate are a præ-determined and certain - " Number, which can neither be leffened, nor increased:
- "4. Such as are not prædestinated to Salvation, shall in"evitably be condemned on Account of their Sins.

Mm .. "5. The

⁽¹⁾ For Faller Account of those Articles, and the Occasion of them, see my Church Vindicated from Limitarism, p. 51-55.

5 The true, lively, and justifying Faith, and the Spirit " of God justifying, is not extinguished, doth not utterly " fail, doth not vanish away, in the Elect, either finally, or se totally.

" 6. A true Believer, that is, One who is endued with " justifying Faith, is certify'd, by the full affurance of Faith, that his Sins are forgiven, and that he shall be everlastingly-" faved by Christ.

3. Saving Grace is not allowed, is not imparted, is not granted to all Men, by which they may be faved if they 66 will.

8. No Man is able to come to Christ, unless it be given in, and unless the Father draw him: and all Men are not drawn by the Father, that they may come to his Son.

. Q. It is not in the Will or Power of every Man to be ss faved (u)."

Such were these famous Articles; concerning which, his Grace of Canterbury expressed himself in the following very remarkable Terms: "I know them to be SOUND Doc." "Trines, and UNIFORMLY PROFESSED in this Church of England, and agrecable to the Articles of Religion established. "by Authority (x)." Under this just Persuasion, he comme municated them to his Brother of York, Doctor Matthew Hutton: who returned them, with some judicious Remarks (which fee in Strype), and with this remarkable. Subscription:

Hæ Theses ex Sacris Literis vel aperte colligi; vel necessaria Consecutione deduci, possunt; et ex Scriptis Augustini. MATTH. EBOR.

That is: "These positions are gatherable, from the holy Scriptures, either expressly, or by necessary Consequence; and also from the Writings of St Austinen and to the MATTHEW YORK."

ysimuld Descriptions whom he rouds have with some To The .

देन्द्र व प्राची अपूर्वाधि हा ।

⁽n) See Strype's Whitgift, p. 461. (x) Ilid. p. 459.

The Lambeth Articles, thus approved by the Archbishops of both Provinces, were forwarded to Cambridge; accompany'd by a Letter, from Whitgift himself, to that University: wherein he requested the Heads of Houses. "To take Gare, that nothing be publicly taught to the contrary," i. e. contrary to those Articles: adding, that He thought the said nine Articles "to be TRUE, and correspondent to" the Doctrine professed in the Church of Eng-"land, and established by the Laws of the Land (y)."

The Reader may, possibly, wish to know what became of Peter Baro. Dr Hutton, Archbishop of York, was for having him treated with exemplary Severity. Whitgift had wrote to Hutton, on the last Day of February, 1595, " wherein, among other Things, he defired his Opinion of Baro's Affertions: when that Prelate [viz. his Grace of " York], in his Answer, shewed how little he liked of " Baro and his Learning; wishing, that Baro was in his or or Country, and not to disturb the Peace of our Church : and would have One to be put in his Place, who was learn-"ed; godly, and mild of Nature; and that Cambridge af-" forded Store of Such (z)." Thus, in the Judgement of that grave Archbishop, To preach against Predestination was to " disturb the Peace of the Church :" and the plain Drift of his Advice was, that Baro should be displaced from his Office at Cambridge, and be banished to France, his native Soil; where, without Molestation, he might fafely difseminate his Pelagian Tares among his Popish Countrymen.

But Whitgift (prompted either by his own Candor, or, which is more probable, by his profound Deference to Lord Burleigh) was for perfuing more finug and gentle Measures. He prudently deemed it sufficient, to avail himfelf of Baro's natural Timidity, which, with proper Management, would make the French Free-willer glad to exist the University, and sheer off into his primitive Obscurity.

Mm 2 This

⁽y) Strype, Ibid. p. 462.

This was toffing up Matters, with less Noise, than if he had been formally divested of his Profesiorship; and anfwered, to better Advantage, all the Purpofes of more oftenfible Rigor. The End of his Tri-ennial Lectures drawing near, the University were determined not to re-elect him, but to turn him decently and quietly adrift. . himself was sensible thereof, and besides, he saw the " Articles of LAMBETH lately fent to the University; and " forefaw, that Subscription thereunto would be expected " from, yea, impefed on him. To which he could not " condescend: and therefore resolved to quit his Place. " So that his Departure was not his free ASt, out of vo-" luntary Election; but that whereunto his Will was necessarily determined. Witness his own return to a 45 Friend, who required of him the Cause of his With-" drawing: Fugio, faid he, ne fugarer; I fly, that I may " not be driven away (a)." So writes Dr Fuller. And, Matters standing thus, we cannot wonder that Anthony Wood should style Baro's Decampment, a Removal: "He " was," fays that Writer, "REMOVED from his Place of " Margaret Professor, about the Year 1596; not with-" out the Confent of Dr Whitgift, Archbishop of Canterbury (b)." The Truth is, an English University, and the Church of England herself, were then too hot to bold an ARMINIAN. More Shamef or Posterity, if our Love to our own effential Principles has, fince, waxed so cold (tho' the faid Principles themselves, unchanged to this Day, are alive to stare us in the Face); that not a few Arminian Salamanders, basking in the Rays of our Ecclefiaftic and Academic Sun-shine, can say, with some certain good People of old, Aha, I am warm: I have feen, and can stand, the Fire (c) of Subscription, Conformity, Affent, and Confent; yea, I can even pass through the bire,

⁽a) FULLER'S H.f. of Cambridge, p. 152, 153, (!) Fagit Onen. 1, 741, (e) Rujah xliv, 18, fo dexterously, as not to singe an Hair of my Pelagian Moloch's Head.

Such Casuists remind me of an Anecdote, or two, related, with much Simplicity, by honest Whiston.

He mentions an Acquaintance of his (one Dr Cannon),

- " Who would join with the Church in SIGNING the 30
- " Articles, without BELIFVING them, as legal Qualifi.a-
- Mr Whiston was a violent Enemy to the Doctrine of the Trinity; and, in particular, proclamed eternal War against that admirable form of found Words, commonly called the Athanasian Creed. Whence, he thus procedes in his Information concerning the aforesaid Dr Ginnon. "He

- " joined with the Athanafian Creed ITSELF, in the Cathedral of Ely, at a Time when I was there and refused
- "it. I asked him, How One that BELIEVED so very
- " LITTLE, could join in a Thing fo abfurd? His Answer
- was, What is one Man's Meat, is another Man's Poylon.
- He also told Mr Jackson, that, If he were at Paris, he - " would declare himself a ROMAN CATHOLIC; and, if he
- " were at Constantinople, he would declare limself a Mus-
- " sulman .- He was ready to wonder at Mr Jackson,
- " for believing St l'aul before himfelf, when they [viz.
- "St Paul and Dr Cannon] were of CONTRARY Sentiments.
- "So great an Opinion had he of his own Sagacity (d)."

'Tis some little Comfort, to consider, that Protean Cafuistry, like that by which Dr Cannon regulated his Motions, is not peculiar to some who wear Gowns and Cassocks. Who would have suspected, so great a Man, as the Lord

Who would have suspected, so great a Man, as the Lord Chancellor King, could have deviated into the same slippery Path of Jesuicical Evasion? "I must," says Whiston,

- " tell a melancholy Story, of my own Knowledge. When
- " I was once talking with the [then] Lord Chief Justice
- "King, we fell into a Debate about figning Articles, which
- " we did not believe, for Preferment: which he openly
 M m 3 " justified;

"" Justified; and pleaded for it, that We must not lose our "USEFULINESS for SCRUPLES.——Strange Doctrine," adds Whiston; "in the Mouth of One bred up among Discretes, whose whole Dissent from the legally Established ed Church was built on Scruples!——I replyed, that I was forry to hear his Lordship say so: and desired to know, Whether in THEIR Courts [viz. the temporal Courts of Law], they allowed of such Prevarication, or not? He answered, They did not allow of it. Which produced this Rejoinder from the: Suppose GOD Almighty should be as just, in the next World, as my Lord Chief Justice is in this? where are we then? To which he made no Answer. And to which the late Queen Caroline added, when I told her the Story, Mr Whiston, no Answer was to be made to it (e).

"I-conclude this Matter, with that very pertinent and emphatical Reply, which a Fellow of Emmanuel College, in Cambridge, made to a Friend of his, of the fame College. The latter, at the Restoration, had been representing the great Difficultys" [as they seemed to him] of Conformity, in Point of Conscience: concluding, however, with these Words, But we must live. To which the other answered only, with the like Number of Words, But we must [also] dye. Than which, a better Answer could not possibly be given (f)." Let those of the Sacred Order, whom it may concern, weigh the Answer well.

Peter Baro, tho' a Pelagian in Grain, yet had not lost all sight of moral Honesty. Hence, he recoiled at substicibing the Lambeth Articles: yea, tho' he had, before, so far strained his Veracity, as to tell Archbishop Whitgist, that those Articles did not contravene anyiof the Doctrines he had been teaching at Cambridge.—What a Contrast, between the Archbishop's Faith, and that of the outed Professor! On the one Hand, Whitgist affirmed, that the Lambeth Articles "were undoubtedly true, and not to be denyed denyed of any sound Divine (g)." On the Other, Baro chose rather to forsake the University, than subscribe them. Let me just observe, that Monsieur Baro was, at one -Time, a Man of a most acrimonious Spirit, and would very willingly have persecuted Those from whom he differed in Opinion. For, this was the same Baro, who fome Time before his own Downfall, had the Infolence to style the learned, holy, and laborious Mr Perkins, of Cambridge, "Homuncio quidam," in a Letter to Archbishop Whitgist: and even importuned (but without Effeet) Dr Andrews, to exert his Influence, that Mr Perkins and Dr Some might be displaced and silenced. How justly was the haughty, malicious Pelagian taken, himself, in the Net which he had spread for Others!

After his difgraceful Retreat from Cambridge, he settled in London: where (for a burnt Child dreads the Fire) his subsequent Behavior was so orderly and peaceable, that, dying three or four Years after, his Funeral, in St Olave's, Hart-Street, was attended by a respectable Appearance of City Divines, whose Favor his dutiful submission to Authority had deservedly conciliated .- Thus quietly did the once boisterous Dr Baro finish his Course; and thus were his latter Days better than his former: as having the negative Merit of raising no farther Storms in the academical Atmosphere, but of gliding gently and inoffensively away, within the peacefull Banks of filent Obscurity.

Another remarkable Instance of Archbishop Whitgift's Calvinism appears, in an Injunction, which he issued, enjoining all Clergymen, having Care of Souls, and not having taken the Degree of Master of Arts, to provide themselves with a Bible, and with Dr BULLINGER's Decads: which they were carefully to Study and make Extracts from. The Reader must be reminded, that Henry Bullinger, Author of the Decads abovementioned. was a most learned Protestant Divine of Switzerland, a The work greater with M. m. 40 year group in South Adgep

⁽g) Strype's Life of Whitg. p. 463. Charles Marianes

geep Predestinarian, and a Disciple of the samous Zuinglius on the (b) Death of whom, in 1531, Bullinger succeeded to the pastoral Care of the Church of Zurich. So highly was

(b) Ulricus Zuinglius was the Reformer of Switzerland, and may, as a Prodigy of Parts, Grace, and Usefulness, be numbered among the most illustrious Ornaments of the Sixteenth Century. In the Year 1531, five of the popish Cantons came to open Hostilities with the two Protestant Cantons of Bern and Zurich. It has been affirmed, that Zuinglius was literally fighting for his Faith and for his Country, when he received the Wound, from the Popish Forces, which deprived him of Life. But the accurate Melchior Adamus, who was best qualified to know, positively denys that Zuinglius attended the Protestant Camp in a military Character: and affirms, that he only accompany d his heroic fellow Citizens in Quality of Chaplain, or Pastor, [Vit. Theol. Germ. p. 38]; deeming it ungenerous and dishonorable, that his Flock should expose their Lives, in Defence of the Truths they had received from him, without his participating the A Resolution the more magnanimous, as he common Danger. had, from the very first, a Conviction, strongly impressed on his Mind, that he should not survive the Battle of that Day.

The Compilers of the Biographical Dictionary [Vol. XI. p. 523.] in translating some of Zuinglius's dying Words, have been guilty of an Over-fight, which does no more Honor to their Precision, than Juflice to the Christian Heroism of that Great Men. " Up-" on receiving his Death's Wound," fay they, "and falling, he was heard to otter these Words, What a Missortane is this? " &c." Rather, what a misfortune is it, when fine Sentiments are murdered in the relating !- The Fact was this. During the Hurry of the Fight, Zuinglius, overwhelmed by the Piels of the rushing Enemy, was thrice thrown down, and recovered his Feet as often. At last, a Weapon, doomed to extinguish one of the most valuable Lives that ever added Lustre to Religion and Learning, entering under his Chin, transfixed his Throat. The holy Man, falling first on his Knees, and then finking to the Ground, uttered these noble Sentences: " Eequid hot Infortunii? CAN G THIS BE CONSIDERED AS A CALAMITY? Age, Corpus guidem " o.cidere poffunt; Abimam non poffunt: WELL! THEY ARE ABING was this eminent foreign Calvinist accounted of in our Church of England, that Archbishop Whitgift, and the rest of the Bishops (for a whole Convocation of 'em concurr'd in the Direction given), thought the BIBLE, and Bullinger's Decads, a necessary and sufficient Library for two Parts in three of the Establish'd Clergy .- My Authority follows.

- " Orders for the better Increase of Learning, in the Inferior Ministers; and for more diligent Preaching and Catechizing: " Agreed upon by the Arch-Bishop and other Bishops in · Convocation [1586].
- " Every Minister, having Cure, and being under the " Degrees of Master of Art, and Batchelor of Law, and " not Licensed to be a public Preacher; shall, before the " fecond Day of February next, provide a BIBLE, and " Bullinger's Decads in Latin or English, and a paper " Book: and fhall, every Day, read over one Chapter of
- " the HOLY SCRIPTURES; and note the principal Con-
- tents thereof, briefly in his paper-Book. And shall, every Week, read over One Sermon in the faid DECADS;
- s and note likewise the chief Matters, therein contained,
- in the faid paper-Book. And fhall, once in every
- " Quarter, viz. within a Fortnight before or after the - " End of the Quarter, shew his said Notes to some " Preacher

ZUINCLIUS arderet genino quam janctus Amore, Nempe DEI imprimis, deinde etiam PATRIÆ; Dicitar in Colidam fo devoviss auslus: Naupe DEO imprimis, deinde etiam PATRIÆ. Quana bene perfolvit fimul istis Vota duobus ! P. Vatrid examinis, pro Pietate Cinis!

[&]quot; INDEED, TO SLAY THE BODY; BUT THEY ARE NOT ABLE TO " KILL THE SOUL" [Melch. Ad u. f. p. 37]. Could any Thing be more truly Christian, more divinely triumphant, more sublimely philotophic? ---- His Body being found by the Papifts, among the flain, they burned it to Ashes: which occasioned these elegant Verses, consecrated to his Memory by Biza.

" Preacher near adjoining, to be assigned for that Purpole. " - Item; Such as shall refuse to perform the Exercises, or " shall be negligent therein; and shall not, after Admo-" nition by the Bishop or Arch-Deacon, or other Ordi-" nary aforefaid, reform himself; if he be beneficed, [he] " shall be compelled thereunto, by Ecclesiastical Censiones : " if he be a Curate, [he] shall be inhibited to serve with-" in the Jurisdiction (i)."

One Word more, and I take my Leave of Whitgift. Soon after the Archbishop's Decease, Dr Benjamin Carier (who had been his Grace's Chaplain) publicly apostatized to the Church of Rome: and, with great Virulence, fell foul on the Memory of Calvin. Doctor George Hakewill, Chaplain to Prince Henry, was appointed to answer this shameless Renegado. And, says Strype, "I cannot but add one Paffage, wherein the Answerer put the Apos-46 tate in Mind of the Archbishop, his old Master; giving " Carier a Rebuke on his Account, in regard of his si. e " of Carier's Reproaching of Calvin and his Writings. " Your old Master [faid Hakewill], Archbishop Whitgift, was of another Mind; -- laboring always, when any Occasion was offered, to countenance his own Writings with "Calvin's Authority; and especially out of that Book which wou most dislike [viz. Calvin's Institutions] : yielding him " the Title of a famous and Learned Man (k)." Such was that great and good Prelate's Veneration for the great and good Mr John Calvin.

Thus have we feen, of what Principles and Spirit were the Archbishops of Ganterbury, all through the Reign of Elizabeth, the illustrious Re-foundress of the Church of England. They were, in Matters of Doctrine, true Calvinistic Sons of the Church; as they were, by Station, its venerable Fathers and Guardians.

.

(k) Life of Whis-

⁽i) Strype's Whitgift, Append, p. 113. gift, p. 583. With a multiplicate

A farther Proof or two, out of many which remain yet unmentioned, shall be added to the Evidences, already given, of the incontestable Calvinism of our Church during that Queen's memorable Reign.

XIV. Every Body knows, that, when Mary of Scotland was brought to the Block, in Fotheringay Castle; Fletcher, Dean of Peterborough, was present, to offer that Princess his spiritual Services. Tho' she would not permit him to pray with her, the Dean was determined to pray for her; and, of the Prayer he made, the following remarkable Paragraph is preserved: "That it would PLEASE "Almighty God to send her his Holy Spirit and Grace; and also, IF IT WERE HIS WILL, to pardon all her Offences, and of His Mercy to receive her into His heavenly and every lasting Kingdom (1)." A Petition, evidently formed on the highest Principles of Calvinism; and, of course, in exact Harmony with the prevailing Divinity of that Age (m)."

XV. It

(A) Robertson's Hift. of Scotland, Vol. II p. 479. Offav.

⁽m) The Speech, which the Dean made to her Majesty of Scots, was no less Calvinistical than his Prayer. In it, were these Passages:——" That you may be found of God, NOT having YOUR sages:——" That you may be found of God, NOT having YOUR "OWN Righteousness, which is defiled and unclean, but the Righte"ousness of God, by Faith in Jesus Christ, upon all and in all them that believe. The special Means, to attain to Forgiveness of Sins, is neither IN Man, nor BY Man; but by FAITH

[&]quot;ONLY in Jesus Christ crucified: in Whom we, being Justified, have Peace with God, and all Spiritual Security. — If you flee to the Throne of God, with Boldne's ONLY in CHRIST's meri-

^{4.} torious Obedience, and apply it to your Soul with the Hand of true Faith, your Cross shall be your Life, and your Death

[&]quot; shall be Your Vantage. O, Madam, trust not the Devices which God's Word doth not warrant, _____ To Christ es give all the Scriptures Testimony, that, through FAITH in his Blood. We and all God's Church shall receive Remission of Sins." The Queen interrupted him, three or four Times, in the Course of his Exhortation; saying, Master Dean, trouble nor

XV. It was during Elizabeth's Reign, that one Campneys, a reffless and abusive Pelagian, sought to disturb the Peace of the Church, by publishing a defamatory Tract in Opposition to the received Doctrine of Predestination.

This Campneys had, some Years before, render'd himfelf very obnoxious to the Protestant Government, in the Time of King Edward VI. His Affection to Popery, and his Abhorrence of the Reformation effected under the Auspices of that Prince, had been so turbulently and so indecently expressed, and were so generally known even in the fucceding Century, as to wring out the following reluctant Concession from the Pen of Peter Heylyn himself: viz. that this Campneys was "Of a fearp and eager Spirit," and " Not well weared from some Points of Popery, in the " first Dawning of the Day of our Reformation (n)." The Truth is, his Infolencies against the Reformed Church of England laid him open to the Laws: and he " was " made to bear a Taggot at Paul's Crofs, in King Ed-" ward's Time; the Learned and pious Miles Coverdale " [Bishop of Exeter] preaching a Sermon when that Pu" nishment was inflicted on him.

" When Queen Elizabeth had restored the true Reli-" gion, Campneys began to play his old Pranks; i.e. to cause "Disturbance, by nibbling at fuch who were deservedly " honor'd and preferred in the Church: publishing a Pamphlet, to which he had not Courage enough to " affix his Name, against Predestination. This Pamphlet " was encounter'd by Mr John Veron, a Chaplain to the Yourself nor Me: for know, that I am settled in the ancient, catholic, Romish Religion .- The Earls of Shrewflury and Kent, who were appointed to fee her executed, made the following Calvinifical Address to her: " Madam, we will pray for your Grace, with " Mafter Dean, [that] IF IT STAND WITH God's GOOD WILL " you may have your Heart enlightened, &c .- Strype's Annals, Vol. III. p. 386-333.

⁽n) Hoston's Miscell. Tracks, p. 590.

the Queen, and Reader of the Divinity Lecture in St Paul's Church: as also by Mr Robert Crotelry, sometime Fellow of Magdalen College in Oxford, at that Time a samous Preacher in London. Both these put out Answers to Campneys: and their Answers were both LICENSED and APPROVED [by public Authority]; and Veron's [Book in Favor of Predestination] was Decidicated to the Queen herself. Whereas Campneys's virulent Pamphlet came forth surreptitiously: neither Author nor Printer daring to put their Names to it (n)."

I learn, from Heylyn, that the Answer, written by Mr Veron, and Dedicated to the Queen as aforesaid, was entitled, "An Apology or Defence of the Doctrine of Predesting of Tination." Wherein, her Majesty's Chaplain terms Campneys, "The blind Guide of the Free-will-men (amen:—a very Pelagian, and consequently a rank Papist:—the Standard-Bearer of the Free-will-men (a), &c." Would a Chaplain to the Queen, and the Divinity Lecturer of St Paul's Cathedral, have made so free with Free-will-men, in a Book inscribed to his Royal Misters, and published cum Auctoritate; if the Doctrinal System of the Church of England had not been deemed incontrovertibly Calvinistic?

XVI. Among the Particulars which I have already, in their due Place, noted, concerning Martin Bucer; the Reader must be reminded of Two: viz. that, during his Life-time, it was hardly possible for Man to wind up the Doctrine of Predestination to a greater Height, than was done by that great Reformer; and that, after his Decease, when Queen Mary introduced Popery again, his Bones, together with those of the Learned Fagius, were dug up, at Cambridge, and publicly burned in the Market-place there, by Order of Cardinal Pole.

At

^{. (}n) Hickman's Animadv. on Heylyn's Quinqu. Hist. p. 193, 194.—Edit. 1674. (o) Heylyn's Misc. Tr. p. 594.

At the Time of their Exhumation by the Papills, Ur Scot, the Popish Bishop of Chester, alledged, as one Reason of that indecent Revenge, that Martin Bucer, in particular, had drank in the Herefy of Wickliff, who afferted, 66 Omnia Fato et absoluta Necessitate fieri : i. e. that What ever comes to pass, is the Result of FATE and absolute NE-" CESSITY (p)." Dr Perne, the Popish Vice-Chancellor of Cambridge, preached a Sermon on the Occasion: where in, " Among other Things, he told how Bucer held Opi-" nion; as he himself heard him consess, that God was " the Author and Well-spring, not only of Good, but " also of Evil: and that whatsoever was of that Sort, " flowed from Him, as from the Head and Maker there-" of (q)." Dr Watson also, another zealous Papist, took the Opportunity of making a public Harangue: in which he exclamed, " How perilous a Doctrine is that, which concerneth the fatal and absolute Necellity of Preof destination! And yet They [meaning Bucer and Fagins] se fet it out in fuch wife, that they have left no Choice at all in Things: as who should say, It skilleth not what a Man purposeth of any Matter, since he had not the Power co to determine otherwise than the Matter should come to pass. "The which was the peculiar Opinion of them, that made God the Author of Evil: bringing Men, through se this Perfuasion, into such a careless Security of the everse lasting Eternity, that, in the mean Season, it made no 66 Matter, either toward Salvation or Damnation, what 46 2 Man did in his Life. These Errors were defended " by them [i. e. by Bucer and Fagius] with great Stout-" nels (r)." So spake the Romish Doctors, in the Reign of Mary: and thus (like too many oftensible Protestants fince) did they flander and diffort the holy and bleffed Doctrine of Predestination.

Queen

⁽p) See Fox's Acts & Mon. III. 645. (q) Fox, Ibid. p. 646. (r) Fox, Ibid. 648.

Queen Elizabeth had a better Opinion of Bucer and Fagius, and of the pure Protestant Doctrine which they had maintained. She had not been long on the Throne, when her Majesty gave a very promising Presage of her Intention to restore the Church of England to its Chastity of Calvinism, in commanding the Insults, which had been offered to the remains of Bucer and Fagius, to be, as sar as was practicable, publicly and solemnly reversed, in the Face of the whole University; and all possible Honors to be rendered to the Memorys of those distinguished Calvinists. For which Purpose, Letters of Commission were issued to Parker, Archbishop of Canterbury; to Grindal, then Bishop of London; and to others.

Mr Acworth was, at that Time, Public Orator of Cambridge. Fox gives us the entire Speech, which that Gentleman delivered, at, what was termed, "The RESTITU-" TION of Martin Bucer and Paulus Fagius." In the Course of his Oration, Ackworth observed, concerning Bucer, "We saw [viz. in King Edward's Reign], with ", our Eyes, this University florithing by his [Bucer's] "Institutions: the Love of sincere Religion not only " engender'd, but also confirmed and strengthened, through " his continual and daily preaching. Infomuch that, at ii-tuch Time as he was fuddenly taken from us, there was " scarce any Man, that, for Sorrow, could find in his " Heart to bear with the present State of this Life : but " that cither he wished, with all his Heart, to depart out of this Life with Bucer, and, by dving, to follow Him into Immortality; or else endeavour'd himself, with "weeping, and fighing, to call him again into the Prifon. of the Body, left he should leave us as it were standing " in Battle without a CARTAIN. Oxford " burnt up the Right Reverend Fathers, Cranmer, Ridley, and Latimer, the noble witnesses of the clear Light of " the Gospel. Moreover, at Landan, perished those two " Lanterns of Light, Rogers, and Bradford: in whom, it is hard to fay, whether there were more Force of Elo-" quence

" quence and Utterance in Preaching, or more Holines's " of Life and Conversation .- What City is there, " that hath not flamed with the Burning of holy Bodys? "But Cambridge---played the mad Bedlam against the " Dead. The Dead Men [viz. Fagius and Bucer], whose " [Holiness of] Living no Man was able to find Fault " with, whose DOCTRINE NO MAN WAS ABLE TO "REPROVE, were, by false Slanderers, indicted; con-" trary to the Laws of God and Man, fued in the Law; " condemned; their Sepulchres violated, and broken up; " their Carcaffes pulled out, and burned with fire. " Bucer, by the Excellency of his Wit and Doctrine, " known to all Men; of our Countrymen, in Manner, " CRAVED, of many Others INTREATED and SENT FOR, " to the Intent he might INSTRUCT our Cambridge " Men in the SINCERE DOCTRINE of the Christian " Religion; He, being spent with Age, and his Strength 44 utterly decayed, forfook his own Country; refused not " the Tediousness of that long Journey; was not asraid " to adventure himself upon the Sea; but had more Re-" gard to the dilating and amplifying the Church of Christ, " than to all other Things. So, in Conclusion, he came. " Every Man received and welcomed him. Afterward, he " lived in fuch wife, as it might appear he came not " hither for his own sake, but for ours. For, he sought " not to drive away the Sickness, which he had taken by " troublesome Travel of his long Journey. Albeit his 66 Strength was weakened and appalled, yet he regarded " not the Recovery of his Health; but put himfelf to im-" moderate Labor and intolerable Pain, only to TEACH " and INSTRUCT us Toward this fo NOBLE and " worthy a Person, while he lived, were shewed all " the Tokens of Humanity and Gentleness, Reverence " and Courtefy, that could be .-- He had free Access " into the most gorgeous Buildings, and stately Palaces of 66 the the greatest Princes: and, when he was dead, could not be suffered to enjoy so much as his poor Graye (s)."

I have largely shewn, in a foregoing Section, what the Doctrine of Bucer was. And the Particulars, cited under the prefent Article, demonstrate, that, in the Judgement of the Protestant Church and State of England, regnante Elizabetha, Bucer's Calvinistic Doctrine was esteemed and taken to be " Sincere [i. e. pure, genuine] Religion"; " Doctrine, which no Man was able to reprove;" - Yea, " The sincere Doctrine of the Christian Religion:" and that Bucer himself was a "noble" and "worthy" Person; who, at his Death, left our Church-of-England-Protestants almost " without a CAPTAIN."-Let me add, that Doctor Pilkinton, then Margaret Professor of Divinity, and, soon after, Bishop of Durham, preached the Restitution-Sermon. from Pfalm exi. Bleffed is the Man that feareth the Lord, &c. in Honor of the faid Bucer and Fagius: and that "The " Entrance and Walls of the Church were all hung with " Verses in their Praise .- An Account of this Restitution " the University, on the 3d of August [1560], sent up " to the Archbishop and the Commissioners; acquainting " them, with what great Joy, and TRIUMPH, and AP-" PLAUSE, it was generally done: and that as foon as their [the Commissioners] Letters [enjoining this pub-" lic Restitution of Honors to the Memorys of Bucer and " Fagius] were read to the Senate, and the Injurys of-" fer'd [in the foregoing Reign of Mary] to the Dead "Bodys, by them mentioned; they were all presently on "Fire to honor them (t)."—The next Year, in respect to the great Peter Martyr, then living beyond Sea, the Remains of his Wife (who had dyed and been buried at Oxford) were transferred from a Dunghill, to which Oueen Mary's Papists had maliciously removed them; and Nn honorably honorably re-interr'd in Christ's Church (u). So carefull was the Restored Church of England to testify her gratefull

⁽¹⁾ Fox, Ibid. p. 649, 650.

⁽¹⁾ Stryfe's Life of Parker, p. 85.

(u) "On the 11th of January [1561], happened a remarkable Action at Oxford: viz. the folemn Restoring of Catharine Vermilia (sometime the pious Wise of Peter Martyr) to honorable Burial, after a strange Indignity offered [by the Papists, in 1556] to her Corps. For our Archbishop [Parker], together with Grindal, Bishop of London, Richard Goodrick, Esq; and Others; by Virtue, as it seems, of the Queen's Ecclesiastical Commission; deputed certain sit Persons in that University to enquire into a barbarous and inhuman Usage of that virtuous Woman's dead Body: who, [more than] two Years after her Burial, had been digged up, and carry'd away, and buried in a Dunghill belonging to Dr Marshall, then Dean of Christ's Church: whereof he himself was the great Actor, by Authority from Cardinal Pole.

"Her Restitution was accordingly performed after this Manner. The Persons, appointed for this Business, cited these who had been concerned in Digging up the Body: who, being charged, shewed them the Place where she was first buried; which was near St Frideswide's Tomb, on the North Part of Christ's Church. Then requiring where they had conveyed the Corpse, they were conducted toward Dr Marssall's Stables:
and there, out of a Dunghill, it was digged up, not quite consumed. Which they caused to be carefully deposited in a convenient Receptacle, and so brought back therein to the said Church: leaving it thus to be watched by the Officers of the Church, 'till they might conveniently celebrate the Re-in-

"There were, belonging to the faid Church, two Silk Bags, wherein the Bones of StFrideswide were wrapt up and preserved: which were wont, on solemn Days, to be taken out, and laid upon the Altar, to be openly seen and reverenc'd by the superstitions People. For the preventing any suture Superstitions with those Relicts (and yet that no Indecency might be used toward the saint and Foundress's Bones), and, withall, for the better securing of this late bury'd holy Woman's Bones from being disturbed any more; by the Advice of Mr Caltbill, gratefull Regard for whatever had any Relation to her pious, Learned, Calvinistical Reformers.

"the Bones of Both were mixed and put together, and so laid in the Earth, in one Grave, in the upper Part of the said Church, toward the East: after a Speech had been made, to

XVII. It

" a very great Auditory, declaring the Reason of the present Un-" dertaking .- And, on the next Day, being the Lord's Day, " One of the Society, named Rogerson, preached a learned and " pious Sermon on the Occasion: and therein took Notice of "The Cruelty exercised by Papists to the Bodys of innocent and good Men, which they burnt alive; and then, of the horrible Inhumanity " shewed to this pious Matron's dead Body: whose Life he propounded " as an excellent Example to imitate. For her farther Honor, the " University hung upon the Church-Doors many Copys of Latin " and Greek Verses, composed by eminent Members thereof .-"This is the Sum of what Calfbill, one of the chief Managers, " wrote to Bishop Grindal concerning this Matter. " The Papists have been twitted, by Protestants, with the base " Usage of this good Woman: and they, to lessen their Fault. " have labor'd to disparage and defame her. One of them called " her, Fustiluggs; being somewhat corpulent. This occasioned " Dr George Abbot [afterwards Archbishop of Canterbury], in his excellent Answer to that Romanist, to say some Things re-" markable of her: which he had the Opportunity of knowing. " being, himself, of the University of Oxford, and living in or " near those Times. She was, faid he, reasonably corpulent; but of most Matron-like Modesty: for the which, she was much reve-" renced by the most. She was of fingular Patience, and of excellent " Arts and Qualitys. Among other Things, for her Recreation, she delighted to cut Plumb-Stones into curious Faces and Countenances: of which, exceedingly artificially done, I once had One, with a " Woman's Visage and Head-Attire on one Side, and a Bishop with " his Mitre on the other; which was the elegant Work of her Hands. 86 By divers, yet living in Oxford [A. D. 1604], this good Woman " is remember'd, and commended, as for her other Virtues, so for her " Liberality to the Poor : which, by Mr Fox, writing how she was " treated after ber Death, is rightly mentioned. For the Love of si true N n 2

XVII. It was in the orthodox Reign of Elizabeth; that the Learned Dr Willet's inestimable Book sirst appeared, entitled. Synopsis Papismi, or, A General View of Papistrie. In this Performance, Dedicated to the Queen, and published by Authority, and which is one of the very best Batterys that were ever raised for the Demolition of Popery, no sewer than sisten Hundred "Heresys and Errors" are charged on the Church of Rome, and most ably resuted, by that prosound and indesatigable Divine.

I cannot immediately recollect the exact Date of the first Edition. But a Third came out, in 1600. My Copy is of the fifth Edition, 1634. The Author was a Prebendary of Ely, and most zealously attached to the Church of England. Not a Grain of Puritanism mingled itself with his Conformity.—Let us hear what Strype says, relatively to the admirable Work now under Consideration.

"Now also [A. D. 1600] Dr Andrew Willet set forth a Third Edition of the Synopsis Papismi: which Book gave a large Account of all the Controversys between the Church of Rome and the Protestant Reformed Church; with particular Consutations of that Degenerate Church's Errors. Or, as He himself saith of it, Containing the IVhole Sum of that HOLY FAITH and Religion, which THE QUEEN MAINTAINED, and the CHURCH of England PROFESSED (x)."

Formineum Sexum Romani semper amârunt:
Projiciunt Corpus cur muliebre foras?
Hoc si tu quæras; facilis Responsio danda est:
Corpora non curant mortua; viva petunt."

Strype's Life of Archbishop Parker, p. 100, 102, (x) Life of Whitgift, p. 543.

true Religion, and the Company of her Husband, she left her own Country, to come into England, in King Edward's Days. And so sound was her Fame here, that, when Papists, in Queen Mary's

[&]quot; Time, being able to get nothing against ber, being Dead; would [&]quot; needs rage upon the Bones of her, a Woman, and a Stranger: and took them out of her Grave from Christian Burial, and buried them

[&]quot; in a Dunghill. Whereupon one made these Verses:

Of that "Holy Faith," which was "maintained by the "Queen," and "professed by the Church of England;" the Calvinistic Doctrines were an essential and an eminent Part. This will appear, by the following short Passages, extracted from the Synopsis itself.

- (1.) Concerning Predeftination. "Prædestination is the Decree of God, touching the Salvation and Con"demnation of Men.
- "God's Præscience is not the Cause of Præsessination:
 for, how can the Effect go before the Cause? God's Will is the Cause of Predestination.
- "As He hath made all Men, so hath He freely disposed of their End, according to the Counsel of his own Will: felecting some, to be Vessels of Honor; and rejecting
- " others, to be Vessels of Wrath. And this very well
- " flandeth both with the Mercy and Justice of God, to
- " fave some, and reject others: for He might justly condemn All to eternal Death (y)."
- (2.) As to Universal Grace. "If God give Grace unto some, to obey their Calling, and thereby to be con-
- " verted, and not to Others; we must not be inquisitive to search, but leave it unto God, whose Judgements
- "may be hid and secret; but are always most just: for
- " He hath Mercy on whom He will.
- "It cannot be literally understood, that God would absolutely have all Men to be saved: for, why then
- " should not All be faved? For who hath refisted God's
- " Will? Neither can it be answered here, as sometime
- " by the old Pelagians, that God's IVill is not fulfilled, be-
- " cause Man will not: for this were to make Men mightier
- " than God (z)."
- (3.) Limited Redemption. "Here we are to consider
- " the Beginning of Election, the Progress thereof, and the - " End .- The Beginning: in that God, according to His
- good Pleasure, elected his, in Christ, before the Foun-N n 3

" dation of the World.—The Progress: in that He hath, if given the Elect unto Christ, to be faved and RE-

" DEEMED by Him.—The End is, that He hath purposed

" to bring them unto Glory.

- "Christ only was given to dye for the Company of the Elect. Not that it [viz. Christ's Death] is not sufficient for the whole World, in itself; but because the Efficacy and Benefit of Christ's Death is only applyed by Faith to Believers: and Faith only is of the Elect. —Christ dyed, only for Those that should believe in Him. But it is not given to All, to believe in Christ, except only to the Elect which are ordained to Lise. Ergo, for them only Christ dyed (a)."
- (4.) Concerning Free-will. "They that affirm, that God offereth Grace and Faith equally to All; and that God would have all Men to believe; and, if they believe not, 'tis not for Want of Grace, but the Fault is only in themselves; do consequently hold, that, to believe, is either wholly, or in Part, in Man's Power.—The Absurdity of which Opinion, we declare thus.
- "All cannot have Faith; but fuch as are ordained and elected thereunto: John x. 26. John xii. 39. Acts xiii. 48. Faith, and every good Gift; the Beginning, Perfection, and End; is only of God: Rom. ix. 16. Phil. ii. 13. John xv. 5. John 6. 44. They that are drawn of God: must needs come unto Christ.
- "The Patrons of Common Grace do fall into a flat Point of Pelagianism, whose Assertion was this: Vitam æter"nam omnibus paratam esse, quantum ad Deum; quantum ad continui Libertatem, ab eis eam apprehendi, qui sponte Deo continui Cita et et en Pelagian System maintains, that Eternal Life is, on God's Part, provided for all Men; and is, on the Part of Free-will, to be lain held upon by as many as spontaneously believe in God]. "This did the old Pela-

"GIANS hold; this do the New UNIVERSALITS affirm (b).

"A Freedom of Will from Necessity, we grant to have been in our first Parents: whereby it was in their Power, to have chosen either the good, or the evil Way.

"But fince that, by Adam's Transgression, the whole

" Power of Nature was shaken, and all the [spiritual]

" Gifts and Graces of Creation decayed; there remain-

"eth no Freeness of Will, unto Good, in Man: but only

" a voluntary Promptness and Inclination to Evil without

" Constraint (c)."

(5.) Hear him on Justification. Under the Head of Popish subtile Sleights and Distinctions," he defervedly places the Antichristian Doctrine of "Two Justifications: the first, which is only of Grace; and the second, wherein we proceed daily by good Works." By Way of Antidote against this palpable Poyson, Dr Willet observes, that "The Scripture speaketh of but One" Justification [before God], which Glorification sollow-eth: Whom He Justissed, them He also Glorissed; Rom viii.

"30. If, then, this One Justification do bring us to "Glorification, what need a Second (d)?"

He adds, elsewhere. "Faith doth not justify us, by the Worthiness and Dignity thereof; or as it is a

" Quality inherent in Man, by any meritorious Act, or

" by the Work of Believing; or as a proper, efficient

" Cause: but by Way of an Instrument only; being as " it were the Hand of the Soul, whereby we do appre-

" hend the Righteousness of Christ.

"Faith, whereby we are justified, is Passive in apprehending the Promises of God in Christ, and applying Christ with all His Benefits: in which Re-

" fpect, Faith only justifieth. It is also Astive, in bring" ing forth good Fruits, and in quickening of us to every good Work: but so it justifieth not [except be" fore Men]. Faith, then, is inseparably joined with Hope and Love, and necessarily yieldeth in us good Fruit: but none of all these do concur with Faith in "the Act of our Justification: but it is the Office only of Faith, to apply unto us the Righteousness of Christ,

" whereby only we are made Righteous before God (e)."

(6.) His Testimony to the Great Doctrine of Final Perfeverance shall close these Extracts. "These Patrons of "Universal and Conditional Election and Grace [viz. the

" Papists and Pelagians], who affirm, that Men are no otherwise elected, but with Condition, if they believe;

" and fo long are they elected, as they CONTINUE in Faith;
do confequently also hold, that Men may both Lose their " Election, and lose their Faith: and, of Vessels of Honor, if they FALL from Faith, become Vessels of Wrath.——Now,

" on the contrary, that both our Election is sure before

" God, neither that the Faith of the Elect (though it may

" fail and impair, yet) CANNOT utterly be Lost, we " are assured by the evident Testimony of Scripture.

"All that are Elected, shall be affuredly raised up to Life eternal. And God, to such as He hath chosen,

" will give Grace to continue. They, therefore, that finally

" fall away, were not elected in the Beginning. And that "Faith, which some have made Shipwreck of, is not the justifying Faith of the elect; but a temporary, or historical Faith. Men's falling away from Faith, then,

" cannot make God's Election void, as the Apostle saith:

66 Shall their Unbelief make the Faith [i. e. the unalterable

" Faithfulness] of God without Effect ? Rom. iii. 3. (f).

"The Papists say, A Man may fall away from the Faith which once truly he had, and be deprived altogether of the State of Grace, so that he may justly be counted among the « Reprobates.

"Our Sentence [i.e. the Judgement and Opinion of us Church of England Men] is this: That he, who "Once

Once hath received a true, lively Faith, and is thereby inftifyed before God, can never finally fall away. Neither " can that Faith utterly perish, or fail in him. Though

" it may, for a while, fomewhat decay, and be impaired;

" yet shall it revive, and he be raised up again (g)."

Such were the Doctrines which Queen Elizabeth "maintained," and the "Church of England professed."

XVIII. Another conclusive Argument, to the same Essect, may be drawn from the Learned Dr William Fulke's Consutation of the Rhemish Testament, published about the Middle of this Reign. The Occasion was as follows.

The English Papists in the Seminary at Rheims, perceiving, as Fuller observes, that they could no longer " blindfold their Laity from the Scriptures, refolved to " fit them with false Spectacles; and set forth the Rhemish "Translation (b)," in Opposition to the Protestant Verfions. No Man fitter, in Point either of Learning, or of Grace, to stand forth, in the Name of the Church of England, than Dr Fulke, Master of Pembroke Hall, and Margaret Professor of Divinity, in Cambridge. He accordingly undertook, and fuccessfully accomplished, an entire Refutation of the Popish Version and Commentary. The late great and good Mr Hervey (who, from an exuberance of Candor, was, fometimes, rather too fanguine and indifcriminate, in his public recommendation of Books; witness the high Strains of undue Panegyric, in which he condescended to celebrate Bengelius's Gnomon) passed a very just encomium on Dr Fulke's Noble Performance: which he styles, a " Valuable Piece of ancient Contro-66 verfy and Criticism, full of found Divinity, weighty " Arguments, and important Observations." Adding: "Would the young Student be taught to discover the " very Sinews of Popery, and be enabled to give an Ef-" fectual ⁽g) Ibid. p. 1009, 1010. (b) See Fuller's Account of Dr Eulke, in the English Worthys; LOND. 219.

" fectual Blow to that Complication of Errors; I scarce know a Treatise, better calculated for the Purpose (i)."

It was dedicated to the Queen, and did Honor to the Royal Patronage. Two or three brief Extracts will suffice to shew, what is Popery, and what is Protestantism, in the Estimation of the Church of England.

1. In their Note on Matth. xxv. 20. the Romish-Rhemish Commentators express themselves thus: "Free" will, with God's Grace, doth merit." No, says Fulke, in his Answer: "The Will, the Work, and the Fruit "thereof, and the Faith from whence it floweth, are, All, the Gists of God, and no Merit of Man (k)."

The Papists affirmed, that Christ "worketh not our Good, "against our Wills; but our Wills concurring."—The Protestant Doctor replys, "Man hath no Free-will to ac- cept God's Benefits, before God, of Unwilling, by His only Grace maketh him Willing (1)."

The Catholics admitted, as some moderate Arminians do now, that Man "was wounded very sore in his Under"standing and Free-will, and all other Powers of Soul and "Body, by the Sin of Adam: but that neither Understanding, nor Free-will, nor the rest, were extinguished in Man, or taken away."—Fulke Answers: "Against this vain "Collection by Allegory, the Scripture is plain, that we are all DEAD in Sin, by the Sin of Adam. So that "neither the Will, nor the Understanding, have any heavenly Life in them (m)."

2. 'Tis amusing, to observe, what a curious Hash (Bishop Latimer would have said, Mingle-Mangle) the Catholic Expositors tossed up, of Merit, and Grace, Free-will, and Predestination, in their Note on Rom. viii. 30. They observe, that "God's eternal Foresight, Love, Pur"pose," &c. are "the Gulf," whereon "many proud Per"fons"

⁽i) Theron and Afpasio. Vol. II. p. 436. Edit. 1767.
(i) Fulke's Confutation of Rhem. Test. p. 91.—Edit. Lond. 1617(i) Ibid. p. 166. (n) P. 195.

"Fons" have founded "most horrible Blasphemys against God's Mercy, and divers damnable Ergors against Man's Free-will, and against all good Life and Re- ligion:" but that "this said eminent Truth of God's eternal Predestination, doth stand with Man's Free-will and the true Liberty of his Actions, ——nor taketh away the Means or Nature of Merits, and Co-operation with God to our own and other Men's Salvation."—In Opposition to which wretched Jumble, our Church of England Champion thus replys: "The Eternal Predestimation of God excludeth the Merits of Man, and the Power of his Will, thereby to attain to eternal Life: yet forceth not a Man's Will, to Good, or Ill; but altertable from Evil to Good (n)."

The aforesaid Papists affirmed, that "God is not the Cause" of any Man's Reprobation or Damnation."—On the contrary, Dr Fulk insisted, that "God reprobateth, justly, "whom he will; and condemneth the Reprobate, justly, for "Sin (0)."

The Catholics would have it, that, toward the Effecting of Conversion and Salvation, Grace and Free-will contribute, each, its Quota: with this Difference, however, that Grace is the principal, and Free-will the subordinate, Contributor. "We may not," say they, "with Heretics, infer, that Man hath not Free-will, or that our Will worketh Nothing, in our Conversion, or coming to God. But this only: that our willing, or working, of any good, to our Salvation, cometh of God's special Motion, Grace, and Assistance; and that It [viz. Free-will] is the SECONDARY Cause, not the principal."—Excellent, and full to the Point, is Dr Fulke's Demolition of this artful, but insufficient Sophism; which he demolishes thus: "Our Election, Calling, and first coming to God, lieth wholly

"in God's Mercy; and not either wholly, or principally, or any Thing at all, in our own Will, or Works. But

" whom God electeth before Time, He CALLETH

" in Time by Him appointed; and, of unwilling, by His

"Grace maketh them willing to come to Him, and to walk in good Works unto which he hath elected them.

" So that Man hath NO FREE-WILL, untill it be FREED (p)."

3. I shall only add a Passage or two, from each Side, concerning Yuslification.

At, and foon after, the Reformation; the Papists, finding themselves hard pushed by the numerous Scriptures which affert Justification without Works, were driven to the false and absurd Resource of there being more Justifications than One. That great Ornament of our Reformed Church, Bishop Downame, seems to have considered Cardinal Bellarmine as the first Broacher of these multiplyed Justifications (q). But, let them have been invented by whom they would, the Romish Divines caught at the Multiplication, with no little Eagerness. The Plurality of Justifications foon passed as current, in that Church, as Peter-Pence; and, like the hunted Slipper, circulated, with all possible Glibness, from Hand to Hand .- Among the rest, thus speak the Rhemish Translators: " Not Faith alone, " but good Works ALSO do justify. Therefore, St Paul meaneth the same that St James .- The FIRST Justification " [is] without Works: the SECOND, by Works. St Paul " speaketh of the FIRST, specially; St James, of the SECOND." Agreeably to this ridiculous Distinction, they affirm the first Justification to take place, "when an Infidel, or ill " Man, is made just, who had no acceptable Works before, to be justified by." Which Man, it feems, must, some Time afterwards, be justify'd over again: and this second, or over-and-above Justification, they define to be, " An "INCREASE of former Justice, which he, who is in God's " Grace, ⁽p) P. 465. (q) See Bishop Downame on Justification, p. 452, & 532.—Edit. 1633.

Grace, daily procedeth in, by doing all Kind of GOOD "WORKS; and for doing of which, he is just INDEED be-" fore God." Observe, by the Way, how wretchedly these two Popish Justifications hang together. The first makes us just: the second makes us just indeed. As if being just indeed was not included in being indeed just!-We have heard the Popish Distinction, and the Popish explication of that Distinction. Let me now administer Dr Fulke's Protestant Antidote against the Poyson of Both. "Your Distinction of the first and second Justification be-" fore God, is but a new Device, not threescore Years " old, [and] utterly unheard of among the Ancient Fa-" thers. For whom God justifieth by Faith without "Works, He also glorifieth; Rom. viii. 30. And that " which you call the fecond Justification, or Increase of " Justice, is but the Effect and Fruits of Justification be-" fore God; and a Declaration before Men, that we are " just. And so meaneth St James: that Abraham, who " was justified, or made just before God, through Faith; " was also justified, or declared to be just, before Men, " by Works. - - We affirm, that God justifyeth us, " when He IMPUTETH Justice [i.e. Rightcousness] to " us, without Works: by which Imputation, we are on not falfely accompted, but are indeed by God truly made " Just, by the Righteousness of Christ, which is given un-" to us, and which we apprehend by Faith (r)."

XIX. I cannot help touching on another Proof of that exquisite, but not undue, Jealousy and Care; with which the Doctrinal Calvinism of our Church was watched and guarded, in the Reign now under Consideration.

So precious a Palladium were the fifter-Doctrines of free Predeflination and of Justification by Faith only, then deemed; that whosoever lifted but a Finger against Either, was supposed to touch the Apple of the Church of England's Eye.

Eye. Witness what Mr Strype relates, concerning a poor Handfull of Free-will Men, who could not assemble in a private Conventicle, without attracting the Rod of Ecclesiassical Censure, and suffering, by the Archbishop of Canterbury's Means, the Rigorous Penalty of Imprisonment itself.

"There was a religious Affembly now [A. D. 1586], " taken Notice of (whereof one Glover was a Chief, and, " as it feems, a Minister), COMPLAINED OF, for their " Opinions, to the Archbishop [Whitgift]: which Glover, " with some Others, was IMPRISONED. But whatsoever " this Society was, they feemed fo excufable to the Lord "Treasurer Burleigh, that he wrote a Letter to the Arch-" bishop in their Favor. In which Letter may be seen, "what their Tenets and Doctrines were: namely, about " the Sense of Justification and Predestination. Followers, " perhaps, of Dr Peter Baro, and Corranus (s)."-In all Probability, Lord Burleigh's humane Application to the Primate, in behalf of these theological Delinquents, procured them a Goal-Delivery, and fet the Free-will Men corporally free. So, at least, I conjecture, from the Letter of Thanks, written, by the faid Glover, to the faid Lord Treasurer: which Letter whoso listeth to read, may find in Strype's Volume and Page below-mentioned. much, however, I shall observe from it; that Mr Glover, the Free-will Man, lays all the Cause of his and his Brethren's Imprisonment, on their diffenting from Luther's Doctrine of Justification without Works, and from Calvin's Doctrine of unconditional Predeftination; and loudly complains of the "Iniquity and Tyranny" of their Profecutors: which included a tacit Fling at the Archbishop himself. And, to say the Truth, the Bishops, that then were, had just as much Regard for the Free-will Men, as St Paul had for the Viper he shook into the Fire.

XX. One

XX. One Proof more shall finish our Review of Queen Elizabeth's ecclefiastical Administration. And that Proof shall be drawn from the Order that was issued, and which was as punctually obeyed, for the placing of good Mr Fox's Calvinistic Martyrology in all the Parish Churches of England, for the Instruction and Edification of the People at the Intervals of Divine Service. Hence it is, that, in some of our Churches, we see those inestimable Volumes preserved to this Day. Nor, perhaps, could our present Secular and Ecclesiastical Governors do a more substantial Service to the Souls of the common People, than by renewing that well-judged Command, and taking Care to have every Church re-furnished with those venerable Records of Protestant Antiquity: which, with their suitable Companion, the Book of Homilys, might be more conducive to the Expulsion of the Religious Darkness that now overwhelms this Land, than all the apostolic Travels of a Thousand Lancashire Missionarys.

"This History of the Church [viz. Fox's Martyrology] " was," fays Strype, " of fuch Value and Esteem for the " Use of it to Christian Readers, and the Service of our "Religion Reformed; that it was, in the Days of Queen 66 Elizabeth, ENJOINED to be fet up, in some convenient " Place, IN ALL THE PARISH CHURCHES, to-" gether with the BIBLE, and Bishop Jewel's Defence of " the Apology of the Church of England: to be read, at 46 all fuitable Times, by the People, before or after Ser-" vice (t)."

Nor was this All. By the Canons of the Convocation, held, under Archbischop Parker, in St Paul's Cathedral, A. D. 1571; it was enjoined, that Each of the ARCH-BISHOPS, and every BISHOP, should procure the Holy Bible of the largest Edition, and Fox's MARTYROLOGY, and other similar Books conducive to Religion; and place the faid Books, Books, either in the Hall of their respective dwelling Houses, or in their principal Dining-Room: that so those Books might be serviceable both to such Company as might come to wist the said Dignitarys, and likewise to their own Servants and Domestics (u)."

Moreover, Every DEAN was enjoined, by the Canons aforesaid, to see that each CATHEDRAL Church, respectively, was furnished with the Books above-mentioned: which Books were to be placed in such an open and convenient Part of each Cathedral, that they might be both HEARD and READ by the Priests-Vicars, Minor Canons, and other Ministers, and also by such Strangers and Travellers, as might occasionally refort to the said Cathedrals.—The Word "heard" su commode audiri & legi possint seems to indicate, that Fox's Martyrology was publicly and audibly read by the Clergy (in the Nave, or some other capacious Part of each Cathedral Church, at such Times as Divine Service was not celebrating in the Choir), to those Persons who attended, out of Church Hours, for that Purpose. It is much to be wished, that the same laudable Practice was still continued.

To

⁽u) Quivis Archiepiscopus, & Episcopus, habebit Domi suæ Sacra Biblia, in amplissimo Volumine, uti nuperrimè Londini excusa sunt; et plenam illam Historiam, quæ inscribitur, Monumenta Martyrum: et alios quosdam Libros ad Religionem appositos. Locentur autem isti Libri, vel in Aulâ, vel in grandi Cænaculo; ut, & ipsorum Famulis, & Advenis, Usui esse possint.

Eosdem illos Libros, quos proxime diximus, Decanus quisque curabit emi, & locari in Ecclesia sua Cathedrali, ejusmodi in Loco. ut à Vicariis, & minoribus Canonicis, & Ministris Ecclesia, & ab Advenis, & Peregrinis, commode audiri & legi possint.

Eosdem Libros illos Decanus, & Primarius quisque Residentiarius, quos appellant Ecclesiæ Dignitates, ement suo quisque Famultio; eosque, opportuno aliquo in Loco, vel in Aulâ, vel in Cœnaculo, locabunt.

Quivis Archidiaconus habebit, Domi sux, & alios Libros, & nominatim eos, qui inscribuntur, Monumenta Martyrum.

See Bishop Sparrow's Collections, p. 227, 228,-Edit. 1684.

To all this, I must add: that, by the same Ecclesissical Injunctions, passed in sull Convocation, Every Dean, Prebend, Canon Residentiary, and Archdeacon, was to procure the said Predestinarian Martyrology, and place it in some conspicuous and frequented Room of his House, for the Benesit of Servants, Visitors, and all Comers and Goers. The same Order, according to Anthony Wood (x), was extended to all the Heads of Colleges, in the two Universitys: who were required, to place the Martyrology in their College Halls respectively.

Let us next examine, whether Fox's Martyrology be indeed a calvinistic Performance.

Proof has already been given, of the ample Testimony, which that History bears, to the Calvinism of those excellent Men, whose Martyrdoms it records. Nor does it bear less Testimony to the Calvinism of the admirable Historian himself. Witness what immediately follows.

- "The SECRET PURPOSE of Almighty God," fays Mr Fox, "disposeth ALL Things (y)." A golden Sentence, which, alone, might suffice to shew what Complection his Book is of. But the Complection, both of Him and It, will; appear, still more explicitly, from an Abstract of what he delivers, in that Part of his Work which professedly treats on Election; and Reprobation.
- "As touching the Doctrine of Election," fays this most venerable Master in our Protestant Israel; "Three Things "must be considered:
- "I. WHAT God's Election is, and what is the Cause thereof.
- "2. How God's Election procedeth in working our Salvation.
- 4. 3. To Whom God's Election pertaineth, and how a Man may be certain thereof:
- "Between Predestination and Election, this Difference there is. Predestination is as well [i. e. relates as much] to the Reprobate, as to the Elect: Election pertaineth only to them that be faved.

" Predestination is the Eternal Decreement of God, pur-" posed before in Himself, what shall befall on All Men, " either to Salvation, or Damnation.

" Election is the free Mercy and Grace of God, in His own Will, through Faith in Christ, His Son, chusing and preferring to Life such as pleaseth Him.

" In this Definition of Election, first goeth before the " Mercy and Grace of God, as the Causes thereof: where-" by are EXCLUDED all Works of the Law, and Merits " of Deferving, whether they go before Faith, or come " after. So was Jacob chosen, and Esau resused, before either of them began to work. In that this Mercy " and Grace of God, in this Definition, is faid to be free; " thereby is to be noted the proceding & working of God " not to be bounded to any ordinary Place, Succession of "Chair, State or Dignity of Person, Worthiness of Blood, " &c. but ALL goeth by the MERE WILL of His own Purer pose. -- - It is added, in His own Will. By " this falleth down the Free-will and Purpose of Man. with all his Actions, Counsel, and Strength of Nature: " according as it is written, It is NOT of him that WILL-" ETH, nor of him that RUNNETH; but of God that sheweth 66 Mercy. So we fee, how Ifrael ran long, and yet got " nothing. The Gentiles later began to fet out, and yet " got the Game. So they, who came at the first Hour, did labor more: and yet they, who came last, were " rewarded with the first. The working Will of the Phass risee seemed better: but yet the Lord's Will was rather, to justify the Publican. The elder Son sin the Parable! " had a better Will to tarry by his Father, and fo did indeed: and yet the fat Calf was given to the younger. Son that ran away.

Whereby we are to understand, how the Matter goeth, not by the Will of MAN; but by the Will of GOD, as it pleaseth Him to accept: according as it is written, Who were born, not of the Will of the Flesh, NOR by the WILL of MAN, but of GOD.

"God's Mercy and free Grace bringeth forth ELECTION.

" Election worketh Vocation, or God's holy Calling.

Which Vocation, through Hearing, bringeth Knowledge

" and FAITH of Christ. Faith, through Promise, ob-taineth JUSTIFICATION. Justification, through Hope,

" waiteth for GLORIFICATION.

"Election is before Time. Vocation and Faith come in Time. Justification and Glorification are without End.

"ELECTION, depending on God's free Grace and "Will, excludeth all Man's Will, blind Fortune, Chance, and "all Peradventures.

VOCATION, standing upon God's Election, excludeth all Man's Wisdom, Cunning, Learning, Intention, Power, and Presumption.

"FAITH in Christ, proceding by the Gift of the Holy Ghost, and freely Justifying Man by God's Promise.

se excludeth all other Merits of Men, all Condition of De-

" ferving, and all Works of the Law, both God's Law and

" Man's Law, with all other outward Mean's whatfoever.

This Order and Connection of Causes is diligently to be observed, BECAUSE OF THE PAPISTS, who have in inferably confounded and inverted this Doctrine; teach"ing, that Almighty God, so far forth as He FORE-

"ing, that Almighty God, so far forth as He FORE"SEETH Man's MERITS before to come, so doth he dispense His ELECTION. As the we had our Election,

"by our Holiness that followeth after; and not, rather,

" have our Holiness, by God's Election going before!
"If the Question be asked, Why was Abraham chosen, of and not Nachor? Why was Jacob chosen, not Esau?

"Why was Moses elected, and Pharaoh hardened? Why

. David accepted, and Saul refused? Why few be chosen, es and the most forfaken? It cannot be answered otherwise

66 God, BECAUSE IT WAS SO THE GOOD WILL OF

"In like Manner, touching Vocation, and also Faith." If it be asked, Why this Vocation and Gift of Faith was given to Cornelius the Gentile, and not to Tertullus the Jew? Why the Beggars, by the High-Ways, were called, and the Bidden Guests excluded? We can go to no other Cause, but to God's Purpose and Election; and say, with Christ our Savior, Even so, Father, for so it seemed good in thy Sight.

and fay, with Christ our Savior, Even so, Father,
For so it seemed good in thy Sight.
And so for Justification likewise. If the Question be asked, Why the Publican was Justifyed, and not the Pharise? Why Mary the Sinner, and not Simon the Inviter? Why Harlots and Publicans go before the Scribes and Pharises in the Kingdom? Why the Son of the Free Woman was received, and the Bond Woman's Son, being his Elder, was rejected? Why Israel, which so long sought for Righteousness, found it not; and the Gentiles, which sought not for it, found it? We have no other Cause hereof to render, but to say, with St Paul, Because they sought for it by Works of the Law, and not by Faith: which Faith cometh not by Man's Will (as the Papist sallely pretendeth), but only by the Election

 (as the Papit fallely pretendeth), but only by the Election  and free Gift of God.

 Wherefoever Election goeth before, there Faith in  Christ must needs follow after. And again, Whosoever

 believeth in Christ Jesus, through the Vocation of God;

 the must needs be Partaker of God's Election.

"Whereupon resulteth now the Third Note, or Con-

"fideration: which is, to confider, Whether a Man, in this Life, may be CERTAIN of his ELECTION?

"Although our Election and Vocation simply indeed be known to God only in Himself, à priore; yet, not- withstanding, it may be known to every particular faithfull Man, à posseriore: that is, by Means: which Means, is Faith in Christ Jesus crucifyed. And therefore it is " truly faid. De Electione judicandum oft à posteriore: that is to say, We must judge of ELECTION by that which cometh

" AFTER; i. c. by our Faith and Belief in Christ, which certifyeth us of this Election of God. For albeit that

" Election

" Election be first certain in the Knowledge of God; yet, in our Knowledge, FAITH only, that we have in Christ, is the Thing that giveth to us our CERTIFICATE and

" COMFORT of this Election. Election [is] first known

" to God, and last opened to Man (z)."

So speaks the Book, with which the Archbishops, Bishops, Archdeacons, Prebendarys, and Canons Residentiary, were enjoined to enrich their principal Apartments: Which all Deans were commanded to place in their Cathedrals: Which all Heads of Colleges were required to exhibit in the public Halls of each University: and Which constituted Part of the Religious Furniture of every Parish Church, throughout the Kingdom.

Well, therefore, might Bishop Davenant affirm, that Laud's Parasite, Samuel Hoord the Arminian, " so farre forth " as he feemeth to oppose the ABSOLUTE DECREE of " PREDESTINATION, and the ABSOLUTE DECREE of " negative REPROBATION, or Non-Election; reducing them to the contrary forefeen Conditions of good or bad "Acts in Men; he crosseth the received Doctrine of the "Church of England (a). -- I will," adds the Bishop, "lay down such fundamental Doctrines, concerning Predestination or Election, as I conceive are grounded " upon the XVIIth Article, and have ALWAYS been 44 taken for the common received Doctrine of our " CHURCH: the contradictory [Doctrines, viz. the " Doctrines of Pelagius and Arminius] having been AL-WAYS, when they were broached, held and censured 66 for erroneous by our UNIVERSITYS and Reverend "BISHOPS (b). — As for those, whom you [viz. 46 you Samuel Hoord] term Sublapfarians, you should have taken Notice, that in this Number you must put All who embrace St Augustine's Doctrines, and who have

003

⁽²⁾ Fox's Adi & Mon. III. 292, 293. (a) Bishop Dancnant's Animadversions on Hoord, p. 5.—Cambridge, 1641. (b) Ibid. p. 7, 8.

" subscribed to the XVIIth Article of our Church. " So that, by joining yourfelf with the Remonstrants [i. e. " with the Arminians], you have as clearly FORSAKEN the " Doctrine of the CHURCH of England, as [you have for-" saken the Doctrine] of Beza, Zanchius, or Piscator (c). " ----Our Church of England was more willing and desirous to set down expressly the Doctrine of Ab-66 Solute Predestination, I mean of Predestination causing 66 Faith and Perseverance, than it was of setting down 56 fo expressly] absolute negative Reprobation. — 'Twas Wisdom, which made out Church so clear in the Article " for absolute Predestination, and yet so reserved in the other [viz. in the l'oint of Reprobation]: eafily perceiving, that [the] Predestination of some Men [to eternal " Life] cannot be affirmed, but non-Predestination [to " Life], or Preterition, or negative Reprobation, (call it as you please) of some Others, MUST NEEDS therewith 66 be understood .-- For the Truth of Absolute Repra-" bation, fo farre forth as it is connected and conjoined with Absolute Predestination; when the main Intent of " the Remonstrants is, by opposing the former, to overthrow the latter, it importeth those, who have subscribed 46 to the 17th Article, not to suffer it to be obliquely un-66 dermined (d)." The Learned Prelate's Reasoning is masterly and just. For, 1. the Predestination of some to Life, afferted in the 17th Article of our Church, cannot be maintained, without admitting the Reprobation of fome Others unto Death .- 2. This Reprobation, tho' not expresly afferted in the Article, is palpably déducible from it: yea, so necessary is the Inference, that, without it, the Article itself cannot stand .- Consequently, 3. Whoever opposes Reprobation, " obliquely undermines" the 17th Article. - And, 4. All, " who have fubscribed" to the faid Article, are bound in Honor, Conscience, and Law, to defend defend Reprobation, were it only to keep the 17th Article upon its Legs.—So argues Bishop DAVENANT.

From the Proofs, which this Section hath alledged, of the Calvinism of our Established Church, through the entire Reign of Queen Elizabeth; it follows (no less clearly than Reprobation follows from our 17th Article), that the Established Religion of this Land was, originally; remained, successively; and still continues to be, intrinsecally; as REMOTE from, and as essentially the Reverse of, Pelagianism and Arminianism, in every Point and Respect whatsoever, as any two Things, within the whole Compass of Existence, can be remote and different from each other.

A Conviction of this most plain and certain Truth made Dr Carleton, Bishop of Chichester, express himself in these positive, but not too positive, Terms: "I am well as-" sured, that the Learned Bishops, who were in the "Reformation of our Church in the Beginning of Queen "Elizabeth's Reign, did so much honor St Augustin, that, "IN THE COLLECTING OF THE ARTICLES AND "HOMILYS, and Other Things in that Reformation, "They had an especial Respect unto St Au-"GUSTINE'S DOCTRINES (e)."

This I much suspect to be the chief Cause of Mr Wesley's unappealable Wrath against the Memory of old Queen Bess: tho' his oftensible Reason is, the Behavior of that Princess to her semale Neighbor of Scotland.—'Tis curious to observe the tiffing Vehemence, wherewith the petty Dragon spits his harmless Fire at the Dead Lioness. "What then was Queen Elizabeth! As just and merciful as Nero, and as good a Christian as MAHOMET (f)."

Let the following authentic Account of the truly pious Manner, in which that great Monarch closed her Life, determine what Degree of Credit is due to the spitting 0 0 4

⁽e) Carleton's Examin. of Mountagu, p. 49. (f) Wesley's Journal from 1765 to 1768, p. 124.

Journalizer; and shew, whether she was a Mahometan, or a Christian.

"She [Queen Eliz.] had feveral of her Learned and Pious Bishops frequently about her, performing the last Offices of Religion with her. Particularly, Watson,

"Bishop of Chichester, her Almoner; the Bishop of Lon" don; and, chiefly, the Archbishop [Whitgift]: with "whom, in their Prayers, she, very devoutly, both in her Eyes, Hands, and Tongue, and with great Fervency,

" joined; making Signs and Shews, to her last Re"membrance, of the sweet Comfort she took in their Pre-

" fence and Affistance, and of the unspeakable Joy she " was going unto.

"Her Death drawing near, the Archbishop exhorted her to fix her Thoughts on God; the better to draw off her Mind from other secular Things, concerning her

"Kingdom and Successor, which some of her Court then

" propounded to her. To which good Advice, she an" fwered him, She did so; nor did her Mind wander from God. And, as a Sign thereof, when she could not speak,

" fhe was observed much to lift up her Eyes and Hands

66 to Heaven.

"Her Almoner rehearing to her the Grounds of the Christian Faith, and requiring her Assent unto them by some Sign; she readily gave it, both with Hand and

"Eye. And, when he proceded to tell her, That it " was not enough, generally to believe that those Articles of " Faith were true; but that All Christian Men were to be-

" lieve them true to THEM, and that THEY THEMSELVES

" were Members of the true Church, and Redeemed by Jesus Christ, and that THEIR Sins were forgiven to THEM;

"She did, again, with great shew of Faith, lift up her Eyes

she did, again, with great filew of Fatth, fift up her Eyes and Hands to Heaven, and so stayed them long, as a

5' and Hands to Heaven, and to stayed them long, as a 5' Testimony she gave of Applying the same unto Her-

66 felf (g)."

" This

66. This Queen, fays Lord Bacon, as touching her Re-66 ligion, was pious, moderate, constant, and an Enemy to Novelty. For her PIETY, tho' the same were most " conspicuous in her Acts, and the Form of her Government; yet it was pourtrayed also in the common Course of her Life, and her daily Comportment. Seldom would " fhe be absent from hearing Divine Service, and other " Dutys of Religion, either in her Chapel, or in her privy " Closet. In the Reading of the Scriptures, and the " Writings of the Fathers, ESPECIALLY OF ST. AU-GUSTIN, the was very frequent; and the composed cettain Prayers, herself, upon emergent Occasions.-" -- Within the Compass of one Year, she did so establish and fettle all Matters belonging to the Church, "as she departed not one Hair's Breadth from them to the End of her Life. Nay, and her usual Custom was, 44 in the Beginning of every Parliament, to forewarn the 66 Houses not to question or innovate any Thing already established in the Discipline or Rites of the Church. Her (h) Stature [fay Guthrie, Welwood, and Bacon] 56 was fomewhat tall, and her Complexion fair. She un-" derstood the Greek, Latin, Italian, Spanish, French, and 66 Dutch Languages. She translated several Pieces from « Xenophon, Isocrates, Seneca, Boethius, and other Anse tients, with Taste and Accuracy. The Augustan Age was revived in her Reign: and the True Religion was 66 so well established before She lest the World, that her "Reign ought justly to be termed THE GOLDEN AGE " of the CHURCH of England (i)."

Derbam's Phys. Theol. p. 331,

(i) Roll's Lives of the Reformers, p. 202.

⁽b) She was five Feet, and eleven Inches, in Height: two Inches taller than Augustus the Roman Emperor.

SECTION XIX.

State of the Calvinistic Doctrines in England, from the Death of ELIZABETH, to That of King James the First.

MES the First's Accession to the Crown of England J was, for many Years, followed by no shadow of Alteration in the Theological Principles of our ruling Eccle-The King himself was a Calvinist in Theory: but more, by Virtue of outward and visible Education, than of inward and spiritual Grace. His own personal Morals did by no Means comport with the Rectitude of his speculative System. England had seen sew Princes more warmly orthodox; and not very many, whose private Manners were fo thoroughly profligate and excentric. A Proof, that the purest Sett of Religious Tenets, when they float merely on the Surface of the Understanding, and are no otherwise received, than Scholastically, as a Science, without reaching the Heart; are fure to leave the Life and Manners uncultivated and unrenewed. The regenerating Influence of God's Holy Spirit on the Soul, is the best Door for the Doctrines of Grace to enter at. they flow to us through the Channel of celestial Experience, they cannot fail to throw our Hearts, our Tempers, and our Morals, into the Mold of Holiness. There are two forts of Persons, whose Condition is eminently dangerous: Those, who know just enough of the Gospel System, to hate it; and Those, who profess to love it, but hold it in Unrighteousness.

King James, amidst all his Deviations from Virtue; amidst all his mental Weaknesses, and political Absurditys; was the most Learned sæcular Prince then in Europe. His Talents, as a Scholar, were far from being so extremely despicable and superficial, as his Desect of Wisdom and his Excess of Self-Opinion have led some Historians to sup-Had his Judgement and his Virtues borne any Proportion to his Acquirements, his Name would have adorned, instead of dishonoring, as it does, the Catalogue of Kings. His two Sons, Prince Henry, and Charles the First, tho' they had not half the literary Attainments of their Father. yet eclipsed him totally, even as a Man of Parts, by Force of superior Genius, and by possessing a larger Stock of private Virtue. Vice (especially those species of it, to which James was enflaved) has a native Tendency to debase, enseeble, and diminish, the Powers of the Mind. To which must be added, that the Erudition, as well as the whole personal and civil Conduct, of this mean Prince, appeared to peculiar Disadvantage, after the wife. the shining, the vigorous Administration of Elizabeth: who was immensely his Superior, both in elegant Learning, and in the Art of Government.

That James was a speculative Calvinish, his own Writings abundantly declare. Mr Hume gives a sort of ambiguous Intimation (k), that, toward the End of his Reign, he adopted the Principles of Arminius. I wish that polite, but not always impartial Historian, had savor'd us with the Authoritys (if any such there be) on which that Implication was grounded. I should be extremely glad, to see it proved, that James actually did apostatize, in his latter Years, to the Arminian Tenets. For he really was no Honor to us. King as he was, the meanest Calvinish in his Dominions might have blushed to call him Brother. It were Pity, that a Man of so corrupt a Heart should live and dye with a sett of sound Opinions in his Head.

But I have never been able to find, that there is the smallest shadow of Foundation, for supposing, that he ever dropped, what Mr Hume pleases to term, "The more rigid" Principles of absolute Reprobation and unconditional De-his Principles of political Tyranny, feem, like Flesh and Spirit, to have been in perpetual Conslict with each other, during the last Years of his Life.—Let me explain myself. The Point is curious: and not altogether uninteresting.

" crees."

James was wicked enough, to hunger and thirst after the Libertys of his People. But, with all his boasted King-Graft (as he called it), he was, Providentially, destitute both of Wisdom and Spirit, to carry his Wish into Execution. Much of his Reign was wasted, in contemptibly striving to balance Matters between the Protestants and the Papists; the latter of whom he affected to keep fair with, on Account of their being, as he phrased it, "dextrous "King-Killers." Just as some Indians are said to worship the Devil, for fear he should do them a Mischief.

For some Time before his Death, James's wretched Politics took a Turn, somewhat different. His Royal Care was, to trim between the Calvinists and the Arminians (tho the latter, at that Time, hardly amounted to an Handfull): or, rather, to play 'em off against each other, while he buckled himself the saster into the Saddle of Despotism.

The Calvinists, tho', even in his own Judgement, religibusty Orthodox; were consider'd by him as State Heretics, because they were Friends to the Rights of Mankind, and repressed the Encroachments of Civil Tyranny.

On the other Hand, the Arminians (then newly sprung up; or, rather, newly imported from the Dutch Coast) were detested by James, for the Novelty, and for the supposed ill Tendency, of their Religious Sentiments. The Arminians had, therefore, but one Card to play, in Order to save a losing Game: which was, to compensate for their religious Heterodoxys, by State Orthodoxy. They were forced, even to avoid the Inconveniencies of Persecution itself (for James had given Proof, that he could burn Heretics as well as any of his Predecessors), to fall in with the Court-Measures for extending the Prærogative.

This

This Card the Arminians accordingly play'd. It won: and gave a new Turn to the Game. It not only faved them from Civil Penaltys, but (of which, probably, at first, they were not so fanguine as to entertain the most distant Expectation) they even began to be regarded, at Court, as ferviceable Folks.

Hence, from being exclamed against, as the very Pests of Christian Society; they gradually obtained Connivance, Toleration, and Countenance.—To sum up all: they got Ground, in the Close of James's Reign; and, in That of Charles, saw themselves, for the first Time, at the Top of the Ecclesiastical Wheel.

Every One, who is at all acquainted with the History of James's Administration, knows, that I have not over-charged a fingle Feature. For the sake, however, of such Readers, as may not be versed in this Kind of Enquirys; I confirm the Account, already given, by the following Extract from Tindal.

- "Soon after the Accession of King James, the Canons of the Church were confirmed by the King and Convo-
- " cation.—Things were in this State, when a great
- "TURN happen'd in the DOCTRINE of the CHURCH. . The
- "ARMINIAN, or Remonstrant Tenets, which had been
- " condemned by the Synod at Dort, BEGAN to spread in
- " England (1).——The Calvinistical Sense of the [39] Articles was discouraged: and Injunctions were pub- " lished against Preaching upon Prædestination, Election,
 - " Efficacy

⁽¹⁾ Observe: the "Arminian Tenets" did not "begin" to "fpread in England," 'till AFTER the said Tenets had been condemned "by the Synod at Dort." Which Condemnation by that Synod took place, A. D. 1619; about fixteen Years after James's Accession to the English Crown, and little more than five Years before his Majesty's Death. Of such very modern standing, in England, is that Arminianism, which, coming to its sull Growth under Charles the First,

Per Populos Grajûm, mediæque per Elidis Urbem, Ibat owans, Diwumque fibi poscebat Honores!

"Efficacy of Grace, &c. while the Arminians were suffer'd to inculcate their Doctrines (m)" without Controll.

So much for the Conduct of James and his Court. Now, for the Reason of that Conduct. This the above Historian immediately assigns, in Manner and Form following.

"As Arminianism was first embraced by Those who were for exacting the [King's] PREROGATIVE above LAW; All, who adhered to the Side of [Civil] Liberty, and to the Calvinifical Sense of the Articles, tho' ever so Good Churchmen, were brandded by the Court with the Name of Puritans.——
By this Means, the [real] Puritans acquired great Strength: for, the Bulk of the People and Clergy were at once confounded with them (n)," under the absurd, new-invented Names of Doctrinal and State-Puritans.

"Those who professed the Tenets of Arminius, were now as much caressed, as they had been formerly de-

"TESTED, by the Courtiers. And William Laud, who "had adopted this Faith, was promoted to the Bishopric of St David s (0)."

It is plain, then, that the Reason, why James I. was insensibly engaged, towards the End of his Reign, to FAVOR" [for it does not appear that he ever ADOPTED] "the milder "Theology of ARMINIUS (p);" was, Because, the Partizans of that new Theology were much "milder" and more friendly to James's Scheme of setting himself above Law, ⁽n) Tindal's Cont. of Rapin, Vol. III. p, 279, 280. Octavo...

(n) Tindal, Ibid. 280. (o) Smollett's Hist. Vol. VII. p. 80. Octavo. 1759. (p) Hume, Vol. V. p. 572.

Law, than were the Partizans of the Established Calvinistic Doctrines. The moving Cause, why that weak and vicious Princelabor'd to ram Arminianism down the Throats of his Protestant Subjects, was, the INNATE FITNESS of Arminianism to subserve and promote the Purposes of Arbitrary Power. At the very Time that James manisestly appears to have abhorred the Religious Tenets of Arminius, considered as Religious; he professedly patronized the Maintainers of those identical Tenets, because he regarded both the Tenets and their Maintainers as the best State-Engines he could employ, to effectuate that Plan of secular Tyranny, on which he had so vehemently set his Heart.

To what an unprincely and uncomfortable Dilemma had James reduced himself! He could not persist in carrying on his old theological War against Arminianism, without weakening the Foundations of the Tyrannical Fabric he intended to rear. Nor could be proclaim Peace, without rendering himself, to the last Degree, contemptible, for his Inconfistencys .- On one Hand, Conscience, religious Conviction, and a Regard to his own Character, united to diffuade him from taking the Arminians into his Alliance: and haunted him with, O my Soul, go not thou into their fecret: unto their Assembly, mine Honor, be not thou united. On the other Hand, his "King-Craft," i. e. the shallow Cunning of a mean and vicious Policy, fuggested to him. in behalf of the Arminian Sect he so deeply hated, If ye be come peaceably unto me, to HELP me, my Heart shall be knit unto you.

To help him, they accordingly tryed. And knit to them, as a State Party, he certainly was, for the last four Years of his Life. Should it be asked, 'What could render the 'Friendship of the Arminians so important in James's Idea, 'feeing their Number was then so very sew?' The Answer is obvious. The new and sew Arminians were joined by the whole Body of Roman Catholics: and it was this Junction of Forces, which augmented their Weight. Each of these two obnoxious Partys, lying open to the Lash of the the Law, wished to recommend themselves to the Favor of the Court. Effectually to do fo, they adopted and propagated the then Court-Maxim of Unlimited Obedience to Princes, with all possible Fervor. A Co-alition of Interests naturally produces a Co-alition of Partys. It was no wonder, therefore, as the Papists and the Arminians had one and the same End to promote, and promoted that End by the felf-same Means; that they should, as a State-Faction, swim Hand in Hand with each other. Nor was the Affociation, confider'd even in a religious View, at all unnatural. Arminianism pulls up, and removes, FIVE, at the very least, of those ancient Land-Marks (might I not fay, five and twenty?) by which Protestantism and Popery are sever'd from each other. Such a theological and political Co-incidence might well produce (as it actually did) a Civil Union between the Partizans of Rome and the Disciples of Arminius. They both aspired, in amicable Conjunction. to the Favor of James: and James caught at their Alliance, with as great Eagerness, as they aspired to his.

But the Accession of such Recruits, as these, reflected no Honor on the King; and, in Reality, did him no Service. It added to the National Jealousy, and quickened the National Resentment. In all Appearance, James dyed just at the Time when Matters were ripening to a Criss between him and his People. Had his Reign been protracted much longer, 'tis probable, either that his Crown would have trembled on his Brow; or, that its Security must have been purchased by a Number of just and necessary Concessions to a brave and injured Nation.

With what Propriety and Decency this Prince affected to cherish Arminianism, let the Productions of his own Pen testify. But, before I briefly appeal to these, let James's best Historiographer, the honest Mr. Arthur Wilson, supply us with an Introduction to them.

"Our Neighbors of the Netherlands had" [in the Beginning of the feventeenth Century] "a Fire kindled in their own Bosoms: [namely,] a Schism in the Church, 66 and a Faction in the State. The first Author of the " Schism, was (q) Arminius: who had been Divinity-" Professor at Leyden. He dyed in the Year 1609; leav-" ing behind him the Seeds of the Pelagian Herely. " This Rupture in the Bowells of the Church [of Hol-" land] grew so great, that it endangered the Body of the The chief Rulers and Magistrates, in the seve-" ral Provinces, being tainted with this Error, strove to " establish it by Power: among whom, Barnevelt was a " principal Agent. He, by the Assistance of Hoogenberts " of Leyden, Grotius of Rotterdam, and Leidenburgh Se-" cretary of Utrecht, with others their Adherents, drew " on the Defign: which was, to SUPPRESS the PROTES-" TANT Reformed Religion, and ESTABLISH the Tenets of " ARMINIUS; being fomented by the Kings of France and " Spain, as the immediate Way to introduce POPERY. This " went on so smoothly, that the Orthodox Ministers were expelled out of their principal Towns, and none but

" Arminians admitted to Preach to the People: which, in " fome Places, bred many Combustions, that tended to

" nothing but popular Confusion.

" But, long before this Time, our King [James I.] faw " the Storm coming upon them [viz. that was coming " on the Dutch Provinces]. For, in the Year 1611, he forewarns the States: telling them, That, by the unhappy " Succession of two such Prodigys in one Sphere, as ARMINIUS and Vorstius, some DREADFUL Mischief would " fucceed.

" For, Arminius was no sooner Dead, but those that " drew on the Design had an Eye on Vorslius, his [i. e. " Arminius's] Disciple, to make him Divinity-Professor " in his Place. Which the King hearing of, and having " read some of Vorstius's blasphemous Writings; sends to " his then Ambassador, Sir Ralph Winwood, resident there, " to let the State know, that VORSTIUS rather deserved

" Punish-Pр

⁽q) For some Account of this Arminius, see a Pamphiet of mine. entitled, More Work for Mr John Wesley: p. 25, 26.

" PUNISHMENT, than Promotion: That the Head of such 46 a VIPER should be TROD UPON and CRUSHED, which was likely to eat his IVay through the Bowells of the State: " And if, nevertheless, they should persist to prefer him, he " [viz. King James himself] would make known to the World, " publicly in Print, how much he DETESTED fuch ABO-MINABLE HERESIES, and all Allowers and Tolerators of " them (r)."

The States, however, invested Vorstius with the Professiorship, lately vacated by the Death of Arminius. This greatly incenfed King James. It, at once, stung his Pride, and gravel'd his Orthodoxy. True enough it was, that he had no Right to dictate to the Dutch Magistrates, on whom they should bestow their own Preferments. " For what is it to his Majesty," faid his Embassador Winwood, in a Remonstrance presented to the States by the King's Directions, "what is it to his Majefly, whether " Doctor Vorstius be admitted Professor in the University " of Leyden, or not? Or, whether the Doctrine of ARMI-" NIUS be preached in your Churches? Saving that, as a " Christian Prince, he desires the Advancement of the Gospel. Let yourselves be Judges, in how great a Danger " the State must needs be at this present, so long as you permit " the Schisms of ARMINIUS to have such Vogue, as now they " have, in the principal Towns of Holland. The " Disciples of Socinus, with whose Dostrine Vorstius " hath been fuckled in his Childhood, do feek him for their Master, and are ready to embrace him. Let him go: he " is a Bird of their own Feather: Et dignum sane patellà "Operculum, a fit cover for fuch a Dish, ——His Majesty " doth exhart you, that you would not fuffer the Followers of 66 Arminius to make your Actions an Example for them to or proclaim throughout the IV orld that WICKED DOCTRINE " of

⁽r) Wilson's Life and Reign of King James I. inscited into Bishop Kennet's Complete Hift, of Eng. Vel. II. p. 714, 715.

 of the Apostacy of the Saints (s)." Thus did James cover his own Bigotry and Haughtiness, with the plausible Mantle of Zeal for the Glory of God and the Good of Helland.

Mean while, his Majesty was not idle at Home. By his express Command, Vorstius's Writings were publicly burned at St Paul's (t) Cross in London, and in the two Universitys

(s) Complete Hist. u. s. p. 715, 716.

(t) Paul's Cross, of which so frequent Mention is made in the Religious History of this Kingdom, was situate in the Churchyard belonging to the Cathedral of St Paul, on the North-side of that Church, towards the East End, where a Tree now stands. (See Dugdale's Hist. of St Paul's, p. 130. And the Odavo Edition of Latimer's Sermons, Vol. I. p. 39.)

It seems to have been slanding, till the Great Fire in 1666; and was of very high, but unknown, Antiquity. Stowe, in his Survey of London, calls it, "A Pulpit-Cross of Timber, mounted upon "Steps of Stone, and covered with Lead: in which are Sermons preached by Learned Divines, every Sunday in the Fore-noon." Stowe dyed in 1605. So that it appears by his Testimony that Preaching at this samous Cross, in the open Air, was continued after the Accession of James I.

It was usual to deliver Sermons, and other public Annunciations, at Paul's Cross. for some Ages before the Reformation. In 1259, King Henry III. ordered a general Muster of the Londoners to be made at the Cross: all of whom, from twelve Years of Age, inclusive, there took the Oaths of Fidelity to that Prince and his Successors, in Presence of the Lord Mayor and Adermen.

At the same Cross, in 1262, was publicly read Fope Ursan the Fourth's Bull, absolving Henry from the Oath he had taken, relative to the Oxford Barons.

In 1299, about the 27th of Edward I. the Dean of London folemnly Curfed, at Paul's Crose, some Persons who, in Expectation of finding a rich Booty, had searched the Church of St Martin in the Fields. (See Stowe, u. s.)

Michael de Northburg, or Northbrooke, Bishop of London, who dyed in 1361, bequeathed a standing Fund of a Thousand Marks, Univerfitys of Oxford and Cambridge. One Reason, assigned by James himself for a Step so very humiliating to the new Arminian to his Church, for the Accommodation of such as might be in Want of small Sums; payable again in one Year, and for which an equivalent Pledge was to be deposited by the Borrower. It was an Article in this Bishop's last Will, that "Is, at the Year's "End, Payment were not made of any Sum so borrowed; the "Preacher at Paul's Cross should, in his Sermon, declare, that "the Pledge would be sold within 14. Days, if not retrieved be"fore."

In the Eleventh of Richard II. i. e about the Year 1388, Robert de Braybroke, Bishop of London, issued Letters to the Clergy of his Diocese, desiring 'em to solicit the Contributions of the People for the Repair of Paul's Cross, which had been much shattered by Storms. He styled it, Crux alta, in majori Cæmeterio Ecclesiæ nossiræ Cathedralis, ubi Verbum Dei consuevit Populo prædicari, tanquam Loco magis publico et insigni: "The High Cross, standing in the larger Burying-Ground belonging to the Cathedral, "where the Word of God had been usually preached to the Peo"ple, as a Place eminently public and renowned." (See Dugade, u. s.)

In Process of Time, the old Cross being much dilapidated by Years and Weather, a new one was erected, on the same Spot, by Thomas Kempe, Bishop of London, who dyed in 1489. Crucem Paulinam (says Bishop Godwin), quâ nunc Formâ cernitur, construxit: "Kempe built up Paul's Cross in the same Manner as it still ap"pears;" i. e. as it then appeared, in 1616. (De Præs. Ang. p. 189.)

I cannot find, that this Structure, while it remained, underwent any farther Alterations, from that Time. But, when God was pleased to visit this Land with the Beams of the Reformation, Paul's Cross was put to a nobler Use than ever. It might be called the City-Fountain, from which the Streams of purest Doctrine replenished the Metropolis, and the Kingdom. Here, our great Resormers Preached, in the Days of Edward the Good: and, Here, the great Resormers of the Resormed Doctrines continued to dispense the Waters of Life, through the long Reign of Elizabeth.—There are three distinguished (I had almost said, Sacred) Spots

of

Arminian Party, was, what his Majesty styles, the " Im-" pudence" of Bertius; who was another Chip of the faid Arminian Block, Vorstius's intimate Friend, and who, together with Vorstius, had been Arminius's Pupil.

Does the Reader ask, 'Wherein the "Impudence" of " Bertius confisted ?' King James shall answer the Question. Bertius had written against the Final Perseverance of the Elect; and, not content with barely That, was, fays his Majesty, " fo IMPUDENT, and fo SHAMELESS, as to main-" tain, that the Doctrine, contained in his Book, was agree-" able with the Dostrine of the Church of England! Let the P p 3 Church of Ground, which, I think, no genuine, confiderate Englishman can furvey, without some Emotion of awful Rapture. I mean, that Part of St Paul's Church-yard, which was beautifyed by the Feet of the Reformers; -Smithfield, from whence so many of our Protestant Elijahs ascended, in Chariots of Flame, to Glory ;-and Runne-mead, adjoining to Egham, where the fignature of the Great Charter was extorted from King John.

The Area of Paul's Cross was, formerly, more spacious, than That on which the Tree at present stands. It commanded an Extent of vacant Ground, large enough to admit, with Convenience. some Thousands of Auditors. For, Bishop Jewel, in a Letter to Peter Martyr, written about the Year 1560, informed his Learned Friend, That Nothing contributed more to the visible Increase of Protestantism, than the Liviting the People to SING PSALMS: That This was begun in one Church in London, and did quickly spread itself, not only through the City, but in the neighboring Places: And that, Sometimes, at Paul's Crois, there would be SIX THOUSAND People finging together. This (added Bishop Jewel) was very grievous to the Papists. - It was faid, White [the Popish Bishop of Winchester] died of Rage. (See Burnet's Hist, of Ref. Vol. III. p. 290).

At this famous Cross it was, that the Books of Vorfiue, the Disciple and Successor of Arminius, were publicly BURNED, in the Year 1611, by the express Order of King James I. And i. was almost the only Act of his whole Reign, that reflects Honor on his Memory. For, could a juster Sacrifice, than Vorstius's Arminian Writings, be confumed at the Protestant shrine of Paul's Gross?

" Church of Christ then judge, whether it was not HIGH " TIME for us to BESTIR Ourselves."

But it may be worth while, to hear the King's own Words at full Length. " Some of Vorstius's Books were " brought over into England; and, as it was reported, not " without the Knowledge and Direction of the Author. And, about the same Time, one BERTIUS, a Scholar of the late ARMINIUS (who [viz. Arminius] was the FIRST in our " Age that infected Leyden with HERESY) was fo IMPU-DENT as to fend a Letter unto the Archbishop of Canter-" bury, with a Book, entitled, De Apostasia Sanctorum. " And, not thinking it sufficient to avow the sending of such " a Book (the TITLE whereof only, were enough to make " it WORTHY THE FIRE), hee was moreover fo SHAMELESS, as to maintaine, in his Letter to the Archbishop, that the " Destrine contained in his Booke was agreeable with the

" Dostrine of the Church of England. Let the Church of " Christ then judge, whether it was not high Time for Us to " bestir Ourselves, when as this GANGRENE had not only

" taken Hold among st our neerest Neighbours [viz. the Dutch],

" fo as Non folum Paries proximus jam ardebat, not only sthe next House was on Fire, but did also BEGIN to CREEP

" into the Bowells of our own Kingdom. For which " Cause, having first given Order that the said Books of

Worstius should be PUBLICLY BURNT, as well in Paul's Church-Yard, as in bothe the Universitys of this Kingdome;

" We thought good to renew our former Request unto the States of Holland], for the BANISHMENT of VORSTIUS (u)."

This curious King-Text deferves a Commentary. And let us Note, 1. What an horrible Opinion James entertained of Arminius himself: Whom his Majesty termed, an Infector of Leyden with " Heresy." This was neither more nor less, than calling the said Van Harmin an Heretic; yea, an Herefiarch, or an Heretical Ringleader. 2. Observe, how vigorously the King afferted the Doctrine of Final Perseverance. He denominates the contrary Tenet, of the Defectibility of the Saints, "a Gangrene:" and affirms, that the very "Title-page alone" of Bertius's Treatife render'd both Title and Treatife "worthy of the Flames." -3. His Majesty stared (and well he might), with Wonder and Amazement, at Bertius's "Impudence," in prefuming to fend "fuch" a Book (a Book which maintained that Saints might CEASE to persevere) to an Archbishop of the Church of England; who, as a Father in that Church (and she never had a worthier Father than Archbishop Abbot), could not but abhor the Pelagian Dream of falling finally from Grace.—But, 4. Behold the Royal Surprize wound up to the highest Astonishment, at the accumulated Effrontery of Bertius. It was "impudent" in the faid Arminian to make a Present of his Book, against Perseverance, to the Archbishop of Canterbury: but for the Present-Maker to infinuate, that "the Dostrine, contained in his " BOOKE, was agreeable with the Doctrine of the CHURCH " of ENGLAND;" was indeed "fhameles" beyond all Sufferance: feeing the Church Herself averrs, in the 17th Article, that They, who are endued with the excellent Benesit of Election, or Predestination unto Life, do, at length, actually attain to EVERLASTING Felicity. -- Observe, 5. The Anxiety, with which King James marked the Progress of Arminianism in Holland. He trembled, lest the "Gan-" grene" should extend to England also. He considered the Dutch Netherlands as his next-door Neighbors: and, their House being "on Fire" with the Arminian Herefies, he was apprehensive lest the Heretical Flames might, by Popish Winds, be blown over to Britain. 6. He expressed a Fear, that Arminianism had already "began" to " creep" into the Bowels of his Kingdom. His Fears, however, at THAT Time (x), feem to have been premature.

of

⁽a) Works of King James I. p. 354. Lond, 1616.

P P 4 7. But

⁽x) It was not 'till ten or cleven Years after this Period, that, as Fuller quaintly expresses it, "many English Souls took a Cup

7. But the King's Fears, Bertius's " Impudence," and Voistius's Impietys, all conspired to produce one very good Effect: to-wit, the Burning of Vorstius's Books. -- 8. Let it be added, that James had been almost Nine Years on the Throne of England, when he burned the Books aforesaid. A Proof, that he did not soon discountenance the Doctrines of the Reformation. His Zeal for those Doctrines was red-hot, till he happened to find out, that his Orthodoxy and his Politics flood in each other's Way. Nor must I omit, that his own Writings, which have supply'd me with the Materials from whence the above Conclusions are drawn, furnish me likewise with another Proof. that his Perseverance in Defending the Faith was long, tho' not final. For, the Edition of his Works, which I am now making Use of, was printed in 1616: which will spin out his Calvinistic Majesty's Perseverance to, at least, that Year; and that Year was the Fourteenth of his Reign.

We have seen, that what King James entitles, his Declaration against Vorstius, is not only pregnant with Threatnings, and almost with Slaughters, against that Learned Arminian; but likewise breathes a very bitter Spirit of implacable Resentment against the Memory of Arminius himself, who had been then Dead about two Years. Not satisfy'd with terming Vorsius a "wretched HERETIC," or rather ATHEIST (y)," a "Monster," an Anti-St John,"

and

[&]quot;TOO MUCH of BELGIC WINE: whereby their Heads have not only grown dizzy, in Matters of less Moment; but their whole Bodys stagger in the Fundamentals of their Religion.". Church-Hist. of Brit. Book X. p. 61.

By the Belgic, or Dutch Wine, Dr Fuller meant Arminianism. Which Wine, tho' made in Holland, was pressed from the Italian Grape. Rome and Socinus supply'd the Fruit, and Arminius squeezed out the Juice.

⁽y) It must be acknowledged, that Vorstius laid himself very open to this formidable Charge. Among the Tenets, for which he was stigmatized by the King of England, were the following:

and a "Samosatenian (x);" the King hardly gives better Quarter to Arminius, from whose Root Vorstius had sprung. His Majesty's Instructions to his Ambassador in Holland, have these remarkable Words: "You shall repaire to the "States General, with all possible Diligence, in Our Name: telling them, that Wee doubt not, but that their Ambassadors, which were with Us about 2 Years since, did inform them of a Fore-warning, that Wee wished the said Ambassadors to make unto them in Our Name, to beware, in Time, of seditious and Heretical Preachers; and not

God is not unchangeable in His Will.

God's Foreknowledge is, in some Sort, conjectural; as having to do with Things of uncertain Event.

Future Contingencies may, comparatively speaking, be said to be less certain, even to God himself, than Things Past or Present.

If all Things whatever, and every Event whatever, were precifely determined from Eternity; God's Providence would cease to be needfull.

Doctor Fuller, the Historian, was not mistaken in giving the following Character of Vorstius and his System. "This Vorstius had both written and received feveral Letters from certain Sa-" mosatenian Heretics in Poland, and thereabouts : and it hap-" pened, that he had handled Pitch fo long, that at last it stuck to " his Fingers, and [he] became infected therewith. Whereas it hath been the Labor of the Pious and Learned, in all Ages, " to mount Man to GOD, as much as might be, by a facred 44 Adoration (which, the more humble, the more high) of the "Divine Incomprehensibleness; this Wretch did seek to sloop "GOD to Man, by debasing his Purity; assigning Him a material " Body; confining His Immensity, as not being every where; " shaking His Immutability, as if His Will were subject to change; darkening His Omnisciency, as uncertain in future Contingents; with many more monstrous Opinions, fitter to be remanded to Hell, than committed to Writing." Church Hift. X. 60. In thort, if Vorstius was (as he strongly appears to have been) a Materialist; the King did him no Injury in calling him an Atheift.

(z) James's Works, p. 349, 350, 365, 377.

594 not to suffer Any such to creepe into their State. OUR PRIN-" CIPAL MEANING was of ARMINIUS: who though 66 himself was lately Dead, yet had hee left too many of his " Disciples behind him (a)." The King added, that the above-named ARMINIUS" was " of little better Stuff (b)," than his Disciple Vorstius. Arminius's own Writings bear full Witness to the Justness of James's Remark. And, continued his Majesty, "Though [Arminius] himfelfe be dead, he hath left his STING yet living among them (c)." In a Letter to the States themselves, his Majesty informs them, " It was Our [i. e. King James's own] hard Hap, not to Heare of this ARMINIUS, before he was Dead, and that All the Reformed Churches of Germany had with open Mouth complained of him. But as foon as Wee under-" flood of that Distraction in your State, which after his Death be left behind him, We did not faile, taking the Opportunitie when your last Extraordinary Ambassadors were here with . Us, to use some such Speeches unto them, concerning this Matter, as Wee thought fittest for the Good of your State, and which We doubt not but they have faithfully reported " unto you. For, what need we make any Question of the " ARROGANCIE of these HERETIQUES, or rather ATHE-" ISTICAL SECTARIES, among you; when One of them [viz. Bertius, already noted], at this prefent remaining " in your Town of Leyden, both not only PRESUMED to pubf. liso, of late, a BLASPHEMOUS Booke Of the Apostacie of the Saints, but hath, besides, beene so IMPUDENT as to " fend, the other Day, a Copie thereof, as a goodly Prefent, " to Our Archbishop of Canterbury? together with a Letter, " wh. rein he [Bertius] is not ashamed (as also in his Booke) to LIE fo GROSSLY, as to avow, that his HERESIES, con-" teined in his faid Booke, are agreeable with the Religion and " Frefession of Our Referenced Church of England. For these Respects, therefore, have IVe Cause enough, very heartily to

[&]quot; request you to ROOTE OUT, with speed those HERESIES and "SCHISMES, Schismes, which are beginning to bud foorth among you: which if you suffer to have the Reines any longer, you cannot " expect any other Issue thereof, than the CURSE of God, " INFAMY throughout all the Reformed Churches, and a per-" petual RENT and DISTRACTION in the whole Body of vour State. But if, peradventure, this wretched Vorstius 66 Should denie or equivocate upon those BLASPHEMOUS Points 64 of HERESIE and ATHEISM, which already he bath " broached; that, perhaps, may moove you to spare his Per-" fon and not cause HIM to bee BURNED (which NEVER ANY " HERETIQUE BETTER DESERVED, and wherein We " will leave him to your owne Christian Wisdome) : but to " fuffer him, upon any Defence, or Abnegation, which hee " shall offer to make, still to continue and to teach among it you. is a Thing to ABOMINABLE, as, We affure Ourselves, " it will not once enter into any of your Thoughts (d)."

More Matter for Disquisition! But my Remarks shall not be exuberant. Observe, then, 1. That Bertius's Book against Final Perseverance, and his Presenting a Copy of it to the Archbishop of Canterbury, but chiefly his having affirmed that he [Bertius] and the Church of England were of one Mind in that Point; were Insults, which James's Orthodoxy could neither forget nor digest. 2. In his Majesty's Opinion, Vorstius was an "Herctic," a " Monfter," and an " Atheift;" and ARMINIUS was of little better Stuff."-- 3. So obscure was Arminius. during his Life-time, and fo little Progress had Arminianism then made; that the King had never so much as beard of Arminius 'till after the faid Arminius " was dead." A Circumstance, which James lamented, and called by the Name of " hard Hap:" intimating, that had he known of Arminius's Schism, while the Schismatic himself was in the Land of the Living, the Royal Pen would have been drawn no less against Van Harmin himself, than it was. asterwards, against Vorslius .--- 4. As soon as Arminius's Pelagian Pelagian Innovations became known, the Protestants were fruck with Alarm: " All the Reformed Churches in Ger-" many," and elsewhere, " complained of him," i. e. complained of Arminius, "with open Mouth."-5. When King James became acquainted with Arminius's Tenets, Conduct, and Character; his Majesty pronounced him to have been, "a seditious and HERETICAL Preacher:" Yea, a Monster with a "Sting," and an "Enemy of God."-6. James also declared the new Arminians, or (as himself expressed it), the "too many Disciples" whom Arminius " left behinde him," to be " arrogant Heretics," and " Athe-" iflical Sectaries."-7. In the Judgement of the faid King, Bertius's Treatife against Perseverance, was a "pre-" fumptuous" and a "blasphemous" Book: and the Author himself an "impudent Heretic," and a "gross Liar." Terms, these, I acknowledge, utterly unfit for a King to make use of: but James had no more of Politeness in his Composition, than he supposed the Arminians to have of Christianity in their System .- - 8. He "very heartily" requested the States General to "root out" the Arminians, as "He-" retics" and " Schismatics:" and enforces his Exhortation, under the Penalty of God's "Curfe," of "Infamy" among Men, and of perpetual "Rent" and "Distraction" throughout the whole Body of the Dutch Provinces .--- q. He defires them to divest Vorstius of his Promotion:-10. To banish him from their Dominions: - and, 11. In his Plenitude of outrageous Zeal, he drops a pretty broad Hint, that the Magistrates of Holland would greatly oblige the King of England, were they to "cause" Vorstius " to be BURNED:" a Death, fays his Majesty, " which " never any Heretic better deserved." An horrid Intimation! but worthy of the Sanguinary Tyrant that gave it! The Calvinistic Doctrines, retained by such an ungracious Bigot, resembled (what some Naturalists have seigned) a Pearl in the Head of a Toad.—12. Let it not be overlooked, that James's Declaration against Vorsius, in which the

· 253

the above cited Particulars occur, is solemnly dedicated and inscribed, by the King himself, to JESUS CHRIST (e). I see, therefore, no Reason to doubt of the Sincerity with which he opposed Arminianism. Bad as he was, he was certainly in earnest. Tho' some other Ingredients, besides that of mere Zeal for the Protestant Doctrines, had, 'tis probable, a Share in the violent Counsels with which his Britannic Majesty so officiously pester'd the States of Holland.

It was, however, no new Thing with James, to hate and oppose Arminianism. Of This, he had before given sufficient proof, during the Conference held at Hampton-Court, in the very Infancy of his English Reign.

The Severity of Elizabeth's Laws, against the Puritans, had retained a great Number of that Body within the vifible Pale of the Church Established, and forced them into a fort of outward Conformity to Institutions which they were extremely remote from cordially approving. These, and a very sew Others, whom no coercive Penaltys had induced to temporize, flatter'd themselves, that James,

who

⁽e) That frivolous Pride, which displays it's Plumes, in order to attract the Admiration of our fellow Mortals, froths and evaporates into Vanity. But the solemn Pride, which dares unfurl itself to the Eye of Heaven, blackens and condenses into Impiety. 'Tis hard to say, whether James discovered more Weakness, or Profaneness, in this extraordinary Dedication; wherein he presumed to address the SAVIOR of Sinners, in a Style, which breathed more of Equality, than of Adoration: subscribing himself, our Lord's

[&]quot;Most Humble, and "Most Obliged Servant,
"JAMES,
"By the Grace of God,
"KING of GREAT BRITAIN,
"FRANCE, and IRELAND;
"Defender of the Faith."

who was by Profession a Presbyterian, would, on succeding to Elizabeth's Throne, relax and widen the Terms of Communion.

It is extremely problematical, whether James, even when King of Scotland only, entertained any ferious Intention to favor those People, should he ever have it in his Power. He feems, from the first, to have drank very deeply into the low Arts of a narrow Subtilty, which disfigured and discolored all the leading Actions of his Life. Twelve or thirteen Years before he ascended the Throne of England, he labor'd to ingratiate himself with the Scotch Kirk, by an indecent (and, as Heir presumptive to Elizabeth, by a very impolitic) Censure of the English Ritual. " As " for our neighbor Kirk of England," faid he, standing in an Assembly of his Clergy, with his Head uncover'd, and his Hands (in one of which, he held his Bonnet) raifed toward Heav'n; "As for our neighbor Kirk of England, " their Service is an evil MASS said in English. They want nothing of the Mass, but the Listings. I charge you, my 66 good Ministers, Doctors, Elders, Nobles, Gentlemen, and Barons, to fland to your Purity, and to exhort the " People to do the fame. And I, forfooth, as long as I " brook my Life, shall maintain the same." This was in 1500. Eight Years after, he told his Parliament, that he had no Intention "To bring in papiflical or Anglican 66 BISHOPS (f)." Such were his Compliments on the Church of England. But

(f) See Harris's Life of James I. p. 25, 26.

⁽g) A Masque indeed it seems to have always been: but, if James's own Attestation be admitted as valid, his Hypocrify is certain, and placed beyond Dispute. For, says Barlow, his Majesty professed, at the Hampton Conference, that tho', in the foregoing Part of his Life, he had " lived among Puritans, and was kept, for the most Part, as a Ward under them; yet, fince he " was of the Age of his Sonne, ten Yeers old, he EVER DISLIKED " their Opinions: as the Savior of the World faid, Tho' be lived " AMONG them, he was not or them." (Summe and Subst. of

But he was no fooner at the Head of that Church, than he either dropped the (g) Masque, or was proselyted by the English Prelates, who had seasonably and discretely gained his Ear. The Puritans in this Kingdom quickly sound, that they had mistaken their Man: for James was shot up, all at once, into a very High Church-man.

Under Pretence of trying to bring Matters to an amicable Compromise between the Episcopalians and the Presbyterians, a Conference was opened, at Hampton Court, between the two Partys, on Saturday, the 14th of January, 1604. But, on the King's Side, the whole interview was only a mere State Manœuvre, and no otherwise designed from the first. Every Circumstance demonstrated, that it had been resolved, beforehand, to let all Things continue as they were. Dr Welwood is undoubtedly right, in assiming, that the Conference at Hampton-Court "was but a Blind to introduce Episcopacy into "Scotland: all the Scotch Noblemen, then at Court, being designed to be present; and Others, both Noblemen and Ministers, being called up, from Scotland, to assist at it, by the King's Letter (h)."

How contemptible James render'd himself, in the Course of the three Days Debate, abundantly appears, even from the well-glossed Narrative of Barlow. So far from preferving the Dignity of a King, or the Candor of a public Father, or even the decent Coolness of a Moderator; he behaved, on one Hand, with all the Weakness of a Dupe: and, on the other, with all the Insolence of a Bully.

His

the Conference, &c. p. 20 Edit. 1625)——Thus was James not assamed, to confess himself an Hypocrite from the Tenth to the Thirty Seventh Year of his Age: i. e. an Hypocrite of seven and twenty Years standing! And (which crowned this unblushing Declaration with the most shocking Impiety) the Adorable Redeemer of Men, in whose Mouth was no Guile, is profacely lagged in, as a Pander to the Duplicity of the most convergible Dissembler that ever entangled the Reins of Government.

His Majesty, and Bancrost Bishop of London, monopolized much of the Conference to themselves. That Prelate has been represented, as having leaned to Arminianism: but, for my Life, I could never find any Proof of it. Sure I am, that, during the said Hampton Conference, his Lordship acquitted himself, in all theological Respects, like a sober, judicious, well-principled Calvinist.

Dr Reinolds, One of the Four who appeared for the Puritans, moved, that Part of the 16th Article might be explained; and that the famous Lambeth Articles might be incorporated with the XXXIX (i).

Fames, it seems, had never heard of those Lambeth Articles before: and therefore, fays Barlow, "His Majesty " could not suddenly answer; because he understood not what the Doctor meant by those Assertions, or Propo-But, when it was informed his " fitions at Lambeth. " Majesty, that, by Reason of some Controversies, arising " in Cambridge, about certaine Points of Divinity, my " Lord's Grace" [viz. Whitgift, Archbishop of Canterhurv] " affembled some Divines of especial Note, to set downe their Opinions, which they drew into Nine 46 Affertions; and fo fent them to the University, for the 46 appealing of those Quarrels: Then his Majesty answered, . I. That, when such Questions arise among Schollers, the s quietest Proceeding were, to determine them in the Universities, and not to stuffe the Booke [viz. the 39 Articles] with Conclusions Theological. 2. The better Course would s be, to punish the Broachers of false Doctrine, as Occasion 66 Should be offered: for, were the Articles never so many and " found, who can prevent the contrary Opinions of Men'till " they be heard?"

Hence it appears, 1. That one Reason of James's declining to super-add, by express Authority, the Articles of Lambeth to the Nine and Thirty established Articles of the Church,

Church, was, not any Dif-approbation of the Lambeth Articles themselves; but because he was unwilling to " fluffe," i. e. to enlarge, the 39 Articles with more "Conclusions theologicall," than were needfull. And, herein, the King judged wisely enough. There was no Sort of Necessity for inserting the Lambeth Propositions: fince they do not affirm any fingle Doctrine, which is not, either expresly, or virtually, contained, in the 39 Articles already established .- I observe, 2. That the King, on being informed what the Lambeth Articles were, and on what Occasion they had been framed; did tacitly allow the Orthodoxy of the faid Articles: for he gave the Company to understand, that there was the less Need of embodying those Articles with the Thirty-nine, as himself stood in constant readiness to "punish" the "Broachers of FALSE " Dostrine:" i. e. to punish those who might broach any Doctrine contrary to That of the Lambeth Articles, and of the 30 Articles of the Church of England.

No sooner did James intimate this his Design of punishing the "Broachers of false Doctrine;" than a certain Person, then present, took the Alarm, and began to enter a Caveat in his own Behalf. This was Dr John Overall, at that Time Dean of St Paul's, and who dyed Bishop of Norwich. He was supposed, by some, to have been a fort of Mongrel Divine; half-Calvinist, and half-Arminian. But I am not disposed to judge so harshly of that Learned Man. The only Article, in which (so far as I can hitherto re-collect) he appears to have deviated from the Protestant System, was, respecting the Possibility of a total (though he deny'd the Possibility of a final) Fall from Justification.

"Upon this," i. e. instantaneously on James's professing his Intention to punish the Broachers of faise Doctrine as Occasion should be offered, "the Deane of Paules, KNEEL-" ING DOWNE, humbly defired LEAVE TO SPEAK: signifying unto his Majesty, that this Matter somewhat more nearely concerned HIM [viz. the speaking Dean], by Rea-

" fon of Controversie betweene him and some other in Cambridge, upon a Proposition which he had delivered there?

" namely, That Whofoever, although before Juflified, did com-" mit any grievous Sin, as Adultery, Murder, Treason, or

" the like, did become, iplo Facto, subject to God's Wrath,

" and guilty of Damnation; or were in State of Damnation,

" quoad præsentem Statum, untill they repented (k)."

Thus spake the kneeling Dean: and the Sum of his Opinion certainly amounted to This, that a Justified Man might TOTALLY lofe bis Justification. But whether the faid Dean (who, doubtless, kept his Eyes steadily fixed on the King, and acutely watched every Motion of the Royal Face) actually difcerned any Symptoms of incipient Displeasure louring on his Majesty's Brow; or whether the prudent Ecclesiastic only intended to guard himself, in general, against all possible "Punishment" as a "Broacher. of false Docirine;" cannot, at this distance of Time, be infallibly determined. Thus much, however, is certain: that, for some present Reason or other, the Dean, in the very, midst of his Oration, suddenly wheeled about, and positively DENYED that Justification could be even TOTALLY, much less finally, lost. For thus the Narrative procedes: "Adding 66 hercunto," i. e. Dean Overall, immediately after declaring that justify'd Persons, who fall into atrocious Sins, are in a State of Damnation, quoad præsentem Statum, until they repent; subjoined, in the same Breath, "That Those which were Called and Justified according to the Purpose of " God's ELECTION, howfoever they might, and did, " fometime fall into grievous Sins, and thereby into the or present State of Wrath and Damnation; yet did never " fall, either totally, from all the Graces of God, [fo as] to 66 bee utterly destitute of all the Parts and seed thereof, nor " finally from Justification: but were in Time renewed " by God's Spirit, unto a lively Faith and Repentance, " &c. (1)."

⁽k) Summe of the Conf. p. 41, 42. (1) Ibid. p. 42.

This feafonable Salvo faved Overall's Credit with his Majesty. James, whose Science lay more in Terms, than in Things, was extremely well satisfyed with his Dean's Orthodoxy. As long as some ostensible Respect was paid to the two Words, total and final; the Royal Disputant looked no farther.

The King, however, embraced this Opportunity of entering "into a longer Speech of Predestination and Repro"bation, than before; and of the necessary conjoyning
"Repentance and Holinesse of Life with true Faith: con"cluding, that it was Hypocrisie, and not true Justissing "Faith, which was severed from them. For although," added his Majesty, "PREDESTINATION and ELECTION
"depend not on ANY QUALITYS, ACTIONS, or WORKS
"of MAN, which be mutable; but upon God's ETERNAL and "IMMUTABLE DECREE and PURPOSE: yet, such is the "Necessity of Repentance, after knowne Sinnes committed, as
"that, without it, there could not be, either Reconciliation
"with God, or Remission of those Sins (m)."

Should the Reader ask, "Why I so carefully recite what passed, in the Hampton-Court Conference, respecting Predestination?" I answer: To shew the total Want of Truth, with which some late Arminian Writers infinuate, that Predestination was not, at that Time, a sacred Article of Faith with James and the ruling Clergy.

In this same Conference it was, that Bancross (then Bishop of London, and, shortly afterwards, Archbishop of Canterbury) suggested that scriptural and judicious Caution, concerning Predestination, which has been already referred to in a (n) preceding Part of this Work. That great and able Prelate's own Words shall close our present Sketch of the Hampton Interview.—"The Bishop of London took Occidentation to signific to his Majesty, how very many, in these of Daies, neglecting Holinesse of Life, presumed too much of persisting of Grace, laying all their Religion upon

"Predestination; [arguing thus with themselves], If I is shall bee faved, I shall be faved: which he [the Bishop] termed [and with great Reason] a desperate Dostrine, contrary to good Divinity, and the TRUE Dostrine of PREDESTINATION; wherein wee should reason, rather AsCENDENDO, than DESCENDENDO, thus: I live in Obedience to God, in Love with my Neighbour; I follow my Vocation, &c. therefore I trust, that God hath electded me, and predestinated me to Salvation. Not thus, which is the usual Course of Argument, God hath predestinated and chosen me to Life, therefore, tho' I sin never fo grievously, yet I shal not be damned (o)."

In this excellent Caveat against the Abuse of Predestination, Bancroft goes no farther than Calvin himself had gone before him. Sit igitur hæc nobis inquirendi Via, ut Exordium sumamus a Dei Vocatione; says that illustrious Reformer: i. e. In all our Enquirys into Predestination, let us never fail to begin with Effectual Calling (p). - Again: There are some who go on, securely, in Sin; alledging, That, if they are in the Number of the Elect, their Vices will not binder'em from going to Heaven. Such execrable Language, as this, is not the Holy Bleating of Christ's Sheep; but, as Calvin very justly styles it, fædus porcorum grunnitus, the impure grunting of Swine. For, adds that incomparable Man, We learn from St Paul, that we are elected to this very End, even to Holinefs and Blameleffnefs of Living. Now. if Sanctity of Life is the very End, Scope, and Drift of Election itself; 'twill follow, that the Dostrine of Election should awaken and spur us on to Sanctification, instead of furnishing us with a false Plea for Indolence (q). Thus perfectly we:e Calvin and Bancroft agreed.

Almost

⁽o) Summe of the Conf p. 29. (p) Calvini Instit. L. 3. C. 24. S 4. (q) Ille autem sædus Porcorum Grunnitus à Paulo rité compescitur. Securos se in Vitiis pergere, dicunt; quia, si sint e Numero Electorum, nibil obsutura set Vitia, quominus tandem ad Vitam perducantur

Almost fifteen Years after the Hampton-Court Conserence, King James and the Church of England gave the most public Proof of their continued Calvinism, by the distinguished Part they bere in the Transactions of the Synod of Dort.

The Disturbances, raised and somented by the Arminian Faction, in Holland; were, in the Year 1618 (i. e. about nine Years after Arminius's Decease), risen to such a Height, as threatened to involve both the Church and State of the United Provinces in one common Mass of total Ruin. What emboldened the Arminians, was, the fecret Encouragement they received from foreign and domestic Papi/ls. We have already heard, from Wilson, that the Kings of France and Spain clandestinely blowed the Arminian Flame in Holland, " as the IMMEDIATE Way to introduce POPERY." And Mr Camden haspreferred the Name of one of the French Agents, who were privately dispatched to Holland on that " July 27, News was brought [viz. laudable Errand. " to the English Court], of Boiss, a Frenchman, being " fent into the Low Countries, to STRENGTHEN the CA-" THOLIC and ARMINIAN Partys (r)." Sir Dudley Carlton, also, who was Embassador from the English Court to the States General, makes express Mention, in a Letter to Archbishop Abbot, of "The French Embassador's private " Practices in Favor of the Arminian Party (s)." Could the Dutch Arminians justly complain, if they were treated as Enemys to their Country?

Q93

Treated

ducantur. Atqui in hunc Finem electos esse nos Paulus admonet, ut Sanctam ac inculpatam Vitam traducamus. Si Electionis scopus est Vitæ Sanctimonia, magis ad eam alacriter meditandam expergesacere et stimulare nos debet, quam ad Desidiæ Prætextum valerç.

Calvinus, Ibid. Cap. 23. S. 2.

⁽r) Canden's Annals of King James I. sub An. 1618.

⁽¹⁾ See the Letters annexed to Mr HALES's Remains; p. 176.
-Edit. 1673.

Treated so they undoubtedly were, for a Time: and no Faction upon Earth ever deserved it more. They artfully attempted to make Europe believe, that they were persecuted, entirely, on account of their Religious Tenets. But it was no such Thing. They were repressed as public Enemys to the State. The Danger, indeed, and the Venom of their political Views conduced, very naturally, to bring their theological Principles into additional Discredit. Yet were they persecuted (as they called it), not merely as Aminians, but as Traytors.

"On the 19th of August [1618], the prime Ringleaders of the Sedition, Barnevelt, Hoogenberts, and Grotius, were seized on at the Hague, as they were entering the Senate, and committed to several Prisons."
This cast a general Damp on the Spirits of the Remonfrants [for so the Arminians called themselves], as if they " had been crushed in the Head (t)."

Of the three Delinquents, only Barnevelt was facrificed to the Justice of his injured Country. He suffered Decapitation, at the Hague, May 14, 1619. The Sentence, by which he was condemned, enumerated, without any Exaggeration, the principal Crimes, whereby he had violated the Dutys of a good Citizen. Among others, he was justly charged with having endeavored to disturb the Peace of the Land; with kindling the Fire of Diffention in the Provinces; raising Soldiers in the Diccese of Utrecht; revealing the Secrets of the State; and receiving Presents and Gists from soreign Princes. Even Peter Heylyn confesses to have heard, that the Spanish Court "secretly somented the Designs of Barnevelt (u)."

Nor could any Thing be more natural. Philip III. still considered the United Provinces as a Parcel of his own Dominions: and, indeed, they had shaken off his Yoke but a very sew Years before, and were not acknowledged, by Spain, as a free State, 'till Thirty Years after, viz. the ^{(1) 11776}n, u. f. p. 718. (u) Hist. of the Pre byterians, p. 396.

Year

Year 1648. No Wonder, therefore, that King Philip fought, with Eagerness, to avail himself of the Arminian Schism: a Schism, which, at once, bade fair to exterminate the Protestant Religion from the Dutch Netherlands, and to reduce them afresh to the Obedience of Spain. Hence arose Philip's secret Tamperings with Barnevelt, the fecular Head and Protector of that Arminian Sect, from whose Doctrinal Innovations and political Intrigues the Spanish Monarch had so many Advantages to expect. But the Wisdom, Courage, and Activity of Maurice, Prince of Orange, were the Means, which Providence used, to defeat the iniquitous Schemes of the Arminian and Spanish Faction. The feizure of the principal Rebels and Incendiarys, together with the Execution of Barnevelt, in whom - both those Characters were united; laid, once more, that Foundation of national Liberty and Safety, which the Dutch to this Day enjoy, and which have fince conduced to render that illustrious Republic of fuch Weight and Importance in the European Scale.

What Prince Maurice did for the State, the Council of Dort did for the Church, of Holland: as if Pure Religion and Civil Liberty were irreverfibly fated to fall and rife together.

The Reformation appears to have been first introduced into the Dutch Provinces, by the numerous French Resugees, who sted thither, about the Middle of the Sixteenth Century. For some Time, Protestantism dissured itself insensibly among the Natives, who were then subject to the Crown of Spain. By Degrees, the Progress of Evangelical Truth became so extensive, and the Number of its Partizans grew so considerable, that, about the Year 1567, they ventured to draw up a Confession of Faith, formed entirely on the System of Calvin. Their Spanish Governors soon took the Alarm. To check the spreading Heresy, and to restrain the Dutch within the Bonds both of Popish and of Spanish Obedience, the Inquisition was esttablished by Force; and that bloody Tribunal dispatched Multitudes of Souls, by a short Way, to Heaven. Civil and Ecclesiastical Grievances were, at length, so multiplyed and aggravated, that the People, harraffed by a neverending Train of intolerable Oppressions, were compelled to seek Relief in themselves. Every Tyranny has its Crifis; which having attained, the mock-Sun declines, more rapidly than it rose. Providence succeded the pious and patriotic Efforts of the Dutch. After some Years noble and obstinate Struggle, those Provinces threw off Popery and Slavery together. The pure Religion of the Gospel continued to shine, with uninterrupted Beams, for the most Part, on that free and happy People; 'till Arminius darkened and disturbed their Hemisphere. The Commotions, began by that pestilent Schismatic, and raised to almost a ruinous Height, by his immediate Followers; were, as has been already intimated, suppressed by Prince Maurice and his Patriots, so far as concerned the State. To extinguish the Fire which had half consumed the Church, and to re-fettle its Faith on its Original Calvinistic Basis, was the Task assigned to the Synod at Dort.

That famous Assembly began to sit, on Tuesday Morning. November the Thirteenth, 1618. The States of Holland intended, at first, that the Synod should consist of no more than their own Provincial Divines. It was at the Persuasion of (x) King James I. (whose Request was signify'd and seconded by Maurice Prince of Orange), that select Ministers, deputed from England and from other Reformed Countrys, were admitted to affist in the Deliberations

⁽x) "Ad candem [viz. Synodum], præter Professores nostros, ac Ministros, Senioresque, exquisitæ Eruditionis Viros; ex vicinis Regnis, Ditionibus, ac Rebuspublicis, quæ Religionem profitentur Reformatam, suasu imprimis Maximi ac Serenissimi Jacchi I. Dei Grat'à, Magnæ Britanniæ Regis, & Auristeano Principe in Confilium adhibito, celeberrimos Theologos vocavimus."

Alla Synesi Dordrecht. In Dedic .- Edit. Dord. 1620.

tions at Dort. His Majesty, doubtless, wished to seize so fair an Occasion of avowing, to all Europe, both his own Doctrinal Calvinism, and That of the Church of England.

Heylyn himself gives us to understand, that James's immediate view was, to condemn the Arminian Tenets with the greater Formality: "Those Opinions," says Heylyn, "which he [the King] had LABORED to CONDEMN at the Synod at Dort (y)." The same Writer informs us, that the Dutch, antecedently to the actual Calling together of that Synod, took Care "to invite to their Assistance, forme Divines, out of ALL the Churches of CALVIN's Platiform: and NONE ELSE (z)." In saying whereof, the Arminian unwarily concedes the Church of England, among the rest, to be a Church of CALVIN's Platform: as, in Point of Doctrine, she certainly is, and has been from her very first Resormation.

fames's Request being granted, and what Divines, he might please to send, being invited; his Majesty nominated sour very eminent Dignitarys, to represent the Church of England, in the Synod; and One Divine, to represent the Church of Scotland. The English Representatives were, Dr George Carleton, then Bishop of Landaff, and afterwards of Chichester: Dr Joseph Hall, then Dean of Worcester, afterwards Bishop of Exeter, and, lastly, of Norwich: Dr John Davenant, then Master of Queen's College, Cambridge, and Margaret Professor; afterwards, Bishop of Salisbury: and Dr Samuel Ward, Master of Sydney College, and Arch-deacon of Taunton.

The Four English Divines waited on the King, at Newmarket, to receive his Instructions. What those Instructions were, may be seen in Fuller (a). On the 8th of October, 1618, Dr Davenant and Dr Ward attended his Majesty, once more, at Royston: who, commanding them to sit down, conversed very familiarly with them for two Hours;

⁽y) Life of Land, p. 120. (x) Ibid. p. 75. (a) Church

Hours; and, on Parting, folemnly belought God to bless their Endeavors at the ensuing Synod (b)."

Sailing from the English Coast, our four Delegates landed at Middleburgh, in Zealand, October 20; arrived at the Hague, on the 27th, where they had the Honor to kiss the Hand of the Laurel'd Patriot, Prince Maurice; and, from thence, repaired to Dort, the main Scene of Action. Dr Balcanqual, who appears to have fat out later, did not take his Place in the Synod, 'till December 10.

The Members of this Synod formed a Constellation of the Best and most Learned Theologians that had ever met in Council, since the Dispersion of the Apostles; unless we except the Imperial Convocation at Nice, in the fourth Century. Read but the Names of Heinsius, Lydius, Hommius, Voetius, Bistersfield, Triglandius, Bojermannus, Sibelius, Gomarus, Polyander, Thysius, Walaus, Scultetus, Altingius, Deodatus, Carleton, Davenant, Hall; exclusively of the many other first-rate Worthys, who constituted and adorned this ever memorable Assembly; and doubt, if you can, whether the Sun could shine on a living Collection of more exalted Piety and stupendous Erudition.

That low and virulent Arminian, John Goodwin the Fifth-Monarchy Man, compares the Synod with HEROD, who, of for his Oath's fake, contrary to his Minde, caused John the Baptist's Head to be given to Herodias in a Platter (c)." Intimating, that the Dordrechtan Fathers had, before the Commencement of their Synodical Business, taken an Oath to condemn the Arminians at all Events.—Dr Fuller is even with Goodwin, and repays that Libeller in his own Coin, by comparing him to Pilate. "See here," says the Historian, "how this suggester, tho' at first he takes Water, and washes his Hands, with a 'Farre be it from me to subscribe the Report; yet, afterwards, he crucisies the Credit of an whole Synod, and makes them all guilty, of no less than damnable Perjury.

66 he

"I could have wished, that he had mentioned, in the Margin, the Authors of this Suggestion. Whereas, now, the Omission thereof will give Occasion to some, to suffer this for the first Raiser of the Report. ———— Musing with myself on this Matter, and occasionally exchanging Letters with the Sons of Bishop Hall; it came into my Mind, to ask them Joseph's Question to his Brethren, Is your Father well? the old Man, of whom ye spake, is he yet alive? And, being informed of his Lise and Health, I addressed myself, in a Letter, to Him, for Satisfaction in this Particular: who was pleased to honor me with this Return, herein inserted.

"Whereas you desire from me a just Relation of the Carcinage of the Businesse at the Synod at Dort; and the Conditions required of our Divines there, at or before their Admission to that grave and learned Assembly; I, whom God was pleased to imploy as an unworthy Agent in that Great Work and to reserve still upon Earth, after all my Reverend

" Whereas you defire from me a just Relation of the Car-" riage of the Businesse at the Synod at Dort; and the Conditions required of our Divines there, at or before their Ad-" mission to that grave and learned Assembly; I, whom God " was pleased to imploy as an unworthy Agent in that Great Work, and to reserve still upon Earth, after all my Reverend " and Worthy Affociates; doe, as in the Prefence of that God to IV hom I am now daily expecting to yield up my Account. se testifie to you, and (if you will) to the World, that I cannot. without just Indignation, read that standerous Imputation, which Mr Goodwin, in his Redemption Redeemed, re-66 ports to have been raifed and cast upon those Divines, eminent 65 both for Learning and Piety, that they suffered themselves 66 to be bound with an Oath, at, or before their Admif-66 fion into that Synod, to vote down the Remonstrants " [i. e. the Arminians] how soever: so as they came deeply " præ-engaged to the Decision of those unhappy Differences. Truly Sir, AS I HOPE TO BE SAVED, all the Oath 6 that was required of us, was this : After that the Maderator, 65 Affistants, and Scribes were chosen, and the Synod formed, " and the feveral Members allowed, there was a folemn Oath " required to be taken by every One of that Affembly; which " was publicly done, in a grave Manner, by every Person, in their Order, flanding up, and laying his Hand upon his

45 Heart, calling the great God of Heaven to Witnesse, that so he would unpartially proceed in the Judgement of these 66 Controversies, and no otherwise: so determining of " them, as he should find in his Conscience most agree-" able to the Holy Scriptures. And this was all the Oath, " that was either taken, or required. And farre was it from " those holy Souls, which are now glorious in Heaven, or mine " (who still, for some short Time, survive, to give this just " Witnesse of our sincere Integrity), to entertain the least Thought of any so foul Corruption, as, by any over-ruling " Power, to be swayed to a Pre-judgement in the Points con-" troverted. - - - Sir, fince, I have lived to fee for " foul an Aspersion cast upon the Memory of those worthy and eminent Divines, I bleffe God that I yet live to vindicate ce them, by this my knowing, clear, and affured Attestation; which I am ready to second with the solemnest Oath, if I " shall be thereto required.

"Your most devoted Friend, &c.
"Jos. Hall, B. N." (d)

" Higham, Aug. 30. 1651."

Judge now, what Degree of Credit is due to the male-volent Infinuations of John Goodwin. The Wretch lived no fewer than ten Years after Dr Fuller's Publication of the above Letter. Yet he never, fo far as I can find, either retracted the Slander he had advanced, or even opologized for it. So hardened was his Front, and so thoroughly was he drenched in the petrifying Water of a Party (e)!

King,

(d) Fuller, u. f. p. 85, 86.

(e) The Oath, taken by each Member of the Synod, of which Bishop Hall recites the Substance; ran, verbatim, thus:

Promitto, coram Deo, quem præsentissimum Renumque & Cordium Scrutatorem credo et veneror, me, in totà hâc synodati Actione, qua instituetur Examen, Judicium, & Decisio, tum de notis quinque Articulis, & Dissicultatibus inde orientibus, tum de omnibus reliquis doctrinalibus; non ulla Scripta humana, sed solum Dei Verbum, pro certa ac indubitata Fidei Regula adhibiturum;

King James's Heart was quite wrapt up in the Synod; and all his Attention feemed collected to a Point, as long as the Divines were fitting. With fuch Eagerness and Anxiety did he interest himself in the Condemnation of Arminianism, that he commanded his British Divines to fend him "a weekly Account of all memorable Passages" transacted at [Dort]. Yet it happened, that, for a "Month, or more, the King received from them no Particulars of their Proceeding: whereat his Majesty was most highly offended. But, asterwards, understanding that this defect was caused by the Counter-mands of the process of this was a standard of the process.

" an higher King, even of Him who gatheresh the Winds mihique, in totâ hâc Causâ, nihil propositum fore, præter Dei Gloriam, Tranquillitatem Ecclesiæ, & cum primis Conservationem Puritatis Doctrinæ. Ita propitius mihi sit Servator meus Jesus Christus: quem precor ardentissimè, ut, in hoc Proposito, Spiritûs sui Gratia mihi perpetuò adsit.

i. e.

I promise, before God, whom I believe and worship as the ever present Searcher of the Reins and Hearts, that I will, in the whole Business and Transaction of this Synod (wherein shall be appointed an Enquiry, Judgement, and Decision, as well concerning the samous Five Points, and the Intricacys arising from them, as concerning all the other Doctrinal Matters); that I will not admit of any Human Writings, but alledge the Word of God only, as the certain and undoubted Rule of Faith: and that I will propose nothing whatever to myself, in this whole Business, but the Glory of God, the Peace of the Church, and officially the Preservation of pure Doctrine. May my Savier Jesus Christ fo be mercifull to me: whom I most earnessly beseach, that the world, by the Grace of His Spirit, be ever present with me in this my Purpose and Resolution.

Acta Synodi Dordr. p. 66.

The Reader need not be told, that what the Oath styles the famous Five Points," were, the Doctrines of Election, limited Redemption, the spiritual Inability of the Human Will through Original Sin, the Invincible Efficacy of Grace in Regeneration, and the Final Perfeverance of truly converted Persons.

" in His Fifts, stopping all Passages by contrary Wear ther; he was quickly pacify'd: yea, highly pleased, when sour weekly Dispatches (not neglected to be or derly sent, but delayed to be accordingly brought) came, all together, to his Majesty's Hands (f)." The Royal Baby of Fisty-three received his Rattles, and was contented. For, by James, Religion inself seems to have been regarded chiefly as a Play-thing, which contributed to his Amusement; or, at most, as a Pedestal, on which his Vanity might display itself conveniently. Two or three Years, indeed, after the Period of which we are now treating, he consider'd it under the more serious Idea of a commodious Engine, which he thought himself capable of working and managing to much political Advantage.

Two and Twenty Sessions had elapsed, e'er any Thing was done by the Synod, relative to the Arminians (g): and yet those People complained (for they came with a Resolution to complain at all Events), that sufficient Time had not been allowed them to prepare their Papers of Desence. As if they had not known, seven or eight Years (b) before the Synod was called, that such an Assembly was to be convened! And as if, even after the Synod began to sit, ample Space had been denyed them, wherein to provide for their Appearance!

Determined to clog and interrupt, as much as possible, every Wheel of public Business; the Arminians, with Episcopius at their Head, affected openly to resent their being cited to the Synod, as Delinquents, instead of being invited to sit in it, as Judges.—A wonderfull Hardship indeed, that Criminals, indicted for transgressing the Laws of their Country, should not be invited to take their Seat on the Judicial Bench!

For

⁽f) Fuller, p. 79.
Necnon Alla Synodi, p. 55.
p. 170. Art. Grotius.

⁽g) See Mr Hales's Letters, p. 28.— (b) See the Biogr. Dia. Vol. VI.

For the farther clearing of this supposed Grievance, let it be considered, 1. That the then Arminians of Holland (for 'tis of the Dutch Arminians, and of those only who were then living, that we are now treating) had, by kindling a Flame in the Church, formed likewife a very dangerous Faction in the State: even such a Faction, as menaced the Lofs, not only of Religious, but of Civil Liberty, to the whole Community at large. Hence, 2. They rendered themselves, by every Law of Society whatever, responsible to that Public, whose Ruin they had so nearly accomplished. Especially, 3. When it was found, that the Popish Courts of France and Spain (those natural Enemys, whose Power the United Provinces, then in their Infancy of Strength, had so just Reason to dread) were actually grafting political Machinations on these Ecclesiastical Disputes, by aiding, feconding, and encouraging the Arminians. to effect the total Overthrow of the new-born Republic.

Should it be faid, that "Tho' these heinous political Of-" fences deserved Punishment, yet their Punishment should " have been affigned, not to the Synod of Dort, but to " the fæcular Courts of Justice;" I answer, 1. An injured State, whose legal Forms of Procedure (like those of Holland at the above Period) have not attained their full Maturity, Digestion, and Establishment, by the Length of Time, the Regularity of equal Custom, and the leifurely Wisdom of general Deliberation and Consent, requisite to fuch a fixed Settlement; a State, so circumstanced, is at full Liberty to refer the Cognizance of it's domestic Disturbers to what Court soever It's felf may please to authorize. - 2. The Synod of Dort not only affembled and fat by Virtue of the Civil Authority; but was, intrinsecally, both an Ecclefiatlical and a Civil Court. It was far from confifting of Ecclesiastics only. Lay Assessors (or, as they were termed, " political Delegates") fat, with the Spiritual Deputys, in that Great Assembly. Consequently, 3. A Court, formed on this mixed Plan, was the properest Court in the World to judge a fet of Mildoers, whole Crimes were of a mixed Nature. The Arminians had finned, equally, against Church and State. The Civil Power contented itself with laying hold on two or three of the most dangerous and Instammatory: and configned the rest to a mixed Tribunal, consisting of Churchmen and of Laymen. Could any Government have acted with more Prudence, Temper, and Equity?——4. After all, what if some of the Arminians resused to sit in the Synod, when that Favor was offer'd them? We shall soon see that this was actually the Case.

"But the Synod of Dort did not profess to condemn " these Delinquents, for their State-Offences; but for " their Doctrinal Deviations from the Purity of the Pro-" testant Faith." Be it fo. The Arminians were liable to Two very heavy Charges: viz. of Undermining the Public Safety; and of Seeking to overthrow the Reformed Religion. When Two Indictments thus hang over a Man's Head, One of which, if proved, will suffice to incapacitate him, forever, from doing any further Mischief, and the Man be actually found Guilty of that One; what Reason can be affigned, for Trying him on the Other? He could but be condemned, if convicted of a Thousand Crimes. -The Synod of Dort fixed on One of the two Charges against the Arminians. It was a Matter of Indifference, on which of the two they should procede. That fingle Charge being demonstratively proved, there was no fort of Occasion for their examining the Merits of the Second. All the Purposes, both of Church and State, were answered, without farther Trouble; and without exposing the malpractices of the Arminians, beyond what absolute Necessity required. That Sect were, already, sufficiently the (k) Objects ⁽k) Before Matters were reduced again, to their first Protestant Settlement, by the Synod of Dort; 'tis impossible to express the popular Odium, under which the Disciples of Arminius labor'd, for having so wantonly and violently unhinged the pub-

Objects of public Indignation. It would have been unmerciful, to have needlessly ript open the Whole of their Criminality; when amply enough of it appeared, to justify every hostile Step, taken against them by the Synod.

Thirteen Arminian (1) Teachers were summoned to appear at Dort. On their Arrival in that City, their three Chiefs (viz. Episcopius, Corvinus, and Dwingson) waited privately on our Bishop Carleton, in Hopes of being able to prejudice him in their Favor. That found and trufty Church of England Man gave them an exceeding cool Reception. "They intreated me," fays his Lordship, "to mediate for "them, that Grevinchovius might be admitted to their " Company. I told them, that The [Dutch] Church had Deposed Grevinchovius, and the States had approved the " Deposition: and therefore I could not meddle in that Thing. "Yet they were very earnest. I told them, I would fend for my Colleagues; and they should have a common Answer. Whilst we staid for my Fellows, I fell into some speech with Corvinus, concerning some Things which he had written: and found him nothing constant in those Things which he hath published. When the rest fof the British " Divines] came, They gave the same Answer.

" Corvinus came to Mr Mayer, the Professor of Basil, and told him, that he [viz. Corvinus] was drawn into these troublesome Courses by Others: and shewed some R r
" Distince,

lic Peace, "All," fays Monsieur Bayle from Curcellæus, "was in an Uproar and Consuson: and in this Consist no Man was more exposed to the Imprecations of the Populace, than the most Learned among the Arminians because they were looked upon as the first Cause of these Disorders."—Vol. II. p. 793.

⁽¹⁾ Their Names follow. Les, Wezek, Hollinger, Episcopius, Corvinus, Dwinglon, Poppius, Rijckwaert, Pynacker, Sapma, Goswinius, Mathissus, and Niellins.——Acta Syn. p. 18, 19.

Of all these, Episcopius was, by far, the ableit and most learned. He and Grotius were the greatest Men the Arminians and Socinians ever had to boast of.

"- Diflike, as if he meant to withdraw himself from then? " [i. e. from the Arminian Party, by whom he had been " inveigled] (m)."—The Bishop adds: "We hear, that the JESUITS are much offended at the Synod. It must be " fome great Good, that offends them (n)." The Jesuits, it must be confessed, had Reason enough to be "offended" with the Meeting of this glorious Protestant Synod. But it makes very little for the Credit of any professed Protestimes, to stumble at the same Stone with the Disciples of Lovola.

Nothing could excede the Infolence, the Perverseness, and the studied Chicanery, with which the Arminians, through the course of their Appearance in the Synod, exercifed the Humility and Patience of the venerable Assembly.

Had the Arminians been required to hold up their Hands at the Bar of that Court, it had been no more than strict Justice would have authorized. But, instead of thus treating them with Ignominy, the Synod, with much Candor, defired them to fit: for which Purpose, a long Table had been provided, furrounded with Chairs and Forms, in the middle of the Synod-house (0). As soon as they were feated, the President politely informed them, That he had, at their Request, moved the Synod to grant them longer Time; but that the Deputies of the States were pleased to order their Appearance then, and that they should have Liberty to open their Caufe themselves (p).

Episcopius, instead of reciprocating the Civilitys which himself and his Party had received, rose sullenly from his Chair, and gave the Assembly to understand, that he and his Associates were come, ad Collationem instituendam; i. e. not to appear as Defendants, but to open a Conference with the Synod: and That they [the Arminians] were ready, even at that prefent, to begin the Business they came for, without farther Delay (q).

⁽m) Bishop Carleton's Letter from Dort to the Archbishop of Canterbury .- Hales's Rem. 173, 175. See also, p, 53.

⁽⁰⁾ Mr Hales's Letters to Sir D. Carle. (n) Ibid p. 175.

Polyander, the Leyden Professor, took Occasion to animadvert on the Haughtiness of the above Speech. "The Arminians" (said that great Man) "ought to know, that they were not sent for, to hold a Conference: nor does the Synod sit here as an adverse Party to them. Conferences have been held with em often enough, in Time past: and all to no Purpose. They should recollect, that they were not now called hither to confer, but were cited to give in their Opinions, with the Reasons by which those Opinions are supported. The Synod fit as Judges, not as Opponents, of the Arminians (r)."

To provoke the Synod into rigorous Measures, seems to have been the Wish and Design of the Arminian Faction; that they might have some plausible Color of Complaint, and be able to spread an artificial Mist before the public Eye: just as the Cuttle-Fish, when in Danger of being taken, emits an inky Fluid, to darken the Water, and savor its own Escape.—"You are incompetent Judges," said the Arminians to the Synod: "You are Schismatics, Innovators, and Cherishers of Schism. Not you, but the Civil Magistrate, have a Right to adjust our Controsity versys (s)."

Could any Thing be more infolent, more fearrilous, and more untrue? Here is an Handful of novel Schilmatics, whose Separation from the Reformed Churches had began but about fourteen or fifteen Years before, charging the Reformed Churches themselves with Schifm and Innovation! Ravaillac, who murdered Henry the Fourth of France, might with equal Reason, Modesty, and Truth, have labored to transfer the Name of Assassin, from himself, to Henry.

But what Reply did the President, as Mouth of the Synod, return, to the audacious, indecent, and false In-R r 2 vectives vectives of the Arminians? He answered, with all the Dignity and Gentleness which might be expected from so great a Man. "When it shall be made plain to the Synod," faid he, "what the received Doctrine of the Church has 66 been; then will it appear, who they are that have receded from her Doctrine, and on which of the two Partys " the Guilt of Schism is justly chargeable. If you except " against Us Members of this Assembly, merely because " our Religious Sentiments are different from Your own; " by what Tribunal would you wish to be Tryed? By 45 Yourselves? or by the Papists? or by the Anabaptists? or by the Libertines? or by some other Faction in these " Countries? Even supposing we actually were the Schis-" matics you have styled us; yea, were we Scribes and Pharifees, or worse than they; yet would the present Synod, as fuch, be a lawful Court. For, it is called " and empower'd by the Civil Government, whose Authority cannot be questioned. It is composed of Dele-" gates and Representatives, regularly chosen and deputed. Every Individual has also taken a solemn Oath, to deof cide according to Justice. If all this will not suffice to " render us competent Judges, what can (t)?" The Arminians had nothing to offer, in Opposition to President Bojermann's cool and folid Reasonings, but saucy Cavilo and vain Janglings.

⁽⁴⁾ Ibid. (7) Ibid. p. 30. (1) Ibid. p. 37, 38.

The Learned Mr John Hales very justly wonders at the shameless Indecency of Episcopius and his Comrades: "It "was much, that they should grow to that Boldness, as "that, openly, they should call the Synod, the Seculars, the Chief Magistrates, yea the Prince of Orange himself, "Schismatics (u)." But the Dutch Arminians had not yet learned the profitable Lesson of Absolute Obedience to the Civil Power. Their Brethten in England were wifer; and, almost as soon as they arose, began to profess an unbounded Subjection to the Will of the Chief Magistrate.

Magistrate. This it was, that saved them from James's iron Hand, and even listed them into Favor. 'Twas by this Clasper, that the Tendrils of Arminian Novelty twined round the Royal Leg of James; and, asterwards, under Charles the First, slorished as a green Bay Tree in the Court of the King's House.

After the Synod of Dort had long borne with the grossest Insults at the Hands of the Arminians, it was agreed, That the said Arminians should be admonished to behave, for the stuture, with more Decency and Respect. At the same Time, a Decree of the States was read to those Sectarists: importing, that Whereas the Arminians had made many dilatory Answers to the Injury [i. e. to the Hinderance] both of the Ecclesiastics and Seculars; it was decreed by them [i. e. by the States], that they [the Arminians] should lay aside all frivolous Exceptions and dilatory Answers, and forthwith procede to set down their Mind concerning the Five Articles, for which End they were come together (x).

Episcopius now began to draw in his Horns, and pretend to some Degree of Veneration for the States. "In the Imputation of Schism," said he, "we include not the Seculars, but the Ecclesiastics only." Ridiculous! As if the Ecclesiastics and the Seculars were not of one Mind, and embarqued in the same Cause!

The President then urged the Arminians to give an Anfwer, whether or no they would fet down their Minds concerning the Points in Controversy. But they still slew from the Point: alledging, as before, that "the Synod were not their competent Judges." The President asked, By whom then are you willing to be Judged? They insolently replyed, "That's a Question which we will not Answer: suffice it, that we except against this Synod." Remember, said the Secular President, that You are Subjects, and ought to shew decent Respect to the Laws of your Country. The Magistrates," answered the Arminians, "have no

"Authority over our Consciences (y)." True. But this was not the Article in Question. The Magistracy did not pretend to prescribe to the Arminians what they should believe; but only claimed a Right to know, from their own Mouths, what they did believe. They were called thither by the State, not to have a Creed obtruded upon them, but Ut Sententiam SUAM dilucide & perspicue exponerent & defenderent: i. e, in Order to give them an Opportunity of sairly and clearly proposing and defending THEIR OWN Doctrinal Principles (z). What Shadow of Magisterial, or of Ecclesiastical Tyranny, was there in This?

Still the Arminians refused to give any Account of their own positive Tenets. They would not so much as carry on the Conference they had pretended to defire, unless they might be permitted to begin with an Attack on the Doctrine of Reprobation (a): to which the Synod objected. Reprobation, or Præterition, is but a negative Consequence of Election. Election, therefore, ought, as first in Order of Nature, to be first confidered: for, how absurd would it be, to discuss the naked Conclusion, without antecedently canvaffing the Premisses! So that, in proposing such a wild and illogical Method of Procedure, the Arminians at the Synod of Dort acted neither as Men of Peace, nor as Men of Honesty, nor as Men of Sense, They pretended, indeed, that it was "a Matter of Con-" science with them, to put Reprobation foremost." But, as the Synod very reasonably observed, "The Prætext of " Conscience was idle and absurd. Conscience is converfant with Matters of Faith and Practice. But how can " Conscience be interested in what relates simply to the " mere Order and Arrangement of a Disputation? as, whether Præterition, or Election, shall be handled first. Great ⁽y) Ibid. p. 39, 40.—Alfo, Asta Synodi; à p. 89. ad p. 92. where the whole of that Afternoon's Debate is much more largely and more accurately related, than in the English Letters.

⁽z) Hales, Ibid. p. 41.

⁽a) Hales, Ibid. p. 56.

Great Complaint had been made, by the Arminians, against the Palatine Catechism and Confession. A Paper, containing their Objections, was delivered to the Synod. Hear Mr Hale's Remarks on that frivolous Paper, so far as related to the Confession. "These Considerations are " nothing else but Queries, upon some Passages of the " [Palatine] Confession, of little or no Moment. So that it seems a Wonder unto many, how these Men si. e. " the Arminians] who, for so many Years past, in so many "of their Books, have threatened the Churches with such wonderfull Discoverys of Falsehood and Error in their "Confession and Catechism, should at last produce such " poor, impertinent Stuff. There is not, I persuade 66 myfelf, any Writing in the World, against which, Wits, " disposed to wrangle, cannot take Abundance of such Ex-" ceptions (b)."

The Affair of Reprobation was again, with equal Art and Insolence, resumed by the Arminians. Nothing would content them, but making Reprobation take the Lead of Election: and the stale Plea of "Conscience" was repetedly utged. "As for Conscience," reply'd the Synod, "the " Word of God is the Rule of it. Only prove from Scripture, that God has prescribed the Mode of Disputation you contend for; we'll immediately admit that Mode to be a Matter of Conscience, and allow you to procede in your own Way (c)." Mr Hales very juffly remarks, that, By thus stiffly urging their [Pretence of] Conscience, the Arminians did exceedingly wrong the Decree of the States and Synod, as if by them something against the Word of God, some Impiety, were commanded (d): Whereas, in Reality, the Command was only, that firfly should go before fecondly; that the Chain of Disquisition should commence, at the right Link; and that every Point of Enquiry should procede regularly, and in its own natural Order. -" No," rejoined Episcopius, in the Name of his Armiine is much more largely R 14 . nian nian Brethren: " unless we be at absolute Liberty to per-" fue what Method of Argumentation we please, and to 46 begin with whatever Article we ourselves chuse, we will " not move a Step. For, we are RESOLVED, agere pro Ju-" dicio nostro, non pro Judicio Synodi; to act according to " OUR OWN Pleasure, and not according to the Pleasure " of the Synod (e)." You fland, reply'd the Synodical Prefident, in the Presence of God, and in the Presence of your Lawfull Magistrates. 'Tis, moreover, a Gause wherein the Church of Christ is concerned: the Peace of which Church, fuch Behavior as Your's is by no means calculated to promote.-" My Conscience will not let me act otherwise," answered Episcopius. Which impertinent Allegation the President, with much Dignity of Patience and Strength of Reason, repelled as before: Adde Verbum Dei, shew us upon what Text of Scripture your Conscience is grounded; otherwise, you wrong both the Magistrates and the Synod (f). But Episcopius and his Brethren had no fuch Passage of Scripture to produce.

⁽b) Ibid! pagg. (c) Hales, Ibid. p. 59. (d) Ibid.

What could the Synod do? The Arminians would not dispute, unless they might be permitted to dispute backward, as a Crab walks: i. e. unless they were allowed to turn all due Method up-side down, and to obtrude their own perverse and unheard-of Rules on the Synod.——Neither would they give a fair and direct Answer to such Questions as the Synod should put to them.—In a Word, so refractory and untractable were these new Sectarists, that they would ⁽e) Ibid. p. 60.

⁽f) On observing the Obstinacy, with which the Arminians infisted upon opening the Trenches against Reprobation, antecedently to Election; the Learned Lydius took Occasion to remind the Synod, that "It was the usual Practice of those who favor'd Pela-"GIANISM, to begin with kicking up a Dust against Reprobation." Nothing can be more true.

would neither (g) set in the Synod, as Members of it; nor yet appear before It, in Quality of (what they indeed were by all the legal Authority of the Civil Power) a cited Party.

-Mr

(g) Though the Dutch Arminians, both as a political and as a schismatical Sect, were extremely obnoxious to the Laws of their Country, and very criminal Enemys to its Civil and Religious Constitution; yet, by an almost unparalleled Excess of Candor and Moderation, the Synod of Dort actually permitted Epifcopius and the other Arminian Delegates from Utrecht, to take their Seats in the Synod, as Members and Judges: and, in the faid Synod of Dort, the faid Arminian Delegates might have continued to fit, had they agreed to a few necessary and equitable Conditions; viz. 1. If they would promife and engage, not to consider themselves as determined Devoices to a Party, but as candid Investigators of Truth at large: 2. If they would neither aid; counsel, nor abett the other cited Arminians: Nor, 3. præmaturely divulge the Acts of the Synod: Nor, 4. delay it's Proceedings by any needless or unseasonable Interruptions. The Arminians rejected these reasonable Terms of Alliance: and, in Consequence of this their Haughtiness, Refractoriness, and Temerity, they themselves as fairly vacated their own Seats (See Hales, u. f. p. 34.), as ever James the Second vacated the Throne of England.

On the whole, I am quite at a Loss to know, what a very Capital Writer intends, by the "proud Cruelty" of the Synod of Dort. (See The Confessional, p. 77). I can discern no Glimpse, either of Cruelty, or of Pride, in any Part of that Synod's Behavior to the Arminians. But, in the Behavior of the Arminians to the Synod, I can see Pride, Envy, Malice, and Uncharitableness, little short of Luciferian. Nor did the President at all exaggerate, when he told them, at their final Dismission from the Assembly, Sinceritati, Lenitati, Mansuetudini Synodi, Fraudes, Artes, Mendacia opposuissis. He might have added, Arrogantiam, ct Inurbanitatem. One of the Arminian Ministers, Sapma by Name, crowned the Insolence of his Party, with the following Speech, when he quitted the Synod: Exeo, said he, turning on his Heel, ex Ecclesia Malignantium! i. e, "Thus depart I from the Congregation of Malignantium! i. e, "Thus depart I from the Congregation of Malignants!"—Hales, Ibid. p. 77.

Mr Hales, writing from Dort to Sir D. Carleton, who was then at the Hague, thus expressed himself, in relation to the Contumacy and Petulance of the Arminians: "The " State of our Synod now suffers a great Crisis; and, one Way or other, there must be an Alteration. Either the Remonstrant [i. e. the Arminian Party] must yield, and fubmit himself to the Synod, of which I see no great Probability; or elfe, the Synod must vail to "Them: which to do [i. e. for the Synod to accom-" modate itself to the perverse Humors of the Arminians], " farther than it hath ALREADY done, I fee not how it can stand with their Honor [i. e. with the Honor and " Dignity of the Synod]. - But the Synod, " bearing an Inclination to Peace, and wifely confidering " the Nature of their People, resolved yet farther, tho' they 46 had yielded sufficiently unto them already, yet to try " a little more, &c. (h)." The Prefident recommended to the Assembly, "To consider, whether there might not 66 be found some Means of Accommodation, which might " mollify the Remonstrants [i. e. soften the Obstinacy of " the Arminians], and yet stand well with the Honor of " the Synod (i)." What could be more healingly and more meekly faid? But the Arminian Fierceness was too harsh and stubborn to be moderated by any lenient Measures. And, hitherto, none but fostening Measures had been tryed. For, those Decrees of the Synod, extorted from the Synod by Dint of Infolence, and which carry'd any Implication of feeming Severity, were, as Mr Hales observes, "mere " Powder without Shot, which gives a Clap, but does no "Harm (k):" Infomuch that, as the fame unprejudiced Writer adds, "Some thought the Synod had been too favorable to the Remonstrants already; and that it were " best now not to hold them, if they would be going: " fince, hitherto, they [the Remonstrants, or Arminians] trary, meant hereafter to be, an Hinderance to all peaceable and orderly Proceedings (1)." And such they most undoubtedly were, in every Respect, and on every Occasion.

रेस्ट्राइटर, इंस्ट्रेस्ट्राइटर,

⁽b) Hales, u. f. p. 63.

⁽i) Ibid. p. 64. (k) Ibid. + .

As they perfished in a peremptory Refusal to give any Account, either of their Faith, or of the Reasons on which it was grounded; there remained but one Thing for the Synod to do: which was, to convict them of Error, from their own Writings, which they themselves had formerly published to the World (m). In the Discussion of which Arminian Writings, the following Departments fell to the British Divines, in Consequence of a Plan previously settled among themselves: "We have now," said Dr Balcanqual, " divided the Business among us. Dr WARD's Part is, " To refute the Arminian Dostrine of a Decree to fave Men, " consider'd as Believers. My Lord of LANDAFF's Part is, To Answer and solve such Arguments, as the Arminians " are wont to urge, in Behalf of that general Decree. Doc-" tor (n) GoAD's Part is, To refute the Aminian Tenet of " Election on Faith foreseen; and to prove, in Opposition to it, that Faith, is [not the Cause, or Condition, but]. " the FRUIT, and EFFECT, of Election. Doctor DAVE-" NANT'S Part is, To vindicate the Orthodox Docarine of " Election, from the Objections alledged against it by the Ar-" minians. My Part is, To encounter all the Arguments in general, which the Arminians bring, against the Orthodox " [i. e. against the Calvinistic] Scheme (o)."

The Arminian Teachers were, in the End, deposed from their Ministry, by the Synod; and the Sentence of Depo-

(1) Ibid. (m) Ibid. p. 69, & 74.

⁽n) Doctor Hall having been forced to retire from Dort, on Account of his ill State of Health; the King sent over, in his Room, Dr Thomas Goad, Archbishop Abbot's Chaplain.

⁽o) Dr Balcanqual to Sir D. Carlton; Append. to Hales, u. f. P. 72, 73.

Deposition was ratify'd by the States.—The Divines from England, having first entered a Proviso in Favor of Episcopacy, testify'd their entire Consent to the (p) Dutch Consession of Faith, so far as Matters of Doctrine were concerned. Which Testification of Consent was as strong a Proof as they could give, of their rooted Attachment to the strictest Principles of Calvin (q).

"On the 29th of April [1619], the Synod ended. The "States, to express their Gratitude, bestowed on the English Divines, at their Departure, Two Hundred Pounds, to bear their Charges in their Return (r). Besides, a Golden Medal, of good Value, was given to every one of them, whereon the sitting of the Synod was artificially represented.—And now these [five British] Divines, who, for many Months, had, in a Manner, been fastened to their Chair and Desks; thought it a Right due to themselves, that, when their Work was ended, they might begin their Recreation. Wherefore they view'd the most eminent Citys in the Low-Gountrys; and, at all Places, were bountifully received, (p) Fuller's Church Hift. Book X. p. 81. (q) See the Dutch Confession, at full Length, in the Syntagma Confessionum, p. 163-185.

" Leyden

⁽r) That the Bisnop and Clergymen from England might be able, while in Holland, to support a Style of Living, suitable to the Dignity of the Church they represented; they were allowed, by the States General, Ten Pounds, Sterling, per Day. At the Conclusion of their spiritual Embassy, they received an additional Present, as Fuller informs us above, of 2001, to defray their Expences homeward. Mrs Macaulay (a Name superior to all Encomium) acquaints us, That each of them received that Sum, to his own respective Share; That they were jointly complimented with "An Acknowledgement of the Excellency of the Constitution," of the Church of England; and that the Dutch regretted that "the Conveniency of their own State did not admit of the same "System of Subordination." Mrs Macaulay's Hist. of Eng. Vol. I. p. 117. Oct.

- Leyden (s) only excepted. This gave Occasion
- "to that Passage in the Speech of Sir Dudley Carlton, the English Embassador, when, in the Name of his Master,
- "he tender'd the States public Thanks, for their great
- " Respects to the English Divines; using Words to this
- "Effect: That they had been entertained at Amsterdam,
- " welcomed at the Hague, chearfully received at Rotterdam,
- " kindly embraced at Utrecht, &c. and that they had SEEN
- " Leyden (t)."

It must not be forgot, that the Reformed Churches in France would very gladly have deputed a select Number of their Body, to represent them at the Synod at Dort, and to assist in the Condemnation of Arminianism: but the French King, like a sturdy Catholic, restrained them from this step, by his peremptory Prohibition. He could not, however, restrain the Protestant Clergy of that Kingdom from solemnly receiving and approving the Decisions of Dort, in a National Synod, hold at Alex, in 1619 (u).

On the Return of our five Divines to England, their first Care was, to wait on King James. As they enter'd the

It feems, the Apartment, in which the Synod was held; and the Seats, on which the Members of it sat; are, to this Day, carefully preserved at Dort, in Statu quo, and shewn to Travellers.—See the Complete Syst. of Geogr. Vol. I. p. 573.

⁽¹⁾ The cold Reception, which our Divines, who had been so eminently active in the Synod of Dort, met with, at Legden; is easily accounted for. Arminius, Vorsius, and Episcopius, had successively filled the Divinity-Chair of that University: and, as King James expresses it, had "infested" many of the Academics "with Heresse."—But, in a short Time after the Synod was held, the "Infestion" ceased: and the University of Leyden, recovering, at once, it's Orthodoxy and it's Credit, has since given both Education and Residence to as great Men, as ever adorned the Republics of Religion and Learning. In the present Age, indeed (referenti doler), both Learning and Religion seem to be at a Dead Stand, in almost every Part of Europe.

⁽¹⁾ Fuller, u. f. 82. (u) Du Pin's Hist. of the Church, Vol. IV. p. 253 — Edit. 1724. Duodecimo.

the Palace Court, his Majesty saw them from a Window, and faid, with an Emotion of fensible Pleasure, 45 Here " come my good Mourners:" they being in Mourning for the Queen, who had dyed during their Absence. "Then," adds Fuller, "after courteous entertaining of them, he favorably dismissed them; and, asterwards, on Three of them bestowed Preferment: removing (x) Carleton [from

the

(x) Bishop Carleton was a Prelate of very elevated Parts, and of very diffinguished Literature: and no Man ever adher'd more steadily to the Doctrines of the Church of England. Let me briefly exemplify this latter Feature of his Character, by two very 1. He could not endure the Tenet of a Redempflriking Proofs. tion absolutely universal: Utterly denying it to be (they are his own Words) "a Truth of the Scripture, or the Doctrine of the Church " of England." For, as his Lordship unanswerably argued, Wheresoever the Grace of Redemp.ion goeth, there goeth also " Remission of Sins:" so that, if we admit the Grace of Redemption "to be common to All," we must "admit also, that All Men " have Remission of Sins." See his Letters, annex'd to Haler's Rem. p. 180. ____ 2. Many Years after, in the Arminian Reign of Charles the First, his Lordship published, in direct Opposition to the Court System, his valuable Defence of the pure Doctrines of the Established Church, against the high Insolencys and the low Afrersions of that Learned, but profligate Pelagian Theorist, Dr Richard Mountagu; whom the positive and misguided Charles raised, foon after, to an Episcopal Chair, in open Defiance of Church, of Parliament, and of every prudential and religious Restraint.

Our good Bishop Carleton acquitted himself, at the Synod of Dort, so much to King James's Satisfaction, that he translated him to Chichester, within about 4 Months after his Return. His next Translation was to Heaven; in 1628. On whose Decease, Dr Mountagu, abovemention'd, became his unworthy Successor at Chichester: with such an high Hand of Insult did Arminianism. under Charles and Laud, begin to carry all before it!

Mr Camden's Attestation to Carleton's Merit, deserves to be noted: "I loved him," said that Learned Antiquarian, "for his excellent Preficiency in Divinity and other polite Parts of Learning." See Biegr. Dist. Vol. 111. p. 68.

"the Bishopric of Landass to Chichester; preferring Davenant to [the See of] Salisbury; and bestowing the Mastership of the Savoy on Balcanqual. So returned they all, to their several Professions: Bishop Carleton, to the carefull Governing of his Diocess; Doctor Davenant, besides his Collegiate Cure, to his constant Lectures in the [University-] Schools; Dr Ward, to his discrete Ordering of his own College; Dr Goad, to his diligent Discharging of domestical Dutys in the Family of his Lord and Patron; and Mr Balcanqual, to his Fellowship in Pembroke-Hall (y)."

Some pacific Disquisitions, concerning the Extent of Redemption, having amicably and privately passed, among the English Divines at Dort; several Arminian Writers (equally disposed to magnify a Barly-corn into a Mountain, or reduce a Mountain to a Barly-corn, as convenient Occasion may require) have labor'd to raise, on the narrow Bottom of that flender Incident, the following enormous Pile of Falsehood: viz. that the said Divines were for absolutely unlimited Redemption. But it so happens, that those excellent Divines, tho' Dead, are yet able to speak for themselves. Consult the Records of the Synod itself. and then judge. And for the mere English Reader, the ensuing Passage, from a Letter, written, at Dort, by the British Divines themselves, and sent to the Archbishop of Canterbury, subscribed by the Hands of them All; will at once demonstrate, how infinitely distant our Religious Plenipotentiarys' were, from Arminianizing in the Article of Redemption. That Passage runs, verbatim, thus: "Nor do we, with the Remonstrants, leave at large the Benefit of our Savior's Death, as only propounded leosely to All, ex æque, and to be applied by the arbitrary Act of Man's Will; but we EXPRESSLY AVOUCH, for the 66 Behoof of the Elect, a special Intention, both in Christ's อ. ช ุตธกระทุนัน Offering.

^{50 . (}y) Foller, Ibid. p. 84.

" Offering, and God the Father accepting: and, from that ." Intention, a particular Application of that Sacrifice, by conferring Faith, and other Gifts, infallibly bring the Elect to Salvation (2)."

The Transactions of the Synod of Dort have given grievous Offence, to more than One class of Men. A late respectable Compiler, to whose literary Endeavors the Friends of Civil and of Religious Liberty are under confiderable Obligation, raises two Objections, in particular, against that renowned Assembly. As I honor the Memory, and value the Labors, of the worthy Objector; I shall weigh his Remarks attentively, tho' with Brevity.

(1.) We are told, that "Whoever calls to Mind the Deprivations, and Banishment, which followed the Decisions of this Synod, of such great Men as Episcopius, Utenbogart, Corvinus, &c. and the Persecution, which ensued, throughout the United Provinces, against the Arminians; will be apt to entertain but a poor Opinion of those Men who were Actors in it (a)." To clear this Matter, let it be remembered, 1. That, if the Decisions of the Synod were followed by any Thing that refembled a Persecution of the Arminians, such seeming Persecution ⁽z) Added to the End of Halles's Rem. p. 185.

The gross Slander, cast, by certain Writers, on the above Divines, as tho' the latter were in Arminius's licentious Scheme of indiscriminate Redemption; reminds me of a similar Fastehood, launched by Mr Wat Sellon: to-wit, that Archbishop User, and Bishop Davenant, dyed Arminians. To this stat Untruth 1, at present, only oppose a stat Denial: because the said Sellon does no more than nakedly affirm the Premisses, without cloathing his Assirtantion with a single Rag of Proof. My simple Negatur, therefore, uncloathed as it is, needs not be ashamed. A naked no is as good as a naked yes.—Let me add, however, that I am ready to cloath my Side of the Question (tho' a Negative) with Proof, when called upon to produce it.

⁽a) Dr William Harris's Life of King James the First, p. 127, 128.

Perfecution was the Act, not of the Synod, but of the Civil Power: and how were the Members of that Synod accountable for the Conduct of the fecular Magistrate? especially, for a Conduct which did not take place; 'till long enough after the Synod had ceased to sit?—2. Even supposing (what I can by no Means grant) that the Synod actually did perfecute the Arminians; yet, certain it is, that the Arminians themselves gave the first Blow, and perfecuted the Dutch Protestants, long before the Dutch Protestants are seigned to have persecuted the Arminians. And, tho' nothing can justify Persecution, even when it amounts to no more than a Retaliation; still, it is but too natural for a persecuted Party (as the Dutch Calvinists had undeniably been) to take the first Opportunity of turning the Tables on their Oppressors.

When the Arminian Faction, in Holland, began to gather Strength and come to an Head; fo fiercely intolerant was the Bigotry, with which they espoused their new System, that they meditated, and in part accomplished, an absolute Suppression of such Magistrates, Ministers, and even military Officers, as discovered a Resolution to abide by the old Doctrines of the Reformation (b). Legal Magistrates were riotously deposed; Legal Pastors were deprived by violence; and the Orthodox even among the Commonalty were liable to Loss of Property, Loss of perfonal Liberty, and to every vexatious Injury, which the new Sect were ab'e to devise. So furiously did the Arminians drive, at first setting off; that, as far as their Power extended, not a Calvinistic Minister was suffer'd to exercife his Function. All Freedom of Conscience was denyed: nothing would content the Drivers, but a total Extinction of the Reformed Interest, and that Arminianism Ss should should reign without a Partner and without Limitation. Sedition, Tumult, Rapine, Imprisonment, and Banishment, were the gentle Instruments, made use of by the Arminians, to establish their pretended Theory of Universal Love!

⁽b) See Wilson's Hift. of James I.—Complete Hist. Vol. II. P. 715, 718.—Also, Hickman again Heylyn, p. 101, 102.

All this happen'd, a confiderable Time before the Synod of Dort affembled: and was, in Reality, one Reason why that Synod was convened. Complaints, therefore, of Perfecution, would have come with an exceding ill Grace from the Mouths of the Arminian Faction, if the Synod had even meted to them the same Measure which themfelves had so liberally dealt to their innocent Neighbors .-But I must add, 3. that the Arminians were NOT persecuted in Return, so far as I have been able to find. in some Degree, they were: but Punishment and Persecution are effentially different. Social Enormity justly exposes an Offender to the former: tho' no Religious Errors, how great and many foever, can justly subject a Person to the latter. Shall the twelve Judges of England be styled twelve Persecutors, because they vindicate the Majesty of Law against its Transgressors? Shall legal Prosecution, and legal Punishment, be denominated Persecution, where the Offence is of a secular Nature, and adequate in Degree to the inflicted Penalty? Weigh the political Vices of the first Arminians; and then pronounce them persecuted, if you can .- Nor must I omit to observe, 4. on the Credit of a very candid and capable Writer, that, notwithstanding the due Indignation of the Dutch States against the focial Crimes of the primitive Arminians; the faid States, highly Calvinific as they were, consented that "the mere ... Arminian," who did not connect Turbulence and Sedition with religious Mistakes, should be "continued and 66 cherished in the Bosom of the Church (c)." The same Learned and accurate Author adds, that Episcopius himself, even that very Episcopius who had flown in the Face of the Synod Synod and of his Country, was hardly displaced from his Leyden Professor-ship, before he was permitted; "both at "Rotterdam and Amsterdam, to enjoy an honorable and significant sufferment (c)." With such exemplary Moderation did the Dutch Calvinists use the Victory which God had given them!

(2.) Doctor Harris's other Complaint is; that " The "Kings, Princes, and great Men concerned [in the Synod " of Dort], had, undoubtedly, worldly Views, and were " actuated by them: for tho' Purity of Doctrine, Peace of the Church, Extirpation of Herefy, were pretended; " the State-Faction of the Arminians was to be suppressed, 44 and That of Maurice, Prince of Orange, exalted (d)." I am glad, that the Impartiality of this respectable Writer induced him to term those Arminians a "flate", i. e. a fecular or political Faction: for fuch they were. And, if fo, why might not political Persons, legally invested with just Authority, seek to tye up the Hands of a pernicious political Faction from doing any farther political Mischief? Be it so, then, that Prince Maurice had his " worldly 46 Views" in filing down the Tusks of some restless Arminians. The Preservation of the United Provinces from relapfing under the Yoke of Spain was, indeed, a "worldly " View," but a very lawfull and a very expedient Onc. Antecedently to the affembling of the Synod; Providence had so ordered Events, that the Interests of pure Religion and of public Policy were happily twisted together. Hence resulted the Dordrechtan 'Alliance between Church and State,' A Consequence whereof was, that two Birds of Prey were disabled, at one Shot: viz. Doctrinal Error. and Civil Sedition. Nor unreasonably: for, the Poyson being compound, why should the Antidote be fingle?

Sir Richard Baker, tho' a very high-principled Historian, mentions the Synod of Dort, in Terms of remarkable Moderation and Respect. It was assembled, says he, "To

^{$ $ 2 &}quot; examine

- es examine and determine the Doctrine of Arminius, 1.
- " Concerning God's Predestination, Election, and Repro-
- " bation: 2. Concerning Christ's Death, and Man's Re- " demption by it: 3. Concerning Man's Corruption, and
- " Conversion to God: 4. Concerning the Perseverance of
- " the Saints. In all which Points, the Doctrine of Ar-
- " minius was rejected, as also of Vorstius; and THE TRUE
- " DOCTRINE established by a general Consent, toge-
- ther with the Approbation of the Lords the States.
- "Which yet the PAPISTS made fo little Reckoning of,
- " that One of them, in Scorn, made Echo to censure it
- " [i. e. to censure the Synod] in this Distich:
 - " Dordraci Synodus? Nodus. Chorus integer? Æger. Conventus? Ventus. Sessio Stramen? Amen.
- 66 But who knows not, that Ill will never speaks well?
- 44 and that nothing is fo obvious, in the Mouth of an
- Adversary, as Scandals and Invectives (e)?"—Let this be a Word in Season, to Mr Wesley and his Man Watty: and restrain 'em, in Time to come, from singing in Chorus with "the Papists," by traducing the Synod of Dort.

Thus have we traced King James's Doctrinal Perseverance in Orthodoxy, down to the Year 1619, inclusively: and the Church kept Pace with his Majesty. His having interested himself, so zealously, in the Condemnation of Arminianism, struck the secret Favorers of that System, in England, with a temporary Stupor. Even Land was forced to lye still, and to roll his Principles, in private, as a sweet Morsel, under his Tongue; 'till a more savorable Day should invite them to walk abroad with safety.—

James was always very suspicious of Laud's Orthodoxy: and the Reluctance, with which he listed him to Episcopal Rank, supplys us with another very strong Proof of the Monarch's Calvinism.

The

The authorized Bibles, during the first Nine Years of 'James's Reign, were those of Queen Elizabeth; enriched with fuch Marginal Annotations, as we have produced fufficient Samples of, in the preceding Section. defired to fignalize his own Reign, by a Translation more exactly conformable to the Original Languages of the Old and New Testaments. In 1611, that Translation (used at this Day) was finished by the excellent Divines, to whose Care this great Work had been affigned, and who had spent about three Years in the important Employ. Instead of human Annotations, the Margin of this Version is very properly filled with References to parallel Scriptures: fo that the Bible is now a Commentary on Itself. If it be asked, ! Whether the antient Notes were omitted, with a simple View to render the Scripture it's own Interpreter?' I must confess, that this is a Question which I can answer by Conjecture alone. And my Conjecture is, that James's suspicious Policy was afraid to entrust even the Bishops and Clergymen of the Church of England, concerned in this Translation, with the Insertion of any Marginal Notes at all; lest some Remark or other might flip in, tending to emblazon the Wickedness and Absurdity of Despotic Power. He was a better Textuary, than to be ignorant, that there are a Multitude of Passages, and of Instances, in the inspired Volume, which grind the Doctrine of Non-Resistence to Powder, and disperse its Atoms in empty Air. Better, therefore, in James's Opinion, to forego all Explications whatever, than to run the Risque of rendering those unfavorable Passages more visible than they render themselves. This I (e) conceive to have been

⁽e) Since the above was written, I recollected to have formerly met with something, in the Account of the Hampton Court Conference, relative to the Omission of Marginal Notes from the present Translation of the Bible. On recurring to that Account, I find myself warranted to assign the Reason already hinted, not as been the true Cause of the Simplicity, by which our prefent Version is distinguished.—As to the Calvinistic Doctrines, there is no Need, nor was there any Need from the first, of erecting Marginal Banners, to distinguish in what Places of Scripture they are to be found. What I observed, several Years ago, concerning the Liturgy; I now observe, concerning the Bible: Open God's Word where you will, CALVINISM stares you in the Face.

In the Year 1621, the English Arminians began to recover from the Panic, into which they had been thrown, two Years before, by the Proceedings at Dort. The King's normous (f) Concessions to the Church of Rome, in Order

to a Conjecture of my own, but as the true and undoubted Cause of the faid Omission. - Bishop Barlow informs us, that the King complained, he had never yet feen a Bible "well translated in English: but the worst of all, his Majesty thought the Geneva Bible to " be," for a Reason which quickly follows. The Royal Plantiff then expressed his Intention of having a new Translation undertaken: "and this to bee done by the best Learned in both the "Universities; after them, to be reviewed by the Bishops, and the chiefe Learned of the Church; from them, to be presented " to the Privie Counsel; and, lastly, to be ratified by his royall 46 Authority: and so this whole Church to bee bound unto It and " none other. Marrie, withall, hee gave this Caveat (upon a Word cast out by my Lord of London), that no Marginal Note, " should be added; having found, in them which are annexed to the Geneva Translation, which hee faw in a Bible given " him by an English Lady, some Notes, very partially untrue, " feditious, and favouring too much of dangerous and traiterous Conceits. As for Example: Exod i. 19, where the Marginall " Note alloweth Difobedience unto Kings." - Bishop Barlow's Summe of the Conf. p. 47, 48. (f)" It has ever been my Way," faid James, " to go with the "Church of ROME, usque ad Aras:" i. e. to symbolize with that Church, in Matters of Doctrine, Discipline, and Worship, as far as Prudence would permit, and Policy might require.—(See the Complete Hist. Vol. II. p. 767.) Indeed, the Papal Supremacy to facilitate the Conclusion of the Spanish Match, gave new Life to the Popish Party, who had the Comfort to see themselves Objects of Court Indulgence, their Religion openly protected, and their imprisoned Priests enlarged.

Where is the Wonder, that Arminianism also, taking Advantage of a Juncture so favorable, should rear its Head, unseal its Eyes, and venture into open Day?---" The "King's Mercy and Indulgence extending towards the " Papifts, taught many Men to come as near Popery as they could firetch; finding it the next Way to Preferment. . So that Arminius's Tenets flew up and down, from Pulpit 66 to Pulpit, and preaching was nothing but Declamation, 66 little tending to Edification: fuch Orthodox Ministers, as strove to refute these erroneous Opinions, being looked " upon as Puritans and Anti-monarchical (g)." To crown the Infelicitys of this memorable Year 1621, Dr Laud found means (tho' not without much Difficulty and many hard Struggles) to climb, from the Deanry of Gloucester, to the Bishopric of St David's. He was Consecrated to that See, November (b) 18. A dark Day, in the Annals of the Church of England.

It was not without Reason, that even the impolitic and undiscerning James prognosticated the bad Effects, which would probably ensue from Laud's Promotion. That Incident drew after it a Train of Consequences, which sadly warranted the Justness of his Majesty's Misgivings: and resulted in a Complication of Catastrophes, too ruinous and satal, for a much wifer Prince to have foreseen. In sact, Laud owed his Bishopric, not to the King, but to the Duke of Buckingham: into the good Graces of whom, the Arminian Ecclesiastic had infinuated himself, with extreme over Kings themselves, and the Lawfullness of King-killing, seem to have been the only popish Doctrines which he considered as indigestible.

Labor

⁽g) Wilson, in Compl. Hist. Vol. II. p. 751, 752.

⁽b) Godw. De Præf. Angl. p. 587.

Labor and Art, and by a long Series of servile and obsequious Adulation. What I, in this Place, can but barely intimate; shall appear, with sufficient Extent, if Providence give me Health and Leisure to complete my intended History of Archbishop Laud's Life and Times.

This Prelate had not worn Lawn Sleeves, much longer than eight Months; before he became instrumental in procuring, and in drawing up, a well-known Court-Paper, entitled, Directions concerning Preachers. The Third Article of these Directions enjoined, "That no Preacher, of what Title foever, under the Degree of a Bishop, or Lean, at the least; do, from henceforth, presume to preach, in any popular Auditory, the deep Points of Predestination, Election, Reprobation; or the Universality, Efficacy, Resistability, or Irresissibility, of God's Grace; but leave those Themes rather to be handled by the " Learned Men [in the two Universities]: and that moderately and modestly, by Way of Use and Application, rather than by Way of positive Doctrines; being sitter " for the Schools, than for simple Auditorys (i)." This was the first Blow, given by Royal Authority, to the Doctrinal Calvinism of the Established Church, since the Death of Mary the Bloody. For, tho' it, primâ Facie, seemed to muzzle the Arminians, no less than the Calvinistic Clergy; yet it's Design was, to bridle the latter, and leave the former at Liberty to spread their New Principles without Restraint.-The above Paper of Directions was dated from Windsor, 4 August, 1622.

Let not the Reader, however, suppose, that the King took this extraordinary Stride, out of mere Complaisance to Laud. That insidious Prelate, in promoting and in helping to frame the said Directions; only struck in with the Opportunity, and availed himself of certain political Circumstances, which had, previously, sour'd and embarrass'd the Mind of James.

The

⁽i) See Wilfon, Fulier, Heylyn (Life of Laud), &c. fub 1622.

The Case stood thus. His Majesty, in Order to strengthen his unnatural and ill-judged Union with Spain, was (k) projecting a general Toleration of Popery thoughout the British Dominions. So far is certain. And, perhaps, we should not overshoot the Mark, were we to suspect, that fomething more, than a mere Toleration, was remotely in View.

When two Houses are to be thrown into one, you must down with the Partition Wall. The Calvinistic Doctrines of the Church of England were consider'd as the interposing Barrier between Her and Popery. Tho' the King was attached to those Doctrines, in his Heart; yet, as they stood in the Way of his political Schemes, he lent his Authority to certain Arminian Engineers, who lost no Time in beginning ⁽k) This latent Intention of giving a free and full Toleration to Popery, appears, from the subsequent Transactions of the next Year, viz. 1623, when the following Articles were agreed to by James, in the Spanish Treaty: namely, That no Laws, repugnant to the Roman Catholic Religion, should, at any Time hereafter, directly, or indirectly, be commanded to be put in Execution: That the King should SWEAR to this, and That the privy Council should take the same Outh: That the King and the Prince of Wales should interpose their Authority, and do all that in them lay, to make the Parliament REVOKE and ABROGATE all Lazus, both general and particular, which had been enacted against Roman Catholics; and, That neither the King. nor the Prince of Wales when King, should ever, at any Time, confent to the Passing of any new Laws to the Prejudice of the Catholics. The Oath of each Privy Counfellor ran in these Words:

I, A. B. do sevear, that I will truly and fully observe, as much as belongeth to me, all and every of the Articles which are contained in the Treaty of Marriage between the most gracious Charles, Prince of Waies, and the most gracious Lady, Donna Maria, Infanta of Spain. Likewife, I fwear, that I will neither commit to Execution, or caufe to be executed, either by Myself, or by any inferior. Officer serving under me, any Law made against any Roman Catholic whatsoever, nor will execute any Punishment inflicted by those Laws, &c. See Mrs Macaulay's Hist. Vol. I. p. 202, 203.

ginning (not to affault and batter, but) to undermine and fap the faid Wall.

Add to This, that, when James consented to publish the above Directions converning Preachers, his Mind was chafed and nettled, by a recent Quarrel with the Parlia-He had flatter'd himself, for some Time, that his Defigns in Favor of Popery were formed with fuch Secrecy, as to elude the Vigilance of the House of Commons. But he perceived his Mistake, when Word was brought him, that those wise and zealous Guardians of the Church and Nation had prepared a very strong Remonstrance against Popery, and against the illegal Encouragement already shewn to Papifts. He was stung to the quick, at receiving this Intelligence; and prohibited the House from presenting him with an Address so peculiarly unacceptable: giving them to understand, that these were "Matters above their Reach " and Capacity;" and tended to his "high Dishonor, and 66 Breach of his Prerogative Royal (1)." What had chiefly offended him in the Remonstrance (of which he had procured a Copy), was, the Patriotic Wish, expressed by the National Representatives, That his Majesty would break with Spain, and marry his Son to a Protestant Princess. Several Altercations passed between his Majesty and the Com-The latter, who had Sagacity to difcern, and Integrity to persue, the real good of the public; conducted themselves with a respectfull Decency toward the King, yet with an unrelaxing Adherence to the Cause of their Country. James did not maintain his Share in the Debate, with any Degree of Prudence. He inculcated Maxims of Despotism, unheard of, 'till broached by himself; and, to fave those Maxims from being canvassed by the Parliament, he Dissolved it, by Proclamation, in January, 1622 (m).

It

⁽¹⁾ See Wilson. (m) The Papers and Messages, which passed between the King and Parliament, prior to his timid and angry Disso-

It must be observed, that the Members of the Lower House in that Parliament, were Calvinists in Matters of Doctrine. as well as Friends to the true Interest of the State. Never was a Nation more faithfully represented; than by that uncorrupt Body of Senators. The Pulse of all the honest Protestants in England beat in Harmony with That of the Parliament. James was apprifed of this, and dreaded the Effect. Laud and Others, who were on the Watch for a Trade-Wind, immediately hoisted Sail, and took Advantage of the ill Humor into which the King's Affairs had thrown him. 'Twas not very difficult to persuade such a Monarch as Fames, that the Parliament, the Clergy, and the Majority of the People, were Puritanic, because they hated Popery; and disaffected to the Crown, because they hated Tyranny: That, at once, to wean them from their Abhorrence of Rome, and break them into the Trammels of absolute Subjection to the Throne, Calvinism must be discountenanced and Arminianism encouraged .- Tames listened, liked, and acted accordingly .- Thus it appears, that the "Directions " concerning Preachers" were begot on James by Motives of mistaken sæcular Policy, arising from the Spanish Alliance, and from the intended Popish Toleration. The just Opposition, which the Parliament and Nation raised against his Majesty's dangerous Defigns, brought the said " Directions" to the Birth: and Dr Laud, aided by his College of Associates, was glad to act as principal Midwife and Nurse, on the Occasion.

Here the Matter rested, during the Remainder of James's Reign. For I must do him the Justice to observe, that the Preaching Directions were the first, and the only, public Step, taken by that Prince, to the professed Detriment of the Religion established in England, if we except his Negotiations with Spain and France, and his Tenderness for Papists.

Diffolution of the latter, deserves the Perusal of every Englishman. See them laid together in the Parliamentary History, Vol. V. p. 487-525.

Papists.-It does not appear, that the Protestant Preachers paid much Regard to the King's " Directions," by excluding the Doctrine of Predestination from the Spiritual Provision with which they nourished their Flocks. In the ensuing Reign of Charles the First, when Laud attained to the Zenith of Ecclesiastical Power, those Directions (somewhat amplify'd, and improved into a Proclamation) were enforced with Rigor; even to the Bringing of the great and good Bishop Davenant on his Knees before the Privy Council .- But tho', while James lived, scarce any Severity feems to have feconded the Injunction, by which he imposed Silence on his Divines concerning some of the Calvinian Articles; yet, his Publication of that Order tended, more than a little, to fink him in the public Esteem. For, how did such a Measure comport with his late Professions of Zeal against Arminianism? It was no farther back, than the Winter of 1617, that he had reproved some of the Cambridge Doctors, for permitting the Arminian Leaven to gain Ground in that University (n). It was but in January, 1619, that his Majesty flew into a violent Pasfion, at reading some Arminian Positions of Episcopius, sent over hither from Dort (0). And, after bearing so eminent a Part in the Condemnation of Arminianism, by the Synod there assembled; his "Directions," of 1622, can be imputed only to a low, abfurd, and mifguided Policy, which reflected equal Dishonor on his civil and religious Character.

While he lived, Calvinism still supported itself in the Saddle; and Arminianism, unable to keep its Legs, could scarcely ⁽n) "November 10. The King CHIDES the Doctors of Cambridge, about the spreading of the Arminian Section amongst the Students." —Camben's Annals of K. James, sub 1617.

⁽o) "He [the Archbishop of Canterbury] sent me Word, that "the King had the Episcopii Theses which I sent, and that he was "MIGHTLY INCENSED at them."—Dr Balcangual to Sir D. C. apud Hales's Rem. p. 72.

foarcely creep on its Hands and Knees. Within a few Months of his Majesty's Decease, his Zeal and Vigilance against the Encroachments of Arminianism extorted Thanks from the eminently Learned and profoundly Loyal Dr John Prideaux, then Vice-Chancellor of Oxford, and afterwards Bishop of Worcester: whose elegant Oration to the King, at Woodslock, on the 24th of August, 1624, is still extant, and has Passages to the following Effect. " Do we rejoice, that the University of Oxford is preserved. " untainted, from the Leaven of Popery? We are in-" debted, for that Preservation, to your Majesty's pru-"dential Care. Do we congratulate ourselves, that our " Seats remain uninfected by the Arminian Pestilence? "'twas Your Fore-cast, which supply'd us with the 44 timely Antidote. Are the Discipline of the Church. " the good Order of our Colleges, and the Episcopal Government itself, preserved from the levelling and con-" founding Innovations of Puritanism? 'tis Your royal and experienced Wisdom, which has damped the Rage " of Puritans, and restrained them with the Bridle they " deserve. Yes: to You we owe, that Popery hangs its "Head; that Arminianism is repressed; and that Puri-" tanism does not lay waste our Borders. --- Within the " last nine Years, Oxford has sent forth Seventy-three Doccc tors in Divinity, and more than One Hundred and Eighty Batchelors in the same sacred Science. I, as Your " Majesty's Divinity-Professor, had the Honor to be con-" cerned, in the Conferring of those Degrees. And I can confidently affirm, that All those Two HUNDRED and FIFTY THREE Divines and more, are warm Detesters of Popery, remote from favoring ARMINIANISM, " and Arong Disapprovers of PURITANISM (p)." Some needfull needfull Allowance must be made, for the high Strains of Complaisance to his Majesty, wherewith the Learned Vice-Chancellor thought meet to season his Address. This great Man (and he was a very great Man indeed) knew, that James's Palate must be tickled: and therefore, like an experienced College Cook, he discretely larded the Oration to the Monarch's Taste. But the Fasts, which Dr Prideaux affirmed; and the Conclusions, deducible from those Fasts; are more than a little important to the Argument now in hand.

⁽p) "Gloriamur, Academiam, inter tot adversantium Cuniculos a Papismi Fermento esse conservatam? Conservavit tua Prudentia. Gratulamur, Arminianismum nostras Cathedras non insecisse? Exhibute

Death closed the Eyes of King James, on the 27th of March, 1625.—Guthrie has hit off his Character, with much Judgement and Exactness: "He was," says that Writer, a King despicably great; a Scholar impertinently Learned; a Politician unprofitably cunning; and a Man immorally religious (p)."—Burnet justly observes, that "No King could die less lamented, or less efteemed. His Reign in England was a continued Course of mean Practices. He was become the Scorn of the Age. And, while hungry Writers stattered him out of "Measure hibuit tua Providentia Antidotum. Disciplinam, Academias, Episcopatus, susque deque raptassent jamdudum Puritanismi Furores; nisi frigidum sussuum susque raptassent Frænum, selicissimo Rerum Usu maturatum tuum Judicium.—Quòd Papismus non invaluit, mon prævaluit Arminianismus, non dissipavit Puritanismus, tuæ Prærogativæ est Peculium.—Intrà proximè elapsum novennium (obstetricante, pro modulo meo, qualicunque, Professioris tui, Conatu), septuaginta tres emisit [Acad. Oxon.] in S. Theologia Doctores; ut omittam ultra centum et octoginta ejusdem Facultatis Baccalaureos: quos considenter dicam, non tantum Papismum execrari, Arminianismum non sovere, Puritanismum explodere; sed etiam, &c.

Vide Alloquium Sereniss. Regi Jacobo; ad Calcem Viginti-duarum. Lestionum in Theologia, à Joh. PRIDEAUX, Exon. Coll. Restore, & S. Theol. Prof. Regio, & Acad. Oxon. Vice-Can.—Edit. Oxon. 1648.

(p) Guthrie's Hift. of Eng. Vol. III. p. 819.

"Measure, at home; he was despised by All, abroad, as a Pedant, without true Judgement, Courage, or Steddiness: subject to his Favorites, and delivered up to the Counsels, or rather the Corruption, of Spain (q)."

He is said to have been the first of our Kings, who assumed the Appellation of "Most sacred Majesty." And certain it is, that he was the first of them, who, for his Weakness, Vanity, Inconstancy, and Pusillanimity, obtained the nick-name of Queen, both among Foreigners, and among his own Subjects. The Terms, "King "ELIZABETH," and "Queen JAMES," shew, to what an Ebb of Contempt the latter was reduced, when set in Competition with his magnanimous Predecessor.

In the Language of Sycophants, the reigning King never fails to be the best that ever filled a Throne. Such was Fames, while living, represented to be, by those artfull Flatterers (and by those only), whose Interest led them to practice on his Weakness, and to mold him to their own Purposes. He was pronounced, "The Solomon of the " Age;" a " pithy and sweet Orator," whose " Words were " as Apples of Gold in Pictures of Silver:" yea, that " he fpake by the Instinct of the SPIRIT of God." They declared him to be "fuch a King, as, fince CHRIST's Time, "the like had not been." His Writings were styled, " Blazing Stars, which Men look upon with Amazement;" and which were "fuller of excellent Counsels, than a " Pomegranate is full of Kernels." On some Occasions, his Pen teemed with what are still better than "Kernels;" even with "Pearls." He was "a Divine:" he was "a " Natural Philosopher:" he was a Non-pariel, both "for " Parts of Nature, for Gifts of Learning, and Graces of " Piety (r)."

But

⁽q) Bishop Burnet's Summary of Affairs, &c. p. 17. (r) For all this Rubbish, and for more of the same Sort, confult Bishop Barlow's Account of the Conference at Hampton-Court, and Bishop Mountague's Presage to James's Works.

But the Cant-Compliment of the Time, which feems to have been most current and in Vogue, and to have flowed from the Tongue's End of every Court Lord who had a Fortune to make or to mend, was, "Your Majesty is the Breath of our Nostrils." 'Tis the Crampe repetita, which occurs, again and again, in the Court Conversations of that Reign. No Strains of Adulation were too fulfome, for James to relish; nor too gross, for his Digestion. He would even suck in Blasphemy itself, when the Vehicle of his own Panegyric. Witness that horrid Profanation of Scripture, mentioned by Balzac (s). One of the Spanish Embassadors in England, receiving a Visit from the King, faluted his Majesty's Entrance, with those Words of the Centurion to Christ, Lord, I am not worthy that thou shouldest come under my Roof. But what Fumes of licentious Flattery were ever known to disgust James's Nostrils? The stronger the Incense, the sweeter.

Had not this King's political Depravity been counterbalanced by almost an equal Portion of invincible Timidity; either Himself, or the Nation, had infallibly been ruined: fo that his constitutional Cowardice, even while it renders him peculiarly despicable, must be considered as a very happy Ingredient in his Composition. --- He laid, without doubt, the Foundation of those Calamitys which so fadly diftinguished the Reign of his Son: and the ill Effects of his tyrannical Maxims and diffemper'd Politics operate even at this Day. The State Partys, which still continue to divide the Interests and the Affections of Englishmen, originated in his Reign.-Sorry I am to add, that so detestable a Prince, and so profligate a Man, dyed, in all Appearance, a speculative Calvinist. I wish Dr Hickman had less respectable Authority, than that of Dr Featly, for affuring us, that "King James called the ARMINIANS, " HERETICS, not many Weeks before his Death (t)."

SECT.

⁽s) See Bayle, Vol. I. p. 725. (t) Hickman against Heylyn, p. ult.—Edit, 1674.

10111

SECTION XX.

The Introduction of ARMINIANISM by Archbishop Laud.—Short Review of the Calvinism of our Bishops and Universities, antecedently to that Æra.—Objections answered:—And the Whole Concluded.

K ING Charles the First ascended the Throne, at a very unsavorable Time, and under Circumstances of peculiar Disadvantage: a Consideration, which should never be forgot, amidst the just Censures wherewith impartial Posterity must always brand the calamitous Maxims by which he steered.

To develop the intricate Complication of untoward Co-Incidents, or the political Situation of Things, which marked the Æra of Charles's Accession; does not fall within the Province of my present Undertaking. It shall, therefore, suffice, to observe, that, had Laud possessed any Degree of common Prudence, the civil Complection of the Times would, alone, have taught him, how necessary it was for him to restrain his own restless Spirit from raising. a Storm in the Church, when the Symptoms of approaching Convulsion had already began to endanger the State. But, on the Death of James, the Prelate, who had been kept in considerable Awe by that Prince; was over-joyed to find himself in a State of persect Liberty under Charles, whose Favor he had cultivated with Success, and into whose Ear he continually distilled the most pernicious Poyson a Prince can imbibe.

Indeed, Laud found no great Difficulty in bringing the new Monarch to his Lure. He did but fow in Ground already ploughed to his Hands. Charles was imperious, by Nature; and tyrannic, by Education. With the Crown, he inherited all the arbitrary Principles of his Father. The Plan of Despotism, rudely sketched by James, was hurry'd into an absolute System by Charles; who adopted it with more settled Obstinacy of Determination, and perfued it with more daring Boldness of Execution.

If Heylyn may be credited, Land had formed a Defign, fo far back as the (u) Year 1600, of endeavoring to pervert the Church of England from her Calvinistic Doctrines. A very extraordinary Object, for so raw a Youth, as he, at that Time, was! or, as Heylyn himself expresses it, 44 A desperate Attempt, for a single Man, unseconded, and not well-befriended, to oppose himself against an ARMY, to strive against so strong a Stream, and cross the Current of the TIMES!" He was then about Twentyfive Years of Age; a young Master of Arts; no more than Fellow of St John's College, Oxford; not many Years emancipated from School; in Deacon's Orders only; his Finances very moderate; without any Ecclesiastical Preferment; and with hardly a Friend in the University, to countenance him amidst that Torrent of general and public Odium, which his haughty Behavior and his papiftical Byass had drawn upon him from every Side! For a Man, under those Circumstances, and in so early a Part of Life, to project a Scheme of fuch Confequence and Difficulty, as the Divorcing of the Established Church from her own essential Principles; exhibits an Instance of wild Self-fufficiency, and of audacious Restleffness, searcely to be exceded in the whole Compass of History.

No wonder, that a Person, stimulated by this outrageous Enthusiasm for Innovation, drove so suriously when Charles entrusted him with the Reins. Mosseim shall give us a concise View of the Plan, adopted both by the Sovereign and the Prelate.

"All the Emotions of his [i. e. of King Charles's] Zeal, and the whole Tenor of his Administration, were directed towards the three following Objects:

"[1.] The Extending the Royal PREROGATIVE, and raifing the Power of the CROWN above the Authority of the LAW.

"[2.] The Reduction of all the Churches in Great Britain and Ireland under the Jurisdiction of Bishops.

"[3.] The SUPPRESSION of the Opinions and Institutions peculiar to CALVINISM.

" The Person, whom the King chiefly intrusted with " the Execution of this arduous Plan, was William Laud" [who, in July, 1628, became] "Bishop of London. "This haughty Prelate executed the Plans of his Royal Mafter, and fulfilled the Views of his own Ambition without using those mild and moderate Methods, which 44 Prudence employs, to make unpopular Schemes go down. "He carried Matters with an high Hand. When he 66 found the Laws opposing his Views, he treated them with Contempt, and violated them without Hesitation. " He loaded the Puritans" [and not them only, but All who avowed the Doctrinal System of the Church, tho? ever so zealous for the Hierarchy and Ceremonys] "with 66 Injurys and Vexations, and aimed at nothing lefs than 46 their total Extinction. He rejected the Calvinistical Doc-" trine of Predestination, publicly, in the Year 1625" [viz. in the First Year of Charles's Reign]; "and, notwithstanding the Opposition and Remonstrances of [Archbishop]

The Arminians, therefore, were no Losers, by the Death of King James. On the contrary, their Influence continually increased, from the Moment Charles began to weild

" Abbot, substituted the Arminian System in its place (x)."

Tt2 the

⁽x) Mosheim's Eccles. Hist. Vol. IV. p. 518, 519. Octavo, 1768.

the Sceptre. Being the avowed Enemys of limited Monarchy, this unhappy Prince enter'd as warmly into their religious Principles; as they did, into his political Views. Between eight and nine Years after his Accession, the Court-Credit of the Arminian Faction arrived to it's Meridian; when, on the Decease of good Archbishop Abbot, Laud was lifted to the See of Canterbury, and the Reformed World, with Indignation and Concern, faw Lambeth Palace become the Head Quarters of Arminianism, A. D. 1633.—There had been Six Protestant Metropolitans, from the Reformation, to the Advancement of Laud: viz. Cranmer, Parker, Grindal, Whitgift, Bancroft, and Abbot. Not One of these was tainted with Arminianism. Laud was the FIRST Arminian Primate of England, who made Profession of the Reformed Religion. Nor is it unworthy of Notice, that Arminius himself, whose Doctrines the highflying Laud so fiercely adopted, was neither more nor less than a Dutch PRESBYTERIAN and REPUBLICAN.

I shall confine myself to two remarkable Instances of the Force and Fraud, with which this grand Corruptor of our Established Church labored to debauch her Purity of Faith.

I. The Directions concerning Preachers, issued by James the First (as already noted), in the Year 1622; forbad every Clergyman, under the Degree of a Bishop, or of a Dean, to preach, in public, either for or against such of the Doctrines of Grace as were specified in those Directions. But as this Prohibition was (y) very unpleasing to the ⁽y) Among the Remarks, to which James's abfurd Injunction had given Occasion, were the following. Some observed, that In prohibiting the Preaching of Predestination, Man makes That the forbidden Fruit, which God appointed for the Tree of Life: so cordial [are] the Comforts contained therein [i. e. contained in the Scripture-Doctrine of Predestination], to a

[&]quot;distressed Conscience."—Others seasoned their Complaints with Sarcasm and Invective: saying, "Bishops and Deans, for-

[&]quot; footh, and none under their Dignity, may preach of Predeftination. What is this, but to have the Word of God in Respect the public in general, so was it far from producing univerfal Obedience. The King, perceiving how much Offence his Directions had given to the Nation, thought proper to publish a subsequent (2) Apology for his Conduct in that Matter: which discrete step conduced, both to calm the Minds of the People, and to blunt the Force of the Directions themselves. This was not the first Time that James had been drawn into a Scrape by Laud: nor the first Time of his Majesty's receding from the imprudent Measures into which he had been hurry'd by that warm and forward Ecclesiastic (a).

But Charles had very little of his Father's "King"Craft." In June, 1626 (i. e. hardly more than four Months after his Coronation), Laud got him to revive the unpopular Directions concerning Preachers; of which a new Edition appeared, in the Form of a Proclamation, extending the Prohibition to Bishops and Deans themselves: who were, by this ill-judged Stretch of Royal Supremacy, commanded to forbear from treating of Predestination in their Sermons and Writings (b).

One immediate Design of this Proclamation was, to shelter Richard Mountagu (who had lately written in Behalf of the Arminian Doctrines, and of (c) Absolute Obedience to Tt3 Kings)

[&]quot; of Persons? As if all Discretion were confined to Cathedral" Men! and they best able to preach, who use it the least!"

Fuller's Church Hist. Book X. p. 110.

⁽²⁾ Heylyn's Life of Laud, p. 94.

⁽a) See, for Example, Bishop Hacker's Life of Archbishop Williams, Part I. p. 64.—Folio, 1693.

⁽b) Heylyn's Life of Laud, p. 147, 148.

⁽c) Arminianism took Care, in that Age, to connect itself with Despotism. And these two Systems, cemented by their mutual Interest in each other, constituted that grand Combination, against the Dostrines of the Church and against the Constitutional Liberty of the Public, which soon issued in the Overthrow of Nation, Church, and King.

Kings) from the printed Refutations, which were showering upon him from all Quarters. Among the numerous Champions, who had hewn Mountagu's Arminianism in Pieces; were, Dr Sutcliffe, Dean of Exeter: Bishop Carleton, of Chichester: and Mr Wootton, Divinity Professor in Gresham College (d). The Parliament too, near a Twelvemonth before, had feverely cenfured Mountagu's Performance (entitled, An Appeal to Cafar), in which, said the Committee of Enquiry, "There are many Things di-" rectly contrary to the [xxxix] Articles of Religion ef-" tablished by Parliament. He denys that Arminius was the first who infected Leyden with Errors and Schisms. The Synod of Dort, fo honor'd by the late King, he " calls foreign and partial. He plainly intimates, that " there are Puritan Bishops: which, we conceive, tends " much to the Disturbance of the Peace in Church and " State. He respects Bellarmine, but slights Calvin, Beza, ee Perkins, Whitaker, and Reynolds. He much discoun-" tenances God's Word; disgraces Lectures, and Lectu-" rers, and Preaching itself; nay, even Reading the Bible. "Upon the whole, the Frame of the Book is, to encou-" rage Popery, in maintaining the Papists to be the true 66 Church, and that they differ not from Us in any fun-"damental Point (e)." So spake the Committee of the House of Commons, 1625.

'Tis very observable, that Charles and Laud had Recourse to a Proclamation, because they were assaud to trust the Arminian Controversy to the Management of a Convocation. Heylyn has blabbed this curious Secret: and unwarily informs us, that the Bishops and Clergy of England were so averse to Arminianism, that it would have been highly unsafe to have staked, on their Decision, the Court Design of banishing Predestination from the Pulpits. Read his own Words: "Andrews did not hold it sit for "any ⁽d) Fuller, Book XI. p. 108, 109.

(e) La liamentary Hissery, Vol. VI. p. 353, 354.

" any Thing to be done in that Particular" [viz. concerning new modelling the Church of England from Calvinism to Arminianism], "as the Case then stood: the "Truth in those Opinions" [by the Truth, Heylyn means the Arminian Tenets] "not being so generally entertained among the Clergy, nor the Archbishop [viz. Abbot, who was then living] and the greater Part of the Prelates so inclinable to them [i. e. to Arminius's Doctrines], as To VENTURE THE DETERMINING OF THOSE POINTS TO A CONVOCATION. But that which was not thought sit, in that Conjuncture, for a Convocation; his Majesty was pleased to take Order in, by his Royal Edica. Many Books had been written against Mountagu, &c. (f)."

Some confiderable Time after the said Proclamation, or "Royal Edict," had been issued; Dr Davenant, Bishop of Salisbury, preached before the King at White-Hall. His Text, as himself acquaints us, was Rom. vi. 23. The Gift of God is eternal Life, through Jesus Christ our Lord. "Here," says his Lordship, "I expounded the threefold "Happiness of the Godly.

- "1. Happy in the Lord, whom they serve: God, or Christ Jesus.
- "2. Happy in the Reward of their Service: Eternal Life.
- " 3. Happy in the Manner of their Reward: χαρισμα, or gratuitum Donum in Christo [i.e. the Reward is God's free, unmerited Gift in Christ].
- "The two former Points were not excepted against.
 "In the Third and last, I consider'd Eternal Life in three divers Instances:
- "[1.] In the ETERNAL DESTINATION thereunte, which we call ELECTION.

T t 4 "[2.] In

"[2.] In our Conversion, Regeneration, or's [manifestative] "JUSTIFICATION: which I termed the Em"bryo of Eternal Life.

"[3.] And, last of all, in our Coronation, when full " Possession of eternal Life is given us.

"In all these, I shewed it to be xapioma, or the see Gift of God, through Christ; and not procured, or pramerited, by any special Acts depending upon the Free-

66 will of Men. The last Point, wherein I opposed the

" Popish Dostrine of MERIT, was not disliked. The "Second, wherein I showed, that Effectual Vocation, or Regeneration, whereby we have Eternal Life inchoated so and begun in us, is a free Gift; was not expressly taxed.

"Only the First was it which bred the Offence: not in "Regard of the Doctrine itself, but because, as my Lord's Grace [i. e. Harsenet, Archbishop of York] said, the

"King had PROHIBITED the Debating thereof (g)."

What was the Consequence of the excellent Bishop's prefuming to affert Predestination to the Face of the Arminian King and his whole Court? "Presently after my Sermon "was ended, it was fignify'd unto me, by my Lord of York, "my Lord of (b) Winchester, and my Lord Chamberlain,

" that

(g) Bishop Davenant's Letter to Dr Ward, extant in Fuller's

Church Hift. Book XI. p. 140, 141.

⁽b) The Learned and Orthodox Dr Launcelot Andrews was this Bishop of Winchester: a Prelate, who, tho' a Calvinist in Sentiment, knew how to keep his Calvinism to himself, like a good Courtier, when Necessity or Conveniency required. But if his Lordship could discretely throw a Mantle over his religious Principles, to concele them from Charles, King of England (or, rather, superinduce a Veil of Gauze over them, by occasional Court-Compliance, to render them not so glaringly visible); yet, he dared not dissemble with GOD, the King of Heaven. On his Knees in his Closet, Bishop Andrews was as purely and scripturally orthodox, as Abbot, Usher. Carleton, or Davenant. Witness, among many others, the following Passages, which occur in his private Devotions: and which, tho' they passed the translating Pen of an eminent modern Arminian (for I never met with the Greek Ori- that His Majesty was much displeased that I had stirred this Question, which he had forbidden to be meddled withall, one Way or other. My Answer was, that I had delivered Nothing but the RECEIVED DOCTRINE of our Church, ESTABLISHED in the SEVENTEENTH ARTICLE: and that I was ready to justify the Truth of what I had then taught. Their Answer was, that The Doctrine was not Gainsayed; but His Highness had given Command, that these Questions should not be debated: and therefore He took it more offensively, that any should be so bold, as, in His own Hearing, to break his Royal Commands.

" My

ginal), run in this truly Evangelical Strain. " Hold thou me in, " with BIT and BRIDLE, when I would break away from thee. O " thou, who hast invited me, COMPEL me to come in to my own Hap-" pines!"-" From thee, O Christ, the Anointed, Let me have " the Unction of THY CHOSEN." Think upon the CONGRE-" GATION which thou hast PURCHASED and REDEEMED of old." " -- What shall thy Servant say? That I will pay thee all ? oh, " no! I do most truly and forrowfully confess, that I have NOTHING " at all to pay." -- " I have neither Understanding, to dif-" cern; nor Power, to effect; nor, as I ought to have, even WILL " to defire and feek, my truest and best Good." --- "We have sinned, " and have all become as an unclean Thing : Our RIGHTEOUSNESSES " are like FILTHY RAGE."-" In me, that is, in my Flesh, devell-" eth no good Thing "-- " I believe His PROVIDENCE, by which " the World, and ALL Things in it, are preferved, GOVERNED and " perfected." -- " Turn thou us, O good Lord, unto Thee; and so " SHALL ave be turned." -- " O let Christ be an EFFECTUAL Proof pitiation for my Sins, who is a sufficient Propitiation for the " Sins of the aubole World." - Thou halt fent, "Thy Christ, the Son of thy Love, that, by His spotless and holy LIFE, He might " FULLFILL the OBEDIENCE of the Law; and, by the Sacrifice of " bis Death, might take away the Curfe." - " Vifit me with the " Favor which thou bearest unto THY CHOSEN." - Dean Stanhope's Translation of Bishop Andrews's Devotions, p. 19, 20, 22, 26, 41, 52, 55, 56, 59, 71, 73, 93, 109.

"My Reply was only this: that I never understood his "Majesty had forbid the Handling of any Dostrine comprized in the ARTICLES of our Church; but only the raising of "new Questions, or adding of new Sense thereunto: which I " had not done, nor ever should do. This was all that pas-

" fed betwixt us, on Sunday Night, after my Sermon.

"The Matter thus rested, and I heard no more of it, till coming to the Tuesday Sermon, one of the Clerks

" of the Council told me, that I was to attend, at the " Council Table, the next Day, at Two of the Clock. I told " him, I would wait upon their Lordships, at the Hour " appointed.

"When I came thither, my Lord of York made a Speech of well-nigh Half an Hour long, aggravating the Boldness of my Offence, and shewing the many Inconveniences which it was likely to draw after it. When his Grace had finished, I desired the Lords, that, fince I was called thither as an offender, I might not be put to answer a long Speech on the sudden; but that my Lord's

"Grace would be pleased to charge me, Point by Point, and so to receive my Answer: for I did not yet understand, wherein

"I had broken any Commandment of his Majesty's, which my

" Lord in his whole Discourse took for granted. Having made

"this Motion, I made no farther Answer: and all the " Lords were silent for a while.

"At length, my Lord's Grace said, I knew, well enough, the Point which was urged against me: namely, the Breach of the King's Declaration. Then I stood upon this Descence: That the Doctrine of Predestination, which I taught, was not forbidden by the Declaration; (1.) Because, in the Declaration, all the [thirty nine] Articles are established: amongst which, the Article of PREDESTINATION is One.

—(2.) Because all Ministers are urged to Subscribe unto the Truth of the Article [viz. of the 17th Article, which "concerns Predestination], and all Subjects to continue in

"the Profession of THAT, as well as of the rest. Upon these "and and fuch like Grounds, I gathered, It [i. e. Predestination] could NOT be esteemed among FORBIDDEN, CURIOUS, or

" NEEDLESS Doctrines.

"And here, I defired, that, out of any Clause in the Declaration, it might be shewed me, that, keeping myself WITHIN THE BOUNDS OF THE ARTICLE, I had transgressed his Majesty's Command. But the Declaration was not produced, nor any particular Words in it. Only this was urged, that the King's WILL was, that, for the Peace of the Church, these high Questions should be forborne (i)." His Lordship, after discretely promising a general Conformity to his Majesty's Pleasure, saluted the Council, and withdrew.

Fuller observes, that the Bishop, at his first coming into the Council Chamber, presented himself, before the Board, on his Knees. A Circumstance of mortifying Indignity, which the spiteful Land was, in all Probability, the Procurer of. A very strange Sight, to behold a Bishop of Salisbury, one of the most respectable Peers of the Realm, constrained to that humiliating Posture, only for Preaching a Doctrine to which he had folemnly fubscribed; and which was confessed to be a true Doctrine, by the very Persons themselves who were the Inslicters of the Difgrace, and at the very Time when the Difgrace was inflicted! This we learn from the Bishop's own Narrative: "Tho' it grieved me," fays Davenant, " that the ESTA-" BLISHED DOCTRINE of our Church should be distasted; " yet, it grieved me the lefs, because the TRUTH of what I " delivered was ACKNOWLEDGED even by Those who thought " fit to have me Questioned for the Delivery of it (k)." With what Face could Charles's Arminian Bishops reprimand so great a Prelate as Davenant, for inculcating a scriptural Tenet, to which the Reprimanders themselves had set their own Hands, and even then admitted to be a Truth of the Bible and of the Church?

On

⁽i) Idem, apud Eund. Ibid. p. 139, 140.

On his Knees he might have remained, during the whole Time of his Continuance before the Privy Council, "for any Favor he found from any of his own Function there or present. But the Temporal Lords bade him Arife, and se fland to his own Defence; being as yet only Accused, not Con-" victed (1)." Bishop Land, who had, 'tis likely, been one of Davenant's Auditory at Whitehall, when the offensive Sermon was preached; and who was, evidently, the Contriver of the Preacher's Embroilment; contented himself with having already, effectually played his Part behind the Curtain: and, tho' present as a Privy Counsellor, flyly refrained from affuming any visible Share in the Examination of Davenant. " Doctor Harfnet, Arch-66 bishop of York, managed all the Business against [Sac lisbury]. Bishop Laud, walking by, all the while, in silence, spake not one Word (m)." But every Body knew, by whose Magic this Court Storm had been raised.

The Storm, however, was quickly layed. Within a fhort Time, good Bishop Davenant was admitted to kiss the King's Hand. What passed, on that Occasion, is worthy of Perusal. "When I came in, his Majesty de-" clared his Resolution that he WOULD NOT HAVE this high " Point" [viz. the high Point of Predestination] " meddled " withall, or debated, either the one Way, or the other; because it was too high for the People's Understanding: and other Points, which concern Reformation and Newness of " Life, were more needfull and profitable. I promised Obedience therein: and fo, kiffing his Majesty's Hand, " departed (n)." Was not the King an hopefull Proficient in Laud's Arminian School? He "would not have" Predestination "meddled with, or debated, either ONE Way or the other:" i. e. he pretended to prohibit the opposing, no less than the afferting, of that Doctrine. meant no more than Half of what he faid. Mountagu (to mention mention a fingle Instance, out of many) was ENCOURAGED and PROMOTED, for opposing Predestination: i. e. for liteterally transgressing the King's oftensible Injunction. Who fees not the Drift, and Defign, of all this?-Let me add, that the Absolute Sovereignty of the Most High and Only Wise GOD, manifested in the free Predestination of Men, according to the Purpose of His unerring Will; was contravened, with an exceeding ill grace, by fuch a Monarch as Charles, who was for rendering HIS OWN Authority AB-SOLUTE over the Lips, the Actions, the Property, the Persons, and even the religious Opinions, of All the Men who lived within the Limits of the British Dominion .-An Earthly Prince may establish an unbounded Authority, and be blameless! but the King of Heaven cannot dispose as He pleases of His own, without being tyrannical and unjust!

⁽¹⁾ Fuller, Ibid. p. 138. (m) Fuller, Ibid. (n) Ibid. p. 140.

II. The other Inflance, which I shall just mention, of the Methods by which Laud sought to graft Arminianism on the Creed of these Nations; discovers no less of insidious Artistice, than his foregoing Treatment of Davenant displays of open Insolence and Co-ercion.—I mean the thin Crast and the shallow Subtilty, with which he pretended to supersede those Articles of Religion, which had been solemnly recognized and admitted by the Bishops and Clergy of Ireland, assembled, in sull Convocation, at Dublin, in the Year 1615.

Of those Articles, the following are some.

"God, from all Eternity, did, by His unchangeable Counsel, ordain whatsoever in Time should come to pass. Yet so, as, thereby, no Violence is offered to the Wills of the reasonable Creatures: and neither the Liberty, nor the Contingency, of the second Causes, is taken away; but established rather.

"By the fame Eternal Counsel, God hath predestinated some unto Life, and reprobated some unto Death of both which, there is a certain Number, known only to God, which can neither be increased nor diminished.

"The

"The Cause, moving God to predestinate to life; is; not the foreseeing of Faith, or Perseverance, or good Works, or of any Thing which is in the Person predestinated; but only the Good Pleasure of God himself.

46 For, all Things being ordained for the Manifestation " of His Glory, and His Glory being to appear both in "the Works of His Mercy and of His Justice; it seemed se good to His heavenly Wisdom, to chuse out a certain "Number, towards whom He would extend His unde-

" ferved Mercy: leaving the rest, to be Spectacles of His

" Justice.

"All God's Elect are, in their Time, inseparably united unto Christ, by the effectual and vital Instuence of the Holy Ghost, derived from Him [i. e. from Christ], as 66 from the Head, to every true Member of his mystical 66 Body. And, being thus made one with Christ, they " are truely Regenerated, and made Partakers of him and all his Benefits (0)."

More of these excellent Articles may be seen, in the Personnance reser'd to below. The Lambeth Articles, and also as many of our own xxxix as directly relate to the Calvinistic Doctrines, were incorporated with the Irish Confession; and the Whole ratified by the Authority of King

Fames I. the then reigning Prince.

His Son Charles had filled the Throne, between 9 and 10 years, e'er Laud would venture to nibble publicly at the faid Confession. With what low Arts of Intrigue and Address he, at length, in the Year 1634, seigned to have compassed his Point, may be learned from Heylyu (p). Matters were conducted with such Duplicity, that even the Learned and Sagacious Archbishop Usher did not penetrate the more than Jesuitic Slyness of Laud, Strasford, and Bramball. Witness that Part of Usher's Letter to his Friend Dr. Ward (the same Dr. Ward who had affisted at the Synod of Dort); wherein the upright, unsuspect-

ing

⁽⁶⁾ Anti-Armin. p. 17-20. (p) Life of Land, p. 255-258.

ing Primate thus apprizes Ward, of what had passed in the Irish Convocation of 1634. "The Articles of Religion, agreed upon in our former Synod, Anno 1615, we let stand as they did before. But, for the Manies Festing of our Agreement with the Church of Engished, we have received and approved your Articles Also" [i. e. the 39 Articles], "concluded in the Year 1572: as you may see in the First of our Canons (9)."

The Archbishop was in the right. But Laud and his Party endeavored to infer, that the Church of Ireland, by receiving and approving the 39 Articles of the Church of England, had actually QUITTED and ABOLISHED the Irifh Articles antecedently established in 1615. This was the Quirk. which Laud had in view from the first. But it was a Quirk, and nothing elfe. For, by "receiving" and "ap-" proving" the English Articles " Also"; the Irish Prelates and Clergy did neither cancel nor supersede their own prior Articles, but only "manifested", or publicly and deliberately avowed, their Doctrinal "Agreement" with the Church established on this side St. George's Channel. So that Laud's Arminian Policy amounted to no more, after all, than a Stroke of mere Chicane; which shewed, indeed, the Sophistry and Deceit whereof he was capable, but which, in Reality, left the Old Articles standing in full Force " as they did before."

The Articles of 1615 are, to this Day, a Part of the National Creed established in Ireland. They were solemnly admitted by the Ecclesiastical Power, and as solemnly ratisfied by the Civil. They could only be repealed and abolished by the same Authority, which had established them. But this has never been done. Consequently, they are in full Force, to this very Hour; and, together with our own xxxix (admitted "Also," merely by way of declaratively "manifesting" or acknowledging the Agreement" between the two Churches), constitute the legal Standard of Faith in that Kingdom. For the Truth of this, we have not only the unexceptionable Testimony of Archbishop Usher himself (who presided, personally, in this Convocation of 1634, when the English Articles were " Also" received); but likewise the Evidence of the Canon, then and there passed, and which to this Moment keeps its Place at the Head of the Irish " Constitutions and Canons " Ecclesiastical." It runs thus. " For the Manifestation " of our Agreement with the Church of England, in the " Confession of the same Christian Faith, and the Doctrine of the Sacraments; We do receive and approve the "Book of Articles of Religion, agreed upon by the Arch-66 bishops, and Bishops, and the whole Clergy, in the 66 Convocation holden at London, in the year of our Lord "God, 1572, for the Avoiding of Diversities of Opi-" nions, and for the Establishing of Consent, touching " true Religion. And, therefore, if Any, hereafter, shall 46 affirm, that any of those Articles are, in any Part, suor perflitious or erroneous; or fuch as he may not, with a 46 good Conscience, subscribe unto; Let him be Excom-" municated, and not Absolved before he make a public "Revocation of his Error." Here is not the remotest Hint, concerning any fetting aside of the former Articles. The Canon only affociates the 39 Articles with the preceding Ones, and gives to the former the same Weight of Respectability in Ireland, which they bear in England.

legal

⁽q) Usher's Letters, annexed to his Life by Dr. Parr; Let. 185. P. 477.

Dr Fuller, therefore, was too hasty, in afferting, that the Irish Articles were "utterly excluded (r)." There was no Exclusion, nor Amputation, in the Case. Laud himself, some years afterwards, consessed the very Point I am now maintaining. He tells us, that one of the Accusations against him, on his Tryal, in 1644, was, concerning "The Articles of Ireland, which call the Pope the Man of Sin. But," continues Laud, "the Articles of Ireland bind bind neither this Church nor me (s)."- Exceptio probat Regulam in non-exceptis. His Grace's Observation decides the Question at once. "The Articles of Ireland bind not" the Church of England, " nor me" as an English Prelate. What was this, but allowing, to every Purpose of Argument, that the Irish Articles CONTINUED to "bind" the Church and Bishops of that Kingdom, though they bound not the Church and Bishops of this? I must again remind my Reader, that Laud advanced the above Remark, in the year 1644: which was no fewer than Ten Years after the Irish Articles are pretended to have been sat aside.——It remains, That the famous Articles of Ireland were never Repealed at all. Without doubt, Laud intended to repeal them, when due Opportunity should serve; and associated the English Articles with the Irish Ones, by way of Prelude to the future Abolition of the latter. But the Civil Storm, which foon began to thicken, rendered That, and many fimilar Projects of his, abortive. It faved the 39 Articles themselves from Annihilation.

(r) Church Hist. B. 11. p. 149.

How violently Matters were carried, in England, for the Suppression of the Old Doctrines, and for the Extension of Arminianism; appears, among a Thousand Instances besides, from the Visitation-Articles, issued by Laud's trusty Friend and pliable Machine, Dr. Richard Mountagu. When this profligate Priest disgraced the Mitre of Norwich; among the Questions, propounded to the Church-Wardens of that Diocese, was the following: "Doth your Minister, "commonly, or of set Purpose, in his popular Sermons, sall upon those much-disputed and little-understood Doctrines of God's eternal Predestination, of Election antecedaneous, of Reprobation irrespective without Sinne foreseene, of Free-Will, of Perseverance and not Falling from Grace; Points obscure, unfoldable, unfoordable, untrastable (t)?"

Uи

This,

⁽¹⁾ Laud's Hist. of his own Troubles and Tryal, Vol. I. p. 390. Published by Mr. Wharton 1695. (1) Canterburie's Doome, p. 177.

This, and fimilar Practices of such Diocesans as were Tools to the Court, were the Fruits of Archbishop Laud's own "Injunctions", signify'd to the Bishops in general, and charging them, "In his Majestie's Name," that they should "Take special Care, that no Minister, nor Lecturer, in their Diocesse, should Preach upon the prohibited controverted Points, contrary to his Majestie's Declarations and Instructions:" and that they, the Bishops, "should give an yearly Account, to the Archbishop, of their Proceedings herein (u)." And thus, as Mr (x) Prynne, truly observes,

(u) Ibid. (x) Let none except against Mr William Prynne, as tho? hewere an incompetent Evidence, The very Reverse is true. Hence he is frequently cited and referr'd to by Heylyn himself: and (which imparts infinitely stronger Sanction to the Precedent) by the respectable Mr Strype, who was particularly delicate, as to the Sources from whence he drew his Intelligence .- Prynne was warmly attach'd to the Doctrinal Principles of the Church of England, and even wrote much in their Desence: tho' the inhuman Severitys, which he experienced at the hands of the furious Ecclefiaffics then in Power, gave him some Distaste of Episcopacy itself. Nor were even his political Sentiments carry'd to such an Extreme, as to render them peculiarly obnoxious. In the long Parliament, he attached himself, with Zeal, to the Interests of King Charles I. and was one of Those who voted his Majelly's Concessions satisfactory: for which, the Army excluded him from the House of Commons. He was deemed fo flurdy a Royalift, that, during the Ufurnation. Cromwell, on whom he had severely reflected in his Writings, threw him into Prison. When Things began to verge toward the Restoration of Charles II. in 1659, Mr Prynne was permitted to refume his feat in Parliament: where his Services, to the then excluded Prince, were fo diflinguished; and his Warmth, for recalling him, so violent; that even General Monk advised him, to moderate his Zeal. Charles the Second, when restored, was so senfible of his Ability and Merit, that he appointed him Chief Keeper of the Tower Records, with a Salary of 500l per Annum; which Office he enjoyed to his Death. His Acceptance of this Promotion is, perhaps, the largest Blot in his 'Scutcheon. That a Man of Prynne's observes, "The Arminian Errors were freely vented, in "all Diocesses, without any public Opposition: and "Those Prynne's noble Spirit, who had, both under the Encroachments of Charles the First, and under the Usurpation of Oliver Cromwell, made such glorious stands against Tyranny, and suffer'd so greatly in the Cause of Civil and Ecclesiastical Liberty; should, afterwards, so far degenerate from the Fervor of his sirst Love, as to hold an Appointment under so abandon'd a Being as the Second Charles; would Astonish, if any human Deviations from Vir.ue could justify Astonishment—Had Prynne lost his Life, when he lost his Ears; his Name had descended, with untarnish'd Lustre, to Posterity.

This Learned, Orthodox, and indefatigable Man, was born at Swainswick, in Somersetskire; received his School Education at Bath; was a Graduate of Oriel College, Oxford: and became Barrister, Bencher, and Reader, at Lincoln's Inn. During the Civil Commotions, he sat in Parliament for Newport, in Cornwall. After the Restoration, he was one of the Members for Bath.

He was a profound and masterly, but neither a concise, nor a polite, Writer. His Works, many of which (particularly, in Divinity and Antiquitys) are extremely valuable and usefull; are said to amount to no fewer than forty Volumes in Folio and Quarto.

Old Anthony Wood, who treats the Memory of this great Man with much indecent Scurrility, yet does Justice to his Industry: "I werily believe," says Anthony, "that, if rightly computed, he wrote a Sheet, for every Day of his Life; reckoning from the "Time when he came to the Use of Reason and the State of Man."

The faid Anthony's Account of Mr Prynne's Method of Study, is amufing, for the Quaintness with which it is expressed. "His "Custom, when he study'd, was, to put on a long quilted Cap, which came an Inch over his Eyes; serving, as an Umbrella, to defend them from too much Light: And, seldom eating a Dinner, would, every three Hours or more, be maunching a

"Roll of Bread; and now and then refresh his exhausted Spirits

"with Ale, brought to him by his Servant.——He brought his Body into an ill Habit, and so, consequently, shorten'd his

- "Those who out of Zeal to Truth, durst open their
- " Mouths to refute them, were filenced, suspended, and
- " brought into the High Commission, to their Undoing;
- "while the Arminians, on the contrary, had free Liberty
- " to broach their erroneous Tenets, without Controll,
- " and were advanced to the greatest Benefices and Ecclesiastical Dignitys (y)."

Had Charles's political Views been crowned with Success, Archbishop Laud would, most undoubtedly, have give in the coup de grace to our Established Calvinism, by procuring the xxxix Articles to be repealed in Form, and by substituting Arminian ones in their Room. Together with the utter Extinction of Civil Liberty, the Church would have been shorn of those Evangelical Principles, which, through the good Hand of God upon us, are still it's Glory. We had been made

- " An Island in our Doctrines, far disjoin'd
- " From the whole World of Protestants beside."

But, as Things then stood, the Repeal of the Articles would have been too dangerous a Stride. Tho' Laud took Care to have the Bishoprics and Crown Benefices, as fast as they became vacant, filled up, for the most Part, by a Colony of new Arminians; yet, the old Calvinistic Prelates and Beneficiarys did not dye off, with sufficient Rapidity, for him to secure a Majority in the Convocation. Besides: the Body of the People, incapacitated from being corrupted by Preferment, would never have parted tamely with their [&]quot;Days, by too much Action and Concernment Day and Night."

—This hard Student, however, held out 'till the 69th, if not the 70th Year of his Age. A Period, whereof poor Anthony Wood came short, by fix or seven Years.

Mr Prynne dyed, at his Chambers in Lincoln's Inn, A. D. 1669. And lies bury'd in the Walk, under the Chapel there, among the Pillars which support that elegant Fabric.

⁽y) Cant. Doome, u. f.

their Protestant Creed, had Laud even been able to have pack'd an Ecclefiastical Convocation to his Mind. The Members of the Church of England had, in general, at that Time, a very large Portion of Principle and Virtue: which render'd them, as a Body, not only respectable, but formidable. Religion was deemed sacred, by the Public; and a thing worthy of CONTENDING for. The Temper of those Times would not have borne the Total Alteration at which Laud aimed. Matters were, therefore, to be done by Degrees. The Reformed Doctrine, established by Law, and rooted in the Hearts of the Nation, could not, with Safety to its Assailants, be taken, Sword in hand; but they flatter'd themselves, that it might be gradually undermined. The Archbishop was forced to content himself. for the present, with altering the Face of the Church, before he would venture to make a home Thrust at her internal Constitution. He was for painting her first, and for completely debauching her afterwards. The Superinduction of Popish Ceremonys was to clear the Way for That of Popish Arminianism: which two Streams, when united in their Course, were to have empty'd themselves into the Dead Sea of Arbitrary Power.

But, just as the luckless Metropolitan had made a promising Entrance on his Toil; Providence stopped him short: and the Adventurer fell, himself, into the Pit which he had made for the Country that bred him, and for the Church that fed him. How unjustishable soever (humanly speaking) the Means might be, which brought this Prelate to the Scassold; the Church and Kingdom of England would have had little Reason to lament his Fall, had he fallen alone, and not, like the apostate Son of the Morning, dragged other Stars, from their Orbits, with his Tail.—It is very remarkable, that, on his Tryal, he utterly denyed himself to be either an Arminian, or a Promoter of Arminianism. A Denial, badly calculated to impress us with a favorable Idea of his Regard to Veracity. "I answer in general," said he, "that I NEVER endeavoured

- "to introduce ARMINIANISM into our Church; nor EVER
 "maintained any ARMINIAN Opinions. I did
 "neither PROTECT, nor COUNTENANCE, the ARMINIANS
 "Perfons, Books, or TENETS. True it is, I was, in a Declaration of the Commons House, taxed as a Favourer [and] Advancer of ARMINIANS and their Opinions; without any particular Proofe at all: which was A GREAT
 "SLANDER to me (\pi)." O Human Nature, how low
 - I shall close this Essay, With a short and general Review,
 - 1. Of the Calvinism of our Old English Bishops.
 - 2. Of the Calvinism of our English Universitys.

art thou capable of falling!

- 3. Of the State of the Calvinistic Doctrines in our Church, from the Death of Archbishop Laud, to the present Time;

 —And,
- 4. Obviate an Objection or two, by which those Doctrines are defamed.
- I. Wha thas been already observed, concerning the principal Bishops, who storished under King Edward VI. (during whose Reign the Reformation was first established in England); renders any farther Demonstration, of their Calvinism, entirely needless. Cranmer, Ridley, Latimer, Hooper, Ferrar, Ponet, were eminent among the golden Fathers who adorned that truly Protestant Period.

Under Elizabeth, the Church could boast of Prelates no less sound, holy, and learned. Hear how pathetically their Orthodoxy was lamented by the Popish Party. "In England," said the zealous Schultingius, "CALVIN's Book of Institutions is almost preferred to the Bible itself" [had the Papist said, 'In England, Calvin's Institutions are valued next after the Bible,' he had come nearer the Mark]. "The pretended English Bishops enjoin all the Clergy to get the Book almost by Heart, never to have it out of their Hands, to lay it by them in a conspicuous Part of their Pulpits; in a Word, to prize and keep it as carefully, as the old Romans are said to have preserved the Sybilline

EPISCOPAL ORTHODOXY. 67:

" billine Oracles." Another angry Papist (Stapleton, a Native of our own Island) thus made his Moan: "The " Institutions of CALVIN are so greatly esteemed in England,

"that the Book has been most accurately translated into English, and is even fixed in the Parish Churches for the People to " read. Moreover, in Each of the two Universitys, after the " Students have finished their Circuit in Philosophy; as many " of them, as are designed for the Ministry, are lectured first " of all in that Book (a)."

Indeed, the Doctrinal Calvinism of Elizabeth's Bishops is almost incapable of Exaggeration. Would they, in the memorable Convocation of 1562, have "Thought fit that "Ministers should converse in Ponet's Catechism," in Order to "Learn true Divinity from it (b);" if they themselves had not been Calvinists of the strongest Dye?

Parkhurst, Bishop of Norwich, shall give us a Sample, how highly the foreign Calvinistic Divines were esteemed and venerated by our Episcopal Bench. That ingenious Prelate thus celebrated the Praises (A. D. 1573.) of some transmarine Worthies who were then living:

De Bullingero, Bibliandro, Martyre, Zanchô, Et Gualthero, Gesnero, de Pelicano, Nostrum Judicium si, forsan, Cole, requiris; Hos ego Dostrinâ eximios, Pietate gravesque, Judica: queis similes perpaucos hic habet Orbis (c).

That is: "Do you ask, What I think of Bullinger, "Bibliander, Peter Martyr, Zanchius, Gualter, Gefner, "and Pelicanus? My Opinion of them is, that they are "illustrious in Point of Learning, venerable for their "Piety, and that they have very few equals in the whole "World."

Even in the Reign of Charles I. a new Edition of Doctor Willett's famous Book, entitled, Synopsis Papismi (from which, some Extracts have been laid before the Reader, U u 4 Sect.

(a) Quoted by Bayle, Vol. V. p. 87. (b) Strype's Annals, Vol. I. p. 354. (c) Strype's Annals, Vol. 11. p. 283.

SECT. XVIII.) was favor'd with a Patent, the Preamble to which takes Notice, "That the Doctor was a very painfull Man in Behalf of the Church, and that his Synopsis had been approved by the BISHOPS; held in great Esteem by the Two Universitys; and much desired by All the Learned, both of the CLERGY and LAITY, throughout the King's Dominions (d)." This was in 1630.
So uncorrupt in Doctrine did the Bishops, the Universitys, the Clergy, and the People, generally, continue; even under the malignant Aspect of the Laudæan Planet!

Descend we lower still. The Reign of Charles II. was not wholly undignify'd with Calvinistic Bishops. Witness the great Doctor Saunderson, Bishop of Lincoln. " When I " began," fays this valuable Prelate, " to fet myfelf to the Study of Divinity as my proper Business, Caivin's In-" stitutions were recommended to me, as they were ge-" nerally to all young Scholars in those Times, as the BEST " and PERFECTEST System of Divinity, and the sittest to be laid as a Groundwork in the Study of that Profession. " And indeed my Expectation was not at all deceived. in the Reading of those Institutions (e)." Dr Edwards, to whom I am indebted for this Quotation, adds, that, as Bishop Saunderson "began with Calvin, so he proceded to approve of his [Calvin's] Sentiments, through his "whole Life: as we see in his Letters to Dr Hammond, and in other Parts of his Writings (f)."—His Lordship was the Author of an admirable Tract, intitled, Pax Ecclesiæ: in which, among a great Number of other judicious Observations, the discerning Prelate thus accounts for the "Advantages," on which the "Arminian Party " hath and yet doth gain Strength to itself." As, for Instance, "The publishing of Mr Mountagu's Appeal, with 44 Allowance [i. e. under the Sanction of Court-Counte-" nance]: which both hath given Confidence to fundry, who before were Arminians, but in fecret, now to walk " unmasked, ⁽d) Asta Regia, p. 789.

⁽a) See Edwards's Veritas Redux, p, 542,

EPISCOPAL ORTHODOXY. 673

unmasked, and to profess their Opinions publicly in all " Companys." The good Bishop also accounted for the Progress of the new Doctrine, on another Consideration: viz. "The Plausibleness of Arminianism, and the Congruity it hath, in fundry Points, with the Principles of corrupt " Nature and of Carnal Reason. For 'tis a wonderfull " Tickling to Flesh and Blood, to have the Powers of Na-"ture magnify'd, and to hear itself flatter'd, as if She carry'd the greatest Stroke in the Work of Salvation: " especially, when those Soothings are conveyed under the " Pretence of Vindicating the Dispensations of God's Providence from the Imputation of Injustice." His Lordship then procedes to specify, what he terms, "The " manifold Cunning of the Arminians, to advance their " own Party: as, I. In pleading for a Liberty for every " Man to abound in his own Sense, in Things undeter-" mined by the Church: that fo they [the Arminians] may spread their own Tenets the more freely. Whereas, wet, it is too apparent, by their Writings and Speeches, 66 that their Intent and Endeavor is, to take the Benefit of this Liberty, themselves; but not to allow it to those 44 that diffent from them .- 2. In bragging out some of their of private Tenets, as if they were the received Established " Doctrine of the Church of England; by forcing the Words of Articles, or Common Prayer Book, to a Sense which 46 appeareth not to have been intended therein: as Mr Mountagu hath done, in the Point of falling from Grace. Whereas the CONTRARY Tenet, viz. of the FINAL " PERSEVERANCE of the Righteous in Grace and Faith. " may be, by as ftrong Evidence, every Way, and by as natural Deducement, collected out of the faid Books: " as shall be easily proved, if it be required .-- 3. In seek-" ing to derive Envy on the opposite [i. e. on the Calvi-" nistic | Opinions; by delivering them in Terms odious. and of ill and suspicious Sound .-- 4. Which is the most 66 unjust and uncharitable Course of all the rest, in seeking to draw the Persons, of those that dissent from them. into Dislike with the State: as if they si. e. as if the « Calvinists] were Puritans, or Disciplinarians, or that. Way affected." So much for Bishop Saunder son's Judgement, concerning the "manifold, unjust, and uncharitable " Cunning of the Arminians, to advance their own Party." -But what was his Judgement, concerning the Calvinistic System itself? Read it, in his own Words. " Lest this Covenant si. e. the Covenant of Grace and Redemption] 66 should yet be ineffectual, and Christ dye in vain; because none of the Sons of Adam, left to themselves, « especially in this wretched State of [original] Corrup-44 tion, could actually have repented and believed in Christ; 66 [it pleased God] for the Glory of His GRACE, to elect " and cull a certain Number of particular Persons, out of the Corrupted Lump of Mankind, to be advanced into 66 this Covenant, and thereby entitled to Salvation: and that without ANY Cause, or Motive, at all, in themselves; " but MERELY of His [i. e. of God's] own free Grace 44 and good Pleasure in Jesus Christ: Prætermitting, and ce passing by the rest, to perish justly in their Sins."-It is, adds His Lordship, a Part of God's Decree, "To confer, " in due Season, upon the Persons so elected, all fit and effectual Means and Graces, needful for them, unto Sal-« vation: proportionably to their personal Capacitys and "Conditions. Thus much, concerning the " Salvation of those, whom God hath of His free Mercy e elected thereunto. But, with the Reprobates, whom He " hath in His Justice appointed to Destruction, He dealeth " in another Fashion: as concerning whom, He bath De-" creed, either,

" 1. To afford them neither the Extraordinary, nor so much as the Outward and Ordinary Means of Faith. Or else.

"2. In the Presence of the Outward Means of the Word and Sacraments, to withold the inward Concurrence of his enlightening and renewing Spirit to work with those Means. For want whereof, they fthe out-" ward Means] become ineffectual to them [viz. to the " Reprobate | for their good; working upon them either " malignantly, so as their Hearts are the MORE hardened " thereby in Sin and Unbelief; or infirmly, so as not to work " in them a perfect Conversion: but to produce (instead " of the gracious Habits of Sanctification, as Faith, Re-" pentance, Charity, Humility, &c.) fome weak and in-" firm Shadows of those Graces: which, for their formal Semblance sake, do sometimes bear the Name of those "Graces they resemble, but were never, in the mean Time, " the very true Graces themselves; and, in the End, are " discovered to have been FALSE, by the Want of PERSE-" VERANCE (g)". - I shall only add, from the same masterly Tract, his Lordship's Idea of Efficacious Grace. Upon the Elect, says he, who live to the Use of Reason. God confers "Such a Measure of Faith in the Son of God, of Repentance from Dead Works, of new and holy Obe-" dience to God's Commandments, together with final Per-" feverance in all these; as, in His e cellent Wisdom, He " feeth meet: wrought and preferved in them, outwardly, " by the Word and Sacraments; and, inwardly, by the " Operation of His holy Spirit, shed in their Hearts. Whereby, fweetly and without Constraint si. e. without " forcible Compulsion], but yet effectually, their UNDERstandings, Wills, and Affections, are fubdued to the Acknowledgement and Obedience of the Gospel; 46 and both these are done, ordinarily, and by ordinary " Means (b)." So writes the Bishop, to whom our English Liturgy is indebted for its judicious Preface, which begins with, " It has been the Wisdom of the Church, &c."

" with

The truly Apostolic Bishop Pearson (who succeeded the no less excellent Bishop Wilkins, in the See of Chester) was Another ⁽g) Bishop Saunderson, in his Pax Ecclesiae; p. 59, 61—63, 69, 70, 72, 73—Annexed to his Life by Walton, Edit. 1678.

(b) Bishop Saunderson, Ibid. p. 70, 71.

Another of Charles the II's Prelates, who did Honor to the Rochet. Dr Pearson's Calvinism is so well known, (confult, for Instance, his valuable Exposition of the Creed), that I shall only cite a memorable Anecdote of him, on the Testimony of the Learned Dr John Edwards. "When

"I was a young Master of Arts," said Pearson, to Edwards,
"I thought there was no Difficulty in these grand Articles" [viz. in the Articles which divide the Calvinists and the Arminians]; "and that I was able to determine any of them with Ease: especially, on the Arminian Side. But I " have, fince, found it otherwife. And I disapprove of

" Men's rash censuring and condemning the other [viz.

"the Calvinistic] fide (i)." And, indeed, as Dr Edwards observes, we might have guessed this to be the Bishop's Inclination, by his approving of Mr Hales's Remains.

So lately, as in the Reign of Queen Anne, the English Bench was graced with a Beveridge. But further, than the Reign of that Queen, this Deponent saith not.

II. Now for a Sketch of the former State of Religion in the two Universitys.

Every Body knows the Situation, in which Religious Affairs were left by Henry VIII. That Monarch, as Luther fmartly and justly expressed it, "Killed the Pope's Body, but saved his Soul alive (k):" i. e. his Majesty stabbed the Papal (1) Supremacy; continuing, however,

to

⁽i) Edwards's Veritas Redux, p. 543. (k) Luther's Divine Discourses, or Table-Talk; p. 464.—Lond. 1652. Folio.

⁽¹⁾ And even "the Pope's Body," as Luther termed it, bade very fair, at one Time, for a Revival: Henry having confented to negotiate a Reconciliation with Clement the Seventh, under the healing Auspices of the French King (Francis I.), who had "Prevailed with the Pope to promise, that, if the King [of England] would fend a Proxy to Rome, and thereby submit his Cause to the holy See; he [the Pope] would appoint Commissioners to meet at Cambray, and, immediately afterwards, pronounce to the last Hour of his Life, a devoted Bigot to the effential

But, "After the Death of Henry; by the industrious "Zeal of Calvin and his Disciples, more especially Peter "Martyr,—the [English] UNIVERSITYS, SCHOOLS, and CHURCHES, became the ORACLES of CALVINISM. —Hence it happened, that, when it was proposed, under the Reign of Edward VI. to give a fixt and stable "Turn to the Doctrine and Discipline of the Church [of England]; Geneva was ACKNOWLEDGED as a Sister-"Church, and the Theological System, there established by "CALVIN, was adopted, and rendered THE PUBLIC RULE of FAITH in England. This, however, was done, with-

" the Sentence of Divorce, required of him. Bellay, Bishop of " Paris, was next dispatched to London: and obtained a Promise " of the King, that he would submit his Cause to the Roman Con-66 fiftory, provided the Cardinals of the Imperial Faction were excluded ce from it. The Prelate carry'd this Verbal Promise to Rome: " and the Pope agreed, that, If the King would fign a written " Agreement to the same Purpose, his Demands should be fully com-" plyed with. A Day was appointed, for the Return of the Mef-66 fenger. But the greatest Affairs, often, depend on the most fri-" volous Incidents. The Courier, who carry'd the King's writ-" ten Promise, was detained beyond the Day appointed. News " was brought to Rome, that a Libel had been published in " England against the Court of Rome, and a Farce acted before " the King in Derision of the Pope and Cardinals. The Pope 44 and Cardinals entered into the Confistory, enflamed with Anger: " and, by a præcipitate Sentence, the Marriage of Henry and " Catharine was pronounced valid, and Henry declared to be ex-" communicated if he refused to adhere to it.—Two Days after " the Courier arrived: and Clement, who had been hurry'd from 66 his usual Prudence, found, that, tho' he repented heartily of " this hasty Measure, it would be difficult for him to retract it, " or re-place Affairs on the same Footing as before." Hume, Vol. IV. p. 125, 127.

Thus, had not the Pope regarded his Infallibility, as too nice a Point of Honor to be facrificed by rescinding his late Act; his Jurisdiction had been re-established in England.

" out any Change of the Form of Episcopal Government, (m)." Thus stood Matters, while Edward swayed the Sceptre.

When Mary governed, the Protestant Fabric, reared by Edward, was overturned: and as the Universitys, under Him, had been Resormed from Popery to Calvinism; they were, under Her, forcibly carry'd back from Calvinism to Popery.

Elizabeth brought Things to the right Pass again; and our "Universitys," as well as our Churches, became, once more, "the Oracles of Calvinism:" and so they continued, not only 'till that good Queen ascended to a brighter Crown, but through the Reign of her Successor James, and (notwithstanding Laud's vehement Efforts to the contrary) through the Arminian Reign of Charles the First.—I shall give a few Instances.

In 1595, William Barrett, for having contradicted the Doctrine of Final Perfeverance, and for having aspersed Calvin, Beza, Zanchius, and other Luminaries of the Protestant Church; was forced to make Reparation, both to the Truths of God, and to the venerable Names which he had so slippantly traduced, by publicly reading his Recantation: which Recantation had been drawn up for him, by the University of Cambridge, for that Purpose (n).

Peter Baro's Troubles in the fame University, and in the fame Year with Barrett, have been already noted in our XVIIIth Section.

To the above Brace of Brothers, let me add Dr John Houson, by Way of making up a Leash.—This said Houson, tho' a Canon of Christ's Church, and tho' he had been Vice-Chancellor of Oxford, fell under the Censure of the University, for (what was then esteemed a Crime of no small Magnitude) "advancing somewhat, tending to the Disparagement of the Geneva Annotations on the Holy "Scrip-

⁽m) Mosheim, Vol. IV. p. 87, 88.

⁽n) See my Tract, entitled, The Church of England windicated from Arminiavifin, p. 48-51.

"Scriptures (0)." The Sermons, in which he launched this indirect "Disparagement," were termed, Conciones publicas, minus orthodoxas, & plenas Offensionis: i. e. "not fufficiently Orthodox, and replete with Offence." In fine, the Preacher was "Called in Question, and suspended, by Dr Robert Abbot" [Brother to Archbishop Abbot, and shortly after Bishop of Salisbury], "who was then "Doctor of the Chair and Vice-Chancellor (p)." So fared it with Canon Houson, A. D. 1614.

And no Wonder. For Heylyn himself gives us the following needless Information: "It cannot be denyed," fays the Arminian, "but that, by the Error of those "Times, the Reputation which Calvin had attained to " in both Universitys, and the extreme Diligence of his Followers" [i. e. of the Bishops, Clergy, and Laity in general] " for the better carrying on of their own Defigns" Tviz. the laudable Defigns of barring out Popery and Pelagianism, "there was a GENERAL Tendency unto His [i. e. to Calvin's] Opinions (q)." The same Arminian adds, that Calvin's "Book of Institutes was, for the most Part, the FOUNDATION on which the Young Divines of those Times did build their Studys." He even confesses, that he could "find" but "Two Anti-Calvinists," in the whole University of Oxford, at the Period here treated of: which poor "Two" were, Buckridge, Tutor to Laud; and the above suspended Dr Houson. therefore, may the said Heylyn observe (tho' we should have known it without his Information), that, in the two Universitys, the Anti-Calvinians were "But FEW in ... Number, and make but a very THIN Appearance (r)." Extremely few and thin indeed, if their whole Number amounted to no more than True! So that Heylyn should not have apply'd (as he does) that Line, to the Case in Hand,

Apparent

⁽⁰⁾ Heylyn's Hift. & Misc. Tracts, p. 632. (p) Ibid. (q) Heylyn, Ibid. p. 626. (r) Ibid. p. 627.

Apparent RARI nantes in Gurgite vasto; but should rather have altered it to

Apparent GEMINI nantes in Gurgite vasto:

I mean, supposing Dr Buckridge was really not a Calvinist. Of which, however, I stand in some Doubt. Should my Doubt be well grounded, Virgil's Line must undergo a second Alteration: and we must say, of solitary Houson, Apparet solus natans in Gurgite vasto.

If Buckridge was then an Anti-Calvinist; he seems to have been an hidden one: else would not Vice-Chancellor Abbot have SUSPENDED the Fellow of John's, with as little Scruple, as he inflicted that Censure on the Canon of Christ's Church? Heylyn's even Number, therefore, of Two, does not hang well together. Divide his two Arminian Doctors, by one; and, in all Probability, the remainder will give the (5) Quotient.

Unhappily for the Credit of Arminanism, Laud himself, its grand Hero in England, incurr'd no little Danger and Molestation, at Oxford, on Account of his having been suspected to lean towards that new and hated System.—In the Year 1606, Mr Laud, who had then but just taken his Bachelor's Degree in Divinity, "was QUESTIONED is [i. e. called to Account], by Dr Airy, the Vice-Chancellor, for a Sermon preached in St Mary's Church on the ⁽s) With Regard to Queen Elizabeth's Reign, Heylyn does not pretend to alledge a fingle Instance of public Opposition to Calvin's Doctrines, during the whole of that long Period, in the University of Oxford. "Of any Men," says he, "who publicly opposed the Calvinian Tenets, in this University, 'till after the Besignining of King James's Reign, I must confess that I have hitherto found no good Assurance." Ibid. p. 626. He, indeed, pretends to think, that there were some who "fecretly" trained up their Popils in other Principles: but, unless he had produced better Authority, for this Supposition, than his own Conjecture; the Supposition may well pass for groundless.

the 26th of October, as containing in it fundry SCAN-" DALOUS and POPISH Paffages: the good Man [i. e. the " Vice-Chancellor] taking all Things to be Matter of " Popery, which were not held forth unto him in Calvin's " Institutes (t)." It appears, that the Orthodox Univerfity, at large, were of the Vice-Chancellor's Mind, both as to the Excellency of Calvin, and as to the Malignity of Laud. For Heylyn adds: "Which Advantage being " taken by Dr Abbot, he so violently persecuted the poor " Man [i. e. poor Mr Laud], and so openly branded him " for a Papist, or at least very popishly inclined; that it was " almost made an Heresy, as I have heard from his [viz. " from Laud's] own Mouth, for any one to be feen in his " Company; and a Misprisson of Heresy, to give him a civil " Salutation as he passed the Streets (u)." They saw what Materials he was made of, and stigmatized him accordingly.

Eight Years after Laud's public Difgrace, above recited; to wit, A. D. 1614, when the faid Laud had risen to the Prefidentship of St John's College; the spirited and active Dr Abbot (not the Archbishop, but the Bishop) took him openly to Task, in a very sacred Place, and on a very folemn Occasion: or, as Heylyn phrases it, "Fell violent-44 ly foul on Dr William Laud, whom, in his Sermon at " St Peter's, on Easter-Sunday, he [Abbot] PUBLICLY " EXPOSED TO CONTEMPT and SCORN, under the No-" tion of a Papist: as Barret's Doctrines had been formerly " condemned at Cambridge" [and with ample Reason], " by the Name of Popery (x)." As to Barrett, he justifyed the Suspicions, which were entertained of him at Cambridge, by actually declaring himself a Papift, shortly after (y). And for Laud, a few Years made it sufficiently plain, that the Oxonians were not very wide of the Mark, in questioning the genuine Protestancy of that Хx unhappy unhappy Gentleman. Confidering the zealous Orthodoxy of the University in those Days, Land was well off, to escape without Expulsion.

⁽t) Heylyn's Life of Laud, p. 49. (n) Ibid. p. 50. (x) Heylyn's Tracts, p. 532. (y) Fuller's Hist. of Cambridge, p. 151.

Various were the subsequent Toils, which Laud metwith: many a weary Step did he take, and many a mortifying Repulse did he suffer; e'er he could climb the Hill of Promotion, to which he fo ardently aspired. Heylyn laments, very pathetically, the Difficultys, which this his Patron had to furmount, on his first Attempts to ascend the Ladder Ecclefiastic. "At this Time," fays he, viz. about the Year 1624, and the last of King James's Reign, "Bishop. " Laud, to whom the raifing and promoting of the Ar-" minian Doctrines (as they call them) is of late ascribed, " was hardly able to promote and preserve Himself: op-" pressed with an hard Hand, by Archbishop Abbot; secretly traduced to the King, for the unfortunate Bufi-" ness of the Earl of Devonshire; attaining, with GREAT " DIFFICULTY, the poor Bishopric of St David's, after ce ten Years Service" si. e. after ten Years Court Attendencel; "and, yet, but green in Favor with the Duke of " Buckingham (z)." However, in due Season, the " green" Favorite waxed a grey one.

Nothing is more prolific, than Herefy. About three-Years after Laud had been "publicly exposed to Contempt" and Scorn," by Vice-Chancellor Abbot, in the Pulpit of St Peter's, Oxford; another Bird of Laud's Feather (but whose Nest was in the University of Cambridge, as Fellow of Trinity College there) underwent a very uncomfortable Plucking. This Gentleman's Name was Edward Sympson: who, A. D. 1617, Preached a Sermon before King James I. at Royston; taking, for his Text, John iii. 6. That which is born of the Flesh is Flesh. Hence he endeavour'd to prove, That the Commission of any great Sin doth extinguish Grace and God's Spirit, for the

Time, in the Man. He added also, That St Paul, in sthe 7th of Romans, spake not of himself As an Apostle and " REGENERATE, but Statu Legis. Hereat his Majesty " took, and publicly expressed, great Distaste: because " Arminius had lately been blamed for extracting the like Exposition out of the Works of Faustus Socious. Whereupon, he [King James] fent to the two Professors in « Cambridge, for their Judgement herein: who si. e. the " two Cambridge Divinity-Professors] proved, and sub-" scribed, the Place in the 7th Chapter of Romans to be " understood of a REGENERATE Man, according to St " Austin's later Opinion in his Retractations." What was the Refult? "The Preacher was enjoined a PUBLIC REcantation before the King: which accordingly was performed. Nor doth fuch a Palinody found any Thing " to his Difgrace: having St Austin himself for his Precedent, who modefily retracted what formerly he had " written therein (a)."

Nor must we forget Mr Gabriel Bridges, of Corpus Christi College, Oxford: who, "By preaching, on the "19th of January [1623], against the Absolute Decree, "in Maintenance of Universal Grace, and the Co-operation of Man's Free-will prevented by it, in the public Church of the University; laid him more open to the Prosecution of Dr Prideaux, and to the Censure of the Vice-Chancellor, and the rest of the Heads, &c. (b)." We learn, from another Writer, that the Prosecution of Mr Bridges terminated in his public Recantation of his Errors; and that the said Recantation, tho' forced at first, proved eventually real and sincere: the good Man being brought to a better Mind, and to a serious Conviction of the Truths he had too hastily opposed (c).

Some Years afterwards, I find another Religious Delinquent; one Mr Brookes, of Wadham College, Oxford:

x x 2 cenfured

⁽a) Fuller's Hift. of Camb. p. 160. (b) Heylyn's Tracte, p. 633. (c) Anti-Arm. p. 252.

censured, "by the University Heads, for broaching and "justifying some Arminian Assertions, in a Sermon preach-"ed at St Mary's (d)." This young Culprit, thus censured and disgrac'd in the Reign of James; was rewarded, in that of Charles, by Promotion to a wealthy Cure of Souls.

The Theses, publicly maintained by such as proceded Doctors in Divinity, are an additional Demonstration of the old University-Calvinism. Mr Prynne has collected a great number of these, from the authentic Acts of Oxford in particular: and introduces them, with the following just Remark. These "Act-Theses and Questions are always (before they are either admitted, printed, published, or disputed on) propounded to a GENERAL Convectation of the WHOLE University, and by them particularing ly allowed, voted, and then recorded in the University Register, for a Testimony to Posterity, as orthodox, and consonant to the established Doctrine, Faith, and Articles, of the Church of England. So that the whole University's Judgement is comprized in them [i. e. in those Theses], as well as theirs that give them (e)."

In selecting a few Specimens of which University Propositions, I shall begin with the Times of Exizabeth.

- " Æternà Dei Predestinatione continentur, aliorum Electio ad Vitam æternam, aliorum ad Mortem Reproba-
- tio: i. e. The Election of some Persons to everlasting Life,
- " and the Reprobation of others unto Death, are comprized,
- " respectively, in God's eternal Decree of Predestination.
-  Electorum certa est Salus, ut perire non possint. The Salvation of the Elect is so certain, that they cannot possibly perish.

" Electi

⁽d) Anti-Armin. Ibid. (e) Anti-Arm. p. 241.—For the These themselves, of which I give a Sample: see the same Book, from p. 242, to p. 251.

- Electi non possunt, in hâc Vitâ, implere Legem Dei.
- -The Elect are unable, in the present Life, to fulfill the - " Law of God.
 - " Doctrina Prædestinationis olim tradita ab Augustina,
- " & nostris Temporibus à Calvino, eadem est.—The Doc-
- trine of Prædestination, which St Austin antiently taught,
- " is the same with that Doctrine of Predestination, which,
- " in our own Times, CALVIN hath taught.
- " Præscientia Dei æterno Decreto omnia ordinantis,
- " non pugnavit cum Arbitrii Libertate primis Parentibus
- " concessã. The Fore-knowledge of God, who ordaineth all
- " Things by His eternal Decree, did not clash with that Free-
- " dom of Will which he granted [in the State of Innocence]
- to Adam and Eve."

In the Reign of James I. the Oxonian Doctors maintained the following, and fimilar Positions, for that Degree in Divinity:

- "Tota Salus Electorum est merè gratuita.—The Salvation of the Elect is, from first to last, absolutely free and unmerited.
 - . " Electi debent effe, & sunt tandem, suæ Salutis certi.
- -The Elect ought to be affured of their Salvation; and, fooner or later, they are so.
- "Reprobus quisque sua solius perit Malitia.—Every Re"probate perishes in Consequence of his own Wickedness only.
- "An, Qui in Christo sunt perire possint? NEG .- They, who are in Christ, cannot perish.
- "An certi Salutis fuæ omnes falventur? Aff.—All, "who are affured of their Salvation, shall furely be faved.
 - " An fideles possint, certa Fide, statuere, remissa esse
- " Peccata? Aff.—Believers may, with an affured Faith,
- se conclude that their Sins are forgiven.
 - " Non est Liberum Arbitrium .- Man's Will is not free.
- "Sancti non possunt excidere Gratia,—Real Saints can st not fall entirely from Grace.

- "An, Homo possit se præparare ad Gratiam recipiendam? Neg.—Man cannot prepare himself to receive Grace.
- "An, Homo possit scire, se habere Gratiam? Aff. —A Man, who has Grace, may know that he has it.
- "An, Electio sit ex prævisis Operibus? NEG .- Elec- " tion is not occasioned by God's Foresight of good Works.
- "An, Decretum Reprobationis sit absolutum? Aff.
 "The Decree of Reprobation is absolute.
 - " An, Deus Autor Peccati, juxta Reformatorum Sen-
- " tentiam, statuatur? NEG .- The Doctrine of the Reformers,
- or of the Reformed Divines, does not make God the Author of Sin.
 - " An, Gratia Regenerationis Omnibus offeratur? NEG.
- " The Grace of Regeneration is not offered to All Men.
- "An, Gratia Regenerationis possit resisti ? NEG .-
 - " An, Voluntas, in prima Conversione, habeat se tan-
- ce tùm passive? Aff.-The Will of Man is entirely passive,
- in the first Reception of Grace.
 - " An, Reconciliatio per Mortem Christi sit singulis
- 46 Hominibus impetrata? Neg.—Christ's Death did not 46 procure Reconciliation with God for every Man.
 - "An, Lapfus Adami, diverso respectu, dici possit ne-
- ceffarius et contingens? Aff.—The Fall of Adam was
- both contingent and necessary.
 - " An, Decretum, de dandà Fide, sit, in Mente Di-
- « vinâ, prius Decreto de danda Salute? NEG.-God sirst
- ec decreed to fave His People; and, in Consequence of that
- " Decree, resolved to give them Faith.
 - " An, Semel verè Justificatus semper maneat justifica-
- tus? Aff .- The Man, who is once truly Justified, con- tinues justified for ever.
 - "An, Voluntas humana resistere possit Gratiæ Dei
- efficaci? NEG.—Man's Will cannot resist the efficacious Grace of God.
 - cc An,

- 46 An, post Adami Lapsum, Libertas ad Bonum sit pror-
- 46 fus amissa? Aff. -- Ever since the fall of Adam, the
- " Human Will bas utterly lost all its Freedom to [spiritual] good.
 "An, Omnes Baptizati sint Justificati? Neg.—A!!
- "Baptized Persons are not therefore in a State of Justification.
- "An, Ipfe Actus Fidei nobis imputetur pro Justitia Legis,
- see sensu proprio? NEG .- Strictly speaking, the Act of Be-
- " lieving is not imputed to us for legal Righteousn's.
 - "An, Fides, & Fidei Justitia, fint propria Electorum?
- AFF. Faith itself, and the Righteousness of Faith, are peculiar to the Elect."

Among others, the Theses, which next follow, were afferted by the Oxford Doctors, even after the Accession of King Charles I. when Calvinism ceased to enjoy the Sunshine of Court Encouragement.

Anno 1625. "An, Prædestinatio sit ex prævisa Fide,

- " vel Operibus? NEG .- Predestination to Life is not for
- " Faith and good Works foreseen."

Anno 1627. " An, Prædestinatio ad Salutem sit muta-

- bilis? NEG.—Predestination to Life is an Unchangeable
- 46 AET of God.
- "An, Fides, semel habita, possit amitti? NEG.—True Faith, once had, can never be lost.
- "An, Vera Fides cadat in Reprobum? NEG. No
- « Reprobate can truly Believe.
 - "An, Efficacia Gratiæ pendeat à libero Influxu Ar-
- 66 bitrii? NEG .- The Efficacy of Divine Grace is not suf-
- " pended on the free Influence of Man's Will.
 - "An, Christus Divinæ Justitiæ, vice nostrâ, propriè &
- "integre fatisfecerit? Aff.—Christ did, literally and com- " pletely, make Satisfaction to the Justice of God, in our
- " Room and Stead."

Anno 1628. " An, Arbitrium humanum determinet Gra-

- " tiam Divinam ? NEG .- God's Grace is not determined
- by Man's Will."

Examples might be multiplied, to a Volume. But the Reader may judge of the Crop, by the small Gleaning here presented to his view. The Church of England, in those Days, might boast of Oxonians who believed, as well as subscribed, her Thirty nine Articles.

Nor did our other "Oculus Angliæ," the University of Cambridge, yield a Jot to her elder Sister, in Point of Orthodoxy. The eminent Dr Samuel Ward, in May, 1628, thus wrote, from Cambridge, to Archbishop Usher: " As " for our University, none do patronize these si. e. the " Arminian | Points, either in Schools, or Pulpit. Though, " because Preferments at Court are conferred on such as " incline that Way, causeth some to look that Way (f)." In the same Letter, he blames a Doctor Fackson, who had lately "professed himself an Arminian:" and adds, concerning the faid Jackson, "I do conceive, all that which 66 he disputeth in his Book, against negative Reprobation, 46 as not forting with the antecedent Will of God, for " the Salvation of all; to be against the 17th Article of " Religion, which plainly averreth a gratuitous Predestina-46 tion of SOME, and NOT of All. Therefore, from thence " si, e, from the 17th Article of the Church of England.] is inferred, a not-Blestion of Others to that Grace: " which is that which, properly, is flyled, Reprobation (g)." More than fix Years after, viz. in June, 1634, when Arminianism had waxed both older and bolder, the same Dr Ward wrote as follows, to the faid great and good Archbishop. " We have had some doings here [at Cambridge], " of late, about One of Pembroke-Hall [viz. Mr Tourney]; who preaching in St Mary's, about the Beginning of Lent, upon James ii. 22. seemed to avouch the Insus-

: 46 ficiency of Faith to Justification, and to impugn the Doctrine of our 11th Article of Justification by Faith only: for which he was convented by the Vice-Chancellor, who was willing to accept of an easy Acknow-16 Jedgement. But the same Party, preaching his Latin

Sermon, pro Gradu, the last Week, upon Rom. iii. 28; he

" faid, he came not Palinediam canere, fed eandem Cantilenam canere. Which moved our Vice-Chancellor, Dr Love, to call for his Sermon: which he refused to deliver. "Whereupon, on Wednesday last, being Barnaby Day, " the Day appointed for the Admission of the Batchelors " of Divinity, which must answer, Die Comitiorum: " he [viz. the Arminian Preacher] was flayed [i. e. stopt of " his Degree] by the MAJOR Part of the Suffrages of the "DOCTORS of the Faculty. And tho' fundry Doctors did favor him" feven as many as wished to recommend, themselves at Court and at Lambeth], "and would have had 66 him to be the Man that should answer, Die Comitiorum; " yet he is PUT BY: and one Mr Flatkers, of our [viz. " of Sidney] College, chosen to answer; whose first " Question is, sola Fides justificat. The Truth is, " there are fome Heads among us, that are great Abettors of Mr Tourney, the Party above mentioned; who, " no Doubt, are backed by Others. I pray God, we may " PERSIST in the DOCTRINE of our Church, contained in our ARTICLES and Homilys! Innovators are too " much favor'd, now a days. Our Vice-Chancellor hath " carry'd Bufiness, for Matter of Religion, both stoutly " and discretely. --- It may be, you are willing to hear " of our University Affairs. I may truly say, I never " knew them in worse Condition, fince I was a Member " thereof: which is almost 46 Years. Not but that, I " hope, the greater Part is Orthodox. But new Heads are brought in, and they are backed in maintaining Noveltys, and them which broach new Opinions. Others" [i. e those who abide by the old Calvinian Truths] " are difgraced, and checked, when they come above" [i. e. when they either went to Court, or waited on Charles's new Arminian Bishops] "as I myself was, by my Lord of York" [viz. Richard Neile] " last Lent, in Confistory, for favoring Puritans" [the stale, unjust, and shameless Pretence, under which the Laudæan Faction fought to cover their Defign of smothering the Church Doctrines]: "And all from false-Informations from hence, which are believed with" without any Examination. ____ I think, they would " have me out of my Professor's Place. And I could wish "the fame, if I could have one to succeed, according to " my Mind. - - - Well, howfoever, God's Will " be done; and He teach us Humility and Patience! I heard, also, of some doings with You. The Lord of "Heaven direct You and Us, and teach us to submit to " Him in all Things .- I have not yet fent my Answer to " Mr Ch. but intend, e'er long. I have not finished yet " one Point: [viz.] to flew, that the ARMINIAN Opi-" nions were condemned in the Synods which condemned the " PELAGIAN Herely .-- The Tractate, De Prædestinace tianis, in Defence of Your Lordship (I know not your " Adversary, nor his Name), is Doctor Twiffe's. It may " be, he hath fent your Lordship a Copy of it. He is a " deferving Man .- We have a [new] Vice-Chancellor, " who favors Noveltys, both in Rites and Doctrines (b)." -Observe here, I. That Arminianism was then beginning to gain Ground in Cambridge .- 2. This made good Dr Ward figh and weep over the corrupt Inundation, which, he dreaded, would overwhelm the Church of England .-3. Laud, Neile, and the other ecclefiastical Instruments of Court-Oppression, labor'd, might and main, to "dif-" grace" and "check" all the conscientious Churchmen, who stood to the "Articles" and "Homilys." Among the rest, this Dr Ward, and Archbishop Usher himself, had been brow-beaten and infulted by the unblushing Priests who held the Rudder .- 4. Matters, however, tho' gloomy and unpromifing, were not yet so bad, but an Arminian Clergyman, "backed" by People in Power, was, for BEING an Arminian, refused his Degree " by the major Part of the " Suffrages" of the Cambridge Doctors in Divinity, fo low down as A. D. 1634, which was the Tenth Year of Charles's Reign, and the second of Laud's Primacy. 5. How differently did the Court-Current flow, about fixteen Years before, when the identical Dr Ward, who wrote wrote the above Letter, was fent by King James, in Triumph, to the Synod of Dort!

Let the same Reverend and Learned Hand inform us, how the Church of Rome exulted, on the Eclipse of Calvinism in England. "Our Commencement is now over: " where Dean Baden, now Dr Baden, did well perform "his Part; who answer'd the Act, Vesperiis Comitionum. " And fo did the Batchelor of Divinity, Die Comitiorum; 66 being one of the Fellows of our College. The [late] " Vice-Chancellor, Dr Love, did well perform his Part: es especially, in encountering with one Franciscus de S. " Clara (but his true Name is Davenport), who, in a Book " fet forth at Douay, would reconcile our Articles of Re-" ligion with the Definitions of the Council of TRENT (i)." The encreasing Rampancy of Arminianism in this Kingdom, which encouraged the Pope himself to make Laud two separate Offers of a Cardinal's Hat; emboldened the Romish Minorite, Davenport, to lend an helping Hand to the Common Cause, by striving to strike up a Match between the 39 Articles and the Decisions of Trent. Nor did the Minorite, in this shameless Effort at Impossibility, act at all more abfurdly, than did those degenerate and impudent Protestants, who first pretended to find Arminianism in the faid 39 Articles of the Church of England. Was Arminianism really the Doctrine of these Articles, Francis de St Clara might have spared half his Trouble: for there' would then be, fo far as Arminianism is concerned, no Shadow of Difference between the English Articles and the Trentish Determinations.

I shall conclude this brief Enquiry into the Calvinism of our Universitys, with a Sketch of the happy Effects, which Archbishop Usher's Preaching had, at Oxford, on the Youths of that renowned Seminary, antecedently to the Civil Wars.

" The

"The Persuasion of his [i. e. of Usher's] incomparable "Learning, the Observation of his awful Gravity, the 66 Evidence of his eminent and exemplary Piety; all imor proved to the Height, by his indefatigable Industry; drew 66 Students to flock to him, as Doves to the Windows. It 66 joys us to recollect, how Multitudes of Scholars, efof pecially the Heads of our Tribes, thronged to hear the 66 Sound of his Silver Bell, and how much they were taken with the Voice of this wife Charmer .---- Surely, if ever, 'twas THEN, that the Gospel ran and was gloc rifyed in Oxford. Here, you might have feen a furdy Saul changed into a submissive Paul: a Persecutor 46 transformed into a Preacher. There, a tender-hearted " Josiah, lamenting after the Lord, and, with Ephraim, " fmiting on his Thigh, faying, What have I done! Others, " with the penitent Jews, so stabbed at the Heart, as to cry out, Men, Brethren, Fathers, what shall we do (k)?" -Could Archbishop Usher have risen from the Dead, and preached in Oxford, as heretofore; delivering the Antient Truths, and with the same spiritual Success; I fear there has been a subsequent Period, when his converted Students would have been expelled, and the Preacher himself rung out of the Town.--- This reminds me of the IIId. remaining Particular: namely, just to touch upon the State of Religion amongst us, fince the primary Introduction of Arminianism by Archbishop Laud.

The final Catastrophes of Charles's Reign are well known; of which Catastrophes his own Tyranny, Perverseness, and Infincerity, together with the violent Conduct of his Ministers, must undoubtedly be considered as the main Source. With regard to Ecclesiastical Matters, the triumphant Sectarists did but finish what Laud had began. That Prelate labor'd to destroy the internal Destrines of the Church:

and.

⁽k) See the Preface to the Quarto Edition of Archbishop Usher's Sermons. Edit, 1660.

and the republican Zealots followed the Blow, by de-molishing the whole Fabric.

In the unsettled Times, which intervened between the Execution of Charles I. and the Restoration of his Family to the Crown; the Church lay in Ruins. A violent Extreme, very frequently, engenders its Opposite. As Laud had directed much of his Zeal and Force towards his favorite Point, of re-baptizing the Church into the groffeft Absurditys, of splendid Superstition; his Enemies were no sooner Masters of the Field, than they bent Things too much the other Way, and opened a Channel to the wildest Extravagancys of Fanaticism. The elegant Simplicity. with which the National Worship had been solemnized. during the Reigns of Elizabeth and James I. gave Place, in many Instances, to naked and slovenly Modes of Celebration, that rendered the public Performance of Divine Offices, rather Matter of Contempt and Difgust, than Steps to decent and reasonable Devotion.

It must, indeed, be acknowledged, that, during the Period now treated of (viz. the Usurpation), many eminent Divines florished, whose Piety and Learning, Abilitys and Candor, would have adorned any Denomination, and have done Honor to any Party, whatever. Mr Stephen Charnock, for Example, in whom all those illustrious Qualitys were united, and to a very uncommon Degree; may rank with the best and most respectable Men, to whom this Island ever gave Birth. Yet is it equally true, that no small Number of the then authorized Teachers were immerged in the thickest Dregs of Ignorance, Bigotry, and Fanaticism. For, the Plan (now adopted by Mr John Wesley, and which has ever been in Fashion among the Turks) was then too generally perfued in England: viz. that of proflituting the Ministerial Function, to the lowest and most illiterate Mechanics. Persons of almost any Class. but especially common Soldiers, who pretended to be pregnant with " a Message from the Lord," had free Access to the Pulpit. If the Preacher was hardly " Letter-learned" enough, to read his Text; that very Circumstance was, in the Opinion of many, but a stronger Demonstration of his being supernaturally "gifted". 'Tis easy to conceive, what an inverted and difforted Figure the Protestant Doctrines must have made, when viewed thro' the Medium of such Ministrations. Corruptio optimi est pessima. 'Twas this unhappy Circumstance, which opened the chief Door to those Floods of licentious Ridicule and Burlesque, poured on the most venerable and important Truths, in the subfequent Days of Charles II .- Among the Lay-Preachers, who most fignalized themselves during the Usurpation, was John Goodwin, the Arminian Leveller and Fifth-Monarchy Man: with whom must be joined his Co-adjutant in the Work of the Ministry (for they both occupy'd one Pulpit), the renowned Mr Thomas Venner, no less eminent for the Infurrections which he raised, for the Murders he committed, and for his horrible dying Behavior at the Gallows, than for his Skilfulness in hooping Barrels (which was his proper Trade), and for the Ardor wherewith he propagated Arminianism.

Monarchy and the Church of England revived together, in (1) 1663. By the Church of England, I here mean, the Frame and the Forms of the Church: or, in other Words, her Hierarchy, Discipline, Worship, and Revenues. Does the Reader ask, why I express myself with such Precision and Limitation? I would rather answer this Question,

Turettini Hist. Eccles. p 401.

⁽¹⁾ The following Portrait of Charles II. tho' sketched by a foreign Hand, conveys a striking Likeness of that profane and libidinous Tyrant. "Fuit is Libidinis Serwus; Sacra fusque deque" habens; Protestantis speciem præ se ferens, ut securius regnaret se sed in extremis, ut quidem serunt, pontificio Ritu Rem Divinam secit. i. e. He was a Drudge to Lust; a contemptuous Disreser garder of every Thing serious and sacred; a Protestant in Pretence, to secure himself on the Throne; but, in his last Moments, he so far threw off the Masque, as to receive the Eucharist, &c.

Question, in the Words of Another, than in Words of my own .- "Upon the Restoration, the Church, tho' She 66 still retained her Old Subscriptions and Articles of Faith, was found to have totally changed her speculative 46 Principles (m)." That is, tho' the Liturgy, Articles. and Homilys, were not weeded of their Calvinism; yet, very many of the new Clergy were tinged with Arminianism. To preserve Appearances the Old Doctrines were permitted to keep their Place in the printed Standards: but a great Number of the new Subscribers had, in Reality, ranged themselves under a different Banner.-Thus, no fooner had the Goodness of Divine Providence retrieved the Church from the Hands of her declared Enemies, than she fuffer'd by the Doctrinal Defertion of her oftenfible Friends. Not that the Defertion then, any more than now, was Universal. But those, who embraced that odd Species of Diffenting Conformity, known by the Name of Arminianism, appear to have conflituted the Majority (n): and have done fo, from that Day to this.

- IV. Let me now procede to the Ventilation of such Objections, raised against the Doctrinal Calvinism of the Church of England, as I have either omitted to consute, or have but lightly touched upon, in my former Publications.
- 1. We are gravely told, by one Arminian after another, that the Principles of our Established Church are, "not "Calvinian, but Melansthonian." If this was true, what would the Arminians get by it? just nothing at all. For, as I have (0) elsewhere proved, Melansthon carry'd the Doctrine

(m) Hume's Hift. 5, 573.

⁽n) 'Tis remarkable, that Application was made to Charles the Second, to revive Queen Elizabeth's Order for placing Fox's History of the Martyrs in the common Halls of the Archbishops, Bishops, Deans, Archdeacons, Colleges, &c. To which Request, the crafty King seemed to smile Assent. But he took Care to leave the Thing undone.——See Wood's Athen. I 187.

⁽⁰⁾ See my Translation of Zanchius on Predestin, p. 121-124.

Doctrine of Predestination to as high a Pitch, as Luther and Calvin themselves. Nor did he ever retract a single Syllable of what he wrote on that Subject.

But Melancihon, how orthodox foever, does not appear (and I have study'd these Matters with as much Attention, I believe, as any Arminian among us) to have had the least hand, or the least Influence, directly or indirectly, on any Part of the English Reformation. He was, for ought I have ever been able to find, no more concerned in fabricating the Church of England, than was Zoroaster or Confucius. Let the Arminians prove the contrary, and we will weigh their Proofs in the exactest Ballance of Candor and Attention. I go still farther; and add, so remote was Melanethon from being an English Reformer, that I never yet heard of any Church at all, whose Reformation he was the Instrument of effecting. I know, indeed, that he is generally numbered among the foreign Reformers: but he feems to have that Honor affigned him, more by the Courtefy of some Authors, than by Virtue of Historical Fact. His framing the Augsburg Confession, does not prove him a Reformer: for that pacific Department was committed to his Care, by Princes whose Churches were already Reformed to his Hand. Nor did his pious Endeavors to affift Herman, the Archbishop of Cologne, in reforming that City, entitle him to the above Name: for both the Archbishop's Efforts, and his own, proved entirely unfuccefsful.

As I am on the Subject of Melancthon, I will digress into some other Particulars concerning him.

Mr Hume is abundantly too severe to the Memory of that Learned Man, in numbering him among those whom he impertinently traduces, as "wretched Composers of "Metaphysical Polemics (p)." Melanethon, with all his supposed "Wretchedness" of Parts, had more solid Knowsledge, in his little Finger; than Mr Hume has of Infidelity, delity, from the Crown of his Head to the Sole of his Foot. Add to which, that this Censure, if admitted, would involve, not only the greatest Christian Divines of all Ages, but likewise more than half the Philosophers of Antiquity: who dealt as much in "Metaphysics," and in "Polemics," as any believing Priest whatever. Besides: who has dabbled more in "polemical Metaphysics," than Mr Hume himsels? and a metaphysical Polemist is a metaphysical Polemist, let his Metaphysics and his Polemics be of what Cast they will. Moreover, the Sneer could not have fallen more wide of the Mark: for no Divine, of Melansthon's Eminence, then living, had a less metaphysical Head, or dealt more sparingly in Polemics, than He. ————Let the ingenious Declaimer read, before he declaims: and his Conclusions will be less precipitant.

Amidst all my just Veneration for the Name and Memory of Melantshon, I must observe, that he possessed one Quality, which threw no little Shade on the Lustre of his Virtues and of his Talents. I mean, that timid, temporizing Spirit, which, either through Weakness of Nerves, or Weakness of Faith, appears to have been the Evil that most easily besat him. Dr Robertson remarks, that, in 1550, after the artful Business of the (q) Interim had been successfully carry'd by the Power and Intrigues of the Emperor Charles (a Step which he would not have found so easy, had the honest and courageous Luther been living); "Melanst-bon,

⁽q) When Disputes ran high in Germany, between the Advocates for Popery, and the Patrons of the Reformation; Charles V. ordered a System of Theology to be drawn up, in which he required both Partys to acquiesce, 'till a General Council should meet to settle the agitated Controversys. Hence the Book itself was called, The Interim. It was first published, in the Diet of Augsburg, May 15, 1548, and, the composed with much study'd Ambiguity of Expression, in order to trepan the Protestants with greater Facility; yet, almost every one of the Popish Tenets was either expressly or virtually afferted in it. See Rebertson, Vol. III. P. 481.

hon, now deprived of the manly Counfels of Luther, which were wont to inspire him with Fortitude, and to preserve him steady amidst the Storms and Dangers that threaten'd the Church, was seduc'd into unwar-rantable Concessions, by the Timidity of his Temper, his fond Desire of Peace, and his excessive Complaisance towards Persons of high Rank (r)."

On this, as well as many other Occasions, throughout his Life, Melanchon's Complaifance was indeed excessive, to a Fault. The Name Didymus, which he once assumed (when he published a Tract under the Rose), suited but too well with that Duplicity of Conduct, which put him so often upon trimming and shuffling in the Things which pertain to God. At Bottom, his Principles were sound: and he (s) hated, in Reality, the Painful Ambidexterousness, wherewith he thought it prudent to balance between the Friends and the Enemys of the Resormation.

" All Europe was convinced, that Melanethon was not fo averse, as Luther, to an Accommodation with the ROMA-" NISTS: and that he would have facrificed MANY Things. of for the fake of Peace (t)." Of this, Melanathon gave Proof upon Proof: but never more enormously, than at the Augiburgh Conference, in 1530, when he appeared to be in an Humor to facrifice, not only many Things, but every Thing, for the fake of a Co-alition with the Church of Rome. He agreed, "That Men should not 66 be faid to be justifyed by Faith alone, but by Faith " and Grace [i. e. by Faith and inherent Grace or Ho-" lines]: That good Works are necessary [viz. to Jus-" tification]: That Reprobates are included in the Church: "That Man hath a Free-will: That the Bleffed Saints " intercede for us, and may be Honored: That the Body and Blood of Christ are contained in both Elements: " That ⁽r) Robertson's Hist. of Charles V. Vol. IV. p. 16. (s) See Strype's Life of Cranmer, p. 408. (t) Rols's Lives of the Reformers, p. 103, from Bayle.

That those of the Laity are not to be condemned, who receive the Eucharist only under one Kind: That the usual Veneration should be given to the Holy Sacrament: That Mass should be publicly celebrated with the usual Ceremonys: That the Popish Bishops should hold their antient Jurisdictions: and That the Parish Priests should possess a Power of Excommunication, and be subject, in Spiritual Matters, to the said Roman Bishops (u)."

This was " facrificing," with a Witness. But, it seems, the good Man would have facrificed still more, if Luther and the other Protestants, by whose Commission he [Melanothon] treated with the Romish Divines, had not taken Fire at the extravagant Concessions already made, and restrained him from going on. "MelanEthon, who " was very much inclined to Peace" [i. e. to patch up a Peace with the Church of Rome, by allowing her every Point she wanted], "might have come NEARER, if he " had been invested with ample Powers. But the rigid " Protestants had been dissatisfy'd with his Condescensions, and ordered him to advance no farther (x)."—Thus acted the Man, who declared himself to be, what he most certainly was in his Heart, fo convinced "Of the Truth " of Luther's Doctrine," that he "would never forsake " it (y)!" Nor does it appear, that he ever did inwardly forfake the Doctrine of Luther. But can I commend him for his pufillanimous Flexibility, which induced him to curry human Favor, at the Expence of Divine Truth; and for straining his own Conscience, in order to shake Hands with Rome? I commend him not.

Take another Instance of his Ductility. "Melantihon" was consulted, upon the Divorce which Henry VIII. "was determined to have against Catharine of Spain: and he gave his Opinion, That the Law in Leviticus is DISPENSABLE, and that the Marriage [viz. the King's yy 2 "Marriage"

⁽⁴⁾ Rolt, Ibid. p. 105. (x) Rolt, Ibid. (y) Ibid. p. 102.

"Marriage with his Brother's Widow] "might be LAW"FULL; and that, in THESE Matters, States and Princes
"might make WHAT LAWS THEY PLEASED (2)." Throw this artful Piece of Court-Casuistry which way you will,
'twill pitch upon its Legs, and stand plum upon Allfour. It told Henry, in Effect, that he might either retain his Conjugal Sister, or put her away, just as Appetite should serve. For what was past, his Majesty had incurred no Sin: because, in these Matters, the Law of God may be dispensed with by Princes. And, as to the future, if the King did not chuse to persist in exerting his Right to dispense with God's Law, he might at any Time rid himself of a stale Wise, by giving her a Bill of Divorcement. Such was Melanethon's "excessive Com"plaisance to Persons of high Rank!"

The Advice, he gave to OEcolampadius, bore the fame Impress of Artifice and Duplicity. The Lutherans and the Zuinglians differed, concerning the Nature of the Holy Sacrament. The former supposed, that the real Body and Blood of Christ were con-substantiated with the Elements, tho' the Elements were not trans-substantiated into the real Body and Blood: but that Both subsisted together, as Fire subsists in and with a red-hot Iron. The Zuinglians, on the other Hand, believed, that the confecrated Symbols were no more than a merely commemorative Representation. A Conference was opened, upon this Matter, between some Divines of each Party. OEcolampadius wrote to Melancthon, requesting him to terminate the Dispute, by declaring himself in Favor of the Zuinglian Opinion. Observe Melan&bon's Answer. "I cannot approve the 66 Opinion of the Sacramentarians; but, if you would act politicly, you should speak otherwise: for, you know, " there are many Learned Men among them, whose Friend-

Luther

" fhip would be advantageous to me (a)."

Luther could never bring himself to hunt with the Hound and run with the Hare. He was formed of Materials too heroic, not to abhor Collusion, and all its narrow, skulking Arts. Hence, he often railly'd Melanthon, and sometimes chid him in Terms of Severity, for his religious Cowardice. These friendly Stimulations roused and quicken'd Melanthon, for a short While: but he soon relapsed into Melanthon again.

Let a Man espouse what System he will, he must unavoidably displease some Party or other. But the Man, who affects to adopt such a System, as may render him obnoxious to no Party whatever; very rarely acquires that Measure of Esteem, from Any, which he fondly expects to receive from All. MelanElhon hoped, that his extreme Moderation would have exempted him entirely from the Feuds of Enmity and Opposition. But he was disappointed: and the Disappointment had an unfavorable Effect on his Spirits. In angling, with fo much Anxiety, for universal Applause; he incurred that Suspicion, which is the usual Reward of irresolute Fluctuation. A great Part of the Protestants disliked him, for not seeming Protestant enough: and most of the Papists hated him, for not being sufficiently Popish. The Consequence was, that he led a very uneasy Life, between the Two.

"Nature," fays Monsieur Bayle, "which gave Melan&thon a peaceable Temper, made him a Present ill fuited with the Time in which he was to live. He was like a Lamb in the midst of Wolves. His Moderation ferved only to be his Cross. No body liked his Mildness (b)."—"He was never out of Danger: but might truly be faid, through FEAR, to be all his Lifetime subject to Bondage. Thus he declared, in one of his Works, that he had held his Prosessor's place [at Wittenburg] forty Years, without being ever sure that he should not be turned out of it before the End of the Week (c)."
Honesty

⁽b) Hift. Dict. Vol. IV. p. 187. (c) Biograph. Dict. Vol., VIII. p. 325. Yy 3

Honesty is the best Policy. Who would wish, by disguising his Sentiments, to tread the artificial and painful Path of the trimming Melantibon?

Notwithstanding his acknowledged Desect of Courage, he yet ventured to assert the strongest Predestination. A Learned (d) Papist even goes so far as to charge Calvin himself with borrowing some of the Arguments, by which he supports that Doctrine, from Melantston. This Accusation, tho' false, shews the Agreement, which subsisted between those two Divines, upon that important Article.

Our own Bishop Davenant, who was a consummate Judge of these Matters, observes, that " Mclan&thon took of Offence at the Manner of delivering the Doctrine of " Predestination and Reprobation, insisted on by some: but, for the Substance of Doctrine, he acknowledged his " Agreement with CALVIN. That Men must come to " the Knowledge of their Election, from their Faith and " holy Life; was Melancibon's Opinion: but that their 66 foreseen Faith and Holiness, was the Cause, or Condition, or Motive, upon which God founded His De-" cree of Election, was far from his Mind (e)." We are reminded, by a later Writer than the good Bishop, that Calvin condescended to dedicate his Treatife, against Pighius, to MelanEthon: for which Token of Calvin's Friendship, Melancthon warmly expressed his Gratitude. " Mr Calvin confirmed his own [Flock] at home, and ftrongly opposed his Adversarys abroad: publishing his " four Books about Free-will, which he dedicated to " Philip Melanethon; against Albert Pighius, the greatest 66 Sophister of the Age, and who had fingled out Calvin " for his Antagonist, being promised a Cardinal's Hat if " he could carry the Victory. But [Pighius] being fruf-" trated of his Labor, he gat That, which the Enemys of Truth only deferve, viz. that he stank amongst Learn-" ed

⁽d) Spondanus. See Bayle, Vol. II. p. 272.

Davenant against Hoord, p. 72.

ed and good Men, himself being deceived by the Devil.

46 How much Melantihon esteemed those Books of Mr

" Calvin, himself testifys in his Epistles which are in 66 Print (f)."

Melanethon, as well as Calvin, was a (g) Sub-lapfarian. In those Times, Arminianism was a Term utterly unknown in the Christian Church. Melanethon dyed, A. D. 1560. i. e. the same Year, in which Arminius was born. The Enemys of Grace were then termed Pelagians and Semipelagians.

Melantihon had an elegant Genius, cultivated by intense Application. His Piety was elevated, his Learning prosound, and his Usefulness very considerable. Could he have got the better of that unhappy Dissidence, which was perpetually betraying him into Inconsistencys, and hampering him with Perplexitys; he might have been classed with the greatest of Mankind. Among his other Friends, Zanchius, with much Tenderness and Delicacy, warned him of the Danger to which his capital Deficiency exposed him. "Non dubitant pii," said that great Man, in one of his Letters to Melantihon, "de tuâ eximiâ Eruditione, et singulari Pietate: tantum hoc precamur omnes, donet Te, Virum alioqui fortem, majori etiam Spiritus Fortitudine Deus. Vide, quam familiariter ego, omnium "minimus, (f) Clark's Marrow of Hist. p. 293.

⁽g) "Reformatores nostri, ut Verbum etiam de iis addamus, D. Augustini de Gratia & Prædestinatione Sententiam penè omnes sequebantur; quam & crudiùs nonnunquam tradebant; ut ex Lutheri, de Servo Arbitrio, multisque Zuinglii & Culvini, Locis, constare potest. Quin & sueruut, qui ad rig dissima Supralapsariorum Placita (quibus Electio & Reprobatio, in Decretis Divinis, supra Homiois Lapsum statuuntur) procedere haud dubitarent; ut Beza & Zanchius: ad mitiora destexit Melancthon."— J. A. Turettini Hist. Eccles. p. 328.—Let me just hint, that this Learned Man is mistaken, in placing Zanchius on the List of Supralapsarians.

minimus, Tui tamen inter omnes observantissimus, tecum loquor, eximie & doctissime Philippe (b). i. e. All co good Men unite in acknowledging Your uncommon Learning and Piety. But it is no less true, that we likewise unite, in beseeching God to endue You with a larger Portion of Courage and Boldness. See, how free the least considerable, but not the least respectful, of Your Friends, ventures to make with you!"

Envy is, perhaps, not often honor'd with Residence in so fo valuable a Mind as that of Melanethon. At the very Time, however, when his Intimacy with Luther was at its Height, he feems to have viewed the Ascendency, which that Reformer had acquired among Protestants, with Jealoufy and Pain. I wish the following Incident could be reasonably ascribed to a less ungenerous Principle. " Mece langthon often exhorted Bucer, not to yield so much to " Luther (i)." He feems to have re-iterated this fecret Exhortation, not only by Word of Mouth, but also by Letter: and Bucer, weary'd and disgusted with MelanEthon's Teizings, feems to have at last communicated the Matter to Luther himself. So at least I conjecture, from the Aspect of what follows: "He [i. e. Melanathon] himself writes, that Luther was fo enraged against him, about a Letter, received from Bucer; that he [Melan&hon] 46 thought of nothing but withdrawing himself forever " from Luther's Presence. He lived under such conti-" nual Constraint from Luther, &c. and was so oppressed with Labor and Vexation; that, being quite spent, he wrote to his Friend Camerarius: I am in Bondage, as if I were in the Cave of the Cyclop (for I cannot disguise or my Sentiments to You), and I have often Thoughts of making " my Escape (k)." At one Time, he entertained the romantic Design of retiring into the Holy Land, and of spending the Remainder of his Days in the identical Caverns formerly occupy'd by St Jerom (1). But, the Storm abating, that whimfical Scheme subsided with it.

⁽b) Zanchii, Opera, Tom. VIII. p. 148. (i) Bayle, Vol IV. I. 190. (k) Bayle, Ibid. 191.

Is it not very extraordinary, that a Person, of Melancibon's tender Spirits and Goodness of Heart, should justify and applaud the Magistrates of Geneva, for punishing Servetus's religious Mistakes with Death? "They acted "RIGHT," says Melancthon, "in bringing that Blasphe-"mer to the Stake, after having first granted him the Privillege of a fair Tryal (m)." Alas, what is Man!

No less inconsistent were MelanEthon's Nibblings at the Doctrine of Fate, in the Sense wherein that Doctrine was held by some Stoics. The Astrological Fate, or a Destiny resulting from the Positions and Influence of the Planets, is a very absurd, and a very prophane Tenet. MelanEthon would have done rightly, in entering his Caveat against it. had his Caveat been fincere. But, even here, he acted with his usual Dissimulation. In his Heart, he leaned very strongly toward that exceptionable Species of illegitimate Fatality. "I will observe," says Bayle, "that he Me-" lantihon] was credulous, as to Prodigys, Astrology, and " Dreams (n)." Mr Rolt adds, "From Melan Thon's " Epistles it may be observed, that he was a Believer in " judicial Astrology, a Caster of Nativitys, and an In-" terpreter of Dreams. Strange Weakness, in so great " a Man! (o)"-So far, therefore, was he from really denying Predestination and Fate; that he held those Doctrines, even to Excess: i.e. in the most irrational, gloomy, and superstitious Point of View, in which it is possible for the human Mind to entertain them.

The Reformers were, however, fenfible of Melan Ethon's well-meaning Piety, tho' the strange Mixture and Variegation

⁽¹⁾ Ibid. p. 188. (m) "Melancthon Magistratus Genevenses recté fecisse affirmat, quòd Hominem blasphemum, Re Ordine judicatà, interfecerint."—Turrettini (Fran.) Institutionis Theologiæ Vol. III. p 374. Edit. Lugd. 1696.

⁽n) Vol. IV. p. 187. (o) Lives of the Ref. p. 111.

gation of his spiritual Complection made them often at a Loss how to deal with him:

> - - Each finding, as a Friend, Something to blame, and something to commend.

Luther had a very great Regard for him, but perceived it needful, both to refrain him, and to spur him on, as Occasion required. Calvin held him in considerable Estimation, and treated him with the most benevolent Tenderness. He was also honor'd with the Correspondence of Archbishop Cranmer; who conceived a favorable Idea of his Learning and Humility. But they, who infinuate, that he [Melanothon] was concerned with that Prelate in Reforming the Church of England, feem to have advanced a Conjecture totally unwarranted by a fingle Grain of Proof. I can find no more than two Occasions, on which he was invited into England (but they were only Invitations, for he never came): namely, in (p) the Reign of Henry VIII. whom he had pleafed to the Life, by his gentle Casuistry concerning that Monarch's Divorce; and again, a little before the Death of Edward VI. who intended to have given him a quiet Retreat in England from his Troubles in Germany, by fixing him at Cambridge, after the Death of Bucer (q). But when the first Invitation was given him, Henry had no Design to reform (nor did he, to his dying Day, reform) the Doctrinal System of the Church. And, when the fecond Invitation was fignifved to Melancthon, the Church had been Reformed ALREADY, by the Care of King Edward, the Duke of Somerfet, Cranmer, Ridley, Bucer, Martyr, Calvin, and Others. Certain it is, that Zanchius was actually invited hither, in due Season, "To Assist in carrying on the  REFORMATION (r):" and that the Reformers of our Church were difappointed of his Help, by his preferring a a Settlement at Strasburg; the Divinity-Chair of that City being offer'd him, while he was on his Journey towards this Kingdom (s).

(q) Ibid. (f) Strype's Eccles. Memor. Vol I. p. 231, 232. Vol. II. p. 401, 402, (r) See Hickman, u. f. p. 151.

2. 'Tis objected, against the Calvinism of our Established Church, That "In several Parts of the Liturgy, "&c. She herself seems to speak the Language of Arminius."—Impossible! for the Church (as we have already observed) having been Resormed and Established, long enough before Arminius existed; She can never be supposed to have borrowed either her Sentiments, or her Language, from a Man who was then unborn.

A Number of Passages have been amassed, by some despairing Arminians, in order to prove, from the Liturgy and Homilys themselves, that the Church of England is but a Sort of Shoot from the Arminian Stock. The Passages, however, are no more to the Purpose, than if they were alledged to prove that Queen Elizabeth was Adam's Wise and the Mother of all Mankind. Notwithstanding this, I have given each of them a distinct Consideration, in a Pamphlet, which has long lain by me; and which shall be committed to the Press, whenever the Indulgence of the Public shall call for its Appearance. In the mean while, I shall weigh two Passages, which are urged with great Triumph, and not without some Color of seeming Plausibility, by Mr John Wesley, and Co.

The first of these two Citations is selected from the Liturgy: where, in the Communion Service, the officiating Minister, at the Delivery of the Holy Elements, says, to every Receiver, "The Body of our Lord Jesus Christ, which was given for thee:" and, "The Blood of our Lord Jesus Christ, which was shed for thee."—Does not this look something like absolutely universal Redemption? Not, when soberly considered: unless it could be proved, that every Individual of the whole Human Race, from Adam to the last of Mankind, have been, are, and will be, Communicants municants in the Church of England. - "Oh, but it proves that All, who do so communicate, are, in her Judgement, redeemed by Christ." Granted. And why does She suppose them redeemed? Even because she invites none to the Lord's Table, but Those, who do "truly and earn-" eftly REPENT them of their Sins, and are in LOVE and " CHARITY with their Neighbors, and intend to lead a NEW " LIFE, following the Commandments of God, and walking " from henceforth in His holy Ways (t)." As, therefore, the Church takes for granted, that All, who present themselves at that solemn Ordinance, are partakers of these Graces; she very consistently infers, that they are likewise All redeemed by the Blood of Christ: for who can question the Redemption of Penitents and Saints? "Oh, but there's Reason to believe, that All Communicants are not Pe-" nitents and Saints." Whether they are, or are not, must be left to the Decision of God. 'Tis enough to the present Point, that the Church describes the Redeemed of the Lord under the Characters of penitent and holy: and. thereby (in exact Harmony with Scripture), virtually excludes, from a visible Interest in Christ's Redemption, those who do not repent and obey. For each converted and fanctified Receiver, the Church affirms that the "Body of " Christ was given," and "the Blood of Christ was shed." What is this but faying, by necessary Consequence, that we have no Right to extend the Death of Christ to such Persons, as are not converted and sanctified? So that the very Words themselves, of the Administration, are a Proof, not of an unlimited, but of an excedingly restrictive, Redemption.

The second Quotation is taken from one of the Homilys.

"In the Homily of Almsdoing," fay Wesley and Sellon, there is this Apocryphal Text, that Alms makes an Atonement for Sins."——I know not what adequate Atonement these two Arminians can make to the Church, for the Slander and Falsehood of that Infinuation, which they mean to convey, under the Cover of this Remark. Let us consult the Homily itself: and its Import will be found, not only quite innocent of Arminianism, but positively Orthodox, and most highly Calvinistic.

⁽t) Exhortation, before the Celebration of the Bleffed Sacrament.

"Ye shall understand, dearly Beloved, that neither " those Places of the Scripture, before alledged; neither " the Doctrine of the bleffed Martyr Cyprian; neither any " other Godly and Learned Man; when they, in extoll-" ing the Dignity, Profit, Fruit, and Effect of virtuous " and liberal Alms, do say that it washeth away Sins, and " bringeth us to the Favor of God, do mean that our "Work and Charitable Deeds are the original Cause of " our Acceptation before God, or that, for the Dignity " or Worthiness thereof, our Sins may be washed away, " and we purged and cleanfed of all the Spots of our Ini-" quity: for that were indeed to deface Christ, and to de-" fraud Him of His Glory. But they mean THIS, and "THIS is the Understanding of those and such-like " fayings: that God, of his MERCY and SPECIAL FAVOR towards THEM whom He hath APPOINTED to EVERLAST-" ING SALVATION, hath so offered his Grace especially, " and they have fo received it fruitfully, that although, by " Reason of their finful Living, they SEEMED before to " have been the Children of Wrath and Perdition; yet, " now, the Spirit of God mightily working in them " unto Obedience to God's Will and Commandments, " they DECLARE, by their outward DEEDs and Life, in " the shewing of Mercy and CHARITY (which cannot " come, but of the SPIRIT of God and His ESPECIAL "GRACE), that they ARE the undoubted Children of God, " APPOINTED to everlasting Life. And so, as, by their Wick-" edness and ungodly living" [viz. before they were converted], " they shewed themselves, according to the Judge-" ment of Men which follow the outward Appearance, " to be Reprobates and Cast-aways; so now, by their " OBEDIENCE unto God's holy Will, and by their Mercifulness cifulness and tender Pity (wherein they shew themselves

"to be like unto God, who is the Fountain and Spring of Mercy), they DECLARE, openly and monifestly to the sight of Men, that they ARE the Sons of God, and ELECT of Him unto Salvation. For as the good Fruit is not the Cause that the Tree is good, but the Tree must first be good before it can bring forth good Fruit; so the Good Deeds of Man are Not the cause that MAKETH Man good: but he is first MADE good, by the SPIRIT and GRACE of God, that EFFECTUALLY worketh in him; and AFTERWARD he bringeth forth good Fruits. And then, as the good Fruit doth argue the Goodness of the Man argue and certainly prove the Goodness of him that doth it: according to Christ's saying, Ye shall know them by their FRUITS (u)."

If the Church had not thus explained her own Meaning, Mefficurs Wesley and Sellon might have had some seeming Foundation for infinuating that the Homily afferts the propitiatory Merit of Almsgiving. But as She, so largely and so expressly, defines the Sense in which She admits the Justifying Power of that good Work; the above Pair of Arminian Defamers are absolutely inexcusable for their gross and wilfull Violation of Justice and Truth, in laying, to the Charge of the Church, Things which she knoweth not (x).

3 'Tis

⁽u) Homily on Almsdeeds, Part II. p. 160, 161 .- Edit. 1640.

⁽x) From the pitiable Ignorance, which distinguishes the Complexion of the following Remark; I am disposed to believe, that the Remark itself is of Mr Sellon's own Fabrication, unaided by the Co-adjutorship of his domineering Help-mate, Mr JohnWesley.

——The Remark is this: that The Church of England affirms Universal Redemption, in saying, that "Christ offered himself once" for all upon the Altar of the Cross." Now, I hereby inform Mr Sellon (as Mr Wesley ought to have done before the Bolt was shot), that the Church of England took that Phrase [viz. "once

2. 'Tis objected, that the Calvinistic Doctrines are Puritanic; and were tenaciously held by many, who opposed the Established Hierarchy.

I answer: That the Term, Puritan, belonged, in its primary Application, to Thole Persons, and to Those Perfons alone, who differted from the Government, the Difcipline, and the Ceremonys, of the Church of England. This will never be controverted, by Any, who are at all acquainted with the History of Elizabeth's Reign, in whose Time that Word (Puritan) was first coined. Nor was it ever applied to Church-men themselves, 'till about two Years before the Death of King James the First: when a temporizing Italian Papist [viz. Antony de Dominis, once Archbishop of Spalato] craftily endeavor'd to transfer the Name, from Protestant Dissenters, to such Members of the Established Church as were Enemys to regal Tyranny. and to the new Doctrines of Arminius (y).-In the fucceding Reign of Charles, Laud kept up the Ball which De Dominis had raised: and, by Degrees, every conscientious Son of the Church, who was Protestant enough, to maintain her Doctrines; and English-man enough to support the Civil Constitution of the Kingdom; was, at Court, treated as a Puritan.

Wilfon

[&]quot; for all"] from the Epistle to the Hebrews: where the original Word is, spanak, which fignifys, once only, or irrepeatably; and means, that Christ so offered Himself in Sacrifice, as never to be offer'd up again: he poured out his Soul unto Death, for the first, and for the last Time.

Would Politeness give Leave, I might farther explain the Import of the Term spamas, or once-for-all, by addressing Mr Sellon thus: 'Be it known, once for all, that you are a most " wretched and contemptible IGNORAMUS." But rather let me advise Mr WESLEY, once for all, not to expose his own Cause again, by entrusting the Management of it to such a very illiterate Advocate.

⁽y) See Fuller's Church Hist. Book X. p. 99, 100.

Wilson develops the whole Matter, with great Fidelity, under-the Year 1622. "This Animofity of the King's " [viz. of King James I.] against the [real] Puritans, was 66 thought to be fomented by the Papists, whose Agent "Bishop Laud was suspected to be; tho', in Religion, 66 he had a motley Form by himself, and would never (as " a Priest plainly told me in Flanders) bring his Neck " under the Obedience of the Roman Yoke, tho' he " might flickle for the Grandeur of the Clergy. And " now he began to be Buckingham's Confessor (as he exof presseth in his own Notes), and wore the Court-Li-" very: tho' the King had a sufficient Character of him, " and was pleased, with Asseveration, to protest his [viz. " Laud's] incentive Spirit should be KEPT UNDER, that " the Flame should not break out by any Preferment from him. " But that was now forgotten in some Measure: and 66 he crept so into Favor, that he was thought to be the 66 Bellows that blew these Fires. For the Papists used 46 all the Artifices they could, to make a Breach between " the King and his People; that they might enter at the 66 fame, for their own Ends. Which to accomplish, they " flyly closed with the chief Ministers of State, to put the "King upon all his Projects and Monopolys displeasing " to the People, that they might the more alienate their Affections from him: Sowing their Seeds of Division " also betwixt Puritan and Protestant; so that (like the " the fecond Commandment) they quite excluded the " Protestant [under the False Idea of Puritanism]: for all  " those were Puritans, with this High-grown ARMINTAN- " " Popish Party, that held in Judgement the Doctrine " " of the Reformed Churches, or in Practice lived accord-" ing to the Doctrine publicly taught in the Church of " England (z)." To such an Height did the Court-Madness arise, that All were supposed to be tinctured with Puritanism, who did did not flatter James even to Blasphemy. "It was too "apparent, that some of the Clergy, to make their Way the smoother to their wished End, began so to adore the King, that he could not be named, but MORE Reverence was done to it, than to the Name of GOD: and the Judges, in their itinerant Circuits, the more to enslave the People to Obedience, being to speak of the King, would give him such Sacred and Oraculous Titles, as if their Advancement to higher Places must necessarily be laid upon the Foundation of the People's Debase-"ment (a)."

Hear what the wife and upright Archbishop Usher told King Charles the First, to his Face, from the Pulpit, in 1627. "I fee, that Those, who will not yield to that " NEW DOCTRINE which hath disturbed the Low Countrys" [i. e. who will not embrace Arminianism], " there is an " odious Name cast upon them, and they are counted " Puritans: which is a Thing tending to Diffention. We " know who are esteemed by CHRIST: and were it not " a vile Thing, to Term HIM a Puritan?—And King " James maintained the same" [viz. the same Calvinistic Doctrines which the Church of England has adopted]: " and shall Those be counted so" si. e. be counted Puritans], " who confess those Points which He maintained? " Do not think I speak any Thing, as being hired on any Side. But I foresee, that the forecasting of that Name, upon Those who maintain the Doctrine pub-66 lished by the Pen of our [late] Sovereign, will prove a Means for the disturbing of our Peace. - - I will not deny, but confess, that, in those Five Points which disturb the Low Countrys, I am in the Mind of my Sovereign. I am not ashamed to confess it: nor never will be. - - And I do here profess be-" fore God, that, if I were an Arminian, and did hold those Five Points which have caused those Troubles in " the Z 2

" the Low Countrys, and is like to cause them here among Us; the Case standing as it doth, that the great-" est Number of the Prophets blow their Horns another " Way; I hold I were bound in Conscience to hold my " Peace, and keep my Knowledge to myself, rather than, 66 by my unseasonable Uttering of it, to disturb the Peace " of the Church. -- - This is the last Time " I shall be called to this Place: Therefore, I will leave this Advice; which if it be neglected, peradventure it " will be too late easily to slop things (b)."—Observe here, 1. That, in this Prelate's Judgement, King James lived and dyed a Doctrinal Calvinist .- 2. That Calvinism was a Thing as effentially different from Puritanism, as Light from Darkness .- 3. That if the Belief of the Calvinian Doctrines be puritanic, it would follow, that Christ Himself was a Puritan .- 4. The good Archbishop was not ashamed to avow those Doctrines, in the Prefence of King Charles and of his Arminian Court .- 5. As he is faid to have foretold the Massacre of the Irish Protestants, so, in the above Discourse, he as plainly predicted the Civil Wars which, many Years after, actually ensued .- 6. We have his Grace's explicit Testimony, that, even in the Reign of Charles the First, "the greatest Num-" ber" of the Established Clergy "blew their Horns," i. e. preached and published, not in the Arminian Strain, but quite " another Way," tho' in direct Opposition to the Wind and Tide of Court Encouragement .- 7 He was fensible that. for his Honesty and faithful Dealing, this was "the LAST "TIME" he should ever be asked to preach before the King: he therefore resolved to make, and make he did, the most of that last Opportunity, by giving his Majesty fome fome very wholesome, tho' not very palatable, "Advice." Which Advice had the King uniformly followed, he had, probably, saved the Church from Ruin, the three Kingdoms from Destruction, and his own Head from the Axe.—8. The Archbishop's Integrity is the more to be admired, as the King's Declaration, for imposing Silence on Preachers touching the Points in Dispute, had been published so lately as the Year before the above Sermon was delivered. The heroic Prelate thought it right, to obey God, rather than Man.

⁽b) Archbishop User's Sermon on 1 Cor. xiv. 33. Preached before the King, at Greenwich, June 27, 1627. Annexed to the Folio Edition of His Rody of Divinity. Lond. 1678.—p. 183, 134.

After all, what if the Puritans themselves, truly and properly so called, should be found to have been Dissenters, Not from the Dostrines, but merely and solely from the Rites and Regimen, of the Church of England? That this was actually and literally the Case, i. e. that the Puritans (in the Reigns of Elizabeth and the first James) cordially approved the Furniture, they disrelished the Fabric, of our excellent Ecclesiastical House; appears from the most conclusive and incontrovertible Evidence.

On this Subject, Archbishop Hutton thus expressed himself, in 1604. "The Puritans, whose fantastical Zeal "I mislike, tho' they differ in Ceremonys and Accidents, "yet they agree with Us in Substance of Religion (c)."

"People of the same Country," says Mr Nicolas Tindal, of the same Religion, and of the same Judgement and Dostrine, parted Communion on Account of a sew Habits and Ceremonys (d)." According to this Historian, the very Brownists themselves, tho' they bear the Character of having been the most rigid and intractable of all the then Separatists; were One with the Church, in Matters of Dostrine: "The Brownists did not differ from the Church, in any Dostrinal Points (e)." With the superficial Mr. Tindal agrees the prosound and laborious

M

⁽c) See Strype's Life of Whitgift, Append. No. 50. p. 247.
(d) Contin. of Rapin's Hist. Vol. III. p. 278.—Edit. quæ pr.
(e) Tindal, Ibid.

2 2 2

Mr Chambers: "The Occasion of their [i.e. of the Brownist ists'] Separation, was, not any Fault they found with the Faith, but only with the Discipline and Form of Government, of the other Churches in England (f)."

Even Peter Heylyn found himself constrained to draw a Line between Calvinists and Puritans. And thus he draws it. "I must needs say, the Name of Dostrinal Puritanism is not very ancient. — Nor am I of Opinion, that Puritan and Calvinian are Terms convertible. For tho all Puritans are Calvinians, both in Dostrine and Practice; yet, all Calvinians are not to be counted as Puritans also: whose Practices [i. e. the Practices of the Puritans] many of them [i. e. many of the Calvinists] abhor, and whose Inconformitys they detest (g)."

A Writer, whose Portmanteau Heylyn was not worthy to carry, shall clinch the present Nail of Evidence. mean, the very respectable Bishop Saunderson: who affirms, that to charge Calvinists with Puritanism, is a " most un-" just and uncharitable Course;" whereby, his Lordship thought, the Arminians had "prevailed more, than by " all the rest [of their Artifices], in seeking to draw the "Persons, of those that diffent from them, into Dislike with the State, as if they were Puritans, or Discipli-" narians, or, or least, that Way affected. Whereas," adds this judicious Prelate, " 1. The Questions in Debate are such, as no way touch upon Puritanism, either off or on. _____ 2. Many of the [Calvinists] have as freely and clearly, declared their Judgements, by Preaching 44 and Writing against all Puritanism and Puritanical " Principles, as the stoutest Arminian in England hath "done. - - Could that Blessed Archbishop Whitgift, or the modest and Learned Hooker, have ever thought, " fo much as by Dream, that Men, concurring with them in Opinion, should, for some of these very Opi-"-nions, no more of the puritanic Tendency of Calvinism.

4. Another false and shameless Objection against these Doctrines, is, That they are "Unfavorable to Loyalty." But no Infinuation can be more abominably unjust. We affert, with Scripture, that The Powers which be, are ORDAINED of God: consequently, we cannot be disloyal, without slying in the Face of that very Predestination and Providence, for which we so zealously contend. A Spur, this, to Civil Obedience, which Arminianism must forever want.

From innumerable Proofs, I select one very pertinent and remarkable Instance. Let us contrast the Loyalty of the Calvinistic Archbishop USHER, with that of the Arminian Ranter and Fifth-Monarchy Man John Goodwin.

"The Execution of King Charles I. struck Archbishop

" Usher with great Horror. The Countess of Peter-

"borough's House, where the Primate [Usher] then lived,

" being just over against Charing-Cross, several of her

"Gentlemen and Servants went up to the Leads of the House, from whence they could plainly see what was acting before Whitehall. As foon as his Majesty came " upon the Scaffold, fome of the Houshold told the Pri-

" mate of it: and asked him, Whether he would see the "King once more, before he was put to Death? He was, at first, unwilling; but, at last, went up: where, as the "Ceremonial advanced, the Primate grew more and more

"affected; and, when the Executioners in Vizards be" gan to put up the King's Hair, the Archbishop grew

"PALE, and would have FAINTED, if he had not been

" immediately carryed off (i)."

Very differently was that tragical Incident relished, by Goodwin the Free-will Man. I have proved, in a foregoing Part of this Work (k), that he considered all "King-

⁽b) Bishop Saunderson's Pax Ecclesiæ; p. 63, 64.

⁽i) Biogr. Dia. Vol. XI. p. 338.

⁽k) Introduction, p. xlin.

" ship, as the great Antichrist:" and, in perfect Confistency with this mad and detestable Principle, he "Not only justifyed putting the King to Death, but magnifyed it, as the GLORIOUSEST Action Men were capable of." What half killed the Most Reverend Calvinist of Armagh, made the Heart of the Irreverend Free-will Man of Coleman-street to leap for Joy. Loyal Usher began to swoon, at the Sight of Majesty on a Scassold: but the Arminian Rebel John Goodwin VINDICATED, and in Folio too, the Stroke of that nesarious Axe which deprived Majesty of Life.

A fingle Question and Answer shall, for the present, wind up the Topic of Loyalty.—Whom did Providence honor with being the auspicious Instrument of entailing the British Crown on the House of the amiable and illustrious Monarch who now adorns the Throne? His CALVINISTIC Majesty King WILLIAM III.

5. "Oh, but Calvin himself pronounces the Decree of Reprobation, an horrible Decree."—I know not which excedes: Mr Sellon's Ignorance, or Mr Wesley's Disingenuity. Calvin no where styles "Reprobation," an horrible Decree." These two Arminians, therefore, are, in plain English, a Pair of HORRIBLE Lyars.

'Tis in treating of God's Determination to permit the Fall of ADAM, that Calvin says, Decretum quidem horribile fateor; inficiari tamen Nemo poterit, quin præsciverit Deus, quem Exitum esset kabiturus Homo, antequam ipsum conderet (1). i.e. "I acknowledge this Decree to be an AWFUL one: "Itis, however, undeniable, that, before the Creation of Man, God knew what the Event of it would be."

I would willingly imagine, that Mr Wesley is not so wretched a Latinist, as to believe, that he and his Subaltern acted fairly, in rendering the Word horribilis, as it stands in the above Connection, by the English Adjective horrible. Tho' there is a sameness of Sound, there is no necessary

⁽¹⁾ Calv. Instit. Lib. III, Cap. xxiii. Sect. VII.

We have annexed a Secondary Idea, to the English Words "Horror" and "horrible;" which the Latin, "Horror" and "horriblis," do not always import. I shall give two or three Instances: taking Care, for the sake of poor Mr Sellon, to add English Explanations of the Latin Passages I bring.

When Cicero fays, HORRIBILE eft, Caufum Capitis dicere ; HORRIBILIUS, priore Loco dicere (m) : is not This the Meaning? "Tis an AWFUL Undertaking, to plead a " Cause in which Life and Death are concerned; MORE AW-" FUL still, to be the First Opener of such a Cause."-When Virgil (n) mentions the HORRIBILES Iras of Juno; what are we to understand, but The TREMENDOUS Refentment of the Goddes? - The same Poet's (0) HORRENTIQUE atrum Nemus imminet Umbra, must be render'd by, " The " impending Grove is dark with SOLEMN Shade." - Similar (as Servius observed) is that of Lucan: Arboribus fuus HORROR inest (p): i. e. "There is something VENERABLE win a Grove of Trees."- Nor did the Noble and profoundly Learned Daniel Heinfius use an improper Term, when (speaking of Julius Scaliger) he said, Cujus Nomen fine HORROPE et Religione commemorare non possum (q): i. c. · The v ry mention of his Name strikes a Sort of religious ei AWE upon my Mind."

Calvin, therefore, might well Term God's adorable and inscrutable Purpose respecting the Fall of Man, Decretum Horribile: i. e. not an horrible, but an AWFULL, a TRE-MENDOUS, and a VENERABLE Decree. A Decree, the Divine Motives to which can never be investigated by

(m) Orat. pro Quinet.

⁽n) Hoc quondam monstro horribiles exercuit iras

Inachiæ Juno pestem meditata juvencæ. Geor. Lib. III.

(o) Æncid. I. 169. (p) Pharfal. III. (q) Heinsti Orat. I.
in Obitum Jos. Stal. p. 3.—Edit. Lugd. 1615.

Human Reason, in its present benighted State; and concerning which, we can only say, in the Language of Scripture, How unsearchable are His Judgements, and His Ways past finding out!

TO CONCLUDE.

Protestant Doctrines, now distinguished by the Name of Calvinistic; we may too easily perceive, How deeply, and how generally, we are revolted and gone from the Religion of Jesus Christ, or (which is the self-same Thing) from the Spirit and Principles of the Religion established in this Land. What an ingenious Writer remarks, is melancholy, because true: "The Church of England are Predestinarians, by their Articles; and preach Free-will (r)." The greater the Pity, and the greater the Shame.

For this dreadful Declension from the Scripture and from the Church, we are, partly, indebted, to that Door of endless Prevarication, opened, to the Clergy, by Bishop Burnet, in what he entitles, his Exposition of the 39 Articles: a Performance, for which (notwithstanding its Merit in some Respects) the Church of England is, upon the Sum total, under no very great Obligation to his Lordship's Art and Labor. 'Tis true, that Work is not so commonly nor so assiduously studied, of late Years, as it was half a Century ago. Many of our Divines have tender Eyes: and, for Fear of endangering those valuable Organs, by the Perusal of a formidable Volume; chuse take take Matters upon Trust, and borrow the needful Evasions, vivâ Voce, from one another. Even the lax Theology of Tillotson is almost grown Obsolete.

⁽r) Letters on the English Nation, by Battista Angeloni; Vol.II. Letter 34. p. 60.—Edit. 1755. This Performance is, by some, ascribed to Dr Shebleare.

Where shall we stop? We have already forfook the good OLD Paths, trod by Moses and the Prophets, and by Christ and the Apostles: Paths, in which our own Reformers also trod, our Martyrs, our Bishops, our Clergy, our Universitys, and the whole Body of this PROTESTANT, i.e. of this ONCE CALVINISTIC Nation. Our LITURGY, our ARTICLES, and our Homilys, 'tis true, still keep Posfession of our Church-Walls: but we pray, we subscribe, we affent, one Way; we believe, we preach, we write, another. In the DESK, we are verbal Calvinists: but no sooner do we ascend a few Steps ABOVE the Desk, than we forget the grave Character in which we appeared below, and tag the Performance with a few Minutes Entertainment compiled from the Fragments bequeathed to us by Pelagius and Arminius; not to say by Arius, Socinus, and by Others still worse than They. Observe, I speak not of All, indiscriminately. We have many great and good Men, fome of whom are, and some of whom are not, Calvinists. But, that the Glory is, in a very confiderable Degree, departed from our Established Sion; is a Truth which cannot be contravened, a Fact which must be lamented, and an alarming Symptom which ought to be publicly noticed.

In the Opinion of the late Dr Young, "Almost every Cottage can shew us One that has corrupted, and every Palace One that has renounced the FAITH (s)." Are Matters much mended, since that pious and respectable Arminian launched the above Complaint? I fear not. Is there a single Heresy, that ever annoyed the Christian World, which has not its present Partizans among Those who prosess Conformity to the Church of England? At what Point our Revoltings will end, God alone can tell. But this I affirm, without Hesitation, and on the most merician Conviction: that Arminianism is the poylonous Wood, to which the Waters of our National Sanctuary are primarily indebted for all their Embitterment. In particular, Arianifm, Socinianifm, practical Antinomianifm, and Infidelity itself, have ALL made their Way through that Breach, at which Arminianism entered before them. Nor will the (t) Protestant Religion gain Ground, or finally maintain the Ground it has got; neither is it possible for the Interests of Morality itself to florish; 'till the ARMI-' NIAN Bond-woman and her Sons are cast out: i. e. 'till the Nominal Members of our Church become real Believers of its Doctrines; and throw the exotic and corrupt System of Van Harmin, with all its Branches and Appertinencys, to the Moles and to the Batts.

Let not my Honor'd Brethren of the Clergy deem me their Enemy, because I presume to remind them of the Truth. God is Witness, that I wift You Prosperity, Ye that are of the House of the Lord. Permit the obscurest of Your Number to submit, without Offence, the foregoing Particulars.

⁽t) In the Reign of Elizabeth, a Pamphlet appeared, entitled, The Book of the Generation of Antichrift: written, indeed, by a very acrimonious Puritan; yet, as far as Matters of mere Doctrine were concerned, perfectly harmonizing with the Greed of the Church of England. Among other Particulars, the Author, with equal Humor and Truth, traced out the following GENEALOGY of Free will, Merit, unboy Living, and Popery. " The Devil begot DARKNESS, Eph. vi - Darkness begot Ignorance; " Alls xvii.- Ignorance begot ERROR and his Brethren, I Tim. iv. " Error begot FREE-WILL and SELF-LOVE, Ifai. x .- Free-will. 66 begot MERITS, Ifai. lviii .- Merits begot Forgetfulness of GRACE, Rom. x. Forgetfulness of God's Grace begot TRANS-"GRESSION, Rom. ii - Transgression begot Mistrust, Gen. v. " -Miffrust begot Satisfaction" [i.e. the Opinion that human Works and Penances would fatisfy God's Justice for Sin], Matth. xvii. - Satisfaction begot the Sacrifice of the Mass, 64 Dan. xii." How justly the Links of this Chain are connected!

Particulars to your attentive Consideration. May none of Your venerable Order be justly ranked in time to come, among those Half-Conformists, who fall in with the Ceremonys, but fall out with the Dostrines, of the Church. Halt not between God and Baal. Give no Occasion to our Adversarys to speak repreachfully of us. Let it not, any longer, be thrown in our Teeth, That "No sett of Men "differ more widely from each Other, than the present Clergy; tho' they all (u) subscribe to One and the same "Form

(u) The late Learned and Candid Dr Doddridge, has a Passage, concerning the sacred Nature and Obligation of Ecclesiastical Subscriptions, which deserves to be ponder'd with the utmost Seriousness. He introduces it, under the Article of Perjury.

"Care should be taken, that we do not impair the Reverence due to an Oath, by using or imposing Oaths on trisling Occidions, or administring them in a careless Manner. The Reverence of an Oath requires, that we take peculiar Care to avoid ambiguous Expressions in it, and all Equivocation and mental Reservation. Something of this Kind may be said of Subscription to Articles of Religion: these being looked upon as solemn Actions, and nearly approaching to an Oath. Great Care ought to be taken, that we subscribe vothing that we do not firmly believe."

The Doctor then procedes to particularize the most plausible of those sashionable Evasions, under the thin Shelter of which, some Subscribers (like a certain Bird, who, when she hides her Head, fondly thinks herself quite concealed) are supposed to lurk. The said Evasions are as soliow. "If the Signification of the "Words be dubious, and we believe either Sense, and that Sense in which we do believe them is as natural as the Other; we may, consistently with Integrity, subscribe them.

"Or, if the Sense, in which we believe them, be less natural, and and we explain that Sense, and that Explanation be admitted by the Person requiring Subscription in his own Right; there can be no just Foundation for a Scruple." But, in both these Cases, 'tiseasy to discern, that Subscription would evaporate into a pompous Nothing.

"Form of Doctrine." Subscription is, in Virtue, and in Fact, a folemn Bond of Engagement to God, and of Security to Men, that the Subscriber fairly and honestly, without Referve, Evafion, or Disguise, absolutely and nakedly believes the Things to which he fets his Hand. Quæry: What firm Hold could a temporal Monarch have, on the Allegiance of his fworn Subjects; should the same horrid Prævarications find their Way into the Minds of political Swearers, which, it is to be feared, have obtained among fome theological Subscribers? A Remark of the late Dr Duniel Waterland's is at once so important, and so pertinent; that, tho' I have formerly quoted it in another Publication, I cannot restrain myself from introducing it here. 16 If either State-Oaths, on the one Hand, or Church-Subsee scriptions, on the other, once come to be made light of; and subtletys be invented, to defend, or palliate, such " grofs Insincerity; we may bid farewell to Principles," and Religion will be little else but DISGUISED ATHE-

The Doctor goes on. "Some have added, that, if we have Reason to believe, the it is not expresly declared, that He, who imposes the Subscription, does not intend that we should hereby declare our Assent to those Articles, but only that we should pay a Compliment to his Authority, and engage ourselves not openly to contradict them: we may, in this Case, subscribe what is most directly contrary to our Belief: Or, that, if we declare our Belief in any Book, as (for Instance) the Bible, it is to be supposed that we subscribe other Articles only so far as they are consistent with That; because we cannot imagine, that the Law would require us to profess our Belief of contrary Propositions at the same Time."

And now, what says the good Doctor, by Way of Answer to the three Quibbles above started? He overthrows 'em all, with one Stroke of his Pen, in the following memorable Terms: "BUT "SUBSCRIPTION UPON THESE PRINCIPLES SEEMS A VERY "DANGEROUS ATTACK UPON SINCERITY AND PUBLIC VIRTUE; ESPECIALLY, IN THOSE DESIGNED FOR PUBLIC "Offices." Dr Doddridge's Course of Lectures, p. 142.—Quarto. 1763.

in Part, caught hold of the Church. And who can tell, how much farther it may spread?

The Men, who lately petitioned the Legislature to overthrow the Religious Constitution of their Country, and whose Party is not yet extinct; resemble, too much, a certain fett of Innovators, who, in the last Century, began with pecking at the Church, and ended with demolishing the State. What Security can fuch Persons give the Government, that the fame Leaven of Iniquity is not working even Now? "O, they fay that they are VERY "LOYAL." True: and, when they fubscribed to the Liturgy and Articles, what was it but faying (in a Manner still more folemn, than if they had only declared it by Word of Mouth), that they were VERY ORTHODOX, and very good Friends to the Church of England? Is it any Breach of Candor, to surmise, that They, who are capable of diffembling with God, may also be capable of diffembling with Men? If they did these things in a green Tree. what will they not do in a dry? Can civil Obligations be confidered as binding those slippery Consciences, on which the infinitely superior Sanction of the most religious and facred Stipulations have no Force nor Tye? Should Providence have so dreadfull a Judgement in Store, for this now highly favor'd Land, as permissively to crown the Design of these Schemers with Effect; ACTUM EST may be the Epitaph, inscribed on the Tomb of our national Christianity. We may convert our Churches, some into Warehouses, and others into Dancing-Rooms; make one grand Bonfire of our Articles, Homilys, and Liturgy; and tear up our Bibles into waste Paper.

"Oh, but the Petitioners have a great Respect for the Bible." Who says so? "Why, They themselves." This is just nothing to the Purpose. They have demonstrated their Infincerity, in other Matters: and therefore have have no Right to draw a Bill of Credit on our Belief, as to this.

⁽ w) Pirft Defence of Quarys, against Dr Clarke. Preface, p. 4.

The Author of the Confessional (Pity it is, that the Master of fuch fine Talents should employ them in so bad a Cause), sees, with Joy, the daring Measures persued by that shameless Faction which openly seeks to compass the Ruin of the Church. Let the BISHOPS look about them. No less is aimed at, than the Demolition of the Hierarchy The Writer, last mentioned, has thought proper to give more than one Intimation, that, together with the Doctrines and Formularys of the Establishment, a Blow is meditating against our bigbest Order of Ecclesiastics. Proofs are these. "In all exclusive Establishments, where 46 temporal Emoluments are annexed to the Profession of a certain System of Doctrines, and the Usage of a certain Routine of Forms, and appropriated to an Order of Men 66 fo and fo qualified; that Order of Men will naturally think st themselves interested, that Things should continue as sthey are. A Reformation might endanger their Emoluso ments. For the it should only begin with such Things 46 as are most notoriously amis, the Alteration of which would no way affect their temporal Interests; yet, by opening a Door to farther Enquiry, which would be the " NATURAL EFFECT of it, their Dignitys and Revenues " might possibly be brought into Question, and be thought to 66 need some Regulations, which it can hardly be supposed they would approve. So that they who ask, Who knows WHERE a Reformation may END? by Way of giving a Reason why it should not be begun; are certainly not " unwise in their Generation (y)." This is what may be termed, a very broad Hint, at the very least. But what honest Intelligencer will give Information by Halves? Behold, therefore, a farther opening of the Budget, in the Passage that follows. "The Infection of the Times has,

⁽y) Confessional, 3d Edit .- Pref. to 1st Edit. p. xiv.

THE EPISCOPAL BENCH, 727

"in some Degree, laid hold even of these venerable Per"fonages" [i. e. the Bishops], "and produced Appearances of Secularity, which, whenever a Reformation shall be happily brought about, we may be sure will not be suffer'd to disparage their sacred Characters (z)." Thus the secret is out. The Calvinism and the Episcopacy of the Church, give equal Umbrage to the Petitioning Clergy: who are therefore laboring to roll away both these Stones of Offence; and, by one happy Manceuvre, to rid us of OrTHODONY and PRELACY together.

See, Right Reverend Fathers, to what Point Arianism, Socinianism and Arminianism, are driving. It appears, that a Number of the very Men, who have folemuly sworn canonical Obedience to Your Lordships; are actually laboring to annihilate the Mitre, and to spring a Mine under every Cathedral in England. A striking Instance, that They, who could fubscribe to Articles which they disbelieve, can also digest the Guilt and the Shame of a violated Oath. Too evident it is, that the Strand Petitioners (stranded may their Attempt be!) tho' declared Enemys to the (a) Orthodoxy, are strongly agitated by the levelling Principle, of the antient Puritans. Should Your Lordships (which God forbid) ever condescend to acquicsce in any of the Alterations, demanded by these fiery Claimants; their Resilessness and Insatiability would still cry out for more. Were they to gain but a fingle Point, it would encourage them to fay, with their Predecessors of old, NE UNGULAM ESSE RELINQUENDAM (b). You Yourselves would be, at best, the Ulimi devorana:.

Your

⁽a) Consessional, p. 374.

(a) It has already been proved, that the Puritan agreed with the Church of England, in all Articles of Faith.

(b) "He [Secretary Walfing Fam.] of fered, in the Queen's Name, that the three Ceremonys, at which they [the Puritana] seemed most to boggle r that is to say, "Kneeling at the Communion, The Surplice, and the Cross in Baptism;

Your Lordships lament the visible Encroachments of Papery.—Arminianism is at once it's Root, it's Sun-shine, and its Vital Sap.

Your Lordships see, with Concern, the extending Progress of Infidelity.—ARMINIANISM has opened the Hatches to this pernicious Inundation: by going about to evaporate the Complete Redemption, and the Finished Salvation, absolutely wrought by Christ, into (what all the Art of Man can never really make it) a Vox, et præterea nihil. As if the Gospel of Grace was only a frigid Declaration of the Terms and Conditions on which we are to fave Ourselves; and as if Christ Himself was little or nothing more than a moral Philosopher. Happily for the intrinsec Dignity of Christianity, the Religion of Jesus is not that poor, unmeaning Thing, which the modern Mifrepresentation induces too But can it be Matter of reasonable many to believe. Wonder, that They, who are imposed upon by such Misrepresentation, should turn their Backs on a seeming Phantom which has nothing to recommend it; and difmiss it, with a Sneer, to the Shades of Contempt?

I wish, that the Workings even of Atheism itself may not administer, to Your Lordships, just Ground of Indignation and Alarm.—For this also, Arminianism has paved the Way: by despoiling the Divine Being, among other Attributes, of His unlimited Supremacy, of

His

⁴⁶ Baptism; should be expunged out of the Book of Common

[&]quot; Prayer, if that would content them. But thereunto it was re-

[&]quot; plyed, in the Words of Moses, Ne Ungulam effe relinquendam:

[&]quot; that They would not leave so much as an Hoof behind. Meaning [&]quot; thereby, that they would have a total Abolition of the Book, [&]quot; without retaining any Part or Office in it in their next new-

[&]quot; Nothing. Which peremptory Answer did much aleniate his [&]quot; [the Secretary's] Affection from them: as afterwards he af-

[&]quot; firmed to Knewfubs; and Knewfubs to Doctor John Burges of [&]quot; Colefbill, from whose Pen I have it."

His infinite Knowledge, of His infallible Wisdom, of His invincible Power, of His absolute Independency, and of His eternal Immutability. Not to observe, that the exempting of some Things and Events from the PROVIDENCE of God, by referring them to Free-will, to Contingency, and to Chance; is another of those back Lanes, which lead, in a direct Line, from Arminianism, to Atheism. Neither is it at all furprising, that Any, who represent Men as Gods (by supposing Man to possess the divine Attribute of independent Self-Determination), should, when their Hand is in, represent God Himself with the Impersections of a Man: by putting Limitations on HIS Sovereignty; by supposing His Knowledge to be shackled with Circumscription, and darkened with Uncertainty; by connecting their Ideas of His Wisdom and Power with the Possibility of Disconcertment and Disappointment, Embarrassment and Defeat; by transferring His Independency (c) to themselves, in Order to support their favorite Doctrine, which affirms, that the Divine Will and Conduct are dependent on the Will and Conduct of Men; by blotting out His Immutability (d), ⁽c) I myself know several Arminians, who have declared, to me, in Conversation, that, so far as concerns the ipsa Determination, or the very Act of the Will's determinating Itself to one Thing in Preference to another, the said human Will is (horrendum dictu!) INDEPENDENT of God Himself. I pray God to give them experimental Demonstration, that they are not so independent as they imagine; by bringing them to a better Mind.

Some of

⁽d) A worthy and ingenious Pen presented the Public, some Years ago, with the following Lines; in which, this Topic is very properly handled.

[&]quot; Shall Wesley fow his hurtfull Tares,

[&]quot; And scatter round a thousand Snares?

[&]quot; Telling how God from Wrath may turn,

[&]quot; And LOVE the Souls He thought to BURN:

[&]quot; And how, again, His Mind may more

[&]quot; To hate, where he bas word I to Love :

that they may clear the Way for conditional, uncertain, variable, vanquishable, and amissible Grace; and, by narrowing His Providence, to keep the Idol of Free-will upon its Legs, and to save human Reason from the Humiliation of acknowledging her Inability to account for many of the Divine Disposals: so that according to this Scheme, we may write, under the Majority of Incidents that come to pass, this Motto, Hic Deus nibil fecit.——Who sees not the atheissical Tendency of all this? Let Arminianism try to exculpate herself from the heavy, but unexaggerated, Indictment. Which if she cannot effect, 'twill be doing her no Injustice, to term her, Atheism in Masquerade.

Your Lordships cannot be insensible of the Contempt and Insignificancy, into which, many of Your Clergy are fallen.—Arminianism is one grand Source of This likewise. Even those of the Laity, whom Fashion, or Prejudice, or Inclination, hath arminianized; too well know, what Judgement to form of such spiritual Guides as subscribe to the Whiteness of Snow, tho' they believe it to be black as Jet. Let the Clergy learn to despise the sinful Pleafures, Maxims, Persuits, and Doctrines, of this World; and the World will, from that Moment, cease to despise the Clergy.

Your Lordships observe, with Pain, the glaring and almost universal Decay of Moral Virtue.—This has been a growing Calamity, ever since the Restoration of the Stuart Line in the Person of Charles II. With that Prince, ARMINIANISM returned as a Flood; and LICENTIOUS-

NESS

See a Poem, entitled, PERSEVERANCE: by the late Mr Thomas Gurney.

[&]quot; How all Mankind He fain would fave,

[&]quot; But longs for what he cannot have.

[&]quot; Industrious thus to found abroad

[&]quot; A disappointed changing God!

[&]quot; Blush, Wesley, blosh at thy Disgrace;

[&]quot; Haste thee to Rome, thy proper Place, &c.

NESS of Manners was co-extensive with it. We have had, fince that (otherwise, happy) Period, more than an Hundred Years Experience of the unsanctifyed Effects, which naturally result from the ideal System of Free-will and Universal Redemption. What has that System done for us? It has unbraced every Nerve of Virtue, and relaxed every Rein of religious and of social Duty. In proportion to the Operation of its Influence, it has gone far toward subverting all moral Obedience; and seems to endanger the entire Series even of political and of ecclesiastical Subordination.

Tantum [EA] Religio potuit fuadere malorum!

Look round the Land, and Your Lordships cannot fail of perceiving, that our fiercest Free-Willers are, for the most Part, the Freest Livers; and that the practical Belief of Universal Grace is, in too many Instances, the Turn-pike Road to Universal Sin.

Your Lordships mark, with becoming Disgust, the continued Existence of Methodism.—— Arminianism is the Pandoræan Box, from which this Evil also hath issued. And the Methodism appears, at present, rather to resemble a standing Pool, than an increasing Stream; we know not how soon it may become a running Water, and enlarge itself into an overslowing Flood; if the corrupt Tenets, vented with such raging Zeal in Mr Westey's Meeting-houses, should, unhappily, be recechoed from the Pulpits of the Established Church. For, certain it is, that Those of the Clergy, who sly the fastest and the farthest from Doctrinal Calvinism; are plunging, more deeply than they imagine, into the grossess of Methodism.

A

W O R D

CONCERNING THE

BATHING-TUB BAPTISM.

MR John Wesley having thought it convenient, in his Remarks on Mr HILL, to pretend absolute Ignorance of the above-mention'd Operation, which he, some Years ago, performed upon Mrs L. S. (see the 2d Edit. of my Letter to him, p. 30); and the Party herself, from whose own Lips I had the Account, having given me Leave to publish her Name on the Occasion (a Liberty which I would not have taken, without her previous Consent;)—BE IT KNOWN, That the Person, who was the Subject of that blest Bathing-bout,' is Mrs Lydia Sheppard, now living in the Borough of Southwark.

Since Mr Wesley's virtual Denial of the Fact, she has been again consulted: and I now, by her Authority, subjoin the following Circumstances, several of which I tenderly omitted, when I first gave the Anecdote to the Public.

Antecedently to the Ceremony, Mr Wesley told her, that, To satisfy weak Minds, he had occasionally Baptized some Persons, by Immersion, at Bristol, and elsewhere; and would do the same for Her, to make her easy. The Time

Time and Place were, accordingly, appointed. An House in Long Lane, Southwark, was to have been the Scene of Action: and the Water, and other requisite Conveniences, were, There, actually got in Readiness. But, the Matter having taken Air, and the Curiosity of various People being excited; Mr John did not chuse to accomplish the Business, in the Presence of so many Spectators, as were, Then and There, expected to assemble. Thus, the Administration was adjourned, and another Place fixed upon: at which Place, Mr John Wesley did, with his own Hands, Baptize the said Mrs Lydia Sheppard, by plunging Her under Water. And a fine plunging it had like to have proved.

Does the Reader ask, In what FONT this Baptism was administered? The Font was a common Bathing-tub.——
Is it further enquired, In what CHAPEL did the Font stand at the Time? The Chapel was, truly, a Chapel in Cryptis: to-wit, a common Cellar.——Am I asked, Of what CATHEDRAL was this subterraneous Chapel a Part? The Cathedral, or Mother-Church, was neither better nor worse than a Cheesemonger's House, in Spitalfields; London.—Who were the WITNESSES to this under-ground Baptism? A select Party, it seems, carefully draughted from, what Mr Wesley calls, his Classes and Bands.

And, now, what will that Gentleman alledge, in Extenuation of his affected Ignorance of this whole Matter? Surely, even He will not perfift in pretending to forget so remarkable a Transaction: especially, when such an explicit Series of striking Circumstances arises to resresh his Memory!——Possibly, he may, on this Occasion, repete his former Climax of "A Cynic, a Bear, a Toplady." But, I assure him, I will not retaliate the Compliment, by crying out, An Hottentot, a Wolf, a Wesley.—No. The Weapons of my Warsare are of a milder Temperature. I would much rather endure Scurrility, than offer it.

But I still adhere to my primitive Demand, with which I sat out, several Years ago, when the present Controversy with the Arminians began to wax warm: namely, Let Mr Wesley plead HIS OWN Cause, and fight HIS OWN Battles. I am as ready, as ever, to meet him, with the Sling of Reason and the Stone of God's Word in my Hand. But let him not fight by Proxy. Let his Coblers keep to their Stalls. Let his Tinkers mend their brazen Vessels. Let his Barbers confine themselves to their Blocks and Basons. Let his Bakers stand to their Kneading-Troughs. Let his Blacksmiths blow more suitable Coals, than those of Controversy. Every Man in his own Order.

Should, however, any of Mr Wesley's Life-Guardmen, whether gown'd or apron'd, Swiss or English, step forth to their tottering Master's Relief;

- " In Squalid Legions, swarming from the Press,
- " Like Egypt's Infects from the Mad of Nile;"

I shall, probably, not so much as give them the Reading. Or, if any of them happen to sall under my Perusal, and I deem it proper to repress the Vanity of the Vain; Mr Wesley, bimself, will still be my Mark: and I shall, if Providence permit, continue to imitate the Conduct of that Philosopher, who thrashed the Master, for the ill Behavior of the Scholars. Tho', after all, if Mr Richard Hill's two masterly Pamphlets (One, entitled, A Review of the Dostrines taught by Mr John Wesley, with a Farrago annexed; the Other, Logica Wesleiensis, or The Farrago double-distilled) make no advantageous Impression on 'the John Goodwin of the present Age;' he may, from henceforward, be, fairly and finally, consigned to the Hospital of Incurables.

I N D E X.

À.

ABBOT, Dr George, Archbishop of Canterbury, joins with Sir H. S. in printing Bradwardin's Book against Pelagianism, Page 204.

A remarkable Anecdote, retrieved and related by him, concerning the Miscarriage of Calvin's Scheme for a general Union of the Reformed Churches, 517, 518.

Note.

His Character and Account of P. Martyr's Wife; 555,

Bertius's Book against Final Perseverance sent to this Archbishop; 590, 591. The Resentment conceived against Bertius on that Account; ibid.

Remarkable Passage, concerning the Extent of Redemption, in a Letter written to this Archbishop by the British Divines at Dort; 631, 632.

Abbot, Dr Robert, Bishop of Sarum, publicly censures Laud; 681.

Abraham was justify'd before he offer'd up Isaac; 393. In what Respect he was justifyed by Works; xxx, 391, 393, 485, 565.

Ackworth, Mr Public Orator of Cambridge; his public Encomiums on Bucer and Fagius; 551-55.4

Adheral, Mr. dyes in Prison for the Gospel; 464.

Afflictions, the right Improvement of; 295.

Albigenses and Waldenses, Churches of: whence so called, p. 150.—Their great Antiquity, 151.—Abounded in most Parts of Europe, 152.—Extracts from their several Confessions of Faith, 153—157.—Severely persecuted by the Church of Rome, 158.—At the Reformation, had Recourse to Zuinglius and Calvin to supply them with Preachers; 151.

Alexander VII. (Pope), Fulminates against the Doctrines of Grace, 95.

Orders Janssenius's Tomb to be demolished, 92. Note. All; frequent Scripture-fignification of that Term; xxxii.

Allerton, Mr Ralph, the Martyr; 424.

Almsgiving, how enforc'd by the Church of England; 709. Andrews, Dr Launcelot, Bishop of Winchester, remarkable Passages in his Private Devotions; 656, 657, Note. His high Character of Calvin, 374.

Angels; the glorify'd Souls of Departed Infants feem to be called by that Name in Scripture; xlviii.

Appropriation of Christ's Merits to one's own self in particular, requisite to the Joy of Faith; 316, 317, 423, 492, 576. Aquinas (Thomas), a very wavering Predestinarian, 104. -Afferts Free-will, together with the Conditionality and Defectibility of Grace, 105. - A Maintainer of Merits, 106.—Extremely inconsistent with himself, ibid.

Arianism; its general Prevalence in the Fourth Century; 51.—Open'd an immediate Door to Pelagianism, ibid. Zealously opposed by Philpot the Martyr; 447, 448.

Armagh, a Popish Archbishop of, in the Fourteenth Century, deny'd Christ's Fore-knowledge, rather than give up human Free will, 193. Note (t).

Arminianism, its Co-incidence with Pelagianism; xxxvi.

54, 560, 690.

And with Popery; xxxvi. & sequ. 85-88, 95, 105, 414, 415, 560, 562, 563, 585, 728.

Zealously propagated in England by the Jesuits of the last Century; xxxviii.

Saved John Goodwin from dying of a fore Throat; xliv.

Now the reigning System at Geneva; 72.

Why so zealously cherished by Charles I. 72, Note (a). 621, 652.

Easy Transition from, to Popery; 100, Note (t).

Coincides with Ranterism; 113-117.

Has no just Pretence to Primitive Antiquity; 120, Note (b) 123, 124.

Very ill calculated to promote Holiness of Life; xxvi, Note (i). 731.

Leads directly to the very worst Part of Stoicism; 193, 194.

Æra of its visible Extension in England; 581.

The true Holes of the Pit from whence it was digged; 592; Note.

Atheistical

Atheistical Tendency of: See ATHEISM.

Causes of its Progress; 673.

Solemnly, but falsely, disclaimed by Archbishop Laud; 669, 670.

The violent Means by which it was promoted under

Charles the First; 653, 659, 655, 689.

Poured in as a Flood when Charles the Second mounted the Throne; 695.

Lyes at the Root of all the present Irreligion of the Times; 722.

Its tremendous Tendencys; 728-731.

Constitutes the very Essence of Methodism; 731.

Arminians, (English); they and Papists slander the Doctrines of Grace with the self-same Cavils; 176, 177, Note (k). 550, 563.

The Cant Names wherewith some modern ones cajole each other; xxi.

A very novel Sect; 501, 581.

Eminent for being of a persecuting Spirit; 585, 633.

The Disadvantages under which they labor'd at their first Appearance in England; 580.

Forced to throw themselves into the Court-Scale, to avoid Persecution; 580, 581, 582.

Co-alesced into one State-Faction with the Papists;

583.

Remarks on that Alliance; 584. Struck with a Panic by the Procedings at Dort; 636. When they began to recover; 638, 639.

Gained much Ground after James's Death; 651, 652.

Arminians (Dutch); Drift of the primitive Ones; 585.

Supported by France and Spain; 585, 605.

Their infolent Behavior at the Synod of Dort; 614, 618, 619, 621, 624.

The Synod strives in vain to soften them into Decency and Moderation, 618, 624, 625, Note. 626.

The two grand Crimes of which they had been guilty; 616. And which exposed them to the popular Hatred; 616, 617, Note.

First affirm and then deny the Power of the Magistrate in Matters of Religion; 619, 621, 622.

Refuse to give a positive Account of their Faith; 622. Artfully, but absurdly, put Reprobation before Election; 622, 623.

Their frivolous Exceptions to the Palatine Confession; 623. Those

Those from Utrecht were offer'd Seats in the Synod as Members; 625, Note.

Deposed at length (for a while) from their Ministry;

627, 628.

Severe Persecutors of the Orthodox when they were able; 585, 633.

Whether the Arminians might be said to have been perfecuted in Return? 632-635.

Arminius, James, his Journey to Rome; xxxvi.

On friendly Terms with the Socinians in Poland; xxxvii.

Acknowledges Predestination to be a Doctrine the Papists cannot bear with; ibid.

The Years of his Birth and Death; 260, Note (s) 585.

Remarkable Proof of his Obscurity during his Life-time; 595.

Confusions occasioned in Holland by his Schism; 585,

608.

From what Fountains he drew his Herefys; 592, Note. His Memory and Tenets execrated by King James the First; 586, 594, 596.

Articles of the Church of England, subscribed to by K. Edward VI. 57. Cannot be honestly signed by Arminians, 99, Note (s). 261, 574.—Not drawn up ambiguously and with Latitude, 261, 262.

Were passed and subscribed by the same Convocation which subscribed and authorized Ponet's Catechism, 267. Were published and bound up with the said Catechism; 268, Note.—The Reason why, 269.

Bishop Ridley's solemn and pathetic Attestation to them, a little before his Märtyrdom; 277.

Peter Martyr concerned in composing them; 360.—Commented on by Rogers, 471.

Highly regarded by the Martyrs; 460.

Added to the Articles of Ireland by a Convocation there; 663.

Articles of Lambeth: See LAMBETH-Articles.

Ajcough, Mrs the Martyr, her Character and Sufferings; 247, 248.

Verses written by her in Newgate, 248, 249. Note (h). Her Judgement concerning Final Perseverance; 249.

Assistance, divine; an Explication of that Term, 223.

Assurance

Assurance of our own particular Election and Salvation. attainable in the present Life; 56, 249, 281, 282, 290, 316, 317, 322, 342, 387, 390, 391, 396, 400, 401, 408, 411, 416, 417, 445, 454, 455, 461, 462, 478, 488, 491, 514, Note. 538, 572, 576. Atheism; Free-will the direct Road to it; 209, Note (a).

353, 532, 593, Note. 728-730.

Atonement of Christ, the sole and absolute Foundation of Pardon; 272, 303. Arminianism reduces it to a mere Nothing; 728.

Austin (Saint); why the Church of Rome professes to esteem him, 107.—That Church under a very embarraffing Dilemma concerning him, 109, Note (e),-Some of his Books condemned in the Romish Index Expurgatorius, ibid. Note (f) .- A Summary of his Theological System; 107, 108.—St Jerom's Address to him, 123.—His Doctrine of the Two Worlds, 162. -Afferts the Perfection, Efficacy, and Immutability of God's Knowledge, 211, 212.—His Sentiments concerning Fate, 215.—Disproves the Doctrine of Free-will, by an Argument drawn from the Foreknowledge of God, 220 .- Roundly afferts Final Perfeverance, 225 -Positively averrs, that the Fathers before him maintained the same Doctrines as himself. 124.—Utterly denys Justification by Works, 246.— The Church of England reformed on the Plan of his Principles, 261, 575.—His View of Providence, 494. Austoo, James and Margaret, Martyrs; 424.

Averroes, the Arabian Philosopher, asserts the Indepen-dency of God's Knowledge, 211.

BAINHAM, Mr the Martyr; 239.—His miraculous Support under the Torments of Martyrdom; ibid. Baker, Sir Richard, his Account of the Synod of Dort: 635, 636.

Balcanqual, Dr fent to Dort as a Minister of Scotland:

610, 627.

Bale, Bishop, the Antiquarian; his Account and Vindication of King Edward the VI. 60.

Bancroft, Archbishop of Canterbury; an excellent Rule of his respecting Predestination; 290, 604.

Had an Hand in the Lambeth Articles; 537. on Queen Elizabeth in her last Illness; 576.

Baptism.

Baptism, not a real, but a typical Regeneration; 301. A curious Baptism administered by Mr John Wesley;

Barnabas, St some Account of him, 125. Largely cited, 126-130.

Barnevelt, the principal Factor for Arminianism in Holland; 585. Beheaded for his traiterous Practices; 606.

Barns, Dr Robert, the Martyr; 250.

Baro, Peter, some Account of; 532.—Complained of by the University of Cambridge; ibid. - Archbishop Whitgift's early Suspicions of him; 533.—Sample of his Tenets; 534, 535.—Remarkable Particulars which passed in Conversation between the Archbishop and him; 536.—Acknowledges the Lambeth Articles to be true, and yet refuses to fign them; 536, 542. -Archbishop Hutton's Advice concerning him, 530.

-Forced to retreat from Cambridge; 540.

Barrett (William); 103, Note, 533, 534, 678.

Bartolini, a shrewd Salvo, wherewith he comforted himfelf; 108. Note (b).

Bayle, Monsieur; his Observation concerning intemperate Zeal, xiii.—His just Remark on the Arminianism of the Romish Church, 109. Note (e).

Beda, or Bede; Character of him, 182. A remarkable incident attending his last Moments, ibid. - His Hatred of Pelagianism, 183.—Opposes Pelagius on the Articles of Free-will and Conditional Election, 184, 185.

Bellarmine, Cardinal, received Priest's Orders from the Hands of Janssenius; 91.—Appears to have been the Inventer of double Justification; 564.

Bertius, Peter, fends a Copy of his Book against Final Perseverance, to Archbishop Abbot; 590, 594. Audaciously afferts that the Defectibility of Grac e is a Doctrine of the Church of England; 589, 590. 4 or which King James calls him a "gross Lyar"; 594. Educated under Arminius, 589. Preaches at Arminius's Funeral, 102 - Turns Papist, ibid.

Bertram, his Book concerning the Lord's Supper opened

Bishop Ridley's Eyes on that Subject; 283.

Beton, Cardinal, the Articles for which he sentenced Mr Hamelton, 252, 253.

Beveridge, Bishop; affirms that the Doctrine of Efficacious Grace was the Doctrine of the Primitive Church, 123.

Beza.

Beza, Theodore; a remarkable Letter of his to Archbishop Whitgift, testifying his high Respect for the Church of England; 379.

Presents a Copy of his Annotations to Archbishop Grindal; 527.

His beautiful Verses on the Piety and Patriotism of Zuinglius; 545.

Bible, English; Tyndal and Coverdale concerned in Translating it; 240, 473.

Their Translation corrected and republished by Archbishop Cranmer; 472, 473. A Description of Cranmer's Editions, with Extracts; 474—476.

Authorized Editions of the Bible in the Reign of Elizabeth, with Extracts; 472, 476-485.

Present Translation of, why published without marginal

Annotations; 637, 638.

Bishops, of the Church of England; a general Character of those who florished under King Edward; 382, 670.

Queen Elizabeth's Bishops compare the Reprobate to a Company of dancing Bears; 482. Advise her Majesty to shut up the Free-willers in Wallingford Castle; 509, 510.—Injoin the Clergy to study Bullinger's Decads; 545.

Eminent for their Detestation of Free-will and all Pelagianism; 566, 670, 671.

Remarkable Proofs of the general Orthodoxy of the Bishops and Clergy in Charles the First's Reign; 654, 655, 714.

Humble and earnest Address to the present Bench of Bishops; 727-731. An Hint to them from the Confessional; 726.

Bishops Bible, 476-478.

Bilney, Mr the Martyr; 238.—His Definition of the Church, ibid.

Blasphemys, Arm nian, a Sample of; xviii.

Boethius, an Account of him; 217, Note (y).

His Doctrine concerning Providence and Fate, 217—220.

Bojermannus, the ecclesiastical President of the Synod of Dort, expossulates with the cited Arminians; 620, 624. Their rugged Stubbornness Proof against every healing Expedient he could propose; 626. Part of his last Speech to them, 625, Note.

Bolfec,

Bolfee, Jerom, a noisy Pelagian; some Account of him, 100. Note (1).—Substance of his Sermon against Predestination, 101.—Turns Papist, 102.

Bonner, Edmund, the Popish Bishop of London; fabricates a Pastoral Letter out of the Pia & Catholica Institutio, 382, 383. Note.

His Coal-house a common Place of Confinement for Protestant Ministers; 446.—Extract from an anonymous Letter to him; 466.

Joins with Gardiner in imposing on Calvin by a forged Letter, in Order to defeat that Reformer's Plan for comprehending all Protestants in one visible Communion, 517, 518. Note.

Bradford, Mr the Martyr; his Humility, 190. Note (0).

Vifits dying Bucer, 342.

Mr Careless's Letter to him, 416. Mr Strype's Character of him, 426.

A memorable Saying of his to Bucer, 427.

Bishop Ridley's high Opinion of him, ibid. Large Proof of his Calvinism, 428—442.

His exemplary Meekness and Charity; 441, 442.

Bradwardin, Thomas, Archbishop of Canterbury; 199-203.

Taught Dr Wickliff the true Nature of Faith and Justification, 203.—Insulted, ibid.

His Resections on the Prevalence of Pelagianism, 204. His Reasons for the Immutability of God, 205.

Batters down Human Merit, 206.

Asserts the most absolute Providence, 207, 213.

Substance of what he delivers concerning God's Knowledge of all Things; 208—212.

Maintains the Will of God to be irrefiftible, 212, 213.

Afferts the Doctrine of Fate, 214-220.

His judicious Definition of Predestination, 221.

Denys the spiritual Powers of Man's Free-will, 222—224. Demonstrates the Final Perseverance of the Elect, 224, 225.

Brookes, Mr censured for Arminianism by the University of Oxford; 683, 684.

Brownists; 715.

Brydges, Mr Gabriel, cenfured for Arminianism by the University of Oxford; 683.

Bucer, Dr Martin; 330. Voffius's Encomium on him, ibid. By whom and for what invited to England, 331, 552. Made Made Divinity Professor at Cambridge, ibid.

Revises and corrects the English Liturgy; 332, 333, 367. Remarkable for his warm Attachment to the Doctrines and Discipline of the Church of England; 332, 363.

His Sentiments concerning Predestination; 334.

His Remarks on the Obduration of Pharaoh, 335.

Asserts Reprobation, 334, 336, 338, 339.

His Doctrine of Election and Perseverance, 337, 339. And of limited Redemption; 340, 341.

His Death and Funeral; 341, 342.

His Bones dug up and burned in the Reign of Mary; 343, 549.

A great Admirer of our Church Homilys, 366.

Whether he held the Merit of Works; 364—His modest and candid Apology for retracting some past Expressions of his which had been misinterpreted by certain Merit-mongers, 365.

His Doctrine of Predestination basely slandered by three Popish Doctors; 550.

Remarkable Honors render'd to his Memory by Queen Elizabeth and the Church of England; 551-553.

Buckingham, Duke of (Charles the First's Favorite), befet and watched by Jesuits and Arminians; xxxviii. Was the Person to whom Dr Laud owed his Promotion; 639.

Bullinger; Bishop Hooper's parting Conversation with him, 326.

Concerned in drawing up the larger Helvetic Confession;

More of him; 524, 530, 543, 544.

His Decads ordered to be study'd by English Clergymen; 545, 546.

Bulls, Papal; 78, 81, 93, 95, 98.

Burnet, Bishop; his Character of King Edward VI. 61.

Prevails with the State of Geneva to abolish Subscriptions, 68.—Would willingly have played the same Game in England, 69.—His Lamentation, ibid.

Note (1).

The Church of England, on the whole, under very little Obligation to him; 720.

Bury, Richard de; Bishop of Durham, 202.

CALAMY, Dr Edmund; his Character of John Good-

Calling, Effectual; a Fruit of Election; 571, 572.

Calvin, number'd by Christopher Potter himself, among the worthiest Descross of the Church; 75. Note.

Confutes the Council of Trent, 87.

His Account of Bolsec's Sermon, 101. Note.

Remark on the Dedication of his Institutions; 121, 122, Note (d).

The English Liturgy re-model'd in Consequence of his Remonstrances; 368, 370, 372.

Approves of a fer Form of public Prayer and Administration of the Sacraments; 369, 516.

Held in extreme Veneration by King Edward and the English Reformers; 370, 372, 373.

Prevails with the Court of England to release Bishop Hooper from Confinement; 373.

Altars in Churches converted into Communion Tables at his Defire; ibid.

Requested by Cranmer to write OFTEN to King Edward; 373, 374.

The high Terms of Honor in which he is mentioned by our old English Bishops and Others; 374, 375.

Remarkable Instance of his Meekness; 376. His Approbation of the Liturgy and Ceremonys of the Church of England; 377.

No Enemy to Episcopacy; 378, 517.

Corresponds with Archbishop Parker; 514.

Receives the Thanks of Queen Elizabeth's Privy Council; 516.

Offers a Plan, in the Reign of Edward, for a general Union of Protestants; 514, 515. Note (g).

That excellent Scheme frustrated by the crafty Intrigues of the Council of Trent then sitting; 515. and by the audacious Subtilty of Bonner and Gardiner; 517, 518. Note.

Calvin renews the same Proposal to Queen Elizabeth's Administration, 514-516. But dies before it could take Effect; 517.

Archbishop Grindal's great Esteem of him; 524. Much honored by Archbishop Whitgist; 546.
His judicious Caveat against the Abuse of Predestination; .604.

His Book of Institutes highly valued by the English Bishops, Universities, and Clergy; 670, 671, 679. Falsely charged with terming Reprobation an Horrible Decree; 718, 719.

Calvinism, the prevailing system under Edward VI. Elizabeth and James I. xxiii. 506, 645, 677.

Extremely odious to the Church of Rome, xxxvii .---

Why Laud strove to smother it, 72.

Acknowledged, by our Adversaries themselves, to be the System of our English Reformers, 259, 264, 508,

Does not countenance Moral Remissiness; 412, 413, 488.

By whom FIRST publicly opposed in the Church of England fince the Reformation; 534.

When and why flandered with the name of Puritanism;

582; 711.

Calvinists (Doctrinal), why discountenanced by King Charles I. xiii.

To whom we are indebted for the Name; 170, Note (b).—Why perfecuted by the Church of Rome, 236. Were cruelly persecuted in Holland by the first Arminians there; 585.

Calvino-Turcismus, some Account of a Popish Book so entitled; 230. Note (y).

Answered by Dr. Sutcliffe, Dean of Exeter. Ibid.

Cambridge, University of, complains of and prosecutes Baro the Pelagian; 534, 535.

Her Zeal to vindicate the Honour of Bucer and Fagius,

See, Universitys.

Camden, Mr. his Account of the Familists; 111, 112.— His oblique Fling at the Arminians, 111.—His Character of Bishop Carleton; 630. Note.

Campneys, a very hot Freewill-man, some Account of him; 548.

Smartly taken to task by Veron and Crowley; 549.

Candor, a Distinction concerning it, xvi. Mr. J. W. the worse for being treated with it. Ibid.

Cannon, Doctor, a very fly Divine; 542.

Canterbury and Geneva, well agreed in the Sixteenth Century; 410, 520, 528, 529.

Cardan (Jerom); his Account of King Edward VI. 62, 63. 3 B

Remarkable Instance of that Philosopher's Integrity, Ibid. Note (n). Cardmaker, Mr John, the Martyr; 403.

Careless, Mr John, dyes in prison for the Protestant Faith; 413, 421.

Examined concerning Predestination by the Popish Commissary; 414, 415.

Extracts from his inestimable Letters; 416-421.

In his Estimation, Free-will and Pharisæism are reciprocal; 418.

Carleton, Dr George, Bishop of Chichester; afferts the Divine Right of Episcopacy in the Synod of Dort; 518, 519. Note.

Imputes the Rampancy of Arminianism in Holland, tothe want of Bishops there; 519. His Testimony to the Calvinism of the Church of England; 575.

Sent by King James to the Synod of Dort; 609, 610. His particular Department while there, 627. His Conversation with the Heads of the Arminian Party in Holland; 617.

Denys Universal Redemption to be a Doctrine of the Church of England; 630, Note .-- Other Particulars concerning him, Ibid.

Castalio, Sebastian; some Account of him, 503.

A Book of his, in behalf of Freewill and Perfection, gives great Offence in England; 503, 504.

Catechism, the, ascribed to Bishop Ponet; enjoined to be taught by all Schoolmasters in the English Dominions; 58, 274.

Received and subscribed to by the Protestants throughout England, 67 .- The Papifts very angry at it, 497.

Extracts from it, 271-273.

Subscribed by Cranmer, 266 .- And by Ridley, ibid .-And by the same Convocation which settled the Articles of Religion in King Edward's Time; 266, 267.

Appears to have been drawn up by the Reformers themfelves, 267. Note (f).

Bishop Ridley, on his Trial at Oxford, publicly acknowledged that he himself had an Hand in compiling it; 266, 268.

Had the Authority both of Church and State for it's Sanction, 269.

Evidently defigned as an Amplification of the Articles of Religion; 269.

A most

A most remarkable Concession of Heylyn concerning it; 269, 270.

Bishop Ridley's high Esteem of it, 276.

Published, and bound up, with the Book of Articles;

267, Note (f), and 268, Note.

An Edition of it printed in Latin, that Foreigners might know on and to what Principles our Church was reformed from Popery; 274.

Revived in the Reign of Elizabeth, and approved of by the same Convocation which settled our present xxxix

Articles ; 496-501.

Caufton, Mr Thomas, the Martyr; 393. Cave, Dr his Account of Pelagianism, 118.

His high Encomium on the Stoical Morality; 348, 349. Chair, a Mistake of the Church of Rome concerning one, 107, 108. Note (b).

Chance, in what Senfe that Term was used by our old Di-vines; 295, 480.

Charles I. Account of the State of Religion in his Reign, xxxviii, xxxix. 78.

Why he favor'd the Progress of Popery, 72. Note (a). Came to the Crown at a very unfavorable Juncture;

Reflections on certain Circumstances of Inconsistency which attended his Zeal against Predestination; 660, 66 t.

Charles II. Why he spared John Goodwin from Hanging, xliv. Turrettin's Character of that Prince; 694.

Charnock, Mr. Stephen, Character of; 693.

Church, Definitions of; 78, 98, 154, 157, 173, 195,

238, 273, 401, 405, 500.

Church (Primitive), the Doctrines of Grace not opposed in it, 'till the Rise of Pelagius; 118, 120. Note (b), 121.-123, 124.

Church of ENGLAND; her condition under Edward the Vlth, 382, 677.

Agrees with the Swiss Confession of Faith; 493.

Considered the Freewillers as the most inveterate of her Enemys; 510.

Her high Calvinism; 506, 573-575.

Maintains the Final Perseverance of the Elect; 591, 672.

Her forlorn Condition during the Usurpation; 693. How far Restored by Charles the Second; 694, 695.

3 B 2

Was not Reformed on Arminian Principles; 707. Remarks on the present State of; 720, 721.

Claydon, Mr the Martyr; 238.

Cleanthes, the Stoic Philosopher; his fine Verses concerning Fate, 346-348.

Clemens Romanus, 130.

Extracts from his 1st Epistle to the Corinthians, 131—138.

The great Antiquity of that Epistle, 138.

Clement (Mr John), the Martyr; 455.

Employ'd by his Brother Martyrs to draw up a Confeffion of Faith as a standing Monument of their univerfal Agreement in the Doctrines of Grace; 456, 458.

An Extract from that Confession; 459-463. Some Particulars concerning himself; 464.

His Remains buryed in the same Dunghill with those of Mr Careless and Mr Adheral; 464, 465.

Clergy, of the Church of England, an humble Address to them; 722, 723. The complicated Guilt of such of them as seek to subvert her Doctrines, 277. Note (p).

The Views of the present Petitioning Divines enquired into; 725-727.

The increasing Contempt of the Clergy accounted for;

Cobham, Lord; fell a Sacrifice to the Bigotry and Craft of the Romish Ecclesiastics; 226, 227.

Cruel Manner of his Execution, 228. Was a Disciple of Wickliff's, ibid.

Cole-man Street, John Goodwin's Meeting-house there the Head Quarters of the Fifth-Monarchy Men; xl.

Two of those Rebels hung in that Street, before the Door of the faid Goodwin's Meeting-house; xlii.

Colossians I. 24, explained; 397.

Compulsion, not inferrible from the Essicacy of Divine Grace; 169, 170.

Confessional, Author of; his Remark on the Calvinistic Articles of the Church of England, 99.

His just Rebuke of Arminian Subscription to those Articles, ibid. Note (s).

Is rather uncandid toward the Synod of Dort; 625.

Menaces the Bishops with a probable Overthrow of the Hierarchy; 726.

Conflance,

Constance, Council of, their Maxim; 171.

Their Treachery in condemning Dr. Huss to the Flames, ibid.

Consubstantiation, Lutheran Doctrine of; 700.

Contentment, a Consequence of Faith in Predestination; 293, 295.

Conversion to Faith and good Works, the grand Evidence of Election; 290.

Can be accomplished only by God, 299-301.

Co-Operation, Popish Doctrine of; 563.

Corke, a Bishop of, his fulsome Adulation to Charles I. and Laud, 71. Note (u).

Corvinus, not a stedfast Arminian; 617. Lamented his having been drawn in by that Faction; 617, 618.

Coverdale, Dr Miles, Bishop of Exon; 385, 473.

Cowper, Dr. Thomas, Bishop of Winchester, his high Character of Nowell's Catechism; 498.

Cox, Bishop of Elv, who had been Tutor to Edward VI. draws up a Paper of Advice to Queen Elizabeth concerning the Free-will Men; 509.

Cranmer, Archbishop; his gradual Advances in Divine

Knowledge, 265.

Subscribed to Ponet's Catechism, 266.

Was, probably, concerned in composing that Catechism, 267. Note (e).

Further Evidences of his Calvinism, 275, Note (k). 474, 475, 476.

Challenges the whole Body of Popish Divines, after the Accession of Queen Mary; 274.

His tender Emotions at feeing Ridley and Latimer led to Execution, 275.

His new Edition of Tyndal's Bible; 472-474.

Two other Editions of the Bible, in which he was concerned; 474-476.

Cromwell (Oliver); flattered, and over-reached, by John Goodwin, xlii-xliv.

Imprisons Mr Prynne for his Loyalty; 666. Note.

AVENANT, Dr John, Bishop of Salisbury, afferts Unconditional Predestination to be the Doctrine of the Church of England; 573, 574, 657.

Maintains the necessary Interribility of Reprobation from the xviith Article; 574.

Attends at Dort as a Member of the Synod; 609, 619. The Branch of Controversy allotted to him there 627.

Substance of his Sermon before Charles I. 655, 656. For which he is called to Account, 656-660.

His Conversation afterwards with the King; 660.

Davenport, Francis, trys to reconcile the Thirty-nine Articles of the Church of England with the Decisions of Trent; 691.

Death of Christ, absolutely prædestinated; 126, 127, 296. Intrinsecally sufficient for the Redemption of all Mankind; 315, Note. & 317, 195, 558.

I cans, enjoined to place Fox's Book of Martyrs in every Cathedral; 568.

Declar. In a remarkable one, published by the Fifth-Mon., Try-men; xli, xlii. Note.

Declaration, Clerical, of Conformity to the Liturgy: When and by Whom arown up; 509, 510.

Decrees of God; their Mujesty and Efficacy, 133.

Denny, Mr John, the Martyr; 411.

Dilemma, a difagreeable one to which the Church of Rome is reduced; 109, Note (e).

Another, in which King James I. wedged himself; 583, Directions concerning Preachers, by whom promoted;

Severely remarked on by the Protestants of that Age; 652. Note.

Puthely Apologized for, afterwards, by King James;

Extended and rigoroully enforced under Charles the First;

Dition. Mr Flumphrey; his exalted Character of the Stoics;

Dodd gr. Dr Philip; his Reflections on equivocating Subscription to Articles of Faith; 723, 724.

Dominis, Anthon, do; 711.

Dart, Synod of; their Wishes for the Introduction of Episcopacy, 518, 519. Note.

A friccinct History of that celebrated Synod; 608-

Its Transactions vindicated; 615, 616, 632-636.

Its Decifions folemnly and voluntarily received by the Protestant Churches in France; 629.

Was one of the most respectable Assemblys that ever convened; 610.

The

The remarkable Oath taken by each Member; 6122 613. Note.

The Apartment in which the Synod was held, together with the original Furniture, is preferved and shewn to this Day; 629.

Downes, Mr Samuel; Reflections on a Testimony of his concerning Bucer and Martyr; 332, 333.—Dances to Peter Heylyn's Pipe, 367.

Dutch Confession of Faith, openly consented to by the British Divines at Dort; 628.

FCHARD, Dr. his Account of the Fifth-Monarchy Men. xli. Note,

Edward VI. subscribed to the Articles of the Church of England, 57.

Prefixes a Letter of Recommendation to Ponet's Catechism, ibid. & 274.

Part of his dying Prayer, 58.

His Character by Bishop Latimer; 59, 60.—By Bishop Bale, 60 .- By Bishop Burnet, 61 .- By Bishop Mountagu, 62.—By Cardan, 63.—By Mr Guthrie, 64-66.

His Treatife against the Pope's Supremacy, 66.

Reason why his Memory is pecked at by some Arminians, 66, 67.

His Account of Bucer's Interment; 341.

State of the Church of England in his Reign; 382, 677. Efficacy of Grace, effentially different from Compulsion; 169. Efficy, a fuitable one, recommended to the Pope; 110.

Elect, cannot perish; xxxiii. 109, 560, 339, 337, 173, 241, 281.

Constitute, while on Earth, a World within a World;

Marks by which they are known after Conversion, 135, Note (m).

An unbroken Succession of them in every Age, 149. Election, a Branch of Predestination; 569. Defined, 570. In what Sense admitted by Pelagians and Arminians, xxxvi. 54, 184, 415, 560.

The practical Improvement of the true Doctrine of it, 133, 134, 604.

Held by the Albigenses and Waldenses, 154-157.

Founded on the Sovereignty of God's Will alone, 250, 495, 603, 674.

Archbishop Granmer's Attestation to it; 275. Note (k).

475, 476.—Bishop Ridley's; 278, 279, 441.---Bishop Latimer's; 288---292.

How afcertained to ourselves in particular; 290, 291, 397, 437, 445, 478, 488, 489, 572, 573.

The Root of Perseverance; 337, 339.

An Eternal Act of the Divine Mind; 455.

Absolutely Unchangeable; 484. (See, Persever ance.)

Dr Willet's judicious View of it; 557, 558.

Three Things to be especially consider'd in it; 569. Elizabeth, Queen; offer'd Peter Martyr any Preserment he pleased, if he would settle again in England; 345. Ran great Risque of her Life, during her Sister Mary's Reign; 467.

Protected by King Philip for political Reasons; 468.

Took Care to fill the Episcopal Sees, and especially that of Canterbury, with Doctrinal Calvinists, 512, 513.

Lamented the too late Detection of Bonner's and Gardiner's Trick upon Calvin; 517, 518. Note.

Issues Circular Letters to the Bishops for the Relief of Geneva; 528.

Very angry with Baro the Pelagian; 533.

Her Memory grossy traduced by Mr John Wesley; 575. Attended by Whitgift, Bancrost, and Watson, in her last Moments; 576. Dyed in the Assurance of Faith; ibid.

Account of her Person and Character; 577.

A great Admirer of St Austin, ibid.

Episcopius, Simon, the Arminian; his gross Rudeness to the Synod of Dort, 618, 620, 623, 624.

The great Lenity with which he was treated; 634, 635. Evil, not exempt from the Decree and Providence of God; 334, 482, 495, 718.

Exchange of Sin and Righteousness between Christ and the Elect, 307, 407, 417, 462.

Exotic, Mr Sellon's curious Application of that Word to himfelf, xviii.

F.

AGIUS, Paul; accompanys Bucer into England, 331.

Made Hebrew-Profesior at Cambridge, and dyes there; 343. His Bones dug up and burnt by the Papists; ibid. 549.

His just Eulogium, 552.

Faith, Justification by; that Doctrine thundered against by

by the Church of Rome, 87.—Remarkable Passage in St Clement for it, 135.

Faith, genuine, Definition of; 328, 384, 559. Distinguish'd by Dr Willet into active and passive; 559. A Fruit of Election; 572. Cannot but produce Good Works, 242, 272.

The Gift of God, 243, 558, 255, 435.

How it does, and how it does not, justify; 358, 559. Inseparably connected with Salvation; 129, 320. Tho' the Comfort of it may be suspended; 322, 280, Note. 423, 429, 489, 560, 561.

Family of Love; 111, 112. See Ranters.

Fate; roundly afferted by Wickliff; 191, 194.—In what Sense admitted by Bradwardin, 214, 216. by St Austin; 215, 216. by Boethius; 217—220. by Peter Martyr; 345, 346, 354. by Milton; 347. And by Melansthon, 705.

How maintained by the Wiser of the Antients; 214,

Note (r). 346, 348.

Properly understood, it is but another Name for Providence; 220, Note (a). 348, 354.

Fathers, Primitive; Calvin's just Observation concerning them, 122. Note.

General Remark on the Study of them, 124.—Those of them, who lived immediately after the Apostles, the most to be valued; 125.—Citations from these, in Behalf of the Calvinistic Doctrines; 126—148.

Ferrar, Dr Robert, Bishop and Martyr; 394, 395.

Joins in a Letter of Complaint against the Free-willers;

439.

Fifth-Monarchy Men, headed by John Goodwin the Arminian; xl, xliii.

A mad Insurrection of them immediately after the Restoration, xl, xli. Note.

Bishop Kennet's just Character of them, xli.

Two of them executed for Treason and Murder, opposite the Door of John Goodwin's Meeting-house; xlii.

The Men to whom Meffrs Wefley and Sellan would fend us to learn the Doctrines of the Church of England from! ibid.

Five Points, what Religious Articles were so called; 513,

Florus Magister, an excellent Writer, in the Ninth Century; tury; 167.-His Doctrine concerning Predestination and Free-will; 167, 168.

Fore-knowledge of God; See Omniscience.

Foster, and Freze, a Pair of Fifth Monarchy Men; Titles of two remarkable Pamphlets published by them, xl.

Fox, Mr. the Venerable and Learned Martyrologist; just Remarks of his, 244, 384.

His Book of Martyrs fet up, by public Authority, in every Cathedral and Parish Church in England; 567, 568, 573.

Specimen of His masterly Reasonings on Predestination.

Grace, and Free-will; 569-573.

France, the Reformed Churches of, publicly approved the Doctrines of Dort in a national affembly of the Clergy; 629.

Free-will, a Scuffle between Luther and the Pope concerning it; 82.

The Pope (Leo X.) excludes from Christian Burial such as deny it; 83.-Luther denounces Eternal Malediction on fuch as maintain it, ibid.

The Doctrine of the Church of Rome concerning it; 85,

86, 562, 563.

And of the Fesuits in particular, 93. Afferted by Aquinas, 105.

St Austin's and Calvin's Doctrine concerning it, one and the fame; 109. Note (e),

The Judgement of the Primitive Church concerning it, 123.

Deny'd by Barnabas; 129, 130.—by Clemens Romanus, 136 -by Ignatius, 142, 145 -and by Polycarp, 146. Whether it had any Thing to do in St Paul's Conver-fion? 180, 181.

Summary of Pelagius's Reasonings in favor of it, and of Bede's against it; 183-185.

Incompatible (in the Pelagian and Arminian Sense of it) with the Foreknowledge or Omniscience of God; 208, 209. Note. - & 193. Note (t).

Utterly inconfistent with Prayer and Thanksgiving, 224. Has no Hand at all in Conversion and Salvation; 356.

Justly repudiated by our old English Protestants as a Branch of Popery, 385, 415, 549, 558, 562.

Cannot confift with the Doctrine of Original Sin; 452,

The Holding of it deemed "Infamous," and "punishable,"

in

in the Reigns of Edward VI. and Elizabeth; xxviii. 54, 505, 506, 509, 566.

Its Pedigree and Offspring; 722, Note.

Free-Willers; the first professed Protestants who formed a Separation from the Church of England; 53.

Acknowledged themselves to be, and were considered as, Diffenters from the Established Church; xxv. Note, 449.

It does not appear that any one of them fuffer'd Martyrdom for the Protestant Religion; xxvi. 425.

Punished with Imprisonment, in the Reigns of Edward VI. and Elizabeth; xxviii. 54, 509, 566.

ACongregation of them in London, during Edward's Reign; 52.—Another in Kent, and a third in Essex; 53.

Complained of to the Privy Council, ibid Seized, and forced to give Bail for their Appearance; 54.

Profecuted in the Ecclefiastical Court, ibid.—Their Names registered, for the better Security of the Public; ibid.—Specimen of their Tenets, ibid. & 435, 456.

Excellent Letter of Recantation, written by One who was converted from that Party; xxvi—xxxiv.

St Austin's Address to the antient ones, 124.

Considered as Pharifees by the famous Mr Careless; 418.

A remarkably contentious Sect; 422, 438.

Mr Philpot the Martyr's bad Opinion of them, 422.

Mr Bradford's Letter against them; 439.

More dangerous, in his Opinion, than professed Papists;

Their uncharitable Rudeness to Bradford; 441.

Their unjust Aspersions of Predestination; 448.

Falfely charged Mr Philpot the Martyr with Antinomia-

Their frivolous Cavils against the Church of England;

Solemnly disowned by the Martyrs; 458, 459.

A Knot of them give much Umbrage in Elizabeth's Reign; 502, 566.

Remarkable for being virulent Defamers of the Bishops;

The "Infany" and Civil "Punishments" to which they were exposed in the Reign of Elizabeth; 505—507. The Freewillers of those Times less heterodox, in some respects, than many of our present Arminians; 507.

Their Number excedingly few, in the Reigns of Edward and Elizabeth; 52, 510, 512.

Free-Willers remarkable for being in general very Free-

Livers; 731.

Frith, Mr John, the Martyr, 253.

Fulke, Dr. William, his Confutation of the Rhemish Testament, with Extracts; 561-565.

Fuller, Dr the Historian; his facetious Adieu to the Ranters, 116.—His Character of Bede, 182.—His judicious Resections concerning Wickliff; 194, 195.

His Remark on the ill Effects of Arminianism in England;

591, 592. Note.

His Character of Vorstius; 593, Note.

Justly chastizes John Goodwin for aspersing the Synod of Dort; 610.

G.

CALATIANS ii. 21.—392.

Gallican antient Liturgy, and not the Roman, the Basis of the present English Common-Prayer Book; 263.

Gardiner, the Popish Bishop of Winchester; his Remark on the Homily concerning Salvation, 121.—Non-plust by a smart Retort, 410.—He and Bonner intercept a Letter from Calvin, and return him a forged Answer; 517, 518. Note.

Geneva, present State of the Calvinistic Doctrines in that Place, 68.

The Clergy of, released from Subscription, by means of Bishop Burnet, ibid. Note.

The primitive Reformed Church of, flandered by a Popish Bishop; 444.

Her antient Protestant Doctrines the same with those of the Church of England; 410, 444, 445.

Owned for a Sister-Church in the Reigns of Edward and Elizabeth; 527-529, 677.

Geneva Bible, the Translation so called, never authorized by the Church or State of England; 471.

Yet approved of and recommended by Archbishop Parker, 520.

Gifford, William, the Popish Priest; instigates Assassins to murder Queen Elizabeth; 230. Note.

Endeavors to parallel Calvinists with Mahometans;

Glover,

Glover, Mr Robert, the Martyr; 408.

Glover, a Free-will Preacher, imprison'd; 566. Released at the Intercession of Lord Burleigh, ibid.

Goad, Dr Thomas, Chaplain to Archbishop Abbot; dispatched by King James to the Synod of Dort; 627. Goodman, the Arminian Bishop of Gloucester, turns Papist; 103. Note.

Goodwin, John, the Arminian; the Leader of the Fifth-

Monarchy Men, xl. xliii.

Lends his Pulpit to Venner the rebellious Cooper, xli. Note.

Publishes a Folio Vindication of the Regicides, xlii. 718.

Cajoles Oliver Cromwell, ibid. xliv.

Espouses Cromwell's Cause with more outward Zeal than any of the other Fanatics, xliii.

How he escaped Hanging, xliv.

His Panic on the Restoration, ibid. Note (e).

Dr Calamy's Character of him, xlv.

Remarkable Title of Mr Vicars's Pamphlet published against him, ibid.

Hieroglyphical Embellishments of his Picture, xlvi.

Specimens of his Knack at Scurrility, ibid.

Mr Howe christens him by the Name of the Pagan Preacher, ibid.

A Slander of his, on the Synod of Dort, refuted by Bishop Hall; 610—612.

Signalized himself as a fanatic Preacher during the Usurpation; 694.

His Loyalty contrasted with That of Archbishop Usher; 717, 718.

Gospel, the; how it differs from the Law, 254. Gotteschalcus, some Account of him; 159.

His Doctrines; 160-162.

His Sufferings, Imprisonment, and Death; 163, 164.

Grace, Excellent Definitions of it; 98, 188, 242, 396. Renders itself effectual without Violence; 169, 675. Is the alone Source of all Holiness and Salvation from first to last, 271, 123, 168, 145, 408. Can alone render the Ministry of the Word successful;

299, 300.

Cannot be finally Lost; xxxi. xxxiii. 109, 129, 140, 143, 176, 225, 282, 323.

Not Universal; 557.

Scripture Instances of its absolute Freeness; 570-572. Great Bible, what Edition so called; 472-474.

Green.

Green, Mr Bartlett, the Martyr; 409, 410.

Grindal, Dr Edmund, Archbishop of Canterbury; affirms that the Doctrine of the Swiss Churches is the same with that of the Church of England; 493.

Some Account of him; 521, 522.

Largely affifted Mr Fox in compiling the Martyrology;

During his Exile, he attended the Divinity Lectures of Peter Martyr; 523, 524.

On his Return, assists in revising the Liturgy; 524.

His Value for Calvin and Zanchy; 524.

His Remarks concerning a Tract written by Velsius the Freewill-man; 525, 526.

His Regard for Beza and for his Annotations; 527.

His Judgement concerning the Church of Geneva; 529.

Vindicated from Puritanism; 529, 530. Lord Bacon's Opinion of him; 531.

Grosthead, Robert, Bishop of Lincoln; 186-190.

Gurney, Mr Thomas, his just and ingenious Censure of Mr J. Wesley; 729, 730. Note (d).

Guthrie, Mr the Historian; his Character of King Edward VI. 64.

Unjust to the Abilities of Wickliffe, 191.

H.

HADLEY, in Suffolk; the Inhabitants of that Town converted to the Gospel thro' Mr Bilney's Ministry; 389. The once florishing State of Religion there, ibid.

Hales, Mr John, of Eton; his Remarks on the audacious Rudeness of the Arminians to the Synod of Dort; 620, 623.

And on the Candor and Moderation of the Synod to the Arminians; 626.

Hali, the Mahometan Sect of, Free-willers to a Man; 233, 234.

Hall, Bishop, an instance of his Humility, 190. Note (0).
—Sent to the Synod of Dort; 609, 610.—Forced, by bad Health, to return to England during the Session of the Synod, and is replaced by Dr Goad; 627.
Note.

Vindicates the Synod, many years after, from a Slander of John Goodwin's; 611, 612.

Hamelton, Mr. Patrick, the Martyr; his noble Birth, 251. His Zeal and Magnanimity, 252.

The

The Articles for which he fuffered, ibid. and 253. Draws the Boundary between Law and Gospel, 254. What he delivers concerning Faith; 254, 255.

His nervous Reasoning against Justification by Works: 255, 256.

Hampton-Court Conference; 597, 599-504.

Harris, the late Dr William, his Objections against the Synod of Dort confidered; 632-635.

Hart, Henry, a wrangling Free-willer in the Sixteenth Century; 423, Note. 438, 440.

Not owned for a Brother-Protestant by Mr. Careles, Haukes, Mr. Thomas, the Martyr; 403, 404.

Hebrews xi. 17. considered; 393.

Helvetic Confession; see Swisserland.

Henry VIII. Trys Mr Lambert, the Martyr, in Person; 248. State of Religion in England at his Decease: 676. Was once on the Point of restoring the Pope's Supremacy; 676, 677, Note.

Much delighted with a crafty Decision of Melancthon's:

699, 700.

Hervey, the late Rev. Mr James; the Elegance and Candor with which he foiled Mr Wesley; xvi .- Mr Weslley's indecent and ungrateful Returns, ibid.

One Reason of Mr Wesley's Hatred to him, xvii.

His excellent Advice to the faid W. 233.

His just Character of Dr Fulke's Refutation of the Rhemish Testament; 561, 562.

Heylyn, Peter; does not diffemble the open Advances toward Popery in the Reign of Charles the First, xxxix. 78.

Asperses Wickliff, 196.

His Account of Mr Tyndal the Martyr; 242, 243.

Has a Fling at Dr Barns, 251.—And at Mr Frith, 254. Note.

His remarkable Concession concerning Ponet's Catechilm; 269, 270.

Acknowledges with fore ill-will that Peter Martyr had an Hand in drawing up the Articles of the Church of England; 360.

His gross Self-Contradictions relative to Calvin's Influence on the English Reformation; 367, 370-373.

His remarkable Analysis of the 17th Article; 469, 470. Note.

Confesses that Reprobation is inferrible from that Article; 470.

His Remark on a Passage in the Funeral Service; 471.

Note.

Observable Strictures of his on Nowell's Catechism; 499, 500.

Acknowledges the Novelty of Arminianism; 501. His Character of Campneys the Free-will Man; 548.

Owns the Church of England to be a Calvinistic Church;

Blabs out a very remarkable and important Secret; 654. His Attestation to the antient Calvinism of Both the Universities; 679, 680.

Confesses the Injustice of charging Calvinists with Puritanism; 716.

Highed, Mr the Martyr; 393.

Hinemar (Archbishop of Rheims); his Character, 159.

A fierce Pelagian, 160.

And an Arian, ibid. Note (m). Persecutes Gotteschalcus, 163.

His miserable End, 164.

Hincmar (Bishop of Laon), Nephew to the above Hincmar of Rheims; severely persecuted by his Uncle, 160. Note (1).

Holiness of Life, the End and Scope of Election; 604. Homilys, the First Book of, composed by Cranmer and Latimer, 287.

Rather practical, than doctrinal, according to Ridley's Opinion; 277.

Highly commended by Bucer; 366.

The Second Book of, When and by Whom drawn up; 509, 510.

Hooper, Bishop; 325.

His remarkable Prediction; 326.

Striking Instance of his Impartiality, ibid.

His Doctrine of Election and Grace; 327.

Of Justification, 328.

Of Providence; 328, 329.

Of Perseverance; 329, 330.

Scruples, for a Time, to wear the Episcopal Habit; 361.

His Scruples obviated by Bucer and Peter Martyr; 360, 362, 363.

Hoord, Samuel; a fage Argument of his against Predestination, xxxvii.

Bishop Bishop Davenant charges him with Apostacy from the Church of England; 573, 574.

Hope, a Remark on the Christian Grace so called; 129. Horne, a Divine of that Name disputes with Velsius the Freewill-Perfectionist; 112, Note. — Was probably our English Dr. Horne, afterwards Bishop of Winchester; 526.

Horribile Decretum; the Sense in which Calvin uses that Term; 718, 719.

Housen, Dr John, suspended for Arminianizing; 678. Howe, Mr Obadiah; writes against J. Goodwin, xlvi.

Hume, Mr. the Historian; affirms the Calvinism of all the Reformers, both English and Foreign, 264.

His Account of the ill Reception which the Arminians at first met with in England, ibid.

A Wish, relative to an Infinuation of his concerning James I. 579.

His illiberal Reflection on Bucer, Melancthon, Sturmius, and Draco; 696, 697.

Hundred and One Propositions condemned by the Bull Unigenitus; a Sample of them, 97, 98.

Huss (Dr John), his Martyrdom; 171, 172.

Some of the Articles for which he was put to Death, 173—176.

Charged with being a Fatalist, 176, Note (k).

Hutton, Dr Matthew, Archbishop of York; subscribes the Lambeth Articles, 538.

Advises Whitgist to deal severely with Baro; 539. Asferts the Doctrinal Orthodoxy of the Puritans; 715.

JAMES, Saint; in what Sense he affirms Justification by Works, xxx. 393, 485, 565.

Fames I. his Account of the Familists, or Ranters; 112.

A Petition to him, from that Sect; 114-116.

Summary of his Character; 578, 579.

Does not appear to have ever revolted from the theological Doctrines of Calvin; 579, 648.

Political Reason why he countenanced the Arminians in the four last Years of his Reign; 580, 582, 583, 592.

His Perplexity on that Occasion; 583.

Seems to have departed this Life at a very critical Juncture; 584.

Forewarns the Dutch of the Civil and Religious Con-3 C fusions fusions which would spring from Arminianism; 585, 593, 594.

Violently opposes the Promotion of Vorsius; 585, 586. His extreme Detestation of Arminius; 586, 590, 593, 594.

In Alarm lest Arminianism should find its Way from Holland to England; 590, 591.

Earnestly exhorts the Dutch States to extirpate Arminius's Disciples; 594, 595.

Falls foul on Bertius for having written against Final Perseverance; 589-591.

Persecuting Disposition of this Prince; 580, 596.

His Remarkable Dedication of his Book against Arminius and Vorstius; 597.—Insults the Church of England while King of Scotland, 598. Confesses himself an Hypocrite of 27 Years Growth; 598, 599, Note. His unbecoming Demeanor during the Hampton-Court Conference; 599.

Very properly declines inferting the Lambeth Articles into the Thirty-Nine; 600, 601.

Afferts the absolute Sovereignty and Freeness of Election and Reprobation; 603.

Requests the States of Holland to admit Divines from England and other Protestant Countrys to assist at the Synod of Dort; 608.

The British Divines whom he fent thither; 609, 627. The Vehemence with which he interested himself in that Synod's Condemnation of the Arminians, 613.

The feveral Views to which he confider'd Religion as subservient; 614.

Could never entertain a good Opinion of Dr Laud;

636, 639, 712.

His Reason for not permitting marginal Notes to be added to the present Translation of the Bible; 637,

Confesses himself a Symbolizer with Popery;

Note (f).

Projects a general Toleration of Papists; 641. Which Occasions him to quarrel with his Parliament; 642.

Specimens of his Religious Inconfishencys; 644.

His Character by Guillrie and Burnet; 646.

Excessively flatter'd, yet universally despised ;-647, 648,

Mischievous Effects of his Politics, 648,

Janssenius, Bishop of Ypres; 89.

The

The Labor and Exactness with which he study'd St Austin's Works, 90.

Narrowly escapes the Inquisition, 91.

Ordains Bellarmine a Priest, ibid.

In some Degree a Temporizer; 92, 94, Note: (k).

His Tomb demolished by the Pope's Order, and his Memory branded with Heresy; ibid.

The Ferment which the posthumous Publication of his Work, entitled Augustinus, raised in the Church of Rome; ibid.

The Contrariety of his System to That of the Jesuits, 93. His Book prohibited by the Inquisition, and condemned by the Pope; ibid.

His Five Propositions, which gave most Umbrage to the Romish Church; 93, 94.

The formal Condemnation of those Propositions, by Pope Innocent X. 95.

Condemned afresh by Alexander VII. ibid.

And again, in the present Century, by Clement XIII. 96, 97.

A general Subscription against them exacted in France;

His Writings have probably lain the Basis of the Reformation there; 96, 97.

Jekyl, Sir Joseph; 69, Note.

Jerom, Saint; his Address to St Austin; 123.

A great Admirer of the Stoics; 348.

Ferom of Prague; 177-179.

Jesuits; their whole System of Grace founded on Conditional Predestination and Works foreseen, xxxvi.

Were the immediate Fore-runners of Arminius, ibid. Remarkable Letter written by One of them from England in Charles the First's Time; xxxviii.

Claim the Merit of being the first Planters of Arminianism in this Kingdom; ibid.

Confess Arminianism to be their "main Fabric," and their "Sovereign Drugg;" ibid.

The Remarks of one of them on the State of Proteftantism in England, under Charles the First; xxxix. 78.

Procure the Condemnation of Jansenius's Augustinus, 93, 95

Were very angry with the Synod of Dort, 618.

Jewell, Dr John, the famous Bishop of Salisbury, his Doctrine concerning Election and Perseverance; Remarkable Passage in a Letter of his to Peter Martyr; 589, Note.

Ignatius, Saint; 139-145.

Immutability, effential to Gop; 205.

Independency, effential to God's Knowledge; 210, 211. See also 729.

Index Expurgatorius, the Popish; extended to some of St Augustin's Works; 100, Note (f).

Infants, departed; their Salvation not to be doubted of; xlvii, 316, Note.

The Arminian Scheme very unfavorable to them, xlix.

Infidelity, promoted by Arminianism; 728.

Innocent IV. (Pope); menaces Grofthead, 187.

Interim, some Account of a remarkable Popish Book so called; 697.

Johnson, Dr Samuel; his masterly Presace to Shakespear, 122, Note.

Ireland, Articles of, Established in 1615;

Extracts from them; 661, 662.

Archbishop Laud wished to stifle them, but left the Work unaccomplished; 662-664.

Those Articles, having never been repealed, are still legally in Force in that Kingdom; 663.

Istore, of Pelusium; 162, Note (r).
Judas, was never a true Believer; 174, 175. Whether Christ dy'd for him? 315.

Julian, an Italian Bishop in the 5th Century, artfully varnishes the Heresys of Pelagius; xxxv.

Junius, Francis; his Commentary on the Apocalypse formerly bound up with our English Bibles; 486.

Justification; Doctrine of the Church of Rome concerning

it; 87, 88, 559, 564.

Deny'd, by Clemens Romanus, to be of Works; 135, 137.—And by the Albigenses and Waldenses; 155.—And by Wicklisse, 195, 203.—And by Tyndal, 241, 242.—And by St Austin, 246.—And by Hamelton, 254—256.—And by the Church of England, 261.—And by Cranmer, and our other Reformers; 272, 302—307, 328.

Can only accrue to us thro' the Imputed Righteousness of Christ; 307-309.

In what Sense Faith is said to Justify; 358, 384, 559, 571. The Doctrine of Justification by Good Works, either in whole or in part, absolutely inconsistent with the Christian Religion; 391, 392, 484, 709.

The

The Popish Distinction, of two Justifications, confider'd; 559, 564, 565.

Absolutely gratuitous; 572. See Works.

К.

WENNET, Bishop, his just Character of the Fifth-A Monarchy Men, xli. Note.

King, Sir Peter, Lord Chancellor; nonplus'd by honest Whiston; 541, 542.

Knight, Mr Stephen, the Martyr; 394. Knollis, Sir Francis, Treasurer of the Houshold to Queen Elizabeth; his Letter for the Suppression of Castalio's Book on Free-will, 504, 505.

Unravels the Pelagian Doctrine of Perfection; 504.

Knowledge, the Divine; comprehends all Things without Exception, 208, 352.

Cannot confift with the Arminian Idea of Human Freeagency; 208, 209. Note:

Distinguishable into simple and approbatory, 209.

Not founded on the Things known, 209-211.

Is Almighty and Infallible; 220, 221.

Is founded on Predestination, 221, 352, 557.

Utterly incapable of Succession and Improvement; 210, 211, 213.

What it includes; 437.

T'AMBERT, Mr the Martyr; 244-246.

Cranmer concerned in his Profecution; 265, Note. Lambeth-Articles; the Occasion of them, 534.

Why so called; 537.

Solemnly approved by the Archbishops of both Provinces; 538.

... Why James the First omitted to incorporate them with the 39 Articles already established; 600, 601.

Inserted into the Articles of Ireland; 662.

Latimer, Bishop, his Character of King Edward the Sixth; 59, 60.

His magnanimous Behaviour at the Stake; 275, 276. . Some Account of his Character and Talents, 286.

His great Respect for Austin, Luther, and Peter Martyr; 287. Assisted Cranmer in Composing the Homilys; ibid.

His Doctrine of Election, 288-292.

Of Providence, 292-296.

Distinguishes the Will of God into Secret and Revealed; 292, 293. Avers that God's Decreeing Will cannot be defeated nor disappoitned; 293, 296, 298.

Affirms the Term of Human Life to be unalterably predestinated; 292, 294, 295.

In what Sense he uses the Word Chance, 205.

Maintains that the Death of Christ was irrelistibly predestinated; 295, 296.

Afferts Original Sin in its utmost Extent; 296-298. Batters down Free-will; 298---300.---Declares the Necessity and the Efficacy of Divine Grace; 299---301.

Denys Justification by Works; 302---307.

And afferts Justification by Christ's Righteousness, 307 -309.

His nervous Reasonings against sinless Persection; 309

His Doctrine concerning the Extent of Redemption; 312--- 318.

His Idea of Saving Faith; 316, 317.

His Doctrine concerning Perseverance; 318---324.

Laud, Archbishop; why he discouraged the Calvinists, xiii.

Expunges, from a Book of Christopher Potter's, some Passages which bore hard on the Church of Rome, 72. Note (x).

Out-witted by the faid Christopher Potter, 76, Note.

--- And by the elder Vossius, 77. Note.

Was never high in the favour of King James the first; 636, 712.

Made Bithop of St David's, much against that King's Mind; 639.

The zeal with which he promoted Arminianism; 640. Flagrant Imprudence of his Measures; 649, 651,

Is faid to have projected his Scheme for remodelling the Church of England, at a very early Period of Life; 650. Openly renounces Calvinism in the First Year of King Charles's Reign; 651.

Was the First Arminian Primate since the Reformation; 652. Would not venture to trust the Management of his Schemes to a Convocation; 654, 655. Wishes to set aside the Irish Articles, and pretends to have compassed his point, but without Effect; 662 --665.

His Injunctions to his Suffragans; 666.

Would have re-model'd the thirty-nine Articles, but for the Civil War; 655, 668.

His

His View in obtruding the Romish Ceremonys on the Church of England; 669.

Was so hardy as to disclaim Arminianisin on his Trial;

669, 670.

His Troubles, while a Member of the University of Oxford, on a religious Account; 650, 680, 681.

The Difficulty with which he gained his First Preferments; 682, 712?

Law, How it differs from the Gospel; 254.

Our own Conformity to it cannot justify us before God; 255.

Will not accept or admit of any Righteousness which is not absolutely perfect; 310, 311, 418, 475, 476.

Christ's Righteousness our only possible Resuge from its Malediction; 307-311, 484.

Leaf, Mr John, the Martyr; 427, Note

Uncommon Instance of his Religious Zeal and Intrepidity, 428.

Learning, and Learned Men, extremely hated by Fanatics;

Leo the Tenth, his Bull against Luther; 81-83.

Life, Human; its Duration invariably fixed, 182, 240, 282, 292, 294, 295, 420.

Limborch; a shameless Affertion of his, 125.

Lithall, Mr; examined by Bishop Bonner's Chancellor on the Article of Justification; 466, 467, Note.

Liturgy of the Church of England, not borrowed from the Romish Forms, but from the Antient British and Gallican Liturgy; 263, Note.

Corrected by Bucer and Martyr; 332, 333, 367.

Reformed at Calvin's Request; 368, 370, 372.

Suppressed by Mary the First; 465. Restored by Elizabeth; 524.

Locke, Mr. his Idea of Compulsion; 169, Note.

Affirms that Voluntariness and Necessity are perfectly compatible, ibid.

Utterly denys that Freedom is predicable of the Human Will; 170, Note.

Lollards, or Wickliffites; Passage from a Letter written by one of them, 229.

And from one of their Books; 238.

A Number of them surprized by Henry the Fifth at a Religious Meeting; 227.

Love of God to his People, Eternal and Unchangeable; 176, 279, 321, xxxi, 419, 431.

Love, Family of; fee FAMILY, and RANTERS.

Louis XII. of France; a noble Answer of his, 158. Loyalty, best secured on Calvinistic Principles; 717.

Luther, His spirited Remarks on the Pope's Bull; 83, 84. Denys Free-will and sinless Perfection, 82.—Affirms, in his Heat, that the Maintenance of those two Tenets is incompatible with Salvation; 83.

His unceremonious Language to Pope Leo. 84.

A Canon of the Council of Trent expressly leveled at him; 85, Note (g).

Bishop Latimer's high Opinion of him, 287. Compares Man's Will to an Horse, 357.

A smart saying of his concerning Henry the Eighth; 676. His noble Integrity; 701.

Lutherans, foon deviated from the Purity of Luther's Syftem; 318.

Lydius, his just Remark concerning the crafty Perverseness of the Pelagians; 624, Note.

Lyttelton, Lord; his Remark concerning the Albigenses and Waldenses, 150, Note (k).

M.

MAHOMETANISM, a Compound of Judaism, Christianity, and Heathenism; 231.

Specimen of some Christian Doctrines and Precepts adopted by Mahomet; 231, 232.

Those of the Mahometans who are Fatalists, are very remote from the Christian Doctrine of Predestination; 233, 234.

A vast Body of them are rank Arminians, in the Points of Predestination, Grace, Free-will, and Perseverance; 233, & 234.

Several Particulars enumerated, wherein the Arminian Mahometans tally with our Arminian Methodists;

234-236.

Mahometum unjustly charged on the Church of England, by Papists and Arminians; 230, 232, 270. Queen Elizabeth falsely tax'd with it by Mr John Wesley; 575.

Marsh, Mr George, the Martyr; 395-398.

Martin the Fifth (Pope), his flaming Bull against Predeftination; 78-81.

Orders Wickliff's Bones to be dug up and burned, 198. Martyr, Dr Peter, the Reformer; converted by the Books

of

Bishop Latimer, 287. Highly respected by Invited into England by Cranmer and Somerset; 331. Made Divinity Professor at Oxford; and why; ibid.

& 344, 345.

The English Liturgy submitted to his Revisal; 332, 333.

Some Account of his Life; 343, 344.

Refuses Queen Elizabeth's Invitation, 345.

His Doctrine concerning Fate; 345, 346, 354.—Prædestination, 351.—Præscience, 352.—Providence, 352, 353, 354.—Reprobation, 355.—Free-will, 356, 357.
— Justification, 358. Perseverance, 359.

Was concerned in framing the Book of Articles; 360. Persuaded Bishop Hooper to conform to the Episcopal Habit; ibid.—His excellent Reasoning on that Subjects; 362.

Cranmer's great Opinion of him; 274.—His English

Preferments, 345.

He and Bullinger solve Archbishop Grindal's Scruples about Conformity; 530.

Honors rendered to the violated remains of his Wife, 553-555.

Martyrs for the Protestant Religion. Extract from a Confession of Faith drawn up by Eleven very eminent Ones; 384, 385.

Their Calvinism largely proved; 384-466.

Miraculous Honors which attended some of them in their last Moments; 239, 395, 404, 406.

Their Number precisely fixed by God's Decree; 428. Unanimously disclaim all Connection with the Free-will-men; 458.

Join in publishing a common Confession of their Faith, A. D. 1557; 456, 458.

Part of the Prayer usually said by them at the Stake; 466.

Their Zeal and Fortitude; 511, 512.

Mary I. Queen of England, her Zeal to rid the two Universitys of Calvinism; 382, 383.

Publishes a Proclamation against all Books written by the Reformers; 383,7384.

Mary, Queen of Scots; certain religious Particulars which passed at the Time of her Execution; 547, 548.

Matthews's Bible, why fo called; 473.

Maurice de Nassau, Prince of Orange; extricates the United

United Provinces from the Calamitys with which the Arminian Sect, aided by the Popish, endeavor'd to overwhelm that Country; 607.

Means; not superfeded, but included, and made effectual, by God's Decree; 196, 288, 490.

Melanethon, Philip; had no Hand in the English Reformation; 696.

Remarkable Particulars concerning him; 697-706.

Melvin, Rev. Mr John; imprison'd in Newgate for the Faith; 467, Note.

Menardus, Hugh, a French Benedictin Monk; his remarkable Note on a Passage in St Barnabas, 126, Note (k).

Is very angry with that Saint for not holding Universal Redemption, 129.

Mendlesham, Protestants expelled from; 411, 412.

Merit of Works, afferted by the Church of Rome; 88, 105, 106, 562.

Janssenius's Reason for using the Word; 98, 99, Note

Disclaimed by St Austin, 108. And by Clemens Romanus, 135.

And by Ignatius, 141, 145.

And by Polycarp, 146. - and by the Albigenses and Waldenses, 155, 157.—and by Wickliff, 195.—and by Tyndal, 241. - and Lambert, 245. - and by the English Reformers; 271, 272.—Latimer's Testimony against it, 302-307.

Utterly inconsistent with the whole Christian System; 241,

244, 256, 302, 304, 306.

The Sense in which some Antient Writers use it, 206. Held by the followers of Mahomet, 235.

And by Pelagius, 184.

Methodism, defined; iii.—Arminianism is the Life and Soul of it; 731.

Milton, his sublime Definition of Fate; 347.

Monarchy, John Goodwin's Abhorrence of it; xli, xlii, Note. & xliii.

Montesquitu, acknowledges the Incompatibility of Human Free-Agency with God's Omniscience; 208, Note. -The Manner in which he supposes a Mahometan Free-willer to reason on that Subject, ibid .- The unavoidable Alternative to which that Train of Reasoning reduces the Point, 209.

More.

More, Sir Thomas, Lord Chancellor; fupposed faving Faith to be in a Man's own Power, 243.

Mosheim, his Account of the Administration of King

Charles the First and Archbishop Laud; 651.

Motion; God the immediate Mover of all Things, according to the Philosophy of Bradwardin: 207. and of Dr Barns, 251.

Mountagu, Dr James, (Bishop of Winchester), his Account of King Edward the Sixth; 62.

Mountagu, Richard, a fiery Arminian, confuted by Bishop Carleton; 630, Note.

Imprudently exalted to the Mitre, afterwards, by Charles I. ibid.

Other Particulars concerning him; 653, 654, 665.

Mufti of Moorfields, Who; 234.

Musculus, Wolfgangus, Divinity-Professor at Berne; his Common-Places translated into English for the Instruction of the Clergy and Laity, with a Preface by Archbishop Parker; 519, 520.

N.

N^{ECESSITY}, perfectly compatible with voluntary Choice; 169, Note (a). 222.

God's Foreknowledge cannot be maintained without it;

208, Note.

Malicious and absurd Inferences, drawn by the Council of Constance, from the Doctrine of Necessity; 176, 177, Note.

Wickliff a strong Necessitarian, 191, 194, 196, 199.

According to Bradwardin, the Divine Will is the grand Necessitating Principle; 212. (See the Article FATE.) Whether the Human Will be exempt from Necessity?

222, 223, 240.

Newman, Mr John, the Martyr; 405.

Newton, Bishop; acknowledges a Doctrinal Affinity between the Ancient Albigenses and the modern Calvinists, 150.

His Account of Wickliffe; 196-198.

Nicholas, Henry; the Founder of the Familists, or Ranters; 112, 113.

Norfolk and Suffolk, Inhabitants of; join in a Religious Remonstrance against Popery; 465.

Nowel,

Nowel, Dr Alexander, Dean of St Paul's, some Account of him; 501, 502, Note. Was probably concerned in drawing up Ponet's Catechism; 267, Note (e).

Publishes an improved Edition of that Catechism, in the Reign of Elizabeth; 59, 496, 497.—Two Passages, extracted from it by Heylyn; 500.

O.

OBEDIENCE of Christ; see RIGHTEOUSNESS.

Omniscience of God; 208, 209.

Not derived from the Objects with which it is converfant; 210, 211. See, KNOWLEDGE.

Original Sin; 273, 296, 297.

Its Effect on the Human Will; 298, 299, 300, 460, 559, 562.

Incompatible with the Popish and Arminian Doctrine of Free-Agency; 452, 453.

Overal, Dr John, Dean of St Paul's, afterwards Bishop of Norwich; frightened by King James at the Hampton-Court Conference; 601.

Afferts the Poffibility of total Apostacy, and in the same Breath denys it; 602.

Very orthodox in the Doctrine of Election; ibid. Oxford, see Universitys.

P.

PARIS, Matthew; his Character of Bishop Grosthead; 186, Note.

Parker; Dr. Matthew, Archbishop of Canterbury; concerned in an Edition of the English Bible; 476, 521.

-Extracts of it; 477, 478.

Revifes and approves the Paper of Advice for confining all the Free-will Men in one Castle; 509.

The Translation of Musculus's Common Places dedicated to him, and supposed to be prefaced by him;

Attests his Approbation of the Geneva Bible, in a Letter to Secretary Cecil; 520.

Parkburst, Bishop of Norwich; concerned in what was called the Bishop's Bible, 476. His Opinion of Zanchius, 671.

Paul's Cross, London; some Account of, 587-589, Note.

Arminian Books burned there by the Command of King James the First; ibid.

Pearfon,

Pearfon, Dr John, Bishop of Chester; remarkable Anecdote of, related by Dr Edwards: 676.

Pelagianism, artfully palliated and qualifyed by Julian of Eclana; xxxv.

Two of its distinguishing Principles; xxxvi.

First ushered in by Arianism, 51.

Some more of its constituent Branches; 54, 118, 120, Note. 456, 558.

Bradwardin's Account of its great Progress in the fourteenth Century; 204.

Pelagians; fee, FREE-WILLERS.

Pelagius, summary of his Doctrine concerning Predestination and Freewill, given in his own Words; 183— 185. With Beda's Resutation of it, Paragraph by Paragraph; ibid.

More concerning him, 118, 120, Note (b). 123.

Perfection, Doctrine of; a Tenet raked from the Dunghills of Pelagianism and Ranterism, 113.

Ascribed by Mahometans to Mahomet, 234.

Bishop Latimer's Testimony against it; 311, 312.

Adopted by the Church of Rome; 82, 253.

Judiciously fifted by Sir Francis Knollis; 504.—And by Archbishop Grindal, 526.

Persecution, on a Religious Account, utterly inconsistent with every Right of Human Nature; xv, xxviii, xxix, Note (m).

The wrong Effect which the Cessation of it has had on the Zeal and Faith of the Protestant Churches; 237. Persecutions endured by the Protestants in Holland at the hand of the first Arminians; 585, 633.

Whether the Synod of Dort can be said to have persecuted the Arminians; 633, 634.

Perfeverance to the End, infeparable from Election and Faith; xxxi, xxxiii, 225, 241, 281, 320, 323, 330, 337, 359, 409, 433, 436, 445, 461, 483, 489, 560, 602.

Bishop Saunderson's judgment of it; 673, 675.

Has no Tendency to Licentiousness; 463.

King James the First's exuberant Zeal for the Doctrine of Final Perseverance; 586, 587, 589, 590.

Afferted by that Prince to be the Doctrine of the Church of England; 589—591.

Persian Mahometans, follow the Free-will System of Hali; 208, Note, 233, Pharaoh,

Pharaoh, Bucer's Reflections on the Obduration of that Prince; 335.

Philip, King of England and Spain; the probable Cause of his preserving the Princess (afterwards Queen) Elizabeth from the Axe; 468.

Interferes with his Confort Mary in Behalf of the English Protestants; 512.

Philip III. of Spain, foments Arminianism in the Dutch

Provinces; and why; 606, 607.

Pilkinton, Dr. James, Bishop of Durham; preaches a Sermon at Cambridge in Honor of Bucer and Fagius, 553.

Philpot, Mr. John, the Martyr; a remarkable Letter of his concerning the Free-willers, 422.

Another of his concerning that Sect; 439.

Some Account of him; 442.

Defys his Popish Judges to answer Calvin's Institutions; 443.

Afferts Predestination to have been universally held by the Protestant Divines, 444.

Extracts from some of his Letters; 445, 446.

Traduced as an Antinomian by the Free-willers of that Age, and Why; 448, 450.

Appears to have had an hand in revising Ponet's Catechism; 497.

Pia et Catholica Institutio, a Popish Book so entitled; the Use Bishop Bonner made of it; 382, 383, Note.

Pionius, a Primitive Christian in the second Century, his devout Wish; 147, 148.

Polyander, his Remark, in the Synod of Dort, on the supercilious Demeanor of the Arminians; 619.

Polycarp, St. 146.

Extracts from his Epissle to the Philippians; 146, 147. Ponet, Dr. John, Bishop of Winchester; some Account of him, 265, Note (c). and 268, Note.

See, CATECHISM.

Poole, Mr. Edmund, the Martyr; 411.

Popery, gross Advances toward it in the Reign of Charles the First; xxxix.

Arminianism the Turnpike Road to it; xxxvii, 100—103, 585. (See Arminianism).

Mr. Wesley's lax Idea of Popery; 103, Note (u).

Lost much Ground during the Marian Persecution of Protestants; 511.

Poplinerius,

Poplinerius, Lancelot; his Testimony concerning the Waldènses, 152.

Potter, Christopher; two Letters of his to Laud, 70, 72,

Notes.

His Pains to ingratiate himself with that Prelate, 71. Halts between Calvinism and Arminianism; 73-76, Note.

A dextrous Trimmer, 76.

Prayer, irreconcilable with the Arminian Doctrine of Freewill; 224.

Warranted by Predestination; 489.

Prayers for private Use, formerly bound up with the Liturgy; 491.

Predestination, a Doctrine peculiarly offensive to the Church of Rome; xxxvii. 79, 88, 98, 99, 550.

The Pelagian Idea of it; xxxvi, 54, 184, 415.

The Denial of Predestination severely punished by our English Reformers; xxviii, Note. 54, 509, 566.-Apostatized from at modern Geneva, 68 .- St. Auftin's Doctrine of, 108 .- Held by the Church of England, 117, 573, 574, 657, 659.—And by the Primitive Church, 118-121.

Judiciously stated by Remigius of Lyons, 165. Definitions of it, 221, 334, 351, 557, 570.

Extends to All Things, 334, 351, 569. Has no Foundation but the lovereign Will of God, 250, 570, 603.

Is infallibly effectual; 243.

Archbishop Bancrost's Method of reasoning upon it; 290.

And Mr Bradford's; 436.

How it differs from Election; 569, 570.

Preservation, Divine; the Cause of Perseverance: 320, 325, 329, 330, 339, 388, 419, 421, 432, 462.

Prideaux, Dr John, Bishop of Worcester; his memorable Speech to James the First, 645.

Profecutes Mr Brydges for Arminianism; 683.

Priest, a fat-headed One; 454.

.

Very strenuous against Predestination, and in Behalf of Free-will; 455.

Prophecy, affords an irrefragable Argument for Prædestination; 191-193.

Providence of God; 213, 217, 218, 220, 282, 292, 294, 295, 328, 352-354, 437, 446, 494.

Prynne,

Prynne, William, Esq; excluded the House of Commons for his Loyalty to Charles I. 666, Note.—His Zeal for the Restoration of Monarchy; ibid.—Accepted of a Place under Charles II. ibid.

Other Particulars of him; 667, 668.

Pulpits, at variance with the Desk; xii. 721.

Purgatory, the true; 155.

Puritanism, falsely charged on the Calvinistic Doctrines; 689, 711-716.

Judgement of Archbishop Usher, and of Bishop Saunder-son, on this Matter; 713, 716.

Puritans, antient; some of them actuated by a very perverse Spirit, 531, 727, Note (b).

Did not diffent from the Doctrines, but from the Cere-monys, of the Church; 715, 716.

OUARTO Bible, published in the Reign of Edward the Sixth; 475, 476.

Other Editions, during the Reign of Elizabeth; 478-

Quesnel, Pasquier; Sample of the 101 Propositions for which he was anathemized by the Pope; 97, 98.

His Exile, Imprisonment, and Death; 100.

Questions and Answers, concerning Predestination, formerly bound up with our English Bibles; 486-490. Their Authority vindicated, 487.

RANDAL, Anthony; Deprived for Ranterism, 113. -A view of his Tenets, 113, 114.

Ranters, a Continuation of the Familists; 111.

Held that Predestination was not absolute but conditional; 112.

Violent Advocates for Free-will and Perfection; 112, Note (1). 113, 114, 504.

Bore a vehement Enmity to the Puritans, 115.

Their shameless Pretences to Veneration for the Church of England, 115.

Maintained Universal Grace and Redemption; 115, 116.

Dr Fuller's Character of them, 116.

(See more, under the Article of FIFTH-MONARCHY-MEN.)

Redemption, not unlimited; 128, 132, 140, 153, 156, 161, 282, 313---317, 340, 341, 434, 435, 558.

What Redemption really is; 312.

Limited Redemption, not discouraging; 435.

Reformers, English; were professed Calvinists in Doctrine; 263, 264.

Large Proof of this; 259-367.

Regeneration, the Work of Efficacious Grace; 127, 300, 301, 327.

An Evidence of Election, 290.

Man unable to contribute any Thing toward it; 460, 461.

Reinerius, a Popish Inquisitor in the Twelsth Century, his Account of the Waldenses; 152.

Remigius, Archbishop of Lyons; 164-166.

Repentance, the Gift of God; 140.

Reprobation, deny'd by the Pelagians; 54, 624, Note.

Calvin falfely charged with terming it an horrible Decree; 718.

Peter Martyr's Definition of it; 355.

Does not make God the Author of Sin; ibid. & 494. A Doctrine we are not obliged to wade into; 463.

Expressly revealed in Scripture; 338, 479, 481, 483. Plainly deducible from the 17th Article of the Church of England; 470, Note. 574, 688.

The Arminians at the Synod of Dort would fain have put Reprobation before Election; 622, 623.

A Doctrine extremely offensive to Pelagians; 624, Note.

—Bishop Saunderson's View of it; 674, 675.

Retractation, a Model of, recommended to Mr Wesley; xxvii—xxxiv.

Rheims, English Papists at, publish a false Translation of the New Testament, with sophistical Notes; 561. Consuted by Dr Fulke, ibid.

Ridley, Bishop; confessed, before his Popish Judges, that he affished in drawing up Ponet's Catechism; 266.

And that he subscribed it when finished, ibid.

Some Account of Him, and his Manner of living; 275, 283, 284.

His intense Study of the Scriptures, 285.

His Attestation to the Calvinistic Doctrines; 278—282. His profound Veneration for Ponet's Catechism, and for the Articles and Homilys; 276, 277.—His remarkable Kindness to Bonner's Mother, 283.

The most learned of all our (native) English Reformers;

Writes a Defence of Predestination, in Opposition to the Free-will Men; 441.

3 D Righteouf-

Righteousness of Christ, the only Obedience by which we can be Justified before God; 153, 307-309.

Must be carefully distinguished from inherent Righteousness; 385.

Rogers, Mr John; the first Martyr who suffered in the Reign of Mary the Bloody, 384. Rogers, Mr Thomas; publishes an Exposition of the 39

Articles; 471.

Rome, Church of, favored by Archbishop Laud; 72, Note (z).78.

Exults at the present Deluge of Arminianism which overflows the Church of England; 77.

Thunders against Calvinism; 79-83, 85-89, 93-96, 98, 99.

Struck with Alarm at Calvin's Defign of Uniting the Protestants into one Body; 515, Note.

Very angry with the Doctrine of absolute Predestination; 550, 562, 563.

Asserts two Justifications; 559, 564.

Teaches Election upon Works foreseen; 560, 563, 571. Peculiarly enraged against the Synod of Dort; 618, 636. Roth, Mr Richard, the Martyr; 424. Rough, Mr John, the Martyr; 424.

SAMUEL, Mr Robert, the Martyr; 406-408. Sapma, the Arminian, his outrageous Insolence to the Synod of Dort; 625, Note.

Saunders, Mr Laurence, the Martyr; 386—388.

Saunderson, Dr Robert, Bishop of Lincoln; his Opinion of Calvin's Institutes, 672. His Manner of accounting for the Progress of Arminianism; 673. His Idea of Election and Reprobation; 674, 675. Vindicates the Calvinian Doctrines from the charge of Puritanism; 716.

Saville, Sir Henry; in Concert with Archbishop Abbot, prints Bradwardin against the Pelagians; 204.

Extract from the Preface prefixed by him to that Work; 200, 201.

Sawtree, Mr William, the Martyr; 237.

Sellon, Mr Walter; the Capacity in which he ferves Mr John Wesley; x.

Very ill qualify'd for his Office; xii.

His shacking Disrespect to the Supreme Being; xviji. Styles himself an "Exotic"; xviii, xix.

How

How he came to wear Prunella; ibid. Note (m).
His Compliments to the Vicar of Broad Hembury; xx,

His Address to ditto; xxi.

A small Body of Pelagian Divinity; xxii.

His Title to Gentleness of Chastisement; xxiv.

Would fend us to John Goodwin the Ranter to teach us the Doctrines of the Church of England; xlii, Note.

His high Opinion of the said John Goodwin; xlvii.

Rather unhappy as a Logician; ibid.

A Speculation concerning him; 55.

Infults the Memory of King Edward the Sixth; 58. Confesses his own Incompetence to Controversy; 67.

His Blunder concerning Christopher Potter; 70, 73.

An Hint to the Pope concerning him; 110.

Convicted of Ranterism; 116, 117.

Jumps with the Church of Rome, 177, 181, 415, 636. Charges our first Reformers with Popery, 259; and with Mahometism, 270.

Unmercifully haunted by certain Ghosts; 499. Parson Talbot's Petition sets him a swearing; 507.

Acknowledges the Calvinism of the Reformers, 259. And of the Church of England, 508.

The Compliment he passes on the Bishops who framed the xxxix Articles, 508. And on the Translators of the present English Bible, ibid. Note.

Congratulated on his living in the present Age; 510,

Defyed to prove the pretended Arminianism of Archbishop Usher and Bishop Davenant; 632, Note.

Sample of his aftonishing Ignorance; 710, 711, Note. Semi-pelagians, no important Difference between their System and that of Pelagius; xxxvii, xxxviii.

Servetus, his Murder justified by Melancthon; 705.

Seton, Alexander; preaches, and renounces, the Truth; 246, Note (c).

Shebbeare, Dr a remarkable Observation of which he is supposed to be the Author; 720.

Sheterden, Mr Nicholas, the Martyr; 404, 405.

Skelthorp, a Free-willer, converted by Mr Bradford the Martyr; 442.

Smith, Mr. Robert, the Martyr; 405, 406.

1. 2.

Smillett.

Smollett, Dr. ascertains the Time when the English Arminians settled into a Sect; 582.

Accounts for the Encouragement latterly given to them by James the First, ibid.

Somerfet (Edward Seymour), Duke of, Protector of England under his Nephew King Edward the Sixth; 55. His great Veneration for Calvin, 56.

An excellent Prayer of his, ibid.

Translates into English a Letter sent to him by Calvin;

South, Doctor Robert, a just Distinction of his; 78.

Spicer, Mr Thomas, the Martyr; 411.

Stilling fleet, Bishop of Worcester; traces the true Origin of our present Liturgy, 263, Note.

His honorable Mention of Calvin; 374.

Stoicism; in flying from it, the Arminians plunge into the very worst Part of it; 193, 194.

Stoics, what the wifer Part of them meant by the word Fate; 215, 346, 348.

Came the nearest to Christianity, both as to Doctrines and Morals, of any other Sect; 348-350.

Sublapsarian Principle, what it is; 261, Note.

The Hypothesis adopted by most of our Reformers; 260.

Solidly vindicated by Bishop Davenant; 573.

Subscription to the 39 Articles; Conversation between two Cambridge Divines about it; 542.

In Bishop Davenant's Opinion, every Subscriber is bound to maintain the Doctrine of Reprobation;

The terrible Effect which is likely to redound from subferibing one Way, and believing another; 57.

The Danger which may accrue to the State, from the Casuistry of some Theological Subscribers; 724, 725.

Suffolk (Catharine Brandon) Duchess of, her tender Care of Bucer in his last Sickness; 341, 342.

Her Troubles and Deliverance; 342.

Summ of the whole Scripture, a little Tract so called, written by Archbishop Cranmer, and sormerly bound up with our English Bibles; 474, 477, 490.

Supra-lapsarians, their distinguishing Hypothesis; 260,

Note.

Supremacy, of the Pope; King Edward's Treatise against it, 66.

The

The original Manuscript of that Treatise still in Being; ibid.

Swifferland, Churches of, their excellent Confession of Faith; 492-495.

That Confession acknowledged by Archbishop Grindal to harmonize with the Doctrines of the Church of England; 493.

Sympson, Mr Cuthbert, the Martyr; 425.

Sympson, Edward, forced to recant his Arminian Sermon preached at Court; 682, 683.

TALBOT, Mr Thomas, Parson of Milk-Street; his memorable Petition to Queen Elizabeth's Bishops, who he feared would fend him to North-Wales or Wallingford Castle; 505, 506.

Inferences deducible from that Petition; 506, 507.

Taylor, Dr Rowland, the Martyr; 388. Humorously intimidates Bishop Bonner; 389, 390.

The concluding Paragraph in his last Will; 390, 391.

His Calvinism, 391, 439.

Theses, Samples of, antiently maintained by the Two Universitys in orthodox Times; 684---687.

Thuanus, James Augustus, the Historian, his Account of

Calvin, 375.

Tindal, Mr Nicholas, the Historian; remarks the Approximations to Popery in the Time of Charles the First; xxxix.

Confesses the Calvinism of our Church Articles; 261-263.

His Account of the Diffusion of Arminianism in England; 381. Gives the political Character of the first English Arminians; 382.

Tourney, Mr stopped of his Degree at Cambridge for being an Arminian; 688, 689.

Tremellius, invited to England in the Reign of Edward the Sixth; 343.

His English Preferments; ibid.

First converted under the Ministry of Peter Martyr; 344. Trent, Council of; 84---89.

It's Canons refuted by Calvin; 87, Note.

Terribly alarmed by Calvin's Plan for a Co-alition of all Protestants; 515, Note.

Trew, a noify Free-willer; his Idea of Predestination, 415. Turrettin, Benedict; said to have been the first successful 77 r Sower Sower of Arminianism at Geneva, toward the End of the 17th Century; 68.

Turrettin, John Alphæus, his just Character of Calvin; 376, 377. His Character of Charles the Second; 694.

Tyms, Mr William, the Martyr; 410, 411. His ready Retort on Bishop Gardiner, 410.

Mr Careless's Letter to him, 417.

Tyndal, Mr William, the Martyr; 239, 240.

His Doctrines; 240-243.

His Translation of the Scriptures revised and re-published by Cranmer; 472, 473.

UNIGENITUS, Bull, published against Quesnel, by Pope Clement XIII; 98, 99.

Union of Christ with his Church, indissoluble; 142, 144, 174, 241, 407.

United Provinces of Holland, &c. How and at what Time Reformed from Popery; 607.

Forwarned by King James I. of the Mischiess which would ensue from the Schism of Arminius; 585, 593, Brought to the Verge of Ruin by the Arminian Faction; 584, 585, 605.

Retrieved by the Wisdom and Heroism of Prince Maurice; 607, 608.

States of, their polite Liberality to the British Divines who sat in the Synod of Dort; 628.

Universal Redemption, maintained by the Church of Rome;

And by the Ranters; 116.

Sample of the insuperable Difficultys with which the Doctrine of Universal Redemption is clogged; 314, 315, 317.

Answer to an Argument for it drawn from the Communion Service; 707, 708.

Universitys, English; Queen Mary the First labors to purge them of Calvinism, 382, 383.

Commanded, after Elizabeth's Accession, to place Fox's Martyrology in the Hall of each College; 569.

Very Orthodox in Time past, 532, 573, 645, 679, 680, 684—687.

Samples of Academical Confures inflicted on Arminians, 678---683, 689.

Usher, Archbishop, His Account of Gotteschalcus; 159---

And of the Waldenfian Principles; 156, 157.

Positively afferts that the Irish Articles were not rescinded in the Convocation of 1034; 663.

Remarkable Effects of his Ministry at Oxford; 692.

His noble Testimony against Arminianism, in a Sermon before Charles the First; 713.

Foretold the Civil War; 714.

Saw King Charles the First on the Scaffold; 717.

٧.

VALDO, Peter; a devout Person in the Twelsth Century, from whom some suppose the Waldenses to have been denominated; 150.

Vane (Lady), a Patroness of the Protestant Martyrs; 447.

Van Harmin; See, ARMINIUS.

Vaughan, Dr Richard, Bishop of Bangor, and afterwards of London; concerned in drawing up the Lambeth Articles, 537.

Velfius, Justus; an unruly Pelagian; 112, Note.

Disputes in favor of Free-will, Persection, and falling from Grace; ibid & 526.—Comes over to England, and raises a Disturbance in the Dutch Church here; 525.

Animadverted upon by Archbishop Grindal; 525, 526.

—Cited before the Ecclesiastical Commission, and order'd to depart the Kingdom; 526.

A flaming Perfectionist; ibid.

Venner, Thomas, (the Fifth-Monarchy Man), a preaching Cooper, in Connection with John Goodwin; xli, Note.

Heads a Mob of Ranters, and kills a Number of innocent Persons; ibid. Himself and 16 of his Party sound guilty of Treason and Murder; xlii, Note. A blasphemous Saying of his, on receiving Sentence of Death; ibid.

Hang'd, drawn, and quarter'd, facing the Door of J. Goodwin's Meeting house; ibid.

General Remark on him; 694.

Veron, Mr John, Chaplain to Queen Elizabeth, defends Predestination against Campneys the Freewill-Man; 548, 549.

Vicars,

Vicars, Mr John, his humorous Attack on John Goodwin; xlv, xlvi.

Embarrasses Christopher Potter with a Charge of Religious Instability; 73, 74, Note.

Vorstius, Conrad, Arminius's Pupil; succedes his Tutor in the Divinity Chair of Leyden; 585, 586. King James the First's bad Opinion of him; 586, 592. His Writings publicly burned at London and at the Two Universitys; 587. The King solicits the States of Holland either to banish him or burn him; 590, 595, 596.

Sample of his Heretical Tenets; 593, Note.

Vossius (John Ger.), his convenient Duplicity; 76, 77.

His Pelagian History mis-entitled; 167.

Seems to have misrepresented Florus Magister; ibid. W.

WALDENSES; See ALBIGENSES.

Walfingham, Secretary of State to Queen Elizabeth, offers large Concessions to the Puritans; 727, Note.

-Which they contemptuously reject; 728.

Ward, Dr Samuel, Archdeacon of Taunton, one of James the First's Commissioners to the Synod of Dort; 609, 610.--- The particular Branch of Arminianism which he there set himself to demolish; 627.

Remarkable Extracts from Letters which passed between him and Archbishop Usher; 663, 688---691.

Warne, Mr John, the Martyr; 398. His memorable Confession of Faith; 398---403.

Watson, Bishop of Chichester; a memorable Hint of his to Queen Elizabeth in her last Moments; 576.

Wesalia, John de; his Doctrines and Sufferings, 179-

181.

Wesley, Mr John; his implacable Rancor against Mr Hervey's Memory, and why; xvi, xvii. A Form of Recantation recommended to him; xxvii-xxxiv. furdly pleads his old Age and Labors, xxxiv. Defervedly extolled by some of the Romish Church,

Represents Popery as confisting in a mere Trifle; ibid,

Nate (u).

Is not quite a Mahometan, in the Articles of Recreations; 235.

Various

Various Particulars wherein he shakes Hands with Mahomet; 234, 235

A rank Harmonizer with the Church of Rome; 415, 636.

Striking Conformity between him and the Pelagians of the Sixteenth Century; 449, 450. Scared by an Host of theological Spectres; 497, 499.

The Sources from whence he partly drained his Doctrine of Perfection; 504, Note (y).

An eminent Blunder-Merchant; 509, Note.

Congratulated on a certain happy Circumstance; 510.

His Encomium on Queen Elizabeth; 575.

Remark on his Mission of Lay Preachers; 693.

Misrepresents the Doctrine of the Church of England; 707, 710.

A Word of Advice to him; 711, Note.

Convicted of a Falsehood with Regard to Calvin; 718. Some excellent Lines concerning him; 729, 730.

A more circumstantial Account of the Bathing-Tub Baptism administered by this Gentleman; 733.

Whiston, Mr William; some remarkable Particulars which passed in Conversation between him and Sir Joseph Jekyl; 69, Note.—His Anecdotes of one Dr Cannon, a prosest Temporizer; 541.—Hampers Lord Chancellor King on the Topic of ecclesiastical Subscription; 541, 542.

Whitgift, Dr John, Archbishop of Canterbury; his high Esteem of Nowell's Catechism, 498.

Character of this Prelate; 531.

His Trouble with Baro the Pelagian; 532-536, 539, 540.

His memorable Attestations to the Lambeth Articles; 538, 539, 542, 543.

The politic Manner in which he weeded Cambridge of Baro; 539, 540.

His Veneration of Calvin; 546.

Attends Queen Elizabeth when she was expiring; 576.

Whittle, Mr Thomas, the Martyr; 408.

Wickliffe; His Memory and Doctrines anathematiz'd by Pope Martin the Fifth; 78—81. His Writings the Means of converting John Huss; 171. The vast Length to which he carry'd the Doctrine of Predetination; 191, 194. An absolute Denyer of Merit;

195. Bishop Newton's Account and Character of him; 196-198.

His Gown and Pulpit said to be still preserved at Lutterworth; 198.

Specimen of his Translation of the New Testament; 196, 197, Note. Learned from Bradwardin the true Doctrine of Justification; 203.

Lord Cobham's Zeal in dispersing his Works; 228, 229.

Will, of God; the primary and sovereign Cause of Salvation; 146, 250, 570.

The Foundation of the Divine Foreknowledge; 212, 221, 352, 557, 571.

Its invincible Efficacy; 205, 206, 212, 213, 293, 298, 494, 557.

Its absolute Sovereignty over the Will of Man; 188,

495

Necessarily immutable; 213.

The Basis of Fate, or Providence; 214, Note (r).

Distinguish'd into Secret and Reveled; 292.

Will, of Man; it's natural Freedom to Evil acknowledged; 222, 559.

It's Volitions absolutely governed by the Understanding, or Intellect; 223, 243.

or Intellect; 223, 243.

It's spiritual Powers deny'd; 223, 224, 243, 245, 258, 300, 356, 357, 460, 564, 570.

Compared, by Luther and Peter Martyr, to an Horse;

Compared, by Luther and Peter Martyr, to an Horle;

Undergoes a Change in the Elect; 495, 563.

Is not Independent of God; 729.

Willet, Dr Andrew, an Account of his Synopfis Papismi, with Extracts; 556-561.

Reprinted, by Authority, in the Reign of Charles I.

Winston, Expulsion of Protestants from; 411, 412.

Wishart, Mr George the Martyr; the Simplicity of his Drefs and Manners; 257, 258, Note. Sample of his Doctrines, 258.

Within, his fine Dedication of the Economia Fæderum to King William the Third; 122, Note.

His Remark concerning the World of the Elect; 162, Note.

Wolton, Bishop of Exeter, deprives the Rector of Lidsord, for Ranterism; 113.

Woodman (Mr Richard), the Martyr, his Contest with the Popish Bishop of Chichester; 450, 451.

Confutes another Popish Doctor in the Article of Free-will; 452, 453.

Encounters a very fat Priest; 454, 455.

Works, good, cannot justify us before God; 135, 145, 255, 391, 392, 709.

Do not go before, but follow after, Justification; 246,

305, 430.

Absolutely requisite as Evidences of Faith; 242, 272, 397, 459, 603.

Justify us before Men; xxx. 391, 393, 485, 710.

World, and Whole World; how those Terms are often to be understood, xxxii, 147, 162, 315, 316.

YOUNG, the late Dr Edward; a Remark of his, 124. His Reflection on the present State of Religion in England; 721.

ZANCHIUS, Jerom; Converted under the Ministry of Peter Martyr; 344.

His Arguments in Favor of Episcopacy, 380. Archbishop Grindal's high Opinion of him; 524. And Bishop Parkhurst's, 671.

His polite and faithful Reprehension of Melancthon, 703,

Invited to England to affist in the Reformation here;

706.

Zuinglius, Ulricus, the Waldenses apply to him for Preachers; 151.

His Character, and magnanimous Death; 544, 545, Note.

DIRECTIONS

TO THE

BOOK-BINDER.

UT the Sheet A a in half, (after it is folded) and leave out the Leaf, Folio 367, 368. Take in the Cancel Leaf, Folio 367, which finishes the first Volume; and then take the Title to Vol. II. which is a Quarter Sheet, and place before Folio 369.

